ROUMANIANS ENTRAPPED FLEE IN DISORDER

Hemmed in on Two Sides by Germans, Balkan Soldiers Suffer Frightful Losses and Thousands Are Captured.

SECOND ARMY WIPED OUT COMING TO AID

British Concede Loss of 300,000 Since Beginning of New Offensive on Somme—120,000 Fall in September.

(By Review Leased Wire.) LONDON, Sept. 30.—Troops of the Central Powers have crushed the Rumanians between two forces in a battle which raged for three days in central Transylvania. The Rumanians are reported fleeing in disorder.

General Von Falkenhayn, attacking the Rumanians, divided his force of Germans and Austrians. One body engaged them around Hermannstadt, the other encircled them and seized Rothenburg Pass, fifteen miles south east of Hermannstadt, and one of the first points gained by the Rumanians in their advance.

Both forces then pressed in upon the Rumanians. Bavarian troops holding Rothenburg checked an advance by the second Rumanian army, which attempted to come to the aid of its surrounded compatriots and almost wiped them out. Berlin reports that a large amount of booty was taken, as well as prisoners.

In eastern Transylvania the Rumanians attack in the region of Szekely was checked and a German attack in the same section resulted in the capture of 600 prisoners.

Somme Unchanged Fighting continues on the Somme front, but with little change in the positions. Germans continue their counter attacks around Thiepval. Farther south the French have made an advance north of Rancourt, driving their wedge in the German lines there. Berlin reports the repulse of British attacks on this front.

British Lose 300,000 During September the British on the Somme lost almost 120,000 officers and men. This is at the rate of 2800 a day, but falls below the daily human cost for August. Since the offensive began, figures published in London show that the British have lost approximately 300,000 men.

The Overseas News Agency announces that it is stated on "competent authority" that Germany has reached no new decision concerning submarine warfare. The statement minimizes articles appearing in British newspapers and declares that the German government does not consider such acts a breach of neutrality.

The order to cease firing had been given and Egelnick had gone to the muzzle of the gun when the trigger was pressed. The missile struck him in the left side tearing a gaping hole, inflicting a wound from the effects of which he died half an hour later, while being taken to the base hospital at Camp Harry Jones. The body will be sent Sunday to Fort Huachuca for interment.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY CELEBRATED IN BISBEE OCTOBER 9

Day Is Set Apart for Proper Remembrance of America's Greatest Conflagration and Better Protection.

One week from tomorrow the state of Arizona, through proclamation of the governor and through the interest of the various city governments many organizations will celebrate its first Fire Prevention Day. It is the anniversary of the great Chicago fire and, odd as it may appear, a practical anniversary of the worst fire which ever occurred in Bisbee.

On October 14, 1908, fire broke out in the Grand Hotel, one of Bisbee's landmarks on Main Street. Fire was an unusual thing in the camp and various elements entered into the blaze to the extent that a large portion of the thoroughfare's important blocks and many on the side of Clawson Hill were burned to the ground. Since then Bisbee and the Warren District has had several bad fires. They are to be remembered. Fire Prevention Day, celebrated annually, is one of the factors which is being instituted with the American people to install inherent desire for the protection of all property from the ravages of useless fire.

Agitation for a Fire Prevention Day was started in Bisbee. Fire Chief Norton, in a signed article in the Review May 12, 1908, called attention, among other things relating to the general subject, to the need for some day to be set apart which would draw the attention of the public to the need for greater care to the protection of their homes and other property.

From that point it has grown until the state of Arizona recognizes it, along with nearly every other state in the Union. The idea is not claimed by the Bisbee man but it was he who first advanced its possibilities to the local public.

Fire, every year in the United States, consumes an enormous total. The values represented in the houses, stocks, furniture, etc., destroyed can never be returned. It is sheer waste. The proportionate loss in Europe to the total value is far less than in the United States, excepting, of course, the period of the present war. This is due, principally, to the European need for economy and consequent cleanliness of premises, which makes for untold safety in fire. The Underwriters, central boards of insurance experts, have been incessantly at the task of reducing fire loss. They have studied out the best methods of fighting fire; they have investigated and determined the best forms of fire proof material, but they come back to the human equation for the surest and best solution of the entire matter. The fire experts of the country are now going after the ordinary man and woman. That is the object of Fire Prevention Day—awakening in John Smith his responsibility to himself and his neighbors and to his country of the necessity of reducing fire loss to a minimum.

The city authorities of Bisbee, in their action Friday night, buying fire apparatus of the most modern character, gave a long step in this direction but that example are setting for every man and woman in the city the first idea of modern American life—conservation.

T. R. SPEWS FORTH BILE IN VILE ATTACK ON ALL OF WILSON'S POLICIES

HUGHES JOGULAR, SAYS BUSINESS IS IN BAD SHAPE

Whole Nation Will go to Bow-wows Now Because Wall Street Didn't Get to Lend 40 Million to China.

AND HE BLAMES IT ON ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Hughes Also Has Ready, Greedy Ear for all Interventionist Dope Fresh from El Paso Factory.

(By Review Leased Wire.) BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Charles E. Hughes, in speeches at Jamestown late today and here tonight, assailed the administration for its attitude toward the development of American business. Mr. Hughes cited the failure of American bankers to obtain government support of their plan to participate in the proposed six power loan to China, and the administration's Mexican policy, in support of his attack.

Would He Intervene? "It is said by the administration that they desire to open the door for American enterprise," Mr. Hughes said. "What is the inducement for our merchants and business men to go to foreign countries and engage in American enterprise if they and their investments are treated as our citizens and their property were permitted to be treated in Mexico?"

One Side of China Deal. Proposed participation by American bankers in the loan to China was characterized by Mr. Hughes as "a matter of great moment to the nation because it permitted an opportunity to aid China, to further our trade."

"We lost an important opportunity for American trade," Mr. Hughes said, "I believe that more recently the administration has seen the error that it committed in this respect but it has failed to re-establish confidence in the protection of American enterprises."

Mr. Hughes renewed his attack on the administration for broken pledges. "They told us," he said, "that they were going to maintain the constitutional rights of American citizens throughout the world. That they have failed to do, to our great regret. Our opponents have a great jealousy as they have said in times past with regard to the facilities for American enterprises and the advance of American trade. These are matters of the highest importance to all our people and we inquire in order to test the professions and promises that are given with respect to the record that has been made in the past."

VACILLATION CALLED CURSE OF WILSON

Eight Hour Day Attitude, the Handling of Mexican and German Troubles Called "Humiliating and Ignoble."

(By Review Leased Wire.) BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Sept. 30.—Speaking to a great throng of persons who were packed in a cold circus tent here this afternoon, Theodore Roosevelt assailed the administration record of President Wilson and urged the election of Chas. E. Hughes. He was given a tremendous ovation. Climbing on a table on the speakers' platform, the Colonel read his prepared address, which was devoted almost entirely to an attack on President Wilson's foreign and Mexican policies, and the latter's support of the Adamson 8 hour bill.

Wilson Changes Mind Roosevelt declared that President Wilson's chief policy was the policy of vacillation. He declared the President, in "fifteen messages and speeches," made from December 9, 1914, to February 10, 1916, "took 41 different positions about preparedness and the measures necessary to secure it, and each of these 41 positions contradicted from one to six of the others."

The Lusitania "Outrage" The European policy of President Wilson, particularly in the Lusitania case, was referred to as "humiliating and ignoble."

All About Mexico The Mexican record of the executive was called "ruinous to Mexico, dishonorable to ourselves and infamous from the standpoint of humanity." Discussing the Adamson bill, Mr. Roosevelt charged that President Wilson in urging the passage of the measure by congress, "took his order from that one of the parties he most feared."

"We have seen in this country few things more discreditable to our authority and more ominous for the future of the nation than the spectacle of the President and Congress of the United States being required to pass a certain bill at the dictation of certain men who sat in the gallery with their watches in their hands, threatening ruin and destruction to the nation if there was the smallest failure to satisfy their demands," said Roosevelt.

German Masterpiece The Colonel referred to the torpedoing of the Lusitania by a German submarine as "the most colossal single instance of the murder of non-combatants, including men, women and children that had been perpetrated by any power calling itself civilized, for over a century."

40,000 RAILROAD SHOPMEN VOTE TO STRIKE

(By Review Leased Wire.) KANSAS CITY, Sept. 30.—A vote to strike has been carried in the referendum of 40,000 members of the six shopmen unions on twenty western railroads it was announced tonight by union officers, in session here. The carrying of the vote means that the men have refused the proposal of the railroads but does not imply an immediate walkout. A new basis of agreements over the men's demands for an 8 hour day and a five cent per hour increase in wages will be sought.

When a Light Buick Six, driven by Roy Brown, of Naco, going towards the border town, was run into last night about 12 o'clock by an Overland car, number 4524, just south of the Lowell bridge, Brown and two occupants of the Overland were badly cut and bruised. The accident, according to those who visited the wreck, was caused by the Overland, whose driver was not known last evening, being on the wrong side of the road. Brown and two occupants of the Overland, who are soldiers, were immediately rushed to the Copper Queen dispensary in Bisbee where they were treated. Two women who were in the Overland machine were badly shaken but uninjured.

Fairbanks Charges Extravagance To Democratic Party

Says Rivers and Harbors Bill, Mainly for South, Is Merest Sopp for Votes to Return Congressman.

(By Review Leased Wire.) SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 30.—Charges that the Democratic pledge of economy in government had been utterly disregarded and that the administration had indulged in extravagance without a parallel were made by Charles W. Fairbanks, in two addresses here today.

"Its appropriations and expenditures have been made recklessly and in defiance of every economical consideration," he said. "There has been such waste of public funds, that the strongest Democratic leadership denounced it on the floor of Congress. The river and harbors bill recently passed and approved by the Congress carries forty million dollars. It was designed to strengthen candidates for Congress, for the safe return of these to Congress."

Mr. Fairbanks left this evening for Los Angeles.

DANES DELAY VOTE ON SALE OF ISLES TO U. S.

(By Review Leased Wire.) COPENHAGEN, Sept. 30.—(via London)—Both houses of the Danish parliament today postponed the bill providing for a plebiscite on the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States.

It is believed the matter will be settled by the end of November. The plebiscite also will include the Faroe Island, but not Iceland and Greenland.

C. & A. AND FIRST CAVALRY ELEVENS PLAY FIRST FOOTBALL GAME OF SEASON THIS MORNING

At Warren Park at 10 a. m. today the referee's shrill whistle will send twenty two gridiron warriors against each other in the first grid struggle this season. The event marks the initial appearance of both the C. & A. and First Cavalry elevens, and will be the first opportunity to see the new rules tried out, and the new tricks that are to play so prominent a part of football this season. Yesterday afternoon the C. & A. squad was put through a grueling session under Prof. Potter of the Bisbee High School, the practice being behind closed doors and the campaign for today's game was thoroughly planned out. Followers of the District's baseball will recognize some of their old favorites in moleskins today, as the following lineup will show: Center, Mulgahy or Telford; guards, White, Wilkins, Bryan or Thompson; tackles, J. Hughes, W. Monahan or Jones; ends, Robertson and Ligon; quarterback, Huddleston or Goodrich; halfbacks, Morris, J. Monahan, Wright, Boat or Benton; fullback, John Galt, captain, or Byron Thomas. Manager Gallagher of the C. & A. team yesterday had teams at work on the grounds and a number of men setting goal posts, chalking the foul lines and improvising a hospital to offer aid for the injured. Baseball in P. M. In the afternoon at 2:30 the last baseball game of the local season will be played between the C. & A. and the Junction All Stars, for the championship of the District.

OLD GUARD DENOUNCED BY WILSON; WOULD HURL U. S. INTO WAR, HE SAYS

U. S. FOREWARNS GERMANY NOT TO REVIVE SUB WAR

State Department Utters Informal Warning, to Thwart Contemplated Action, Although None Reported.

GERMANY IS THOUGHT TO BE PLAYING FAIR

Rumors, However, Together With Hollweg's Ambitious Speech, Alarm Many Officials in Washington.

(By Review Leased Wire.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Increasing agitation in Germany for a complete resumption of submarine warfare, Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's declaration before the Reichstag that any statesman failing to use Germany's every weapon to shorten the war deserves to be hanged, and the recent apparently inspired simultaneous publication in German papers of attacks on American neutrality, brought forth today an authoritative though informal statement from the department of state of the American attitude toward the situation.

Any action which endangers American lives through the sinking of ships without warning or by failing to provide proper safeguards, it was emphatically asserted, will immediately reopen the submarine question with all its possibilities.

Germany Playing Fair. But so far as to what is going on in Germany, there has been absolutely no indication in the official advices that Germany has violated the agreement arrived at in the Sussex case. Reports of the sinking of nearly 300 merchant ships since June 1 have been received officially, but in no case has it been proved that American lives were endangered.

High officials think it unnecessary to make any formal statement on the subject, as they feel the American position is fully known both at home and abroad. However, the possibilities which a change of Germany's policy might open are so great that every effort will be made to have a full understanding on all sides.

All dispatches received here by diplomats are described as clearly indicating that Germany intends fully to live up to her assurances. It is acknowledged that there is considerable opposition in Germany to this policy. But so far as is known here the opposition to the government's policy is no stronger than before. President Cheered by Thousands of Young Business Men in First Out-and-Out Political Speech from Porch

PROGRESSIVES HE INVITES AND PRAISES

"They Have the Red Blood of Human Sympathy in Their Veins" He Says—Also Raps Hyphenates.

(By Review Leased Wire.) LONG BRANCH, N. J., Sept. 30. In a vigorous denunciation of the Republican party, President Wilson today told a delegation of young Democrats from New York that "the certain prospect" of Republican success in November is that "we shall be drawn in one form or another into the embroilments of the European war," and that "the force of the United States will be used to produce in Mexico the kind of law and order which some investors in Mexico think most to their advantage." The President made his first out and out political speech of the campaign from the porch of Shadow Lawn. Urged on by the enthusiastic cheers and waving banners of several thousand young men, he assailed the Republican party and laid down the issues on which he believes the campaigns should be fought. Foreign Relations Blocked. Still discussing the foreign affairs of the country he stated that on account of the political uses made of foreign relations, "it is going to be practically impossible for the present administration to handle any critical matter concerning our foreign relations, because all foreign statesmen are waiting to see which way the election goes, and in the meantime they know that settlements would be inconclusive. Friends Bull Moose. Most of the President's address was devoted to criticisms of the Republican party and to outlining his own plans. A bid was made by the President for the votes of Progressives. He praised the Progressive party as having "the real red blood of human sympathy in its veins," and declared the Democratic party had done the things the Progressives wanted done. Meddling of Hyphenates. Briefly the President referred to the hyphenate issue. He said: "Back of that party (the Republicans) are those who want to inject into our politics the politics of Europe." Outlining the program of the Democratic party, Mr. Wilson said it has begun the process of "liberalization" for the business of this country, and "it intends to strengthen that system at every point, extend it at every point, extending it wherever it needs extension."

"No thoughtful man in this country would propose that we should return to the methods of political control practiced by Senator Hanna. It happened that at that time a very lovely trustworthy gentleman was president of the United States. I mean Mr. Wm. McKinley. He had no part discreditable to himself, so far as I know, in the political arrangements and the expenditure of unlimited money, but now you will notice we have returned to the good old days of Mark Hanna in the Republican party. "Some of the very gentlemen who were prominent in that odious regime are now at the head of the affairs of the management of the Republican campaign. The lieutenants of Mark Hanna have returned to authority and the lieutenants of Mark Hanna represent the choice, the determinations and so much as we can conjecture, the policy of the Republican party. Fooling The Nation "They want to control, possess. They are the magic workers for them. They do not think we have sense enough, they do not think we have coherence enough; they do not think a great body of free people know how to hang together in its own cause and that a little body of men that always hangs together can in the long run manage the people and it is up to us to show them that that is impossible. The people of the United States have been fooled, but they are not often fooled several times in the same way, and this barefaced attempt to fool them in the same old way is, in my (Continued on Page Five.)
