

SOCIETY EVENTS of WEEK in GREAT FALLS

Edited by
MAE PAULINE CHESNUT

MID-WINTER social activities must be brief this winter because of the early occurrence of lent, for last Wednesday falls on February 8, thus bringing Easter Sunday on March 27. The three principal social events in Great Falls during the short mid-winter season will be the two fortnightly club dances, on Friday, January 22, at the Friday, February 4. The Temple Dancing club will give its last pre-lenten dance Friday evening, January 28.

The last week in this city has been one of lassitude, society following the holiday gaiety and the departure of many of the younger set for schools and colleges in remote parts of the country.

This week all Great Falls is looking forward to the appearance of Pavlova Thursday evening, the Grand opera house. Patrons for the performance are Misses Sam Stephenson, Shirley Ford, Percy Raban, Thomas Couch, Donald K. Woods, Charles Lowery, Charles H. Russell, Wallace McKenzic, O. F. Wadsworth, A. F. Longway, W. S. Frary, Herbert Strain, Fred A. Flinn, Roy McKnight, J. R. Robbins, W. F. O'Connor, G. F. Shanley, O. S. Warden and Miss H. Marie La Leberte.

This little fellow is the eight months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stimpert, formerly of Havre, who have recently come to Great Falls. He is also the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Stimpert.

Women's Corner

The year 1920 was an auspicious one for the women of the United States. The ratification of the federal suffrage amendment by Tennessee August 18 completed a struggle for votes for women which has lasted 173 years in this country. The year was also an auspicious one for women's clubs and organizations throughout the country. Many new and successful movements for public welfare and the protection of the home and children were achieved.

In Great Falls one of the most notable accomplishments by the club women was the success of the free baby clinic, the first in Montana. Mrs. C. A. Armanage was chairman of the clinic, which was established in June, in the old Franklin school building on the west side. In connection with the baby clinic was the Little Mothers' club, under the direction of Miss Dora Meelenberg, the clinic nurse.

The first convention of the fifth region of the National League of Women Voters was held in Great Falls in June. Mrs. C. C. Sadtler of this city was elected state chairman, and vice chairman for the fifth region, which includes Montana, Wyoming, North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Iowa.

Mrs. C. E. Heisey of Great Falls was the only woman from Montana and from the western state to attend the International Council of Women which took place September 15-19 in Christiania, Norway.

The laying of the cornerstone of the Eleanor Walsh Memorial cottage for women tuberculosis patients at Galien, was an event in the annals of the women club women of the state who had raised a large amount of the money for the building of the cottage. Mrs. J. W. Agnew of Great Falls was most active in this work.

A virtually new woman's organization which has grown almost miraculously during the last three months is the Business and Professional Woman's club, which was reorganized early in the autumn and which in about three months time has grown from 16 to 100 members. The business girls of the city have enthusiastically joined the new organization which aims to promote the interests of women in the industry and business and to be of service generally to the community. Now the club is discussing the possibility of starting a downtown club and rest room for the girls who have nothing to do after they leave their lunch at noon except go back to their offices for the remainder of the hour or wander about stores.

W. C. T. U. TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

The anniversary of the ratification of the eighteenth amendment will be celebrated Sunday afternoon, January 16, at the First Methodist church by the Woman's Christian Temperance union. A program has been arranged which will include an address by the Rev. L. L. Totten.

Christian Domination of Moros Resented; Prefer Yankee Rule

Honolulu, T. H., Jan. 8.—(By The Associated Press).—Moros of the Philippines never will submit to Filipino Christian domination and further trouble between them and native constabulary forces in Jolo is to be expected, according to E. Finley Johnson, associate justice of the supreme court of the Philippines.

Justice Johnson, accompanied by Mrs. Johnson was a passenger on the army transport Sherman en route from Manila for San Francisco, from whence he expected to go direct to Marion, O. for a conference with President-Elect Harding regarding conditions in the Philippines.

"The Moros are beginning to realize that the Americans no longer are looking after them," said Justice Johnson. "The trouble down there is just beginning. There will be more of it and plenty of it. What the Moros want is American administration by Americans and unless they get it, they are going to raise trouble."

THE NEW ADVENTURERS.

America, you were in Shakespeare's word, And Milton's half prophesy. You were An Ironside when Cromwell took the field, Drake fared for you, and Nelson is your blood.

And England, little fens and pools and hills, Green friendliness of pastures in the dusk, White-thorn where thrushes nest, gray thatch, stone, What excellence of you was there that day

When an unnoted sail put out to sea From Plymouth to the England of a dream? At Yorktown did your nobler heart lament

Among the lost or beat with Washington?

And has not Lincoln in your proper tongue Your Chronicle retold of Runnymede?

Then, pledged upon a happier covenant Than furnished old crusades, with none to fear

Of arms or treasons, having for our To covet not an acre of the world, Shall we not be the new adventurers? Come—let us get our gospel now by heart—

One man in grief sets a whole world in tears; No man is free while one for freedom fears.

—John Drinkwater in New York Evening Post.
