

TUCSON PLAYERS IN ACTION TODAY FOR BOOSTERS' COMBINE

Three Former Stars of Late Rio Grande League Will Work for Buchanan; Grays Are Confident of Repeating.

As a natural aftermath of the tremendous baseball enthusiasm evoked by the two great holiday contests between the Boosters and Grays, it is confidently anticipated that a capacity crowd will witness the sport, this afternoon, when the same teams will be the contenders. Aside from the interest always present, due to the excessive rivalry, whenever these combines clash, many fans will be attracted to Warren Park on account of the desire to see Manager Buchanan's new Tucson stars in action.

Many wagers have been placed on the contest, with the Grays slight favorites in view of their shade over the Boosters, obtained in the last few games. However, the game, as a betting proposition, looks like very nearly an even thing. Baseball is about as uncertain a gamble as any and any person of gambling proclivities, risking his shekels on the game, will be in much the same position as if placing his dollar on the red or black of the roulette wheel.

McConnell, the big heavier who used to work with one of the Douglas combines, but more recently a success with Tucson of the late, lamented Rio Grande circuit, will toe the mound for the Boosters, his delivery being lauded by the clever and hard-hitting Kemp, one of the veterans of star soldier players who have given such excellent service in Bisbee during the present season.

The Gray management will rely on much the same lineup, as in the last game to repeat the trick against their constant rivals. Either the new-comer Coltrane or Deardoff, presumably, will work on the hill. Either pitcher would look like a strong card.

Here's a tentative lineup of both teams: Grays—C. Anheiler 1b, Galt cf, Fuller c, A. Anheiler 2b, Blough rf, Leese ss, J. Junc 3b, Jordan lf, Coltrane or Deardoff p. Boosters—Grady 1b, Buchanan cf, Fulwider lf, Kemp c, Eaton lf, Riggs 2b, E. Junc rf, Cassidy ss, McConnell p.

MOOSE ANTICIPATE MONSTER OCCASION IN SAN DIEGO SOON

Annual Convention of Order Will Be Held in Southern California City; Bisbee to Be Well Represented.

The Supreme International Convention of the Loyal Order of Moose will be held in San Diego, Calif., from July 19 to 24, inclusive. This organization, which numbers between seven and eight hundred thousand members in the United States, and Canada, will undoubtedly send to the Pacific Coast the largest delegation of any convention held in the West this year.

Many noted men, who are members of the order, will be present and participate in the Convention. Honorable Thomas Marshall, Vice President of the United States; Honorable Theodore Roosevelt; Governor Hiram Johnson, of California; Governor Arthur N. Capper, of Kansas; Honorable William Kettner, congressman; Honorable Lyman J. Gage, ex-Secretary of the Treasury; Hon. Benj. Foy Mills, and many others of equal note will be heard from the rostrum during the convention meetings.

San Diego is particularly well situated scenically and climatically for the entertainment of a convention of this kind. Lying as it does beside the beautiful "Harbor of the Sun", within a few miles of snowy mountain ranges, fertile valleys and verdant fields, having a summer temperature that seldom runs above eighty-four or five or below seventy. Just fourteen miles from the international line that separates Mexico from the United States, and surrounded by bathing beaches, fishing grounds, and many interesting and historical points, it has a location that can scarcely be equaled, much less surpassed.

Bisbee will send a delegation of 12 to the convention, P. E. Bennett, as representative of the Bisbee Lodge and W. J. Spaulding will attend on account of the State of Arizona.

The Supreme Dictator's Special will leave Chicago at 8:00 p. m., Wednesday, July 14, 1915, traveling over the following route: Rock Island lines to Santa Rosa, E. P. & S. W. System to Tucson, Southern Pacific to Los Angeles, A. T. & S. F. to San Diego, returning via San Francisco, Ogden, Utah, Denver and R. I. lines to Chicago. This special will pass through Osborn Saturday night the 16th.

The committee of arrangements for the convention have made elaborate preparations for the entertainment of all those who attend. Moose Day at Frisco will be Sunday, July 25th when the Army and Navy will turn out a parade in honor of the guests.

SPEECH OF CAPTAIN CENSORED AFTER IT IS PUBLISHED ONCE

Captain in British Army, on Visit Home, Says Half of Casualties in Force Due to Lack of Enough Ammunition.

LONDON, July 10.—The following speech by Captain Jersey De Knoop, of the Cheshire Yeomanry, emphasizing the thousands of casualties in the British forces caused directly by shortage of ammunition, was published in the Manchester GUARDIAN, but the Press Bureau censored refused permission to certain of the London news papers to reproduce it.

Captain De Knoop is a well-known provincial political leader and the probable candidate of the Unionist party for the next vacant seat in the House of Commons. He is at present home from the front, recovering from two severe wounds. The speech was delivered at the annual meeting of the Northwich Unionist Association.

"We are just about approaching the crisis of the war," said Captain De Knoop, "and it depends upon the behavior of the people of the country whether the war is to drag on into the years.

"Many things have conduced to the tone of opinion now prevalent among a large section. Before the war, many believed there could be no such thing as war, and that it was stupid to spend money on war munitions. This led people into a comfortable frame of mind, and they can scarcely be blamed for not even yet realizing the state of affairs. But they must be told.

"I arrived from the front on Monday. There was nothing in London to suggest that I had just left, only sixteen miles away, a life-and-death struggle. Any number of young unmarried men were meandering about the streets and they certainly did not seem to be detained by business of vital importance, in the country districts the only indication of war was the notice in the railway carriages to draw down the blinds, and this was generally disregarded.

"But the people must be made to realize the position, for every minute's delay is jeopardizing thousands of lives.

"I was sent on the wild-goose chase of trying to relieve Antwerp. Then my command joined up with the main army, which hung on simply by the eyelids, and kept to Calais. Thousands were killed, merely through lack of ammunition on our side. The men were kept in the trenches day after day, night after night, simply because there was no way to relieve them. They hung on and fought as well as Britons ever fought since the world began. They fought and they died for want of fire-ammunition.

"We in this country have got to see to it that no more are thus sacrificed. Then we were told that ammunition was coming along and that all would be well. But we have seen in the papers how the brilliant infantry attack north of La Bassee was stopped and thousands of casualties incurred owing to lack of ammunition.

"On the day I was hit, we were relieving men in the trenches who were so dog-tired that they could scarcely move. At four o'clock in the morning the shelling by the Germans began. I had seen a certain amount of shelling before that, but everybody agreed with me that there had never been anything like this in the history of warfare. Ten, twelve, fifteen shells at a time were bursting up and down the line. Our gunners could do practically nothing. The reason of all this was that we had had to recruit in a hurry and had taken mechanics who ought to have remained behind to make shells. As long as we have the voluntary system we cannot really organize labor. Contrast our position with that of the French, who quickly realized the likelihood of a shortage of shells and immediately sent back the mechanics. It is owing to the French 75 guns that the French army has done so well.

"At the front we read in the British newspapers of workmen at home going on strike for another half-penny an hour, or because they are asked to do a bit of extra work. What would happen if a battalion refused to go into a trench because they had only had a day off after doing forty-eight hours? What would happen to the Empire if there were such a spirit at the front?

"The men in the trenches look upon these fellows at home as stark, staring mad. Strikes ought to be absolutely unheard of.

"It is a long lane before we reach the turning, and a thorny path that we have to tread in the meantime. But people at home must see to it that more munitions are turned out. Lord Kitchener must have his 500,000 men today rather than tomorrow.

"We must win, but we have got to break down a machine which has been preparing for 45 years. We must let the French know that this country is going to fight with the whole and not with a quarter of its power. Those who talk about it not mattering whether they live under the German Emperor or the British King should see the terrible sights I have seen! Only a drop of water separates us from it!"

Twin Tires?—No

One's a Goodyear as It Might Be
The Other Costs Us $1,635,000 More

This is to prove that you can't judge tires by looks.

Here are two Goodyear tires, seemingly identical. But one is built like many of its rivals. Goodyear extras are omitted. The other has those hidden values. And those unseen extras, on this year's output, will cost us $1,635,000.

This year's betterments alone add to our cost $500,000 yearly. Yet our 1915 price reduction saves our users about five million dollars.

No Price Excuse

This is not a price excuse. Goodyear prices have been fairly racing down. Our late big reduction made the third in two years, totaling 45 per cent. No equal tire can compete with the Goodyear, because of our matchless output. None does. Goodyear excels all other tires in at least five important ways.

You Deserve It

You deserve the Goodyear quality when you buy a tire. You deserve Fortified Tires, with the No-Rim-Cut feature, the "On-Air" cure, our extra-strong fabric, our number of plies. You deserve in anti-skids our All-Weather tread, tough, double-thick and resistant.

These things have brought Goodyear the largest sale in the world. They are saving our users millions of dollars yearly.

They are at your command. Any dealer, if you ask him, will supply you Goodyear tires. (281)

CAST OF WORMWOOD HAS GREAT PLAYERS

One of the most noteworthy casts, in every sense of those words, ever assembled to portray a screen version of a famous work, is to be seen in the William Fox production of Marie Corelli's Wormwood, which comes to the Orpheum Theatre today, afternoon and evening. Every part, even to the minor characters, has been handed to a dramatic artist selected by Mr. Fox personally after a drastic and exhaustive "trying out."

John Sainpolis, who enacts Gaston Beauvais, the "abominable" one of the principal and most striking characters in known all over the country for his work in David Warfield's "Return of Peter Grimm," in which he played Mr. Warfield's part during the latter's enforced absence from the stage. In New York the critics placed Mr. Sainpolis work on a par with that of Warfield himself and devoted much space to his praise. Mr. Sainpolis has played in support of practically every famous star in America and has besides headed his own companies in notable successes. His work in Wormwood may be classed among the most brilliant of his successful career. Beauvais affords him splendid opportunities of which he takes full advantage resulting in one of the most striking bits of dramatic portraiture of recent times. Charles Arthur, an exceedingly popular and gifted young actor plays Sylvain with dash and distinction that makes his work stand out brilliantly. In the big scenes of the drama, Mr. Arthur rises to great heights and displays a sweep and power in his acting that fully bears out his high reputation as a notable dramatic artist. Philip Hahn, a French actor of considerable fame, is used for the part of the eccentric artist who persuades Gaston to take his first fatal sip of absinthe. He succeeds in making out of the strange personality of the character a wonderfully skilled drawing of Beauvais' only friend, as the clutches of the green demon that lurks in absinthe tighten on the unhappy man.
