

M'COOL VERDICT IS UNIVERSALLY CENSURED HERE

Manslaughter Verdict for Man Who Killed Cappello, by a Jury of Twelve Men, in the Superior Court of Cochise County. The Twelve Men Were Selected Because they Declared they Believed in the Majority of the Law and the Sacred Rights of a Human Being in Having an Inherent Right to Live. This Jury Found the Defendant Guilty of Manslaughter and Recommended McCool to the Leniency of the Court.

Harry McCool was found guilty of murdering Louis Cappello, by a jury of twelve men, in the superior court of Cochise county. The twelve men were selected because they declared they believed in the majority of the law and the sacred rights of a human being in having an inherent right to live. This jury found the defendant guilty of manslaughter and recommended McCool to the leniency of the court.

The manslaughter verdict, which entails a sentence in the state penitentiary of not over ten years, has received universal condemnation in the Warren District. The published report that a manslaughter verdict carried a sentence of from one to ten years was characteristically printed without reference to the statutes of the state.

That a premium will soon be put on a murder in Cochise county appears to be the opinion in Bisbee. The McCool case has attracted wide publicity since February 22, 1914, when it was committed.

At that time McCool beat up a defenseless woman with the butt of a revolver, killed an innocent man by the name of Louis Cappello and wounded another. And he was found guilty of manslaughter. The universal opinion, when the crime was committed, prevailed to the effect that it was most cold blooded in its conception and effect.

The case finally went to trial. County Attorney John Ross presented the case in an able manner. The charge that he failed to perform his duties merits a just rebuke. According to all who followed the trial, he completed the county attorney's part in a most commendable manner.

The verdict rendered that County Attorney Ross might be subjected to the wrath of the people if a jury of twelve men had not rendered a verdict in his favor. It is hard to see how the case and did not care to secure anyone on account of the verdict.

The following is a list of the twelve men who practically turned McCool loose with an indeterminate sentence of not over ten years for a crime which shocked Bisbee and the Warren District when it was committed and for many months afterward.

NEW SECRETARY FOR LOCAL Y. M. C. A.

E. A. Putnam Leaves for Oakdale, Tennessee, and is Succeeded by A. B. Richardson, of Pocatello.

E. A. Putnam, for two years and a half secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Bisbee, will leave April 21 for Oakdale, Tennessee where he has accepted the secretaryship of the railroad association. A. B. Richardson, recently of Pocatello, Idaho, will succeed Putnam as secretary in Bisbee and will take charge on April 1.

In the departure of Putnam from Bisbee the Association, and consequently the entire District, loses the work of an able leader and a man who, during his residence here, has found a lasting place in the activities of the section. Putnam has been associated in every work, for good, in the district. His activities have not been centered solely in the association, of which he was the head. In nearly every public benefit the general and efficient secretary has been one of the hardest and most conscientious workers.

Previous to his arrival in Bisbee Putnam was connected with the railroad department of the Y. M. C. A. He was located in Jersey City and came to Bisbee from the town of Pasadena where he held the secretaryship of several associations.

In taking charge of Oakdale's association work Putnam is merely getting back into railroad Y. M. C. A. work, his chosen line. In leaving Bisbee Putnam declares that he does so with the feeling that he is leaving a great many friends behind. He also says that in Bisbee and the Warren District he will always consider as one of the oasis in Association work in the country.

The successor of the present secretary, A. B. Richardson, comes to Bisbee very highly recommended. For the past seven years he has been secretary of the Pocatello railroad Y. M. C. A. The Idaho metropolitan is the railroad center of that state and the work has especially equipped the new man for the work in Bisbee.

Secretary Putnam and Mrs. Putnam will leave for Oakdale on April 21.

HAYDEN DECLARES HE IS VERY GLAD TO GET IN STATE

Congressman From Arizona "Says It's Nice to Be Home Again." Tells of Work by the Recent Congress.

PHOENIX, March 12.—"It is good to be in Arizona again," said Congressman Carl Hayden this morning. He and Mrs. Hayden had just arrived from their long sojourn at Washington and through somewhat tired from the journey both look well and say they feel so.

"We crossed the continent in what seemed one perpetual snowfall," said the congressman. "And I have never spent a more disagreeable winter, so far as weather is concerned, than this one. It is good to get away from an overcast and to see the sun shining again."

"I am glad to see Phoenix looking so well and to note the improvements that are being made. I shall remain until fall unless sooner called back to Washington but I think there is no probability of a special session. The only thing that can cause it would be some foreign entanglement that might tend to draw us into the war in Europe, and there is little fear of that with so wise and conservative a president as President Wilson at the helm."

"No single congress in a decade has passed and considered so much constructive legislation for the development of the west and the encouragement of pioneers and settlers. The extension of time for settlers on reclamation projects to make their payments, the desert lands acts to relieve and encourage settlers who are striving to make homes in the arid sections, the authorization of the establishment of ten mine experiment bureaus and fifteen additional mine reclamation stations, the extension of the work of the bureau of education in rural sections are all progressive and constructive measures."

"In its every act in relation to the public domain the congress has worked for the interests of the real home builders and has done all in its power to discourage the speculators and exploiters."

"Being a member of the committee on public lands, the committee on the irrigation of arid lands, and that of Indian affairs, I have been in close touch with much legislation that affects Arizona particularly and I feel that congress has dealt liberally with us. While the failure to pass the Indian appropriation bill may create a little trouble, it is of no great real importance as the current appropriations were extended for a year. Incidentally, I may say that the bill failed of passage owing to a controversy over the claims of some Choctaw Indians in Mississippi."

"There was appropriated $14,000,000 for reclamation work in 1914. A bond of review win land cases was created and will do much to facilitate the business between the department and settlers. An act was passed allowing the husband to select the residence for both parties in cases of intermarriages among homesteaders. The five-month absence privilege in the case of three-year homesteaders was divided in two parts and the homestead entrywomen will not now lose their rights of entry in case of marriage with an alien. The deserted wife of a homesteader may now submit proof on his claim and receive a patent in her own name. These are a few among the many bills which have been passed in the direct interest of homesteaders and which will prove of benefit to Arizona an dthe southwest at large."

"An appropriation of $50,000 was made for investigation in connection with western irrigation agriculture and one of $40,000 to enable the secretary of agriculture to encourage the agricultural development of reclamation projects. Funds were also provided for the payment of reclamation charges on the portions of the Yuma project owned by Indians."

"This is a partial list of what the present congress has done, and I am glad and proud to have had my part in the various measures mentioned. They will all make for the continued prosperity and rapid advancement of Arizona. I hope that we will enter on a period of great national prosperity; in fact, we are entering it now. The balance of trade is in our favor by hundreds of thousands of dollars per month and it seems certain that Europe will be compelled to buy the greater part of her supplies from us for years to come. This will naturally extend all our other foreign commerce as well and there is every reason for all Americans to rejoice in the prospects of coming prosperity and to be thankful that we have as president a man who sees his duty, clearly and is never afraid to do it."

CAUGHT IN ACT OF STEALING LIQUOR

Matt Nampa Nabbed While in the Act of Filling a Jug With Liquor From Store Room in Lowell.

While in the act of filling two jugs and a five gallon keg with various liquors Matt Nampa, a Finlander of Lowell, was arrested late Thursday night by J. B. Hodges and Wm. Brakefield. Nampa had a friend who was helping with the job but he managed to escape before the officers could lay their hands on him.

For some time past James Brophy has been noticing that his store house was being systematically opened. In this store house Brophy keeps a stock of liquors which he purchased last summer from the defunct Bisbee Trading company. The officers were on the watch Thursday night and succeeded in landing one of the men who is supposed to have made several of the thefts.

The officers know the other man who is supposed to be implicated and are, at the present time, searching for him. Nampa's preliminary hearing will probably be held today before Judge George R. Smith.

SMUGGLE WHISKY ARRESTED BY CUSTOMS

Two Men Claim That Bottles of Whiskey Must Have Been Placed Under Machine's Seat by Others.

J. A. McGimsey, proprietor of the Mission Inn in Douglas, and G. G. Orison, an automobile driver, were arrested about 9:30 Thursday night by United States Customs Inspector Harry Overlook at the international line on the charge of smuggling whiskey into the United States. Yesterday morning they appeared before United States Commissioner H. C. Beumler and their bond was placed at $1,000 each. The preliminary hearing was set for Saturday, March 20, a week from tomorrow. Sam L. Pattee, assistant United States attorney, will be in Douglas to represent the government.

The automobile which Orison was driving belongs to Walter W. Benson but it was seized by customs officers and is now in their possession. Whether or it will be confiscated or later returned to the owner is not certain. The ten quart bottles of whiskey are also in the hands of the customs department.

Both McGimsey and Orison deny any intention to smuggle the whiskey to this side and also deny any knowledge that it was in the automobile. McGimsey says he hired Orison last night to take him to Agua Prieta to take some medicine to his sick mother-in-law and that they were over there only a few minutes, possibly 15, and that Orison went in the house with him, as it was chilly. The bottles of whiskey were found under the back seat and he says it would have been possible for some one to place them there while they were in the house, intending to get them out when the car reached this side. Both men were held in $1,000 bail which they gave.

The cooking show and demonstration will be in operation during the big fashion display which will hold the boards in the big store on Monday.

FLORA FOURFLUSH APPEARS AT LOWELL

"Flora Fourflush must not be taken too seriously." The startling announcement has been made by the management of the Lowell theatre that the Vitaphone company will present tonight, March 13th, and the following two Saturdays, "The Ten Billion Dollar Mystery Serial," entitled "The Fates and Flora Fourflush" in three parts, the first part, "Treachery in the Clouds" will be presented tonight, part two, "The Treasure Tomb of Bhoak" will be at the Lowell next Saturday night, March 20th, part three, "A Race For Life" will be shown Saturday night March 27th.

After making this statement the question arose as to whether the people of the Warren District would take the announcement seriously or come to the conclusion that it was a hodgepodge of nothing. These three most unusual releases are not to be taken seriously and cannot in any way be discounted as comedies of the funniest and most convulsing nature. It is quite clear that the three comedies are a travesty on the recent serials advertised as containing thrills, shivers and shocks as well as mysteries of unfathomable solution.

"The Fates and Flora Fourflush" in its separate releases, makes one of the most laughable burlesques on the thrilling, perilous and dare-devil concoctions. To follow "Flora Fourflush" for three consecutive Saturdays will tax your sense of the humorous to its very limit, in your appreciation of the pointed and satirical way in which they make a sturdiness evident.

"Her Ladyship" a three-part Selig masterpiece will be the big card tomorrow, and on Wednesday March 17th, "The Master Key" will open at the Lowell where it is to be shown exclusively every Wednesday afternoon and evening. If you really enjoy something extraordinary, start with the first number next Wednesday, March 17th.
