

HOUSE REFUSES TO ACCEPT ANY AMENDMENTS

Trust Tariff Bill Pleases Neither Party When It Comes From Senate

MEASURE IS SENT TO CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Clark is Pessimistic and Expects Completed Measure To Be Still Worse

WASHINGTON, July 9.—When the house met today the members were in possession of copies of the tariff bill as amended and passed by the senate. The committee on rules met after the house took a recess of an hour and decided to bring in an order for reference of the bill to the committee on conference as requested by the senate, the house meantime disagreeing to the senate amendments.

When the recess expired Dallzell of Pennsylvania, of the committee on rules, was recognized to offer a rule providing for non-concurrence in a conference as requested by the senate. He supplemented this rule with a motion for an hour and a half for debate, which was adopted.

The bill as it came from the senate was condemned by Townsend of Michigan. As it left the house he said, it compiled for the most part with republican pledges but not "you would hardly recognize it, if you met it in the road."

The bill in the opinion of Fitzgerald was as bad a piece of legislation as it is possible to make in any legislative body. He hoped there would be aroused throughout the country a resentment such as would make it impossible to put some of the senate amendments through.

Tell of Broken Pledges.

Randall of Texas, Poirer of North Carolina, and Henry of Texas, characterized the measure as breaking the republican pledges to the American people. Their remarks aroused Smith of Iowa, who declared the American people did not direct a Democratic revision of the tariff. Nor did Nebraska, joined by his insurgent republican colleagues and protested that the republican party would not be true to its pledges if the bill in its amended form shall become a law.

In pleading for an opportunity to vote separately on the various amendments, Bartlett of Georgia, a democrat, declared the corporation tax was a pretext and a sham, placed in the bill to defeat the income tax.

"Great God Almighty!" eight hundred and forty seven amendments," was the exclamation of Clark of Missouri, minority leader, as he closed the debate on his side. Voting on every amendment, without debate, will take twenty-six hours. The bill, Clark said, when it left the house, was bad; the Aldrich-Smith bill is worse; and judging the future by the past, the result of the labor of the conference committee will be worse than all.

Payne, in closing for his side, pleaded with his colleagues to send conference to the senate unhampered by amendments.

BLAME FOR MURDER OF GIRL IS FIXED UPON TIME CHECKS

San Francisco Jury Declares System Partly Responsible For Death of Cashier

DEMAND LAW ABOLISHING DELAYED PAYMENT PLAN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—After six hours' deliberation the coroner's jury investigating the death of Caroline Brauch shot and killed by Gray Brothers' office last week, returned a verdict today charging James Cunningham, the self-confessed murderer, with the crime and recommended that laws be framed and adopted without delay to do away with the "time check" system of paying laborers.

The inquest was attended by men of all professions, lawyers, doctors, and ministers seeking a chance to denounce the "time check" system. Supervisor Booth, of this city, and many state senators, among them Wolfe, Burnett, Schmidt, Kennedy and Anthony, addressed the jury, urging that the method of paying workmen, used by the girl's employers, be held partly responsible for her death. That the jury heeded these demands is shown by the verdict, which recommends that the bar association draw a bill which will put a stop to the system of deferred payment of laborers in the state. It calls upon the legislature to pass the bill and the boards of supervisors of every municipality to work for the passage.

Outside of the story told by the self-confessed slayer of Miss Brauch, evidence was given by Harry Gray, a member of Gray Brothers, which was most important. The business methods of the company were probed deeply and every angle of the check system presented to the jury. Cunningham repeated his previous story of the killing, again laying stress on his motive, a desire for revenge. He heard himself charged by the jury with the same crime, almost indifferent expression on his face that he has worn since he gave himself up.

General Grant's Grandson Forced to Quit Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 9.—Algeron Sartoris, grandson of President Grant, and until a few weeks ago secretary of the American legation at Guatemala, has resigned from the service. It is reported that his resignation was forced and that he was compelled to withdraw against his will after having served one year almost to a day.

The state department admits Mr. Sartoris resigned, but diplomatically insists that his resignation was offered because of his falling health and his desire to seek a cooler climate. Mr. Sartoris now is in New York on his way back to his former post to remove his effects, after which he will tour Europe with his wife.

PAIR TRAPPED ON HOT FIRE ESCAPE IN NEW YORK CITY

Chinaman and White Woman in Great Danger Until Fireman Rescues Them

YOUNG GIRL FEARS CROWD AND RESIGNED TO DIE

NEW YORK, July 9.—Imprisoned on a fire escape that was rapidly being transformed into a red-hot griddle, a Chinaman and white girl apparently abandoned themselves to a death by roasting in a Bowers fire early this morning.

The fire raged out twenty-two inmates of a Chinese lodging house and all but two escaped by running down the fire escape to the first floor, from which firemen passed them into the hallway before the flames had spread that far.

When the others were discovered it was impossible to ascend the fire escape after them on account of the heat.

They were finally rescued by Driver Charles Decker after a difficult and daring effort in which other firemen played a spray from two hose lines on the escape and the rescued while he approached the place where they were crouching from an adjoining building.

The huddled couple on the fire escape made by the heat and the attention of the firemen would probably not have been attracted to them had it not been for the other Chinaman who had reached the ground.

In an excited group these Chinamen crowded about Deputy Fire Chief Goerlin jabbering in an unintelligible jargon that two people were left up there being burned up. At first he did not understand what they were saying, exhibiting the usual panic symptoms that go with a Chinatown fire.

Finally, however, some one talking better English than the rest explained to the deputy chief that the white girl had been afraid to come down on account of the excitement over the Sidel murder and had crouched on the fire escape at the fourth floor, hiding there in the hope that the flames would not spread that far.

Driver Charles Decker was sent up the fire escape of an adjoining building to investigate. He found the two persons huddled together with flames shooting out of a window directly behind them and making the iron a grill so hot that he could not touch it although he was near enough to jump over it.

He made his predicament known to the deputy chief, who had watched his ascent and two lines of hose were brought into play at once. They had the difficult task assigned to them of throwing the stream so near the rescuer that it would make a curtain of water between him and the fire and yet not to let it fall enough away so that the force would not knock him from his footing. With the stream playing around and in front of him Decker made a long reach from the fire escape on which he clung to the balcony where the couple were crouched in the corner.

Patrolman McAvoy of the Central Office, who had followed him up, stood ready to receive the ascered duo, and one at a time Decker passed them over to his arms.

As the two men came down again, each carrying one of the persons, they were loudly cheered. The white girl slipped away in the crowd the minute she had been released.

TOM TAGGERT IS EXONERATED IN CHICAGO COURT

Former Democratic Chairman Takes Witness Stand in Gingles Case

COUNSEL APOLOGISES FOR BRINGING IN NAME

French Lick Springs Man Never Met Girl Nor Heard Name Until Recently

CHICAGO, July 9.—Thomas Taggart of French Lick Springs, Ind., former chairman of the democratic national committee, whose name was mentioned in the testimony of Ella Gingles, the eighteen-year-old Irish lace maker, took the witness stand today in Judge Brentano's court for the purpose of clearing his name of any connection with the case, as a preliminary to his testimony on the joint which brought him into court. Mr. Taggart stated that he had lived in Indianapolis thirty-five years, was married, and has been in the hotel business in French Lick Springs many years.

"Do you know Miss Barrette, complainant in this case?"

"Yes."

"How did you get acquainted?"

"She worked as a maidservant for a man of the name of Gibson at French Lick. He sold out to her, and I rented to her apartments in one of my hotels."

"Did you ever hear anything against her character?"

"This question started a wrangle between attorneys O'Donnell addressing both the court and Mr. Taggart, made a formal statement exonerating Mr. Taggart in every particular, saying:

"Attorney Exonerates Taggart.

"I want it distinctly understood that Mr. Taggart's name was brought into this case over my protest. We have proof that Miss Gingles never was acquainted with Mr. Taggart and his name was mentioned only indirectly to her. It might have been any one of 10,000 names of wealthy men, but it happened to be Taggart, and in this particular Mr. Taggart is unfortunate."

The interrogation of the witness as to Miss Gingles was exceedingly brief.

"Do you know Miss Gingles?" asked attorney Short.

"I do not," answered Mr. Taggart, with emphasis.

"Miss Gingles' eyes were glued on the witness as he spoke. She took in every detail of his light suit, his low shoes and the diamond that sparkled in his cravat."

"Did you ever hear of Miss Gingles before this case?" continued Short.

"Only some months ago when somebody brought me a paper containing the name of Miss Gingles and Miss Barrette."

"You were not subpoenaed here by the state, were you?"

"I heard that my name was being used and came to clear my name from the (Continued on Page Eight)

ARIZONA STATEHOOD BILL IS IN SENATE

Flint of Michigan, Introduces Measure to give Long Deferred Rights.

WILL BE FIRST HELD UNDER PRESENT LAW

(Special to Review.)

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Senator Flint of Michigan, today introduced a bill in the senate for the admission of Arizona to statehood.

This bill is modeled after and is similar to the bill which was passed by the house at the last session and which was then held up in the senate some time ago, finally officially killed for the session at the eleventh hour when the senate refused to take it from the committee and pass it as a substitute for another bill.

What the chances are of getting the bill through at this session with Beveridge and Nelson still against it are hard to determine. If the bill gets to the house it is certain to pass as it did before and all opposition if there will be any, will be found among the Republican senators.

PROHIBITIONISTS ASK CHANGE

Drys Prepare Petition to Supervisors for Local Option Election in Tombstone

WILL BE FIRST HELD UNDER PRESENT LAW

(Special to Review.)

TOMBSTONE, July 9.—The entire session of the District court was taken up with the trial of the case of Crider against Suglia today and it was not until 9:30 tonight that the case went to the jury.

Tomorrow there will be held over criminal cases, the Territory vs. Crites, a case of aggravated assault. Crites, who owns much real estate in Douglas and Bisbee and who is Western Union night operator in the former city, is charged with having seriously beaten Dora Little a tenant of his in the Douglas "red light" district. When the case was called the first time, Crites was ill with nervous prostration and he has only just recovered sufficiently to face the jury.

The hearing of J. J. Leech, on a charge of breach of the Edmund's act was postponed until Monday and Leech is still in jail unable to give $3,000 bonds.

The Lombardi injunction hearing is set for tomorrow and was not reached today because of the Crider-Suglia case dragging through the day.

Want Dry City.

The prohibitionists are busy circulating a petition to be presented to the Board of Supervisors calling for a local option election in Tombstone. If this shall be obtained it will be the first of such elections held under the new local option law which passed the legislature at the last session. There are now in Tombstone nine saloons and one grocery store which also sells liquor. There is not thought to be any strong feeling for prohibition in Tombstone and your correspondent does not believe the issue of a dry Tombstone would carry.

Judge Gaynor Rules Slaver of White Must Stay in Westchester County

NEW YORK, July 9.—Supreme Court Justice Gaynor today denied the motion recently made before him for the removal of the amateur record in county hearing from Westchester county to New York county.

Justice Gaynor referred to New York county's plea that convenience of expert witnesses, of whom it was desired to ask lengthy questions, would be served by the removal of the case to New York and said:

"Thaw now has been confined in the state lunatic asylum for one year and experienced and practical physicians in charge there ought to suffice for experts of the state on the question of whether this man, who already has been adjudged a lunatic by Justice Morschauer after full hearing, has since recovered and may safely be set at large."

ANGRY AT DECISION; LEGATION ATTACKED

Bolivians, Incensed At Settlement of Boundary Dispute, Mob Embassy

LA PAZ, Bolivia, July 8.—At 9 o'clock tonight a furious mob attacked the Argentine legation. Troops have been called out and fears are entertained for the safety of the Argentine minister. The trouble is the outcome of a decision rendered by President Alcorca, of Argentina, in the boundary dispute between Peru and Bolivia.

Senor Fonzece is the Argentine minister to Bolivia.

The great crowds that have been parading the streets were finally turned in the direction of the Argentine legation, which they surrounded. There were shouts of rage and stones and other missiles hurled at the building.

The local authorities endeavored to check the manifestations and at length the government found it necessary to order out the troops. Both this legation and the Peruvian legation are under strong guard. The Bolivian people unanimously protest against the decision rendered by president Alcorca, which they consider as most unjust.

The territory involved are the famous acre district, recently purchased by Brazil from Bolivia for $10,000,000 notwithstanding that Peru issued a warning that the territory was at that time the subject of arbitration.

Peru's complications are certain to involve Brazil.

SENATE ADJOURNS THREE DAYS AT TIME

Will Not Enact Any Legislation Until Conference Report Shall Be Received

WASHINGTON, July 9.—During a session lasting nearly four hours, the Philippine tariff bill and a bill automatically continuing the Porto Rican budget were passed by the senate.

Only nominal resistance was offered by the minority to the measures. An amendment by Johnson, of Alabama, declaring the intention of the United States to eventually grant independence to the Philippines was rejected.

Culberson sought to limit the operation of the Porto Rican act to July 1, 1910, but this amendment was also defeated.

The senate agreed to adjourn three days at a time until the conference report on the tariff bill is ready for consideration and also not to enact any legislation when it does convene.

The senate received official announcement of the death of Representative Cushman and adjourned at 4:45 p. m. in respect to his memory.
