NO STORE DESIRES TO POSE ASA PHILANTHROPIST

For it is very difficult to get away with—make the other fellow believe that you are absolutely above board, and on the square with it.

Just the same, under the present unsatisfactory buying conditions, and the general up-side downness to the public of things as a whole—we feel it no more than fair and right at this time to say that the prices we are quoting on our suits and overcoats do not represent enough profit to pay car fare to Sand Coulee.

We simply feel it a part of a "business duty" to see that the public at this time to give the lowest prices possible—that it may, in a measure, assist in stimulating business and keep the wheels of industry turning at the same time bearing in mind the psychological effect such action will have in restoring public confidence in the integrity of the retailer, as doing his just part, in this period of reconstruction.

So when this store tells you we are going without profit at this time in order to do our part—you can bank on it,—for we are doing just what we say we are—and we say this in all frankness and candor—as one man to another, not as a philanthropist or as a charitable institution.

We merely wish you to stop,—think—and realize,—that your merchant is doing his part—that 90 per cent of your retailers at least,—are men with whom you can transact business with the utmost confidence—that they will do by you as you would be done by.

And we would advise at this time, that you pick out the retailer with whom you desire to do business—go to him, and—WITH CONFIDENCE,—transact the business you have in mind—and should this be the store of your choice—rest assured—

YOUR CONFIDENCE WILL BE 100% JUSTIFIED.

We practice what we preach—implicitly—"The Golden Rule" is our motto in business.

NO INAUGURAL BALL FOR DIXON; PUBLIC RECEPTION INSTEAD

Governor's Message to Be Delivered to the Legislature Next Tuesday.

Missoula, Dec. 29.—Governor Elett Dixon and family will leave Thursday for Helena prepared to assume his work as the state's chief executive.

Contrary to the usual custom, there will be no governor's ball following the inaugural next Monday. Instead of that function, Mr. Dixon will hold a public reception at the capitol.

The governor's message will be delivered Tuesday at a joint session of the legislature. There is much speculation as to what will be suggested by the new administration but it is believed the message will deal extensively with the matter of the state's finances, taxation and urge a program of strict economy in many of the state's activities.

It also is considered likely that it may recommend the lopping off of many places on the state payroll. There seems to be a positive story afloat that it may recommend some practical changes in the administration of the fish and game department and possibly a complete revolution in its administration.

BUCKEYES PRACTICE BY MOONLIGHT FOR NEW YEAR'S GAME

Both California and Ohio Squads Reported in Prime Condition for Saturday.

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 29.—Practice by moonlight, is the latest resort of Dr. John Wilce, head coach of Ohio state's football squad, to get his men into condition for their game here New Year's day with the University of California.

Just where Coach Wilce took his men Tuesday night was not divulged but it was believed to have been Boyart field, at the university of southern California in Los Angeles. At any rate, Elmer C. Henderson, U. S. C. coach, was in on the secret and he said the Buckeyes were put through two hours of the "hardest kind of signal practice."

Blair Sprains Ankle. "They stopped only three times during the entire two hours," said Henderson, "so don't worry about their lasting 90 minutes in any man's climate." Blair, Ohio State's right halfback is said to have sustained a sprained ankle in Monday's scrimmage. Henderson, another right half, is also below par, it is understood, so Bliss is the only Buckeye right halfback in perfect condition at present. It is believed Blair will be ready for Saturday's game, however. One sporting writer who trailed the California squad from Pasadena to Patterson field, Occidental college, Los Angeles, where it sought secrecy for practice, announced: "Bears Going Strong."

"The Bears certainly went through an afternoon that would make any young man glad to waltz under the showers. The California line roared through the second team forwards like cobblestones through a wet paper sack."

More of the same brand of practice was said to be on today's program for both teams. Walter D. Howell, head coach at Stanford university, now in southern California, says the outcome of the game is a "toss up."

Big Track Meeting to Embrace Whole U. S., Plan Formed

National Intercollegiate Athletic Association Indorses American Olympic Idea.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—An annual national track meet in which every college and university in the National Intercollegiate Athletic association would have representatives and the formation of an Olympic association to take charge of and interest itself in the American Olympic committee were indorsed at the fifteenth annual meeting of the association here. Committee reports favoring legislation of interest to collegiate athletes as well as undergraduate bodies were made, in addition to the transaction of routine business.

The suggested track meet would bring together athletes from all over the country and would be in the nature of an annual American college Olympic. The resolution, which was passed regarding an Olympic association would place in it the responsibility for electing a representative committee which would use every endeavor to gather together a team of America's best athletes.

Palmer E. Pierce, president of the association, urged that some action be taken at this time to lend support to the establishment of boxing in college curriculums.

Mr. Pierce declared the colleges were doing their utmost to reduce the 35 per cent of rejected men in army examinations during the war.

A national committee on arbitration of athletic disputes was authorized. Another committee was authorized to look into the possibility of conducting a national track and field meet.

Reports on football and other sports were heard at the afternoon session.

CODICIL REMOVES BAR TO MARRIAGE

Will of Mrs. Ana Kostelak Changed Week Before Death to Benefit Daughter.

A financial obstruction to the marriage of Ida Kostelak, daughter of Mrs. Ana Kostelak, was removed a short time prior to the mother's death through the addition of a codicil to will drawn in 1918. In the original will Mrs. Kostelak left her real estate to her children and the balance of the estate to Ida, but with the proviso that she was to receive only $20 per month in the event of her marriage.

On December 15, one week before her death, Mrs. Kostelak added a codicil to her will providing that all of her estate should be converted into cash and distributed share and share alike among her children. The estate has an estimated value of $100,000, according to a statement filed by Albert Kostelak, the executor. The heirs are the executor, Ida Kostelak, Mrs. Bertha Thompson, Mrs. Emma Young and Mrs. George J. Christensen, all of Great Falls; Mrs. Nettie Freda and Mrs. Edith Mouton, both of Seattle; Mrs. Irene Davis of New London, Conn.; Mrs. Jennie Bywater of Sand Coulee, and William Kostelak of Portland, Ore.

In the original will Mrs. Kostelak stated that she hoped her daughter, Ida, would not marry for the reason that she was infirm and, in the mother's opinion, incapable of entering into the marriage relation.

Admits He Is Thief, Fixes Own Sentence

Louis Dolas, a confessed petit larcenist, fixed his own jail sentence in the Lamere justice court Wednesday. He thought three days' confinement would be sufficient for stealing a vest, and the court agreed that this would be about right, and cut the sentence down to two days when it was remembered that the term of three days would give the defendant a bad start by rearing him on the first day of the new year. He will finish his term Saturday morning.

"You have pleaded guilty," said the court when Dolas admitted the offense, "now what do you think your punishment should be?"

"Three days—that ought to be enough for stealing a vest," the defendant replied.

"That's agreeable to me," said the court, "but you would get out on New Year's day, and that's a bad start for anyone. I'll give you two days and let it go at that."

Dolas admitted stealing the vest from the National laundry. He went there to ask for work, he said, but found no one in the office, and picked up the vest by way of realizing on his wasted time.

Upon his return to the United States Alexander recommended Kennedy, who is a right hander, 22 years old, and 6 feet, 2 inches tall. He pitched semi-professional ball around Chicago.

Bross Easy Victor Over Lockhart in Elks' Smoker Bout

Having the better of his opponent for win and endurance, Pete Bross, Great Falls middleweight, was an easy victor over Dick Lockhart in a four round boxing bout at the Elks' smoker at the Elks' temple Wednesday night. Lockhart gave up the match at the end of the fourth round, claiming a foul on his adversary for landing a punch in the solar plexus after the gong had sounded the end of the fourth round. Fred Andretta, referee, did not call Bross, however, and Lockhart refused to fight the remaining two rounds.

The first round was given and taken, both sluggers landing several telling head punches. Lockhart claimed a foul in this round, but it was denied.

Bross was easily the best man through the second salvo, landing more punches and finishing better than did his opponent. In the third round Lockhart rallied and matched Bross blow for blow with several wicked head and chin punches.

The fourth round saw Lockhart better than his antagonist. He landed more telling blows than Bross but was plainly worn out at the end of the round, while the middleweight was still fresh despite Lockhart's onslaughts. Then when Bross delivered the jab just after the gong sounded Lockhart refused to carry the bout any further.

The second event, a fifteen minute wrestling match between Fred Goldhahn and Austin Shanahan, welterweights, resulted in a tie. Clever work was shown on the part of both, Goldhahn getting a cradle hold and a double hammerlock while Shanahan almost bettered his man with a scissors, around the body.

Exhaust Wild Game in Week

"These figures are astounding and were our sportsmen successful in securing their limit, the supply of fish and game in Montana would not last one week. Some further regulation is absolutely necessary under the present system, our fishing and game may be taken legally in such excess of our utilization that disgraceful and disgusting quantities are allowed to rot and waste."

More Nurseries Favored

The establishment of more fish and game raising stations throughout the state will also be recommended by the new association. It will be proposed that fish be kept in stations until they reach the fingerling stage before being planted in the streams. At present fish are placed at the "fry" stage, which results in the loss of a lot of the young fish which are eaten by the larger ones.

"In connection with fish nurseries the association plans to establish game bird propagating plants wherever possible," said M. C. Carpenter, secretary of the association.

"These plants will be supervised by the same men caring for the fish rearing stations. The plan has worked wonderfully well in many states and the leaders of the association believe that it will be equally successful in Montana."

To Enforce Game Laws

Legislation will be advocated for the better distribution of game preserves over the state so that the wildlife will be protected in all parts of Montana. The new association will put on a campaign for the extermination of predatory animals and birds which reduce the game stock of the state.

Mr. Carpenter quoted William T. Hornaday, the famous naturalist, on the necessity of more active prosecution of violators of the game laws. He also gave Mr. Hornaday's statement that "from this time henceforward all shooting of game must be diminished at least 50 per cent."

Legislation to be Sought

The representative of the new association declared that proposed game protective measures drawn up recently by the Power City Gun club are equally the same as those advocated by the association and that the measures will be supported by the organization during the next session of the legislature when a delegation from the association will be at Helena to aid in putting over the program.

Several Cascade county legislators at the meeting expressed themselves as favoring the proposed legislation of the association.

The Power City Gun club will hold its regular annual meeting at the Park hotel Monday night for the election of officers. The club will also vote upon affiliation with the new sportsmen's association. From the sentiment expressed at the Wednesday meeting it is probable that the club will affiliate. Club officers are: W. R. Wilcoxson, president; C. D. Dietz, vice president; A. A. Montgomery, secretary-treasurer and Carl Elton, field captain.

Retiring Justice of Peace Earl Annonces Political Ambition.

John T. Earll, retiring justice of the peace, will be a candidate in the democratic primary next spring for nomination to the office of police magistrate, it was announced Wednesday by Mr. Earll. The justice was defeated for re-election November 2 by less than 60 votes and his friends have urged him to get into the race for magistrate, believing that he can win easily in the absence of a general landslide to the opposition. Mr. Earll has served as justice for six years and was police magistrate for the term of 1914-15.

COL. STIVERS WHIPS BURTON WHEELER IN STREET CORNER BOUT

A. C. M. Co. Lawyer "Evens Up" for Campaign Grievance; Both Are Arrested.

Butte, Dec. 29.—R. K. Wheeler, defeated Democratic candidate for governor in the recent election, and Col. J. Gay Stivers of the legal department of the Anaconda Copper Mining company, staged a fist battle on a prominent downtown corner Wednesday, the result of which, it was asserted, was a victory for Stivers.

Hundreds of office employees and shoppers who were on the street during the noon hour, were attracted by the affair, and it took several minutes for police to clear the streets for traffic. Both men were placed under arrest and released on bond.

Stivers asserts that Wheeler, during the recent campaign, made remarks about him in a speech from the balcony of the Butte hotel on the night before election, in the presence of more than 5,000 persons. Following Wednesday's affair, Stivers declared that the alleged remarks "were of such a character that I had no legal redress and I resolved that the first time we met I would take care of the matter, and that is what I did."

Wheeler declared he was talking to a friend at the time he alleges Stivers struck him. He said "Stivers hit me when I was not looking, and seeing that I was stunned, struck several more blows."

The case will be aired in police court Friday.

Commercial League of Basketball Men Is Plan of Y. M. C. A.

Plans for a commercial basketball league of teams representing business firms of Great Falls were made Wednesday at a meeting of the physical department committee of the Y. M. C. A., under the leadership of C. C. Davis as temporary chairman. A meeting will be called in a few days at the Y. M. C. A. to get all basketball players here to sign for work with the league.

The committee also made plans for a circus to be staged by the Y. M. C. A. in April. Definite arrangements will be made later. The show will require several weeks' practice.

E. E. Holleman, physical director of the "Y," announced that the new indoor basketball schedule will begin with a game at the Y. M. C. A. Monday night. The following teams will compose the new league: Triangle club, Young Men's club, smelter zinc plant, smelter office and the "regulars."

High Wind Is Cause of His Broken Leg

F. J. Young, Great Northern switchman, is at the Columbus hospital suffering from a broken leg as a direct result of the high wind of last Tuesday. Young was riding past the Great Northern station on the "grab irons" on a passenger coach, when the loaded mail truck was caught by the wind, pushed across the platform and into the path of the switchman in such a way as to brush him off. His leg was broken by the fall.

Eels avoid cold and are inclined to migrate to warmer waters in winter.
