San Juan Mines May Be Sold

Los Angeles Parties Were After the Property—Local Owner Has Not Been Informed of the Deal, But Thinks That It is Consummated.

It was reported yesterday that the San Juan, the rich gold property in the Cynisa mountains of Sonora, is sold. This property belongs to Wm. Lutley, John Sanderson and Wm. Bennett. Mr. Sanderson is in Bisbee, and when seen by a Review reporter said that he had not heard of the sale, but is expecting it, as Mr. Lutley was negotiating with parties who were after the mine. These buyers were taken out to inspect the property, and Mr. Sanderson said that the deal may have gone through.

People from Los Angeles were expected in Douglas yesterday to go out and see the San Juan, and it may be these people who have made the reported purchase.

Mountain View Directors' Meeting Last Night

ELECT ONE DIRECTOR, AND SET ASIDE STOCK FOR DEVELOPMENT WORK TO BE CARRIED ON.

Last night the directors of the Mountain View company met at Frank Graf's office for their regular directors' meeting.

J. J. Rigler was elected to the board of directors to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Geo. C. Walker.

It was voted that ten thousand shares of the treasury stock be set aside for the present stockholders to raise funds for further developing the property. The present work at the mine is to be carried on as it is now being conducted until otherwise ordered. The meeting adjourned to be continued on May 9th, when important business will come up for discussion.

SALT RIVER POWER CANAL.

Contractors Pushing Work—Bids Asked for Hauling Cement.

F. J. Mills, superintendent for John Tuttle, contractor for the tunnel work along the line of the government power canal, upper Salt River valley, was in town early in the week and had notices printed calling for bids for hauling 1000 tons of cement from Globe to the various tunnels on California mustard has strength but lacks flavor. Trieste has flavor but lacks strength. Schilling's Best is the two mixed, nothing else, no color. The next - best mustard sold here is weak but has good flavor.

the canal. Bids, which will be opened May 10 at Livingston, may be made for all or a part. The cement will soon begin to arrive here and deliveries will be approximately 150 tons a month.

Mr. Mills stated that he now had a force of about 100 men working which would be increased as rapidly as practicable. The aggregate of tunnel work will be about 9200 feet, which is considerably more than the first published estimates. There will be 8700 feet of tunnels of the power canal proper and the sluice tunnel will be 500 feet.

The plans in regard to the sluice tunnel has been changed. The original intention was to have it cut around the dam on the north side, but it has now been decided to have it run on the south side.

AMERICAN MINING CONGRESS.

The meeting of the American Congress will be held at Portland, Oregon, August 22d to 27th this year. A special program has been arranged. This special program will be in addition to the regular work of the congress. The following will be the features of the special program:

- "Relation of Mining to the General Interests of the Country."
- "Creation by Government of an Independent Department of Mines and Mining."
- "Recodification of Our Mining Laws."
- "A Permanent Location of National Headquarters for the American Mining Congress."

Committees have been appointed to present these special features. The recodification of the mining laws is of especial importance and is a subject that should receive the attention of all mining men.

COMPETITION IS LIKE THE WEATHER.

It is different on different days; but it's always with us and if you don't watch the weather you'll surely catch cold.

We are running a safe place to trade and know that if you watch our adds and windows for the new and nobby men's goods you'll look and feel better.

Clothes don't make the man but they make the appearance. Any man will try to live up to a good appearance.

You would appear and feel fine in one of our Tailor Made two piece suits to order, $15.00 to $25.00, or ready made $9.00 to $14.00.

Prof. Douglas in Michigan Makes Suggestions

Technical man for keeping himself in touch with all the most advanced up-to-date literature concerning the sciences and arts. There are many papers and books which he must read in order to get the fullest information, which are not translated into English. A mining engineer cannot be all that he ought to be without studying this literature. The introduction of these franchises in a purely technical institution like the Michigan College of Mines is not so vital as the instruction in Spanish and English, and I speak of the subject in passing, that the young engineer may know some of the requirements which he should be equipped to meet.

"Another essential for the mining engineer even should he not aim for the highest position, is a knowledge of commercial and mining bookkeeping. He should be particularly well versed in methods for compiling statistics and for properly devising and maintaining mining and metallurgical records. These qualifications are a prime necessity and should be given thorough attention in a mining college. Methods which deal with the statistical and commercial side of the mining and metallurgical industries are fully equal in importance to those which have to do with the physical operations.

"It seems to me that for a college which is attaining such high standing as yours, there should be no reluctance on the part of the legislators to add two or three chairs to fill such obvious vacancies. In the way of technical opportunity, absolutely none of the other colleges or universities which train mining engineers has the advantages which the Houghton college possesses. It is only fitting, therefore, that its perfection should be fully rounded out."

J. Martin Jones Dies Suddenly in El Paso

RHEUMATISM OF THE HEART TAKES OFF A VALUABLE CITIZEN AND SPLENDID BUSINESS MAN—WAS WELL KNOWN HERE.

The many friends of J. Martin Jones, senior member of the firm of J. Martin Jones & Son, of El Paso, will be pained to hear of his sudden demise in that city. Mr. Jones had been coming to this and surrounding sections of Arizona, in the interests of his house, and the firm has established a very handsome trade among the merchants of Bisbee and vicinity. Speaking of the circumstances, the El Paso Times says:

"J. Martin Jones, a well known business man of this city, and senior partner of the firm of J. Martin Jones & Son, wholesale paper dealers, died at his home at 619 Magoffin avenue of rheumatism of the heart. When he died is not known, but he was found in his bed early yesterday morning, cold and stiff and evidently dead some time. His remains were shipped to Kansas City, his former home, last night for burial.

"Mr. Jones came to El Paso several years ago for the benefit of his son's health and established the business which he owned at the time of his death. In Kansas City he was prominent in several business enterprises.

"In El Paso he has always been prominent in business affairs and every thing that would promote the interests of the town. He was a director of the Chamber of Commerce and has always taken a leading part in the management of its affairs. He was chairman of the committee of public improvements of that body.

"It was he who had charge of the compilation of data refuting the statement that Fort Bliss was not a fit place for a large army post, which was considered very complete.

"At the time of his death Mr. Jones is said to have been contemplating removing from El Paso, as he said on the day before his death that he had not felt well for some time. Next morning he was found dead. In Mr. Jones' death El Paso loses a valuable citizen."
