

DEVASTATION MARKS TRAIL ROJAS REBELS

Railroad Depot at Pesqueria Burned; Wires Cut; 17 Bridges Burned

The depot at Pesqueria on the Southern Pacific of Mexico Nogales branch was burned by rebels Tuesday night, according to reports received yesterday by way of Naco. Estimates of the number of rebels in the band commanded by Rojas, vary from 600 to 1,500. An embargo has been placed on freight and the business of the road is practically at a standstill. Telegraph and telephone lines connecting Nogales with points south have been cut and but little news is obtainable but it is believed that the rebel band has embarked on a campaign of plunder and despoliation.

From another source it was learned that Rojas, with 1,500 men, is marching from Querobohi toward Hiermosillo and has destroyed seventeen railroad bridges on the Southern Pacific of Mexico between the two places. The two news sources each confirm the other in the respect of Rojas' activity in that section of the state of Sonora. The rebel leaders objective appears to be Hiermosillo, the capital of the state.

Conditions Grew Worse
Reports of rebel activity in the State of Sonora are confirmed by State Mine Inspector William J. Farrell, of Lowell, who returned from the country south of Nogales yesterday. He and a companion left the Warren district several days ago for San Miguel, a mining camp off the railroad. When they arrived at the place on the line where they were to be met by a conveyance from San Miguel no one met them and later they heard that the man driving the rig had been murdered and the rig confiscated. Farrell turned back to the states and soon after the train on which he was a passenger passed a point near Pesqueria the rebels blew up the track. Mr. Farrell says that conditions in that section of the state are constantly growing worse. Colonel Emilio Kosterlitzky, who holds a commission from the Madero government, is expected to pass

Plenty of Work for Steady Worker in Warren District at Good Pay; Shortage Now Felt; Commercial Club to Go After the Desirable Citizen and Invite Him

Every summer there are many who leave the mines of this district and go to the north. As a result each summer there is complaint of a scarcity of men. This summer is no exception to the rule. There are those who state that this year it has been more than usually difficult to obtain the desired number of good workers while there are others who maintain that such is the report each year, just as the last heavy rain is always the heaviest of the season. Be that as it may the fact remains that there is not a sufficient supply of labor at that time and such is the general report. A boss employed by the C. and A. stated that he could readily use twenty more men and that he was anxious to obtain them. That is but one instance and it has been estimated that there is ready employment for at least 200 men in this camp at the present time.

Business men maintain that such men are the best citizens and their best customers and they are seeking to attract them to the district.

This matter was put up to the secretary of the Commercial club to devise ways and means at the last meeting of the board of directors and the club will take up the work to secure such an end. Admitted that there will be many drifting back to Bisbee when fall comes on and it grows cooler in the north if steady stayers can be brought in sooner, the late comers will be left out and those who are probable stayers will have the advantage.

The Commercial club recognizes the danger of bringing in more men than employment can be found for and this it is anxious to avoid but one of the features of its work will be, it is stated, to attempt to attract a stable and reliable population to the district. Careful publicity work will be required and at all times coloring of statements in the articles that are sent out will be avoided and meantime the club will continue its work in seeking improved conditions of living in the district and seek to make Bisbee the most attractive mining camp that can be found in the southwest.

150 Girls Stolen
DOUGLAR, Aug. 22.—Crimes in the name of liberty are the rule and not the exception with the force of Antonio Rojas, so-called general with the red flag forces. As yet the only sufferers have been Mexicans by birth it is stated. News of atrocities making the blood of the hearer boil, was received from a reliable source yesterday.

During the campaign between Dolores and Sahuaripa the troops under Rojas collected more than 150 of the loveliest girls in the towns, mining camps and haciendas they passed through, abducting them from their homes and reducing them to the level of the camp women which follow the troops from place to place. The male relatives of the girls were powerless to interfere, any objection voiced being the signal for death at the hands of the red flaggers.

When the rebels were beaten off in their efforts to capture Sahuaripa, they retreated to Arevachi, twenty miles to the south of that town. Here fourteen of the leading citizens were brought together and charged with having aided and abetted the federals.

Kill Men; Outrage Women
After a summary arraignment and without giving the men a chance to plead their cases they were taken out, placed against a wall and wantonly shot. According to the information received here all were men of some wealth. Their goods were declared forfeited to the rebels because of their "treason."

NEGRO BUSINESS MEN.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 22.—The National Negro Business League, of which Booker T. Washington is the founder and president, began its thirtieth annual convention in Chicago today with an attendance of nearly 1,000 delegates representing every section of the country. The initial session, following the customary exchange of greetings, was devoted to the discussion of the negro as a farmer. The speakers included successful negro farmers and stock raisers of South Dakota, Mississippi, Kansas, Missouri, Kentucky, Texas, Oklahoma, Florida and several other states.

The convention will continue its sessions until Saturday. A number of the leading financiers and business men of Chicago have accepted invitations to address the gathering. Booker T. Washington will deliver his annual address tomorrow evening. The session tomorrow morning will be given over entirely to the annual meeting of the National Negro Bankers' association, which is made up of representatives of nearly half a hundred of the best established negro banks in existence in different parts of the South.

the men every woman and even young girls no more than children were wantonly violated by the red flaggers.

Other crimes of so terrible a nature that they could not even be listed at are charged against Rojas and his men.

As a result of this condition of affairs the smaller towns of Sonora are terrorized and the name of Rojas has become the bogey with which mothers frighten their small children.

You don't have to bake it, you don't have to fry it,
You don't have to wash it, or peel it, or dry it.
You don't have to set it to rise overnight,
You don't have to worry for fear it's not right,
It's ready for you when you're ready to eat it.
What is it? Why, "Toasties!" Can anything beat it?

CHAPMAN-MEADE PLAYERS PLEASING

Stock Company at Orpheum Will Produce 'The Wolf' on Sunday Evening

The "Gold Mine" came, saw and conquered. This interesting comedy drama now being played at the Orpheum by the Chapman Meade Players pleased a large sized audience last night. The play is a play of merit, has interesting situations and has enough good comedy to make a pleasant night entertainment. Will M. Chapman in the role of Silas K. Wool-coast the American who goes to England to sell his Gold Mine, gives an excellent conception of the part. Miss Beatrice Meade in the role of Mrs. Meredith, the English lady who with her clever wit tries to out the American at every opportunity is very clever. Miss Meade is already a strong favorite. Bert Hadley the new member of the company was well received and gave an excellent conception of the Irish M. P. Jane Gilson is clever as Una. Quentin Quigley is doing some clever work as Wilson the English butler. Jim Foreman is also clever as young Foxwood, the remaining members are giving excellent support. The company are making great preparations for the great scenic production of The Wolf, for next Sunday evening. The seats are now on sale and going fast.
