

THE VICTORIOUS

"Gladiator."

A COMMITTEE of nine mechanical engineers employed by the Edward P. Allis Company, of Milwaukee, Wis., the most skillful manufacturers of engines and machinery in the world, after examining and testing thirty-six different makes of high grade bicycles, pronounced the "Gladiator" the most scientifically constructed, easy running and highly finished bicycle in existence. Upon their judgment a large order for

GLADIATOR BICYCLES...

was placed, for the use of members and employees of that company. No test so severe and thorough as this has ever been made. Prospective buyers can be guided with safety by this decision. The "GLADIATOR" is truly a "WHEEL OF PERFECTION."

FOR THE EAGLE.

A Collation of News from All Over the World.

Feast of Political, Commercial and General Intelligence for Eagle Readers.

"Rockford Messiah" Wada. Jacob Schweinfurth, the Rockford, Ill. "Messiah," has at last consented to recognize the accepted proprieties and take to wife one of his "angels." Wednesday night at Minneapolis he married Mary Ann Tuttle at the Church of the Redeemer (Universalist), Mr. D. Shuter, pastor of the church, officiating. Four disciples followed the example of their leader. They were Albert C. Teft, who married a sister of Schweinfurth, and Will Weldon, whose bride is Berta O. C. Whitney, whose guest the "Messiah" has been during the summer; a brother of Schweinfurth's and a half-dozen other friends. A gang of men and boys tried to turn the "heaven" into a hotter place Wednesday night by exploding cannon crackers under the house and beating the pans. The police were called and for the rest of the night the "Messiah" and angels slumbered in peace.

UNDER POSTAL BAN.

Alleged Chicago Brokerage Firms Excluded from the Mails. Postoffice Department officials have excluded from the mails the literature of the alleged stock and grain brokerage firms of Chicago and New York operating under the names of J. E. Morgan & Co., Thomas & Co., Craig & Co., Wunderlich & Co., J. F. McClure & Co., the Co-operative Commission Company, the American Silver Commission Company, John I. Tallman & Co., M. F. Hrice & Co. of Chicago; J. E. Morgan & Co., M. F. Price & Co., J. I. Tallman & Co., Equitable Stock and Produce Company, E. L. Wood and James Boothman of New York. The inspectors of the departments have been working for a long time to secure evidence against these people. Conclusive proof of swindling was difficult to obtain. There were plenty of witnesses to be found to testify that they had put money into the scheme and never seen the color of it again, but the firms seem to have been very clever in apparently complying with the legal forms employed in legitimate trading. Contributors invariably lost their money, but trading cards and book accounts seemed to show that it had gone by legitimate channels. The mere fact that the trades were with real or dummy firms suspected of being in collusion, while affording moral evidence of crookedness, could not pass the legal tests and for that reason the officials were slow to act, although certain long ago that a dangerous confidence game was being worked upon the public with great profit.

County Treasurer Disappears.

A telegram received at Chillicothe, Ohio, Tuesday from Waverly, Pike County, states that George W. Legg, County Treasurer, has disappeared. The Board of Commissioners immediately notified his bondsmen, who are Wesley Legg, James D. Corwin, and John Vignamore. Mrs. Legg, the Treasurer's wife, has produced the combination of the safe, and an examination of the funds will be made.

Spain Wins Warships.

Admiral Beronart, the Spanish Minister of Marine, has decided to purchase in Scotland an ironclad of 10,500 tons and a cruiser of 5,500 tons, costing respectively $750,000 ($3,750,000) and $315,000 ($1,575,000) and two torpedo catchers. He has also decided to place an order in England for a cruiser of 10,500 tons.

LYNCH TWO AT GLENCOE.

Disappointed at a Verdict, a Mob Assaults the Jail.

At Glencoe, Minn., the trial of the first of the two men charged with the murder of Sheriff John Rogers resulted Saturday in a verdict of murder in the second degree, which did not please some of the people, and a double lynching was resorted to early Sunday morning. The two men lynched were Darman Musgrove and H. A. Cizmars. On June 25 the accused men had assaulted a farmer, and Sheriff Rogers and deputy went after them with a warrant the following day. They resisted arrest, and during the altercation the Sheriff was shot and killed, although they made no offer to harm his deputy. The men were strangers in the county, and the Sheriff was a popular official. The jury in the case of Musgrove was out nine hours, and finally brought in a verdict of second degree murder. Between 12 and 1 o'clock Saturday night a mob appeared at the jail and after trying the gates and breaking the locks of the cells they made the prisoners dress. The mob took them to the bridge over Buffalo Creek, on the road leading to the scene of the murder, and placing them in the same relative positions as when they committed the murder, they swung them over the edge of the bridge, the drop of fifteen feet breaking both their necks. The best people of Glencoe and the county are loud in their denunciation of the lynching and propose to see what can be done to discover who constituted the mob.

COMMITTEES RUSHING.

Immense Quantities of Campaign Literature Being Sent Out. With the presidential election eight weeks off, the several political committees in Washington are running at full speed supplying literature. So far the Republican committee has sent out 8,000,000 documents, and will continue to send them out at the rate of 500,000 per day. The Democratic committee is now well supplied with documents. It has already sent out 3,000,000 copies of documents, and its daily output will be 150,000 per day. The silver committee, Secretary Diefenderfer said, will, within the next ten days, send out 1,000,000 documents. The Populist has sent out 3,000,000 documents, and are now sending out 100,000 per day. From the Democratic, Populist and silver headquarters the documents are sent to individuals and clubs direct, while most of the literature is sent to the Republican committee is sent to the State Central Committees, and by them distributed to clubs and individuals.

CLARKSON IS CHOSEN.

Omaha Man Elected Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R. When nominations for commander-in-chief were made in the Grand Army encampment Friday morning at St. Paul, D. R. Ballou, of Providence, R. I., was nominated by his comrades, Spooner, of the same State. Judge M. L. Hayward, of Nebraska, presented the name of Maj. Thaddeus K. Clarkson, of Omaha. The nomination of Clarkson was offered by Gen. Case, of Tennessee. John C. Linehan, of New Hampshire, was brought forward by Daniel Coggswell, of that State, and Rear Admiral Meade was presented by a Dakota delegate. Seconds for the nomination of Clarkson came quickly from all over the hall, but one of the first men up was Admiral Meade, who withdrew his own name. It at once became evident that Maj. Clarkson would win, and all the other names were withdrawn. He was then nominated by acclamation.

Shocking Double Murder and Suicide.

A shocking double murder and suicide was discovered three miles from Neponset, Ill., when William Malson, who works for Lou Wilson, a farmer, found the corpses of his employer's wife, his little 4-year-old son, and Wilson himself, lying in the barn, the last named still clutching a revolver in his hand. Wilson was well known, having been a farmer in the vicinity all his life. He was about 38 years old. He was steady and industrious, and his business seemed to prosper until within the last couple of years, when he has had the financial straits, and to the general hard times, and he has been in a dependent mood, at times being plunged in profound melancholy. His wife tried to cheer him up, but with little success, and finally she became affected with his hopeless humor. No one had ever heard of either one making threats of suicide, and Wilson contemplated any such horrible deed as was done he never gave the least intimation of it. Mrs. Wilson was slightly his senior, being about 40 years old. Malson had been in their employ for several months. He was out with a team Wednesday, leaving the house at noon, and returning at 6 o'clock, as was his daily habit. He stopped at the house, but finding no one there, drove on to the barn to put up his horses. All unwitting of the near presence of death, he unharmed his animals and put them into their stalls, and then started to the loft to throw down some hay. He was astonished to discover three bodies lying on the floor, and horrified to find life extinct from each. Each had been shot through the head, the ball in every case entering the temple squarely as if directed by careful and deliberate aim. Wilson's own forehead was blackened with powder grains just around the wound, and there seems to be no doubt that he had slain himself and family. The county authorities were notified, and an inquest held.

English Mutualists.

Starting with a statement of the purposes of a committee just arrived in Australia from England, connected with the supply of the co-operative wholesale society of England with Australian food products. In the States Commercial Agent Keightley, at New Castle, New South Wales, has contributed to the files of the State Department a most interesting and instructive description of the workings of the co-operative societies in Great Britain. Few persons in this country have any conception of the magnitude of the operation of these associations or of their beneficial results, but some idea of their extent may be gathered from Mr. Keightley's statement that in the British Isles they employ 70,000 people and produce of their own wares $30,000,000 annually; that they devote $250,000 annually to educational purposes, such as the maintenance of reading rooms and free library classes, and have a trade amounting to $201,500,000 each year. One society claims to feed and clothe one-seventh of the British people, and, altogether, there are between thirteen and fourteen hundred of them.

Peace-maker Likely to Die.

Charles Freeman, of Hadbrook Heights, N. J., who on Saturday received a severe blow over the heart, has not yet recovered his power of speech. He is unable to communicate with his friends by writing. Two of his friends were about to fight when he ran in to stop it, and received a blow that was not intended for him.

Krupp Will Now Build Ships.

Herr Krupp, the iron king, of Essen, has purchased the Germania ship building works for 6,325,000 marks. The entire plant will be transferred to Herr Krupp Oct. 1, and the capacity for building ships will be increased considerably.

Shoots Child, Not Thug.

In attempting to frighten off a gang of hoodlums who were bent on taking a prisoner from his Patrolman Mahoney shot and killed James Linhart, a 5-year-old child, near West 15th and Jefferson streets, Chicago, Monday afternoon about 5 o'clock. The little fellow was standing in the middle of the street, down which one of the thugs was speeding, and received the bullet in the groin, the missile passing up through the abdomen and out at the left side, near the back. He clasped his hand where the bullet had struck him and tottered manfully to the door of his home, where he fell in a faint. As the child dropped to the sidewalk his mother rushed out and carried the bleeding form of the little sufferer up-stairs and placed it on a bed, moaning in her sorrow, while the din of the struggle outside and the rattle of the patrol wagon and the ambulance that had been summoned added to the confusion.

AN EXTRA SESSION.

Both Democrats and Republicans Agreed on That Point. There is one thing, says a Washington correspondent, upon which the leaders of both political parties are settled and harmonious to wit, that whichever ticket be elected next November, Congress will be called together in extra session so soon as possible after the inauguration next March. If McKinley be elected he will issue the call for the purpose of having Congress provide more revenue. It is probable that Congress will be asked to pass an entirely new tariff bill, although some deem it wiser to devote the extra session to passing merely a bill to guard against a deficit. In view of the fact that the free silver men will continue in power in the Senate, it will hardly matter whether the extra session be called for an expediency bill or an entirely new measure. Free silver men here say that their representatives in the Senate will follow the same program which governed them in the last session, and decline to let a tariff measure of any kind come to a vote unless a free silver bill be attached. Should Bryan be elected he will lose no time in calling Congress together to pass a free silver bill. In the event of his election Bryan will feel that the people want free silver and that there should be no delay in giving it to them. He believes confidently that his election will mean a free silver house, and should that prove true Bland will be Speaker. Should the House not be for free silver, Bryan will nevertheless call an extra session. No result in the shape of a free silver bill would come of it, but Bryan would feel that he had his own duty to the people and that upon Congress would rest the blame for not doing that for which it was called.

ELVEN PEOPLE HURT.

Disastrous Wreck on the L. E. & St. L. Railroad Near English. One man missing and eleven seriously, if not fatally, injured is the result of a railroad wreck ten miles west of English, Mo., on the Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis Road. A train consisting of ten coaches filled with excursionists bound from St. Louis to London was running at high speed when two coaches suddenly left the track, pulling two more after them as they rolled down the embankment. The train plunged along some distance before it was stopped. A panic ensued in which many men, women and children were seriously crushed by those who lost their heads and endeavored to force their way from the cars by main force. Several of the passengers fainted, and for a time the scene was one of the utmost confusion. The wreck is supposed to have been caused by a broken flange on one of the cars catching against a fish plate. Two of the derailed cars were badly splintered.

PALMER AND BUCKNER.

Gold Standard Democrats Place Them in Nomination. John McAnley, of Illinois, is the nominee of the gold standard Democrats for President. Simon Bolivar Buckner, of Kentucky, is the nominee for Vice President. They were nominated Thursday afternoon at Indianapolis almost without opposition and amid scenes of great enthusiasm. There was but one ballot, Senator Palmer receiving 767 1/2 votes to 124 1/2 for Gen. Bragg, of Wisconsin. Gen. Buckner was chosen by acclamation. In less than three hours the convention named its candidates, adopted its declaration of principles and adjourned sine die. Generals Palmer and Buckner will be formally notified of their nomination at Louisville Sept. 12, and the national committee is preparing for a vigorous campaign in every State of the Union.
