SASSY SAYINGS OF AN ORGANIZER.

By O. F. Branstetter.
"There are only a few women in our local and I think some of the men ought to help them circulate this petition of theirs," said the secretary, and sat down. Comrade Chairman! I would like to inquire of our comrade secretary whether this is a local of the socialist party, or a philanthropic association for assisting the weak and helpless?
"Why, it is a socialist local, of course—I don't know what you mean."
I mean, Comrade Chairman, that the statement of our secretary fills me with indignation. He assumes that this petition to congress for woman suffrage is of, and by, and for the women, and that the men have no particular interest in it. However, he recognizes that it is considerable of an undertaking and so, with kindly benevolence, suggests that some of the men chivalrously assist them with this work of "theirs" which is a little too much for them.
If this is a socialist local then the members will know what I mean. I mean that it is NOT a woman's petition. It is a working class petition. You may not be interested in it as men, as members of the male sex, but you are interested in it as members of the working class.
This petition is being circulated not by the socialist women, but by the socialist Party—with a big P. It is being circulated by our party, not because it is in the interest of women, as women, but because it is in the interest of the working class, both men and women. It is time to quiet mouthing platitudes that we do not feel. It is time to stop reciting fine phrases of democracy, solidarity and class-consciousness that we do not understand.
If it is true that the competition of a still more oppressed and helpless class of workers than ourselves lowers our own wages and standards of living; if it is true that the interests of all workers are identical; if it is true that an injury to one is the concern of all; that democracy is to the interest of the working class; then it is true that this petition is as much in the interest of the men as of the women workers in this local.
Then it is true that this petition is not my petition, not your petition, but OUR petition. It is the petition of the working class to enfranchise half its members and thereby benefit the entire class, both men and women. It is not the work of the women to circulate this petition, it is not the work of the men, it is the work of both. It is OUR petition, in OUR interests, for OUR class.
I trust, comrade chairman, that you will call for volunteers to do this work as it should be done. Don't call for women volunteers, nor for men volunteers, but for socialist volunteers to carry this petition of the socialist party for woman suffrage into every residence, and into every store and office and factory in this city.
A socialist, comrade chairman, will carry this petition, not as a kindness and a favor to the weaker sex, but as a worker, class-conscious of the fact that "An injury to one is the concern of all," even though that one IS a woman.

PRUDENCE STOKES BROWN AT SANTA CRUZ.
The following is clipped from the Santa Cruz News:
"Prudence Stokes Brown spoke last night to a well-filled house at the socialist hall. In explaining the workings of the National Socialist Lyceum bureau the speaker digressed to illustrate certain points with sociological facts and statistics. She spoke of her work with the child-welfare workers and told her audience how the willow plumes the ladies wear upon their hats are manufactured. It seems the thousands of tiny feathers which compose the plumes must be fastened together by small thread and that the operation is so delicate that only the sensitive fingers of children are able to perform the task. A willow plume costing in the neighborhood of $40 would bring to the children who had lost health, childhood happiness and in many instances their sight, the miserable sum of $2. Mrs. Brown said the sight of a willow plume was a picture of child-murder to her eyes. She touched upon white slavery, the trusts, industrial conditions, and woman suffrage.
"The speaker has a strong personality, being of a lovable, sympathetic nature, speaking in a conversational tone, and leaving one with the impression of having had a personal visit and a social chat.
"The lyceum lecture course includes all the prominent cities on the coast and Santa Cruz is one of the favored cities."

THE COMING DAY.

By Will S. Forsyth, Chillamack, B. C.
Slowly, gently, fades the darkness, in the east the first soft light
Of the glorious day of freedom bursts upon my longing sight,
Spreading out upon the heavens, 'till it tips the western hills
With a clear and glorious radiance, brighter now the reath it fills,
Till the night of self and suffering fades before the brilliant light,
And exploiting and menoply, take their everlasting flight.
There the social flag of freedom floats upon the breeze of morn,
And the slaves of trust and sweat shop lift their eyes with hope new-born—
Lift their eyes to see the dawn of freedom's bright and glorious day,
Through the social evolution, all oppression passed away;
Come from out congested cities, breathe a breath of purer air.
Gaze upon the works of Nature, learn the lesson written there,
Free from slavery then their reason, Nature's law may understand,
Dimly seen through misty ages, 'tis the brotherhood of man.
And methinks this inspiration had enthused the poet's rhyme
When he "dipped into the future" when he wrote these words sublime:
"Till the war drum throbb'd no longer and the battle-flags were fur'd
In the parliament of man, the federation of the world,
There the common sense of most shall hold a fretful realm in awe,
And the kindly earth shall slumber, lapt in universal law."

THE BETRAYER OF LABOR.

It is amusing to notice a Labor Day parade go by with flags and banners waving, not to speak of mottoes and transparencies all bearing on the evils of child labor, and labor grievances in general.
As the parade goes by, the employers, the manufacturers, the office seeker, and the politician can be seen gazing at it from their automobiles tipping their hats to labor.
This hat tipping is not to the rank and file of the parade, but seems to be occasionally, just often enough to catch the eye or beacon of the mill steward, the walking delegate or perhaps the labor representative.
When will the rank and file of labor wake up to see that pleasant smile and hat tipping is always respondent to by the delegate and leader, when on election day he advises his fellows to vote for his masters and employers?
To elect your masters to office and then have to beg favors of them should be classed with that old brand of jokes pertaining to Jonah and the whale.
For if there ever was a sucker it is the laboring man in the hands of a crooked leader, and if there ever was a Jonah it is a labor leader in the hands of a politician and master.
Labor is finding that out every day and that is no joke. Fellows, see you vote for anyone but your masters or their trusty agents.
A. H.

THE COMING DAY.

ing, it is policy and business to back up advertising by a good editorial, but when editorials come to flattery and blarney, do not to speak of carnations and bouquets, dish up as political dope in a side issue school election, then it surely becomes rank and raw.
Speaking of the high school auditorium being given freely, it may have been to the Country Editor's club or the Press association or the few chosen followers of Senator Gore. As for the long suffering, ever sweating public, to them it was reserved seats, fifty cents.
How about it, Mr. "Weakly" Editor? I don't know how the voters of Everett sized up that "Weakly" editorial, but I know that, if I were not somewhat cross-eyed I would never have seen that 4x8 inch advertisement on the opposite page, and I thought if one took away the advertisement there would be nothing left of the editorial.
Working men get wise. It was a case of the Advertising Killing the Editorial.

A BIRTHRIGHT FOR A MESS OF POTTAGE?

Nowadays it has become a part of the department store to own and publish certain metropolitan newspapers to further their own advertising, and to mold public opinion to favor their particular enterprise.
They were driven to this by their regrettable experience with local trade killing editors. The business managers and advertising head of the store would labor for months to arrange a trade winning sale. On a certain date, the eight-page special advertisement is sent to the public. Then it is discovered that the Wise Guy—the Highbrow—short-sighted editor has coughed up another disaster—a one-inch editorial on the second page getting in its deadly work, killing the eight-page money making advertisement.
In speaking of editorials and advertis-

The Campaign

(By National Socialist Press.)
Los Angeles, (Cl. Nov. 30.—Driven to desperation by the irresistible onslaught of the socialists, the "old guard" is standing in the trench fighting desperately for life.
"Nothing short of a miracle can save us from the impending political cataclysm—the socialists are about to overwhelm the combined strength of our party," said a "good government" official at the Union League club last night.
"Los Angeles is in a terrible predicament with woman's suffrage and socialism."
The Otis papers bitterly fought woman suffrage until the last hour and now they are pathetically pleading with the women to "save the city from the awful calamity of socialism" by voting for the gang of grafters that are in power at the present time. What the Times really fears is that the socialists will win and with them the workers will be able to repeal the anti-picket law and take the police department out of the hands of the M. and M.
In addition to this Otis is interested in certain land and water grabs that will be stopped if Harriman and the socialists are elected.
One of the features that complicates the campaign is the fact that a prohibition referendum is to be voted on at the election on December 5. This referendum has not become an issue in the campaign but it bids fair to do so because the liquor interests have been so ill advised as to crowd the affair forward in full page advertisements in the daily newspapers. This will force the churches into action and prohibition may be taken up by the good government people as a last resort.
Since the old guard has taken hold of the management of the campaign the saloons have poured money into the coffers of the "good government" organization. As opposed to this the bartenders union stands solidly for the socialist ticket. The bartenders have more friends than their employers. The danger to the liquor interests is that the workers may resent the action of the big brewers and distillers in donating immense sums to the campaign fund of the exploiters.
A feature of the campaign that has been a power is the socialist theater. The show house is situated on Fifth street. Motion pictures are shown at this place and the latest sensation is a series of pictures showing scenes along Owens river aqueduct depicting the immense dam in course of construction in the lands owned by Otis, Earl and others of the plunderbund. The picture shows a private aqueduct to carry the water to Chatsworth park, where it will be impounded in another reservoir on private land.
In half a dozen places stereopticons are working several hours each night flashing on screens news that is suppressed in the daily newspapers.
On half a dozen "news wagons" on the streets, socialists are selling literature in quantities hitherto unknown.
"I am selling one-dollar books faster now than I could give them away a year ago," said a literature agent who has disposed of 2,000 copies of a book against war.
Senator Winfield Galord of Milwaukee, Charles Perkins Gilman of New York and J. Stitt Wilson, mayor of Berkeley, are among the latest speakers added to the list.
Lincoln Steffens, who is in Los Angeles for the McNamara trial, declares there was never a political campaign conducted with the completeness, vigor and enthusiasm as the one now carried on by the socialists.
At meetings unadvertised, where simple announcements have been made, 15,000 persons turned out. At the first meeting scheduled for Charlotte Perkins Gilman at Temple auditorium for 8 o'clock, a remarkable scene was enacted. Doors were opened at 6:50 p. m. and twelve minutes later 3,500 persons were seated in the auditorium. Six thousands stood in the streets. That same night twenty meetings were held in outlying halls and at nearly every one of them overflow meetings were held in the streets.
"Good government" meetings are poorly attended despite the flagging advertisements and wild appeals for attendance.
Of course this proves nothing conclusively and it is admitted socialists are universally given to attendance at meetings. They will vote but will they have enough to carry the election?
Never have daily papers gone to such extremes in lies and vilification. With the exception of the Scripps paper every newspaper in Los Angeles is sending up a prolonged wail to "save the city" from the socialists.
The eight-page full newspaper size of the "Coming Victory" will be off the press for distribution by the "flying squadron" next Saturday. The edition will be number 18 and 150,000 will be run and distributed to the homes of the people before 10 o'clock Sunday morning.
An analysis of the new registration shows some startling and encouraging figures. In the Harriman precincts there is a vast increase over the Alexander precincts. Out of the mass of duplications in the registration the totals will settle down to about 160,000 in the city.
There will be about 110,000 voters cast at the election. Harriman's followers claim at least 60,000 voters.
It is known that a conspiracy is on foot to throw out thousands of socialist registrations. It is openly stated that ALEXANDER MUST WIN. This is being re-echoed by the operatives, thugs and pickhandle men who are in the city acting as guards in the Southern Pacific and Salt Lake railway shops where strikes are in progress. These men are being instructed in their duties and they will be on hand.
"If we can't outvote them we can outcount them," said a strikebreaker who has been taken out of an iron foundry and put on "precinct work."
Unknown to their opponents the socialists have their men on election boards in nearly every precinct in the city. These men will be in a position to insist on a fair count.
The city is flooded with anonymous circulars, some of them of a scurrilous character, all aimed at the socialists. The bill boards are being used and one glaring placard reads: "Don't vote yourself into the breadline—vote for Alexander."
This is a weak defense for accusations that the goo-gooes are planning a $75, 600,000 land and water and harbor steal!

Another placard shows the Stars and Stripes and the red flag with the question "Under which flag?" Answer December 5."
Socialists have issued a most effective reply in the shape of a three-flag placard, adding the black flag of capitalistic piracy.
