

NEW MEXICO MINE DISTRICT NOW ACTIVE

Twin Peaches and Apache Box Country is Showing Wealth Under Development

MUCH RICH MINERAL BEING UNCOVERED

El Paso Visitor Tells of Various Properties Now Being Worked With Good Success

"New and rich strikes of gold and copper are getting numerous in the Twin Peaks and Apache Box district of western Grant county, New Mexico," says F. W. Wagner, who was in El Paso last week. He was in El Paso for some time for the purpose. He is foreman on the hoist and the blacksmith at the Twin Peaks mine. He was arranging some very rich copper glance samples for assays, which were an average of the vein of the Bull Moose claim in that district, owned by him and partner, which they recently discovered.

"These samples," he said, "represent a general average of the pay streak of the vein that runs through the Bull Moose group. The vein is about five feet wide between walls and the rich paystreak is over two feet wide and is rapidly widening with depth. We only found it recently and have already gone down to a depth of 15 feet. The vein runs nearly north and south. The eastern wall is diorite and the other is porphyry. The beauty of it is that the diorite wall goes down perpendicularly while the porphyry wall goes with a dip to the west, so that accounts for the vein widening with depth. The rich copper ore occurs in parallel streaks separated by soft streaks of talcose or soft vein matter. It is much like the copper occurrence in the Santa Rita veins, where the sheets of native copper occur in similar streaks through the talcose material. The same rich copper shows up throughout the four Bull Moose claims. Our mine is about a mile southeast of the Twin Peaks mine. On the same lode as ours is another property called the Oxide King owned by other parties, whose ore is of the same quality as ours and their assays $245.44 in copper, gold and silver values. The ore are chalcocite or copper glance. We are sinking all the ore as fast as we extract it and will begin shipping to the smelter as soon as the new wagon road is completed which will be this week.

"The ore has just been assayed and gives the following results: Copper, 46.5 per cent, gold, .92 ounce, silver, 11.6 ounce, total value per ton, $146.5."

"The ore has just been assayed and gives the following results: Copper, 46.5 per cent, gold, .92 ounce, silver, 11.6 ounce, total value per ton, $146.5."

"About a mile west of the Bull Moose," says Wagner, "another rich strike has been made of exceeding richness which is creating considerable excitement in the camp. It bids fair to create a bigger furor than did the famous Apache Box. It was discovered recently by Jim Frazer, who is the pioneer discoverer of gold at Twin Peaks. The discovery consists of a big ledge of quartz, quartz-porphry on which he has located several claims, the principal one on which the discovery was made being called the Isabelle. The ore is sinking as rapidly as possible and had got down about 15 feet the day I left. The shaft is eight feet wide and he is in solid ore all the way down, all around the shaft, and is sinking all the ore as fast as it is raised, without sorting. He had already sacked 20 sacks of this ore the day I left and was having 500 more sacks brought over to the mine to be filled. The ore runs about 100 per cent, mostly gold values. There is a rich streak of iron on the hanging wall about two inches thick that runs over $200 per ton and runs the coarsest kind of free gold. As soon as the new wagon road is completed, he will increase his working force and begin shipping the ore as fast as teams can haul.

"The vein has not been crossed yet at the bottom to see how wide it is but at the surface it outcrops about 15 feet wide and pans gold all the way across."

"I have seen lots of rich prospects, but I regard this as the biggest thing I ever saw. For years Frazer had noticed the big ledge but never suspected it to carry any workable values. In planning a shallow trench or crosscut under a high cropping, he found the dirt panned gold, and this led to his discovery that the big vein was rich. It all goes to show that the camp needs close prospecting and that it has hardly been scratched, as yet."

Rich Strike in Dark Thunder
The treasures of the Dark Thunder copper mine northeast of Twin Peaks, a claim of that company, have encountered some very rich copper ore in their tunnel. They expect to encounter the main vein within 5 feet of the face of the tunnel which they are driving into the hill. Their ore is copper glance and carries some gold, as do all the copper claims in that camp.

A big Montana mining company, one of the Clark interests, has taken an option on the Apache Box mines and has experts on the ground sampling it.

The foundation for the Twin Peaks 10 ton mill is nearly completed, but has been delayed by the sickness of the contractor, C. H. Bryan, who is in charge of the erection of the mill. It has gone to Cedar Rapids to meet the owners and stockholders of the company and on returning will start the erection of the plant.

The Steve Corley claims have been bought and leased to Dr. Craig and Ollie Phillips, discoverer of Apache Box mines. The Corley claims are a group of 15 claims two and a half miles west of Twin Peaks and are owned by Stephen Corley, of Silver City, New Mexico.

Commercial Claim in Good Ore.
The lease on the Commercial claim has been productive of good millage and smelter ore. The shaft is about 140 feet deep. At the 150 level crosscuts will be driven to and across the vein, a distance of 90 feet. The entire group of claims lies on the west side of a porphyry dike. Copper predominates and assays range from five to 150 ounces silver. One of the openings shows 25 per cent lead. The property has been surveyed and covers four miles of porphyry dike and conglomerate contact.

Craig and Phillips are making preparations to commence active operations and have selected a site near the Wapiti springs on the easterly line of the Surprise mine for their main workings. The big vein, which parallels the porphyry dike splits and forms two veins having the same general course as the porphyry and conglomerate contact, the ore following the east side of Tottle Mountain, and the other following the western slope. These veins at a distance of 500 feet from the shaft are about 250 feet apart. The group is located with the main of the mountains, and all indications lead to the belief that development will open bodies of commercially valuable copper ores carrying appreciable values in gold and silver.

MAN AND THE SOIL.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, author of the Common Sense Medical Adviser, says "why does not the farmer treat his own body as he treats the land he cultivates. He puts back in phosphate what he takes out in crops, or the land would grow poor. The farmer should put back into his body the vital elements exhausted by labor, or by ill-health induced by some chronic disease." Further, he says, "the great value of my Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is in its vitalizing power. It gives strength to the stomach and purity to the blood. It is like the phosphates which supply nature with the substances that build up the crop. The far-reaching action of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is due to its effect on the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases that begin in the stomach are cured through the stomach. A Nilous spell is simply the result of an effort made by the liver to catch up when over-worked and exhausted. I have found the "Discovery" to be unsurpassed as a liver regulator and rich blood-maker."

Miss LORRAINE KENNEDY of Perth, Kansas, says: "I will here add my testimony of the effectiveness of your remedy. I was troubled with indigestion for two years or more. Doctored with three different doctors besides taking numerous kinds of so-called 'stomach cures' but received no permanent relief. I was run down, could not sleep at night with the pain in my chest, caused by gas on the stomach. Was weak, could not carry any thing although I was hungry nearly all the time. About one year and a half ago I began taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and after having taken several bottles am nearly cured of stomach trouble. Can now eat without distress and have gained fifteen pounds in weight. I can now get you for your remedy and wish you all success in your good work."

DOMINION COPPER CO. WINS AGAINST RAILWAY

Supreme Court Reverses Case and Remands with Instructions

GLOBE, Sept. 28.—An opinion was handed down from the supreme court Friday in the case of the Arizona Eastern Railway Company, appellant, vs. the Old Dominion Copper Company, appellee, an appeal from the district court of Gila county, Judge E. W. Lewis presiding. The supreme court reversed and remanded the case with instructions to the present court having jurisdiction of the cause to overrule a demurrer filed by the Arizona Eastern Railway which had heretofore been sustained.

The contention of the case arose out of the delivery of a certain carload of merchandise delivered to the Old Dominion company by the Globe Gila Valley and Northern railway some years ago. The consignee of the shipment sued for a return of certain charges made by the railway on the ground that a rate for such shipments had been made by the interstate commerce commission which had not been complied with by the railway company.

Following the instigation of the suit the Arizona Eastern acquired the Globe, Gila and Northern and hence acquired also the pending lawsuit.

LATE JUSTICE NAVE CAME HERE IN 1899

Judge Was Appointed to the Supreme Bench of Ari- zona in 1905

GLOBE, Sept. 28.—Judge Nave, who died here yesterday, was born in Lewis Center, Ohio, Jan. 7, 1873. He graduated from Ohio Wesleyan college and later from the law college of Northwestern University. Coming to Arizona in 1899, he served as a member of the Arizona Code Commission for the revision of the territorial statutes from 1899 to 1901. Removing to Nogales to practice law, he was elected district attorney of Santa Cruz county in 1906, filling that office in a most capable manner.

In 1902 he was appointed United States attorney for Arizona, but resigned in 1905 to accept appointment as associate judge to the supreme court of Arizona. He filled this office until 1909 when he resigned to retire to private practice.

About a year ago he formed a law partnership with Judge John H. Campbell of this city.

Judge Nave was president of the Arizona Bar association in 1911-12.

GEN. SCHUYLER SEES PRESCOTT

Saw Active Service in That Section During Indian Fighting Days of Long Ago

MEETS MANY FRIENDS

PRESCOTT, Ariz., Sept. 28.—General W. S. Schuyler, commanding the department of the Pacific, who was here this week making an inspection of fort Whipple, is not a stranger to Prescott. On the other hand with the exception of a score of old time residents, he probably knows more about the lay of the land and the qualifications of being a gilt edged Hassayamp than a majority of those who claim to have imbibed of the water of that noted stream above and below the famous crossing.

General Schuyler was yesterday greeted at the Yavapai club by many old time civilians, who remember his gallant military service and who cherish his splendid career in the dark days of 1873, when he was one of the able lieutenants of General Crook in making the country inviting and secure for the march of progress that followed the subjugation of the Apache. At that time General Schuyler was a captain of the Fifth cavalry, stationed at Camp Verde. From that center he was shifted to old Camp Wallapai, near Williamson valley, was on duty at Camp Date Creek, Fort Whipple, Camp Apache and other military stations, remaining in the saddle until 1877, when he was ordered out of the department. The best tribute to his military career was expressed yesterday when so many old time residents again shook his hand and recalled thrilling scenes in which he was a participant and a victor.

General Schuyler also enjoys today a distinction which very few if any can point to in their military record, in that he is the only known living captain that was with Crook in the Apache campaigns in Arizona, who is still "on the firing line, ready and willing to answer the call of the country on any occasion that may arise. This distinction is a unique and agreeable one for this noted military man to point to, and was feelingly recalled yesterday when he again faced the old 'uns of over a third of a century ago. His civilian friends state he was one of the best officers ever stationed in Arizona, and with a genial personality was riveted a will of steel that never relaxed when an Apache was in sight.

General Schuyler leaves today for Jerome and the Verde valley accompanied by R. N. Fredericks and other citizens of the city. He wants to refresh his steps over the old ground to refresh his memory and locate a certain point, where he had a thrilling hand-to-hand fight with the Apaches. This place is said to be what is now known as the Haskell and Kirwagren fruit ranch in the Verde valley. A resident of Prescott stated yesterday that at that place General Schuyler's troop of cavalry was engaged and he was personally conversant with one indisputable fact that the captain fired four shots from his revolver, and in less than four minutes there was a "good Indian" for every discharge of the weapon.

PHOENIX ENJOYS FEDERAL PLUMS

United States Court Held at Capital City Gives Town Many Financial Advantages

$25,000 EASILY SPENT

It is estimated that there will be approximately 500 business visitors to Phoenix during the coming session of the federal court. There will be upwards of 300 witnesses and many jurors, attorneys, principals and others. They will be in the capital city upwards of two weeks probably. If each visitor spends $25.00 per day the business men of the city will be benefited to the extent of $24,500.00. Three-fifty per day is a low figure and the average will probably be higher than that.

Other Towns Want Court
There is small wonder that other towns of the state want a slice of the federal court melon and they are pulling political strings to have the melon cut. There is an act pending in congress providing for sessions of the federal court at Tombstone, in this county, and Tucson in Pima county. With a pro rata of twenty-five thousand dollars, Tombstone would be enabled to remain in the business of "courts, curios and reminiscences" and not have to turn the old camp into a "summer resort" with guides and other parasitical perflage.

Other Cities in Hope
The act is still in committee, in communication, in hoc signa vincit or in some other legal corral and it is likely to stay there, for some time at least, but in the meantime Phoenix is sinking its molar into the gold-meat federal court melon, while Tucson and Tombstone sit enviously by "licking their chops." However some of the big cities in the southern part of Arizona may be assured that some day, if only for a matter of economy the federal court will be held in their hailwells.

What Is Insurance?

It is the safeguard of all traffic—it enables a rich man to keep rich, and a poor man to count with certainty on his gains and savings. It endorses for you; it advances you money to commence anew when all has been swallowed up by the fires upon land or the storms by sea; it stimulates and encourages enterprise, and is of sufficient importance to every man who is prudent, thorough in his business, and ripe in judgment and experience.
