Miss Marie VerMehr is visiting with her parents in Kingman.

Mrs. J. N. Cohenour, of Vivian, visited in Kingman this week.

The young people of Kingman are to have a dance at Elk Hall this evening and everybody is invited to attend.

Work is progressing on the De la Fontaine mine, Stockton Hill. The west drift is showing a big body of lead-zinc ore.

Isabelle Blakely and Gertie Potts are home from the Tempe Normal school enjoying holiday good things with their parents.

W. H. Cushing returned yesterday from Los Angeles, where he went to attend to affairs of the Stockton Hill mining company, of which he is president.

J. W. Johnson is at his mines on Bill Williams Fork and is said to be opening up one of the best mines in that region. The ore carries values in gold and copper.

Peter Caffery and John Jamison are doing the assessment work on the Vigilant mine, Stockton Hill, owned by Peter Caffery and Anson H. Smith. This mine shows ore rich in gold.

Henry Lovin and wife have returned from the Territorial Fair, at Phenix, and report having had an enjoyable time. The fair, according to Mr. Lovin, is an entire success. Had it not been for the fact that most people wish to be at home during the Christmas holidays many Mohave county people would have visited the fair.

The Catholic children of Kingman were generously remembered at the school house last Sunday afternoon, being supplied with candies, nuts and other good things. In the evening an entertainment by the Sunday school children was given at the M. E. church, followed by a distribution of presents for all the children of the town.

Gold Road celebrated Christmas by a tree last Saturday night, on which was loaded masses of presents for the little ones of the big gold camp and surrounding sections. The tree was all that could be expected, the little ones enjoying themselves to the full. The exercises by the school children was one of the features of the evening and the pupils acquitted themselves with credit. They showed the evidences of the best of training by their teacher Mrs. L. Gibson, and gave a splendid entertainment to the parents and guests. After the distribution of presents the hall was cleared and dancing indulged in until a late hour. Many people from Kingman, Needles and surrounding camps attended the affair and all pronounce it one of the pleasantest affairs they ever attended.

"Hooligan in New York," which comes to Kingman Wednesday, Jan. 3rd, can truthfully be termed the very quintessence of fun. Unlike most comedies it has a plot, and this plot is in the main responsible for the many ludicrous mishaps and complications that round out a solid three hours fun. The company that will present "Hooligan in New York" has been carefully selected. The audience has yet to be met which has not been captivated by this mirthful comedy and its many special features. Not a little of the fun is furnished by Flip, Hooligan's dog, which has been trained and drilled by one of the best animal trainers in America.

Studebaker Wagons lead all others from a point of satisfactory service. We have them for sale.

I beg to announce that I have leased the Commercial Hotel, and will open the dining room on January first, 1906, and would respectfully solicit the kind patronage of the citizens of Kingman and surrounding country and the traveling public. The dining room will be thrown open with 5 o'clock dinner on New Year's day, and I would be pleased to see a full house on that occasion.

Death of George Woods.

Early last Monday morning George Wood died at the residence of his mother, Mrs. William Wood, after a lingering illness. Deceased came to Kingman nearly a year ago in the last stage of consumption. Funeral took place from the house Wednesday morning and the remains were followed to the grave by a large number of friends of the family. Deceased was a brother of E. W. Woods of Kingman, Mrs. F. H. Waite, of Williams.

Mrs. H. W. Kelley, of Los Angeles, arrived in Kingman a few days ago with her family and has taken charge of the Commercial Hotel. The dining room will be opened next Monday evening with a New Year's dinner. One of the best chefs on the Pacific coast has been engaged to look after the kitchen and the dining room will be the best served of any place in north Arizona. Mrs. Kelley is thoroughly conversant with the business of running a hotel and ought to make a decided success in the business in Kingman.

Lee Raught and Mrs. Hilda Leonard were married at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wren yesterday evening, Judge W. G. Blakely performing the ceremony. Mr. Raught has been a resident of Mohave county the past twenty years and is well and favorably known by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Mrs. Leonard has many friends in this and Yavapai counties who will wish her and her husband a long life of wedded happiness.

E. S. Toby and Miss Loretta Darrah were married at the Beale Hotel parlor yesterday by Probate Judge Chas. Metcalfe. Miss Darrah arrived on the night train from her home in Colorado Springs the evening before and was met here by Mr. Toby. The young couple will make their home in Chloride, where they are very popular.

Henry Lovin is making many improvements to his brewery and ice factory in Kingman and when complete will have one of the best arranged plants in the territory. Many new machines will be put in and everything made automatic. Mr. Lovin has built up the business to be the largest in northern Arizona.

Carl Thomsen, well known in Kingman, where he acted as salesman for Beecher & Co. some years ago, and afterward for Gaddis & Perry company, is at Vivian, in the employ of the Mining Supply company, of which J. H. Knight is the general manager. Mr. Thomsen has many friends in this part of the county.

Greely Clack is sowing two hundred acres of wheat in the Wallapai valley, near the Johnson valley ranch. It is expected that this acreage will make a big yield of grain and hay. Enough grain and hay can be raised yearly in Wallapai valley to supply all northern Arizona.

Miss Mary Funston, who has been teaching the Vivian school, is spending the holidays with her parents in Flagstaff. Miss Funston is giving good satisfaction to the people of Vivian, where she is very popular.

Mrs. E. F. Thompson is visiting the Fair at Phenix and incidentally her son, who is attending school at Tempe.

Policeman Jack has troubles. His wife has left his bed and board and all because he refused to furnish her the means to participate in an occasional game of Koon Kan. The infatuation of the Wallapai females for the game has been the prime cause of the disruption of many of the best families of the tribe, many sacrificing the family plate and heirlooms to the game. A short time ago one of the squaws played off two horses and a saddle and then hid herself away to the home of her parents to escape the wrath of her buck, who was left on foot by the transaction. But Jack's squaw will come back when the grub runs short in the home of Chief Levi-Levi, her famous old parent.

E. A. Shaw, of Gold Road, manager of Lovin & Withers' big store at that place, was in Kingman Thursday looking after business affairs. Mr. Shaw is one of the most popular men in the big gold camp and has scores of friends in Kingman who are always pleased to see him.

A great snow storm prevailed over northern Arizona last Thursday night covering the mountains and valleys with a white mantle. The snow fall at high altitudes was the greatest in years, which insures good water in the canyons next year.

L. M. Teale, who has been visiting in Los Angeles the past week, returned to Kingman Wednesday night. His sisters accompanied him and continued on their way to the old home in Missouri.

Miss Bertha Beecher is visiting with her sister, Mrs. J. S. Withers, in Kingman. Miss Beecher is teaching in the public school at Flagstaff. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Gladys Beecher.

The other day, at Bakersfield, Ralph Higgins, well known in this county, shot and killed a young woman with whom he had been living, and then shot himself, dying instantly.

Miss Fay Lewis, who is teaching school at Hackberry, visited several days this week with Rev. Farr and wife in Kingman.

Mrs. G. S. Briggs, of Needles, visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Potts, in Kingman this week.

Gaddis & Perry have been distributing some very handsome calendars to their customers the past few days.

Mike Redman, who is prospecting in the river range, was in Kingman a couple of days this week after supplies.

The Misses Josie, Mary and Bessie Carrow, and Miss Hill took in the dance and Christmas exercises at Gold Road.

"Hooligan in New York," the new comedy drama which Frazee and Browne present at Kingman January 3rd, is one of the greatest laugh producers of the day, besides telling a consistent story. There are thirty people in the company and all the characters in the famous cartoons will be depicted in the production. Even Hooligan's dog, Flip, will be there and furnish his share of the fun. Flip has been in the hands of one of the greatest animal trainers in the world for the past six months preparatory to his season on the road with "Hooligan in New York."

"I was much afflicted with sciatica," writes Ed. C. Nudd, Iowaville, Sedgewick Co., Kan., "going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me. I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons; all express themselves as being benefitted by it. I now walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm." 25c, 50c, 1$. Sold by Watkins' drugstore.
