

GODFREY HERE TO EXAMINE THE WELLS

EXPECTED THAT THE HEALTH OFFICER WILL MAKE TEST UP CANON.

With the arrival in the city yesterday from Phoenix of Dr. Edward S. Godfrey, Jr., territorial health officer, it is apparent that the alleged contamination well situated in a granite canyon will be finally settled.

When Mayor Neale returned from Phoenix a few days ago he stated that he had a brief conversation with Dr. Godfrey upon the subject. Dr. Godfrey told him at that time that he intended shortly to visit Bisbee and would then go into the situation more fully. He is now here, doubtless, to make a personal visit to the wells and a test of their contents. Upon his arrival will rest the continuance in use or closing of the water supplies.

Dr. Godfrey is well known here, having been formerly a resident of Bisbee.

DISHWASHER IS BADLY SCALDED

TUB OF BOILING WATER TIPS OVER MAN AT THE MAZE CAFE.

John Jachovich, a dishwasher employed at the Maze Cafe, was badly scalded while at work at the Maze about 11 o'clock last night.

He was engaged in carrying a tub of boiling water from the stove to the sink, when one of the tub handles broke. The tub tipped in his direction as it fell to the floor and the water splashed over him. His breast and arms, as well as the upper portion of his limbs, were severely burned.

He was first undressed and rolled in flour, then taken to the office of Dr. C. R. Hawley, where the burns were dressed and Jachovich removed to his home. He will be laid up for at least a couple of weeks.

BATTLE TODAY.

SAN JUAN, Jan. 26.—Reports received here indicate a battle between the provisional government forces and those of Madrid will be fought tomorrow.

ANOTHER BATTLE OF BALLOIS NEEDED

BOTH GREAT PARTIES IN ENGLAND LOOK FORWARD TO NEW STRUGGLE.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—The combined strength of Liberals, Laborites and Nationalists in coalition, reached 345 tonight, or more than a majority of the house of commons. Unionist government is, therefore, out of the question.

The only point still undecided is the exact strength of the coalition majority. But if the independent Liberal majority is equally out of question, only a short life can be expected for the incoming government. In fact, both Liberal and Unionist parties are looking away from the present struggle into the future, when the conflict at the polling booths will be renewed.

No doubt the success of the Conservatives is largely due to constant education of the agricultural population to the virtues of tariff reform. The education will be carried into the northern counties of Scotland in hope of winning these territories at the next election. The Liberals, on the other hand, will concentrate all education of the country upon questions of free trade and limitation of the veto power of the Lords.

"TAMA JIM" STILL FAITHFUL TO TARIFF

SECRETARY DECLARES THE HIGH COST OF LIVING NOT DUE TO PAYNE MEASURE.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—"Tama Jim" costs more to get the common necessities of life in the United States than in any other country in the world," was a statement made tonight by James Wilson, secretary of agriculture in an address before the manufacturers club.

"Some people," he said, "say if you repeal the tariff and let foreign products in free of duty the present difficulty will cease. I don't believe it."

The secretary further said he believed the American people were suffering not so much from high cost of living as high cost of high living.

WEATHER.

Arizona—Fair Thursday and Friday.

GARFIELD TELLS COMMITTEE TRUTHS

FORMER SECRETARY SAYS HE DID NOT APPROVE OF BALLINGER'S MEASURES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—James A. Garfield, former secretary of the interior, continued his state before the senate committee on public lands, referring to several bills introduced at the request of Ballinger. Again Garfield failed to approve the recommendations of Ballinger of several important features of the proposed legislation. He thought the Ballinger bill relating to the control of water power sites would interfere with the improvement of lands for the development of power. He declared, however, that he was in favor of the control of lands valuable in the development of water power so as to prevent monopolies. The same principle applies to coal lands. Garfield said that conservationists generally recognized that the federal government had no authority to enact laws for the use of water, as that control was vested in the states.

Most of the members of the committee declared that they opposed any bills designed merely to enable the government to get every cent possible out of water power sites and mineral lands. It is asserted the committee desires making it easy as possible for individuals to settle on public lands, and no legislation will be favored for any purpose other than to prevent monopolies gaining a foothold.

RECEIVER FOR THE MEXICAN BANK

IT IS HOPED TO PUT ITS AFFAIRS ON A SOUND BASIS ONCE MORE.

MEXICO, Jan. 26.—Receivership for the United States Banking company was decided on at a meeting of the directors this afternoon, after the institution failed to open for business today. The suspension is a bitter disappointment to scores of depositors. Elsbauer, the vice-president, believed the bank had enough assets to pay every legitimate obligation. He added: "We are considering reorganization under another presidency, and believe the embarrassment will only be temporary."

OAXACA, Mex., Jan. 26.—A riot occurred today over the closing of a branch of the United States Banking company in this city. There is much excitement, as practically none of the mining companies can meet their pay rolls.

SKATING CHAMPIONSHIP

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 26.—Speedy skaters from East and West, together with several from across the Canadian border, gathered in Cleveland today for the national indoor championships. The contest, which will continue over tomorrow, are being conducted under the auspices of the International Ice Skating Union. With Edward Lamy, the present amateur champion, Fred Logan, Olie Wood, and other noted skaters among the contestants the meet promises to be one of the most successful events of its kind that has taken place in this country for several years.

TWO BANKERS INDICTED.

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., Jan. 26.—Two bankers were indicted today for accepting county funds without compliance of law and two county officials are accused of malfeasance and misuse of public money. The men indicted are J. L. Ross, president of the First National Bank, San Mateo county, and L. P. Dehrens, cashier of the same institution. The officials accused are district attorney J. J. Bullock and county treasurer P. P. Chamberlain.

The charges have the alleged application of $290,000.

ELEVEN ARE DROWNED.

ELBOA, Spain, Jan. 25.—Eleven were drowned when a fishing boat was wrecked on the coast in a storm. A fierce gale is blowing at San Sebastian.

LIBEL CASE QUASHED.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The indictment against the Press Publishing company, publishers of the World, charging Joseph Pulitzer and others with criminal libel against Roosevelt, Taft and others, was quashed today by the United States court. Delaney Nicoll, counsel for the defendant interpreted the decision as a signal of victory for the freedom of the press.

COCHISE COUNTY IS AGAINST PROHIBITION

result of challenges was limited to about half a dozen.

When it came time to close the polls, 5 o'clock, according to the statutes of 1891, an argument arose among members of the Lowell election board as to whether the old instructions should be obeyed or those set forth by the board of supervisors in the call for the election, which stated that "The polls are to be open at 8 a. m. and close at 6 p. m."

A vote was taken by members of the board and it was decided to obey the orders of the board of supervisors so the Lowell polls remained open until 6 o'clock. Those in dispute closed at the old time, 5 o'clock. This was also true in Douglas.

Last night a report was current on the streets that the drys might contest the election in both places on the grounds that a number were shut out from voting. According to statements of W. M. Burke made at the Y. M. C. A. last night, however, no such action will be brought. The drys are satisfied to let matters rest. "We could contest the election," he stated, "I am of the opinion that a number of people, misled by the announcement of the election call, failed to cast their ballot on this account, but there appears to be nothing gained by contesting. The Anti-Saloon League has spent thousands in this campaign, but we were beaten where we most hoped to win out."

Burke claims to have a case of illegal voting at Lowell, that of a man who, he claimed, could not read or write readily. He stated the case might be taken up with the district attorney.

After the excitement of the vigorous battle waged during the day was over, people flocked downtown after supper, anxious to catch the first news of the returns from all over the county.

The big center of attraction all evening was the Review bulletin screen stretched across Brewery avenue from the Orpheum to the Torrey market.

This was the only information because that was available to the general public, ladies and gentlemen alike. Brewery avenue was packed for nearly a block with a solid mass of humanity. Previous to the crowd was of the first returns, the crowd was entertained with a few "joshes," mixed with an advertisement or two, flashed upon the screen from the magic lantern station in the Medevich building. It isn't very often that an "ad" creates any unusual excitement, but it seemed to frame up differently last night. One of the first things flashed to view, and which caused endless roars of laughter and much applause, was this: "Try Shatuck's Squirrel Whiskey."

The first returns received were those from Tombstone, and as the first victory for the wets was known a great cheer went up, followed by others when it was known that three of the other precincts had also gone against prohibition.

Then returns began to come in from the outlying precincts more freely and the crowd was kept busy keeping tabs on the net majority. Many took down the figures on paper and doped out the results for themselves. Frequently a sign was hung at them lest they forget the Review, the old reliable family newspaper. This was greeted with cheers as loud as the biggest wet majority received.

The gathering was confined chiefly to Brewery avenue, although a few congregated about Main street, principally at the Royal theater, where the review figures were given the audience from time to time as the results of the count became known. The "celebration spirit" considered a part of every election, was conspicuous by its almost entire absence. No drunkenness to speak of was noticeable and all conducted themselves in a gentlemanly, orderly manner. No loud, boisterous talk or rough language was indulged in upon the streets, and although every officer in town was out in anticipation of trouble, none occurred that they had any cognizance of and early in the evening not an arrest was made.

Much talk circulated about the street yesterday to the effect that there would be "doings" should the wets win, but after it was all over and Bisbee's citizens, by their splendid majority, demonstrated that they were perfectly capable of looking after "personal liberty," they were content as gentlemen to rest upon their laurels and not make the sting of defeat of the Burd-Spicer-Briggs Co. any harder to bear. The conduct of the personal liberty advocates at the close of the campaign was identical with that which marked their clean tactics throughout the campaign.

The great event is over. For two years, at least, dear old Cochise will not be troubled with the trials and tribulations of another local option campaign.

PROBE TO GO DEEP.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—That the nation's investigation of the so-called beef trust will be nation wide was shown today when it was announced that pecking men from all parts of the country had been summoned by the grand jury. It was also learned that district attorney Sims had arranged to carry on the inquiry at least six weeks.
