WRESTLER HUSSEN FOUND A TAKER

Thomas Young Accepts Challenge for Match October 1

Thomas Young, of Bisbee, has accepted the challenge of Ed Young, of Tombstone, for a mixed style wrestling match, the bout to take place in Bisbee on October 1. Young has written Husson of his acceptance of the challenge published in the Review several days ago. The first bout will be catch-as-catch-can style, and the second, Cornish style. If either wrestler wins the first two falls he shall be declared the winner of the match, but if each obtains a fall, the man putting down his antagonist in the quickest time in the previous falls, shall decide what style the third fall shall be.

Young's answer to Husson's challenge is as follows: Ed. Husson, Tombstone, Ariz. In answer to your challenge of September 17, I desire to state that I will accept it. It looks good to me, as I have always had to wrestle bigger men than I am, and when wrestling smaller men than myself, I have had to take to two.

I agree to wrestle you by the rules of Cornish style wrestling, and also by the rules of catch-as-catch-can, the first man to foul to lose the match and be disqualified, as it will be an fair for you as for me. The judge must be a man that truly knows the game in both styles.

Yours respectfully, THOMAS YOUNG

WELLS AND ATTELL

Contest for Feather Weight Championship Tomorrow Night

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Matt Wells, the English lightweight champion, recently received a big boost in the estimation of New York fans by the excellent showing he made in his fight with "Knockout" Brown, in to be seen in action in Madison Square Garden again tomorrow night. Unless there is a slip in the present plans Wells will face Attehl, the featherweight champion, who will emerge from his temporary retirement in order to meet the Englishman. According to the agreement the two fighters will weigh in at 135 pounds at a 9 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

WELLS-M'FARLAND

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Manager McDonald, for Matt Wells, the English lightweight champion, announced today that he would accept an offer of $20,000 to fight in London with McFarland.

Coronation Sermons

In the old days, when prelates were constantly called upon for sermons on special occasions, they frequently either paid for a suitable discourse or begged some competent friend to write one for the occasion. Bishop Johnson galvanized general applause in 1759 for a sermon preached in Westminster Abbey at a great service on the day of thanksgiving "appointed to be observed for the signal victory, which his majesty's arms had been blessed." An enthusiastic vote of thanks was passed by the house of lords to the preacher "for his eloquent and excellent discourse," and he was requested to "cause the same to be forthwith printed and published." It was announced as the work of "James, by Divine Providence, Lord Bishop of Worcester," but many years afterward the fact was disclosed that every word of this sermon had been written for the bishop by his friend Lord Mansfield. The sermon contained a glowing panegyric on the many admirable virtues of George II.—London Truth.

COWBOY TOURNAMENT FURNISHED GOOD SPORT

It is Still Going on in the Court of Justice High.

The most varied program of range sports ever seen in Bisbee was given Sunday afternoon at Warren Park under the management of John McLaughlin and Will Hillman, the entertainment lasting all the afternoon. The bucking was not as sensational as some that has been seen in the district, on account of the slippery ground, but on the whole the program entertained.

McLaughlin's come-back at the Bonanza rodeo did not come off as scheduled, the rider fearing to tackle the horse on account of the condition of the ground. Jim Kinney and George Young were the principals of a little bout that was not down on the program, composed of many an encounter, but neither one was injured. Kinney is reputed in the southwest to be the champion of all butlers of broncs and Young has a riding reputation as long as an arm, so there is naturally a certain degree of "professional jealousy" between them. Officially, Kinney still remains the premier rider of the southwest, by virtue of having won the $50 prize for excellence in horsemanship, and seemingly through a slip on the part of fate, his rival, George Young, won the prize of $5 for having the prettiest shirt. Nevertheless, Young was one of the popular heroes of the tournament.

Steer riding was one of the novel events of the program, and one that not many people of Bisbee had seen. Oscar McConnell excelled in this sport and won a prize of $20. Other prize winners were: Miss Armstrong, first prize $25 for cowboy race; Rich Armstrong, first prize in relay race, $25; Dan Sheebee of Naco, second prize in relay race, $10. Rain interfered with the meet to some extent, but it was a success, a considerable sum in gate receipts being realized. As a result of the tournament, Mr. Hillman, of Hillman's cigar store, attached a portion of the receipts for an alleged debt of Will Hillman, one of the impresarios of the tournament, attachment papers being secured from Judge High's court, but Judge Kinney secured a laborer's lien on the money attached. The matter will be threshed out in Judge High's court.

THESE ARE YOUR ANCESTORS

When One Considers Their Vast Number Pride of Descent Seems Very Foolish.

Are you proud of your ancestors? Of how many of them? Since the beginning of the Christian era—a mere 1911 years—you have had 129,125,017,489,534,976 ancestors. Imagine, if you can, how many persons were needed since the beginning of the world to bring you forth—you, who are reading this now. It works the other way, too. If a single couple had started 6,000 years ago to populate the world, and everybody had grown to maturity and married at the age of 21, the earth's population would be 2,199,915, followed by 144 ciphers. However, this world would not hold them all; it would not be large enough. To give all these people breathing space the size of the world would have to be multiplied by 3,166,526, followed by 125 ciphers. That is the only way in which these enormous numbers can be expressed.

How futile, then, is ancestor worship! Every one of us, high or low, has had in his ancestry kings and peasants, criminals and saints; it is almost impossible to name any one of one's own race to whom one cannot prove in some way a remote relationship.

Demonstrations

"Geewhilleens, Skillington," said Blaworth, meeting his Chicago friend in the corridor of a New York hotel, "you must be prosperous! I see you and Mrs. Skillington out motoring in the park every blessed morning and afternoon. What does it cost you?" "Nothing at all, Hib," said Skillington. "The madam and I are enjoying a few demonstrations, that's all. With sixty first-class cars on the market one can motor around New York twice a day for a whole month at the cost of a blue veil and a pair of goggles."—Harper's Weekly.

Unique Sight in England

During a recent thunderstorm a waterspout was seen near Lakenheath, Suffolk, England. Of this phenomenon, which is rare in Britain, Mr. W. T. Newton, surgeon, writes that "it developed suddenly and quickly assumed large proportions, and being not more than a quarter of a mile distant, I had ample opportunity of watching it. It was attended by a loud noise, and presented the appearance of an ascending column of water on one side and a descending column on the other. It whirled and twisted about, one end being very close to the earth. Some observers, nearer than myself, distinctly saw twigs from trees and pieces of grass and straw drawn up by it. When it dispersed, it left a rising column like smoke which lasted some minutes."

NOT UP TO EXPECTATIONS

Mankind and the World Frequently Disappointing to Hopeful Youth, Says Theodore Parker.

I suppose many of us are a little disappointed with mankind. The world of the girl's dream is not the world of the young woman's actual sight and touch, and still less is it of the woman no longer young. In the moonlight of dreamy youth, as we look out of the windows and rejoice in the blooming apple trees, how different does the world seem from what we find it the next day, when, in the heat of a May sun, we go about and remove the caterpillars from the scrubby trees. A boy bred in a wealthy family in a little village, secluded from the eyes of men, filling his consciousness with nature and the reflection of human life which deep poems and other religious books mirror down into his own soul, goes out into the world, and finds things very different from what they appeared when seen through the windows of the home which his father's and mother's affection colored with the rose and violet of their own nature.—Theodore Parker.

CHARITY AND STAMINA

It has often been observed that living organisms require for their fullest development a certain amount of resistance in their environments. The individual or the species for which things are made too easy loses the unused function. The butterfly helped from the caryllis has imperfect wings. The man fed on soft foods has had teeth. The parasite is always a weakling and sometimes a degenerate monster. The parasitic dodder, which draws all its sustenance from the sap of the host, is a plant without a root or a leaf. The shell crab, which instead of growing a shell, has had teeth. The parasite makes use of the cast-off shells of mollusks, is atrophied in some of its members and enfolded in its whole organism. So with the intellectual environment and the mental qualities of man. The Journal of the American Medical Association says that the pauper and the paupered child of wealth are deprived of these qualities of initiative and self-reliance on which their respective environments make so demand. Unnecessary charity is twice cursed; it curbs him that gives and aims that takes; all of which goes to prove (if proofs were needed) that abuse of medical charity is as bad for the public as it is for the profession.

MODERN WOMEN LACK GRACE

Famous Artist Says Fair Sex Never Before Walked or Carried Itself so Badly.

Marcus Stone, R. C., the famous artist, says: "I do not believe that women—or men either, for that matter—have ever walked or carried themselves as badly as they do now. The women with their elbows out, their shoulders up, their necks pushed forward, the men for the most part chestless creatures with sloping necks. Arms were not made to stick out on either side like jugs handles.

"Of course, as an artist I am at war with fashion and its constant changes—which prevent woman evolving a dress which expresses her individuality—but especially with the fashion of wearing corsets, which, to my mind, destroy the outline of the figure and cramp the freedom of woman's movements. Never before in my life has woman been so much imprisoned and leered up as she is today—that is to say, of course, all except the willowy women, whose figures accord with present fashion. How can she move gracefully in a tube which pushes her shoulders up, shortens her neck, and sends her elbows out? The sloping attitude of neck adopted by men and women I attribute to the wearing, especially when young, of high stiff collars. The least pressure on the back of the neck sends the head forward, and thus a habit is formed."

Flight of Seeds

It is popularly believed that winged seeds from trees travel to great distances on the wind, but the investigations of a British scientist who has spent much time at Singapore, indicate that winged seeds have a far narrower range of flight than have "powder" seeds and plumed seeds. The greatest distance travelled by the winged seeds of a forest tree observed by this authority was 100 yards. Under the most favorable circumstances, he calculates. It would take this plant just 100 years to spread 500 yards and 1,500,000 years to spread from the Malay Peninsula to the Philippines if a land connection existed.—Scientific America.

ROYALLY ENTERTAINED BUT TWICE BEATEN

How the Bisbee Team Was Slaughtered to Make Mexican Holiday

The Bisbee ball team lost both games to Cananea Saturday and Sunday, the first game by the score of 8 to 3, and the second game by the score of 8 to 5. The Bisbee players say they were royally entertained, however. The members of the Bisbee team intended returning to Bisbee Sunday afternoon, after the last game, by automobile, but it rained so hard that the return home was postponed until yesterday.

The first game, as is shown by the score, was more or less one sided. Cananea almost trebling the score of the Bisbee team. The Bisbee team was not representative of the Warren district league as several of the best players on the All-Star team, including Chapman and Ross Champion, could not accompany the team.

On the other hand, several of the old Cactus league players were in the lineup of the Cananea team.

Sunday's game was a little closer than the first one, the Queen Sages having an edge of only three runs when the game closed. Cananea won the same in the first inning, getting a lead of five runs that could not be overcome, although the Bisbee team made three runs in its half of the first. Cananea increased its lead by getting two runs in the fourth and one in the eighth, as against one in the third and one in the seventh for the Bisbee team. The lineup of the teams in both games was as follows:

As there are two of these motors, there are no tire some waits between pictures at the Royal, so that throughout the entire performance there is something doing not only every minute, but almost every instant.

Rank Materialists.

In their outlook on life most Chinese are rank materialists, says a writer in the Century. They ply the stranger with questions as to his income, his means, the cost of his belongings. They caution offer paper money instead of real money at the graves of their dead, and sacrifice paper images of the valuables that once were burned in the funeral pyre.

Yet no one who comes into close touch with the Chinese deems this utilitarianism a race trait. They are, in fact, capable of the highest idealism. Among the few who have come near to the thought of Buddha or Jesus one finds faces saintlike in their depth of spirituality. The materialism is imposed by hard economic conditions. It is the product of an age long anxiety about tomorrow's rice and is not to be concentered by the influence of the petty lift them above sordid anxieties.
