Roosevelt, in his "confession of faith," steals a great many things from the G. O. P., but he leaves it the negro vote in the south.

Roosevelt and Johnson are both to take the stump and make many speeches during the campaign, but you will not have to attend the meetings unless you want to.

Instead of annexing Arizona to San Diego in order that this state may have a seaport, why not annex enough of Sonora to take in Guaymas?

Several editors have been fined for contempt of court. The judge wasn't thinking of the red ink the Denver papers use when he asserted the fine or he would have made the sentence penitentiary instead of jail.

Soon the orators will be going about the country making speeches. We hope that none of the kind who "electrify the audience" will appear in Arizona. There is no amusement in being "electrified."

It is reported that the Bull Moose delegates sang "Onward, Christian Soldiers," while in convention. It is said they sang other songs and it is likely that among the other songs was that beautiful, soul-inspiring hymn, "All Coons look Alike to Me." And that probably was the war song the credentials committee sang as it guided the steam roller back and forth over the "colored brethren" from Mississippi and Florida.

In the minstrel show the interlocutor was to whistle when the end man, who was a great liar, got to pulling the long low to hard in telling a tale. You remember that don't you? Well, the end man was telling about the barn his uncle was building. "It was five miles long," he said, "and two miles high"—just then the interlocutor whistled—and two feet wide," he concluded. The fate of the minstrel man's barn and of the proposed mammoth railroad shops at Phoenix seem to be about the same. The railroad company whistled.

The Bull Moose defeated the standpats in the primaries in Kansas. This means that Kansas will elect George Hodges, democrat, as governor of the state. Governor Glick, who died recently, was the first democrat the state ever honored with the office. But the fact that Kansas has a 236,000,000 bushel corn crop this year may account in a measure for the democrat certainty of success. You know what corn makes.

Two editors at Moberly, Mo., engaged in a gun fight this week and succeeded in puncturing an innocent bystander just below the heart. This will get them in trouble. Editors should never fight with guns. They should use left-handed sidewalk sticks or the office towel, or the sponge soaked in lye water. But Missouri editors are a thoughtless lot. We knew one who drank nothing but whiskey for a month when there was plenty of beer and juleps and fizzes and such things to be had.

"Some years ago Governor—then Professor—Woodrow Wilson—published a book entitled 'Congressional Government' in which he said, 'Congress is nothing less than a big meeting of more or less idle people.' declares the standpat Los Angeles Times. Do doubt about it. He certainly did. He meant every word of it. It is absolutely true. Congress at that time was composed almost altogether of republicans and all legislation was attended to in Wall Street. Congress didn't have to work.

"Where are we at?" Taft declares that democrats are as bad as socialists and Roosevelt says that if we don't agree with him we are minions of Wall Street. So all democrats are socialists and minions of Wall Street. We haven't heard what Debs thinks about us but we can guess, and we have an idea that Mr. Chafin will insist that we are under the control of the liquor interests. We must be very bad people, we democrats, but then we are a large majority and don't mind what the angry little boys say before they throw their rocks and run.

Senator Ashurst:—"The Arizona press must have consulted the wrong dream book if they have said that there is any disappointment on my part over the nomination of Woodrow Wilson. I think he is one of our country's good and great men, and that he will be elected there is not the slightest doubt. Men who have had much experience in political affairs in the east say that President Taft will not carry above five or six states and they will be states with small votes in the electoral college. Woodrow Wilson is not only one of our greatest scholars but one of our profoundest thinkers and he is certainly a progressive. I would advise all persons to hear him speak if they have an opportunity, and those who cannot have an opportunity to hear him speak should read his speeches and his books."

WILSON IS THE MAN

August 9, 1912.
"To the Editor of the 'Bisbee Daily Review':
"In respect to the speech of acceptance of Hon. Woodrow Wilson the democratic nominee for the high office of president, there seems to be a general approval of the principles expressed therein, but in my view this approval is one particular is hasty and ill considered. There is one point covered by the eminent gentleman, which, to my notion, does not meet or accord with the views of the great and progressive democratic party. It is couched in elegant language, but a slight consideration will show the actual intention. I refer to his remarks concerning the reduction of the tariff. He attributes the absence of the tariff to the fact that schedules were not discussed on the floor of congress but determined in committee rooms and conferences. This is not the cause of the abuse. It is one of the tricks of the great unscrupulous and reckless beneficiaries of this detestable system who found it easier to corrupt or hoodwink a small committee than the whole legislature, and recent disclosures show that the cans used have been most questionable—see the recent reports of the letter of John D. Archbold to Congressman Sibley and Senator Quay.

"Mr. Wilson further says that the business of a country like ours is exceedingly sensitive to change in legislation of this kind. The same may be said of the business of a highway robber or thief, and says that the foundation of this business must not be too radically or suddenly disturbed, thereby indicating that he believes in a slow and gradual reduction of this iniquitous protective tariff. You might just as well attempt to reform a thief or a grafter by requesting him to diminish his peculations gradually. It seems to me that Mr. Wilson is obsessed by the notion that the sudden reduction of the tariff would destroy and severely injure the industry and business. This is the same old song that has been dinged into the ears of the people for half a century, and the most intelligent of them have failed to recognize it as a pure bluff. There is now no industry or manufacturing concern in this country that can truthfully say that it needs protection in order to save it from foreign competition. In fact, it is known that many things can now be produced and manufactured in this country cheaper than in foreign countries, owing to our vast resources and improved machinery.

"What consideration do these bloated grafters deserve? For half a century they have mulcted the people until their accumulations are incalculable, and yet they still howl, 'More! More!' Do these parasites who are destroying the nation require gentle treatment? Is a silk glove policy desirable? Do you remove a cancer a small particle at a time?"
"A very vigorous effort is necessary to remove this octopus from the body of the people, and it will not be very effective to remove but one tentacle at a time. The whole monster should be destroyed. It may hurt the patient, but he will soon recover.

"These few words are written without much hope of any effect, but the writer believes that they might initiate a movement of protest by which the esteemed nominee for president who, I believe, is a broad minded and liberal man and amenable to suggestion may see that his gentle policy in respect to the greatest burden and abuse that has ever been imposed upon the people will not satisfy or suffice. I believe, however, there is no

Half Million Mark Passed By Fly Swatters

One Box of 'Dead Ones' Arrives Without Name; Follow the Instructions and Get Full Count for Efforts, Say the Committee

Upward count the figures in the anti-fly crusade. Yesterday morning saw the half million mark passed and the count then showed that there had been killed in the first few days of this crusade 580,660 and later in the day other boxes were received which had not been counted. There will be a big job for the counters Monday and indications are that the million mark will be passed on that day and the standing of contestants published Tuesday morning will show this to be the fact. Had it been possible to count those that were received after ten o'clock yesterday morning it is thought the record would have been a quarter of a million higher than appears this morning. Yesterday morning the standing of the contestants was as follows:

Earl Lewis	117,360
Leslie Park	113,500
Milo Nickolich	26,000
Raymond Waters	68,100
Richard Phillips	67,200
John Kelly	25,600
Freddie Stone	18,000
Arthur Ojeda	17,900
Rilla Waeck	15,600
George Richards	14,400
Beverly Terrebome	9,900
W. C. Stack	5,200
Nannie Sheppard	2,900

In addition to the above there were received later in the day several large boxes which will be counted later and included in the totals published Tuesday morning. These boxes were sent in by Garnet Cochran, Earl Waters and George Richards one each and by Leslie Park two. Although all of the flies that are received in any one day may not be included in the count as published the next day in the end the full count will be taken and each contestant will have received his or her full credit for all work done from the first day until the last. One box of flies was received which would have been included in the count of yesterday except for the all important reason that there was no name upon it or in it. This made it impossible to credit any one with that many flies so who ever sent them in lost the count and the total is several thousand less than it otherwise would have been.

Another contestant will be disappointed at an allowance of only 2,000. These were contained in an envelope and had been put in wet or at any rate were so packed down that it was impossible to get an accurate count. Therefore an allowance of 2,000 was given but the committee states that hereafter no allowance or count will be made for flies packed wet or so smashed and matted that they cannot be properly measured for counting.

Another box contained in addition to the flies scraps of refuse from a stable, straw and other dirt. So far as possible this was picked out and a deduction made for that which could not be readily picked out. Such conditions as these should be avoided by the contestants themselves. They will have to exercise some care themselves in this matter and by so doing will aid the committee in obtaining the most accurate possible count. If the present good work is kept up there will have been killed by the time the crusade ends on September 3 upwards of 4,000,000 which, according to the San Antonio estimate of the number of germs carried by each fly will mean also the destruction of over four trillion germs. Surely this is "going some" in an effort to prevent the spread of germ diseases in a community. The possibilities of what is being done are enormous when put into figures.

PANAMA BILL HAS STORMY OUTLOOK AHEAD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—That the Panama measure will not pass to final enactment without a further fight against the amendment prohibiting American registry for foreign built ships owned by Americans, was indicated late today, when telegrams of protest were received from the Newport News chamber of commerce and other civic bodies at ship building centers. The telegrams demanded a hearing before action was taken. The amendment put into the bill by the senate opens the way to American owners of foreign built ships to enjoy privileges of American registry, provided they keep their ships exclusively in trade to and from foreign ports. It is understood that many house members are demanding that if foreign built ships are permitted to fly the American flag, congress shall also pass a law permitting importation, without tariff duty, of materials used in building ships in American yards. This demand has been frequently before congress. The cost of building ships in the United States is much higher than in foreign ship yards, and it was said that conditions would be somewhat equalized if cheaper foreign materials could be imported without payment of tariff.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 10.—Premier Sir Richard McBride, at a banquet said the people of Canada looked upon the completion of the Panama canal as having a great effect on the prosperity of the whole world, and that of Canada especially, and he was not upset by the action of the senate favoring American-owned ships passing through the ditch. He believed after the people of America had time to view the matter with calmness, the question would be settled satisfactory to all. The premier's words were loudly cheered.

JACK THE RIPPER SLAYS IN DENVER

DENVER, Aug. 10.—That Denver is harboring a modern "Jack the Ripper" whose crimes rival in atrocity the White Chappel murders is the belief of the police since the murder last night of Miss Signe A. Carlzen in Aurora, a suburb of Denver. Her mutilated body was found today. The police drag net has been thrown over the city. The murder of Miss Carlzen has focused police attention upon half a dozen crimes of similar respects, which have been perpetrated in Denver or its suburbs within six months. One suspect arrested today was released tonight. Miss Carlzen was assaulted and murdered while on her way home from giving a pupil a music lesson. Her skull was crushed and a stocking was taken from her and wrapped tightly about her throat. The body was horribly mutilated with a knife.

Brown of Zanesville for governor at the meeting today of the republican and electional unit committee, eight members of that body resigned. BANK OF BISBEE TO AID SMALL DEPOSITORS

Opens Savings Department Sept. 1; 4 Per Cent Interest; One Dollar Will Start Account

Beginning September 1 the Bank of Bisbee will open its savings department and will pay interest on deposits of that class at the rate of four per cent per annum. This was announced in a circular issued by that bank yesterday. The circular states that $1 will start an account and will bear interest.

Following the announcement of the Bank of Bisbee that it was prepared to pay interest on time or savings deposits a representative of the Review called at the bank and saw Mr. Connolly who gave some further information on the subject. He stated that deposits might be made at any time and interest commences on the first of the month immediately following such deposit. Interest at the rate of four per cent per annum is payable semi-annually on the first days of January and July.

The bank reserves the right to demand a notice of sixty days of withdrawal, but while it has that right, it will likely to use it, the only occasion being a nation wide shortage of funds. This is the same provision that is in vogue with the savings institutions of New York and other of the larger eastern states and it has been seldom indeed that they have exercised their privilege. It is merely a safeguard for the benefit for all of the depositors of such institutions.

Speaking of the reasons for the opening of the new department Mr. Connolly said that from time to time the management of the Bank of Bisbee had contemplated this matter but that it had been deemed best to build up the strength of the bank before putting such a course, to accumulate individual profits and so increase the financial ability of the institution. This has been done and capital surplus and profits now exceed $200,000. Another reason for delay was in the past conditions here. In former times Bisbee and the Warren district were just a mining camp with a large floating population and it then lacked stability. A city and a permanent business community has grown up with a population which is more stable and less drifting. This warrants new banking methods and the bank having built up its financial strength is now in a position to share profits with depositors.

This sharing of profits is an encouragement to thrift and an incentive to industry and the character of the population in the district now warrants the offering of such inducements in the opinion of the directors of the bank.

The Jefe Politico was powerless to resist the attack and in retaliation ordered the slaughter protesting to believe that in killing people he was punishing the rebels. The butchery began at the jail where all the prisoners were killed by the guards and then the citizens were butchered.

GREEK DENIED CITIZENSHIP
SEATTLE, Aug. 10.—Judge Cushman denied citizenship today to John M. Manos, a Greek who has lived in the United States for 12 years, and who refuses to bring his wife and daughter to this country. When the application came up today, Manos had taken no action, and the judge declared him ineligible.

Camden, N. J.

THE QUESTION before Advertisers more constantly than any other is, "Shall I use large or small space?"
"SHALL I use small space frequently or large space occasionally?"
THIS QUESTION has been discussed by National Advertisers, for years.
THE LARGE SPACE advocates contend that a blow from a sledge hammer is sure to be more effective than the continual tapping of a tack hammer.
THE SMALL-SPACE-FREQUENTLY MEN call attention to the fact that a small, STEADY, stream of water will wear a stone away.
THEY ARE BOTH RIGHT.
EITHER METHOD will win, HAS WON, time and time again.
IT WILL WIN as readily for a retail merchant with an advertising appropriation of but a few dollars as it will for the National Advertiser with an appropriation of a few hundred thousand dollars.
THE ONE POINT THAT ALL ADVERTISERS ARE AGREED UPON IS THAT ADVERTISING MUST BE SYSTEMATIC, MUST BE CONTINUOUS, TO PRODUCE LASTING RESULTS.
THERE ARE many instances which might be cited to prove this assertion. AMONG the most notable, is that of a certain brand of soap.
THERE WAS A TIME, not 60 very long ago when this Soap was to be found on nearly every wash-board.
THE BRAND had been extensively and continuously advertised, and was, by far, the best known Soap then on the market.
THE ADVERTISING WAS DISCONTINUED. WHY, it would be difficult to even guess. It may have been due to a form of logic frequently advanced by those who do not make a close study of merchandising.
THE Manufacturer, possibly, had listened to unwise counsel and decided to "cash in" on the large expenditures he had made for Advertising by stopping short and relying upon the demand already existent to keep his output up.
THE INEVITABLE RESULT WAS OBLIVION.
TO THOSE of an inquisitive turn of mind, the statement that this Soap is still on the market, may be of interest.
IT IS "on the market" and that is just about all.
THE BISBEE DAILY REVIEW will make your business a veritable "every" a "Felt's Naptha," a "Sunny Monday" or "Fair."
GETTING OUT OF PRINT UNMADE the brand referred to. 909.
