Today is the anniversary of the Emancipation proclamation and the day is being observed in fitting style by some of the colored populations of the city. They are entertaining a number of out of town friends.

Engineer W. P. Hogan came in this morning on the Jones camp on the Honning line, near Guzman, in Chihuahua. The surveyors are expected to complete their work in about two weeks and will return to Douglas and take positions on the road under construction.

Judge Richardson returned yesterday from a business trip to Hermosillo, Mexico. He has a wrist bandaged, having received a bad cut on the wrist when the Pullman in which he was riding turned over in the ditch while between Nogales and Hermosillo. A broken rail caused the train to go in the ditch. A number of the passengers were seriously injured but none fatally.

The Bouquet bar has changed hands, "Happy Jack" retiring and the Copper City brewery taking charge of the business.

Dick Brown is in receipt of a letter from D. C. Livingston, who is in charge of the development work being done on the El Protector mine, which is owned by the North Tigre Mining company. Mr. Livingston sends encouraging reports from the property and says conditions are growing more favorable as the work proceeds. It is the intention of this company to increase the development work on this property in the near future. It adjoins the northern boundary of the El Tigre mine.

An innovation in the Douglas fire department is the position called captain, and the man to fill the job is expected here this afternoon. He has been connected with the department of Alhambra, and other eastern departments, and also has had experience in the west. He has been appointed upon the recommendation of former Chief W. W. Armstrong.

Another new man in Rollin Spencer, who succeeds George Cook. He is driving the steamer, while Fred Baron becomes driver on the hook and ladder.

M. F. Dicus returned yesterday afternoon from Clovis, New Mexico, where he had been to bid on the contract for installing the new water system for that town which is located on what is known as the Belton off of the Santa Fe railroad. The town has a population of 3000 people and is not yet two years old. Mr. Dicus was not the successful bidder for the work, as another bidder offered to do the work for several thousand dollars less than he did. Mr. Dicus says that New Mexico is rapidly settling up and that there is much good country on the new line of the Santa Fe road.

LOWER CABLES ARE DISQUIETING PRICES

BOCTON, June 21.—Consumers of copper in this country who buy their requirements from American producers are governed to a greater extent than they care to admit by the "manufactured" quotations which appear daily in the London market where "copper" warrants are traded.

The declines in cables yesterday in both the opening and closing had a disquieting effect on American buyers of copper. Against top prices of 13-4 cents paid last week for electrolytic there were bids yesterday of 13-4 cents, but no metal was obtainable at that figure.

The producers and selling agencies are in a position now to withstand attempts to secure cheap copper at the moment, for they are all practically sold out of June copper and have contracted very heavily for July and August deliveries. Reactions from the top, however, may be noted in the next day or so for second hands have considerable copper which they obtained at lower figures and which they will be willing to sell at slightly less than 13-4 cents.

W. P. Stiles, superintendent of the commissary department of the Southwestern, was here yesterday.

TO TAKE STING OUT OF COFFEE

Best of the ingredients of the coffee bean from a chemical standpoint, are the essential oils, the caffeine and the tannin, or tannic acid. Of these the caffeine is the most dreaded by the critics of the coffee habit. Caffeine when used as a drug often causes headache and in some cases effects the hearing and the sight. It also has an exciting effect on the muscles, sometimes on the heart action, and a mental stimulation which in many cases renders sleep impossible. Tannin or tannic acid has an astringent effect and sometimes interferes with digestive processes. On the other hand the volatile oils in the coffee bean have a favorable effect upon digestion, and the evaporation of these oils produces the appetizing and fragrant aroma which is a source of such comfort to the coffee drinker.

Logically it should be the effort of the man who wants to drink coffee without getting any harm from it to prepare it in such a way that he will get the volatile oils, without getting the caffeine or the tannin, in any appreciable degree. But is this possible? A well known physician who has discussed the subject for his brother physicians, says that it is not only possible, but that it is easily done.

Colonel Younghusband, the Thibet explorer used coffee so made, and took it with him on long journeys into Thibet. And the method of preparation is so simple that it is worth trying.

The best way is to grind the coffee beans rapidly to a fine powder, as the heat from rapid friction will excite the evolution of the volatile oil. The public is warned that the grinding should be done immediately before preparing the extract, inasmuch as when the coffee stands in the air the volatile oils will evaporate. The coffee should be ground to an impalpable powder.

This coffee is then put into the upper part of an American china percolator with a lump of ice, and upon it must be run cold water from a water tap, (not well or spring water).

While the ice cold water drips through the coffee, stir the mixture carefully and thoroughly into a paste-like mass.

To facilitate the percolation of the infused watery extract it is advisable to place a small piece of wood between the lower edge and the receiver which contains the coffee grounds, and the upper portion of the vessel which receives the infusion, as this leaves a little air space between these parts.

When the liquid coffee infusion has all dripped through the percolator, it is poured back again and through the wet grounds. The percolation may go through the same process as before, replenishing the ice if necessary.

Afterward the lower portion of the percolator is set aside in a cool receptacle and the coffee may be used as needed, by the simple addition of boiling water, etc., to the infusion.

AMERICAN MILLIONS ENRICHING LONDON

Thousands of Visitors Are Adding $2,500,000 to Merchants' Coffers

LONDON, June 19.—The cosmopolitan invasion of London has begun. Tourists from abroad are arriving in such numbers that the present holiday season promises to beat all records.

Fifty thousand visitors from America, France and Germany, at a moderate estimate, are already in London, and fresh hordes are pouring in at the rate of 2,000 a week. The London season is only beginning, but the hotels, restaurants, and West End shops are enjoying a holiday boom.

Most of the larger hotels are full to overflowing with guests of all nations. The streets are filled with strangers from everywhere, who are spending something like $2,500,000 a week.

The visitors' list is made up as follows: Americans 12,000, French 10,000, Germans 9,000, Colonials 6,000, Other nationalities 13,000.

Each visitor on an average passes a week sightseeing in London and spends at least $50, making a total of $2,500,000 a week.

Americans and colonials in tourist garb of brown, with slouch hats, may be seen by scores in the Strand, and portly Germans and dapper Frenchmen carrying guide books are seen more of London in a week than most cockneys have seen in a lifetime.

"It should be a record season," said the manager of the Savoy hotel, "London is becoming the pleasure center of the world. Paris at one time held the first place, but all good Americans and foreign holiday makers now try to do London as well."

AFRICAN SPRINTER DEFEATS

Western Coal Lands. It is estimated that already about one-half of the total area of high-grade coal lands in the west is under private control, and only about $0,000,000 acres are left for possible government control. Prof. Holmes, who has been conducting the government investigations, has found that there is an enormous waste of fuel on account of the rejection of low-grade material. He says that not less than 50 per cent of the natural coal supply is left underground and permanently lost. In one instance in a 25-foot vein a layer four feet thick was mined and 21 feet left behind; and in an average eight-foot vein two feet of the low-grade coal is left behind.—Railway Age.

The Men and the Girl. At Bordeaux, in France, a rich lady lost a diamond ring on the street. A few days later a little girl who assisted the cook in a boarding house was sent to market for a chicken. When she brought it home she was told to dress it, and in doing so she found the lost ring in its crop.

The cook, the landlady, the man who had sold the chicken all claimed the ring, and the case was taken into court. There it was decided that it belonged to the girl, and the loser gave her $20 for finding it. The boy who wants to get herself praised, dead or alive, will look around for lost diamonds.

Stop Distribution of Dodgers. The commissioners of the District of Columbia have forwarded to congress a bill prohibiting the distribution of circulars and like advertising matter on private property within the district. The object of the proposed law is to prohibit littering of vestibules, yards and other property within the building line with circulars, handbills, etc., which the commissioners say is now a source of annoyance to residents.

Insanity Cured by the Knife. Dr. N. S. Owensby of Baltimore has created something of a stir in medical circles by asserting that dementia praecox, or precocious insanity, had been cured in recent cases by the use of the knife to relieve the thyroid gland of an excess of certain chemicals in the blood or the secretions. Out of five cases so treated, all but one are said to have recovered, where as the disease has generally been regarded as incurable. Dr. Spitzka of the Jefferson Medical college, however, says that the theory on which Owensby operated has not been proved.

THE PARTY HE BELONGED TO. A matron of the most determined character was encountered by a young woman reporter on a country paper, who was sent out to interview leading citizens as to their politics. "May I see Mr. —?" she asked of a stern-looking woman who opened the door at one house.

"No, you can't," answered the matron decisively.

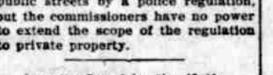

"But I want to know what party he belongs to," pleaded the girl.

The woman drew up her tall figure. "Well, take a good look at me," she said. "I'm the party he belongs to." Universalist Leader.

OF COURSE NOT. "Engaged to me, and letting another chap hold your hand!" "Well, now, would you deprive me of such a splendid chance to show the ring?"—Kansas City Journal.
