CHICAGO, SATURDAY, JULY 25, 1903—TWELVE PAGES.

NUMBER 720.

FOR A REVOLUTION.

The Twin Relics of Anarchy Start the Ball a Rolling on Saturday Last.

William J. Bryan Violently Abuses Grover Cleveland Because He Suppressed the Riots in 1894.

The Ex-President Denounced Unmercifully for Putting Down Disorder, Protecting Lives and Saving Property.

Vituperative Virulence Violently Vomited by the Vixenish Vortex from Nebraska Who Hates Order.

Mayor Harrison Reads His Anti-Insomnia Speech; the Crowd Sleeps and Danger Is Averted.

The Twin Relics of Anarchy, Bryan and Harrison, entertained quite a crowd of enthusiastic pay-roll fiends at Brand's Grove on Saturday.

Mr. Bryan was at his best, having partaken of a fine lunch at the Northwestern depot restaurant while waiting for Capanson and the Sooner Order of Hats to arrive to greet him.

Mr. Bryan roasted Grover Cleveland to a turn for interfering with the plans of the Anarchists for a general revolution in 1894 and for calling out the troops to protect property and suppress disorder.

For some reason or other this act of President Cleveland has always rankled in Mr. Bryan's breast, and the fact that all of Bryan's riches are tied up in the country, away from city mobs, has not helped him to forget it.

Mayor Harrison read his old inaugural address again and was loudly cheered by the water meter fans.

The sportive effect of Carter's eloquence stayed the bloodthirsty mob, put crying babies to sleep and stilled the crowd.

Several curiosities from other States, including Beardless Walsh, of Iowa, were present and agitated the ether.

Notwithstanding the fact that Bryan and Harrison spoke, and that Walsh and other hieroglyphics pushed air, the crowd enjoyed itself hugely.

Brand's Park is a beautiful spot and would attract a crowd under any circumstances.

The downtown parade of the Harrison and Bryan Windbag Picnic Association was made up as follows:

Capanson on horseback.
Captain Farrell on foot.
The Grub Club, 81 members.
The Jail guards, 52 strong.
Bryan and Harrison in a carriage.
Other mourners in another carriage.
At the grounds the paraders, who went out in three trolley cars, were joined by the following:

Dog Catchers' Verein.
Night Sentries' Union.
Bryan Hoboes.
Harrison Water Meter Guards.
Bridge Tenders.
Sleepy Hollow Cadets.
Hold-Up Men's Society and other masked and unmasked bodies.

Chicago's Chief Dog Catcher says that he will not run for President until 1908. He says he is going after Thomas Gahan's job as National Committeeman. The Chief Dog Catcher will fail in both attempts.

The richest pickings that have ever fallen to the lot of an alderman's body are said to have been tossed to the present City Council.

This is a nice time for our ridiculous, imitative Mayor and that Prince of Mouths—Bryan—to be abusing a President of the United States because he preserved order in the country. With a revolution brewing in Chicago and disorder prevailing on all sides, it would be in better taste for the Mayor of this city to be a little more dignified.

Mayor Harrison's father spent many years of his first four terms as Mayor in mildly encouraging the anarchy-loving classes. The result was the Haymarket riot. The fact that his father was afterward killed by an anarchist seems to have had no effect on The Second. The Second is fanning anarchy, denouncing Cleveland and making a bigger monkey out of himself than his father ever did. He will get a run for his money one of these days. Just see if he don't.

Bryan always carries his fork with him through force of habit. When the Democratic Committee went to welcome him on Saturday it found him at the depot lunch counter, of course.

After awhile everybody will be pensioned except the people who work for a living and earn the money. The policemen are pensioned, the school-teachers are pensioned, and now the judges want to be pensioned.

Mayor Harrison has left town for a well-earned rest. He has not had a day off now since last Saturday's picnic.

There were only 1,281 persons on the grounds at one time at the Bryan-Harrison-Grub-Club Picnic.

Very appropriately the Grub Club found Bryan at the lunch counter when it called to escort him.

With over a million of Chicago Catholics mourning for the head of their church, Mayor Harrison refused to allow the City Hall flag to be placed at half-mast, either out of respect to them or the Pope.

Every public official in the United States of any prominence, from President Roosevelt down, gave public utterance to his sense of bereavement over the death of Pope Leo, except Mayor Harrison, of Chicago.

Mayor Seth Low, of New York, ordered the flags on the City Hall and other public buildings in New York half-masted out of respect to the memory of Pope Leo. Mayor Harrison refused to permit the Chicago City Hall flag to be lowered.

Mayor Harrison was the only Mayor of any large city in the United States who refused to order the City Hall flag to be placed at half-mast out of respect to the memory of Pope Leo.

Mayor Harrison did not depart from Chicago for his annual "rest" until Wednesday, two days after the death of the Pope, but neither by word or sign or half-masting the City Hall flag did he evince any sympathy. He is truly a pretty cold proposition.

Recorder Simon is one of the best public officials Cook County ever had.

Charles F. Gunther's boom for Mayor is growing stronger every day.

There are over $3,000,000 in judgments outstanding against the city of Chicago for damages sustained through defective sidewalks. If the city owned the street car systems it would be bankrupt by the judgments obtained against it for damages sustained by passengers.

The County Democracy excursion to Milwaukee promises to be a great success.

Republicans are talking of Elton A. Lower for Coroner. He is popular and would make a good man for the place.

The County Democracy continues to be the only truly Democratic organization in the field.

The County Democracy membership has increased over 1,000 in five months. Pretty good for an off year.

The Board of Review has started in with its annual session of tax adjustment, and it is believed that a considerable increase in the assessment of personal property will be the result of its work this year.

There is much curiosity as to who shall constitute the committee which the "Grub Club" decided on Saturday to appoint for the purpose of framing a new declaration of principles for the Democracy of the nation. Of course "Capanson" and "Capparelli" won't be overlooked.

President Foreman, of the Board of County Commissioners, is likely to find out that he is not the whole thing. Other members of the board have rights and will insist on them.

Mayor Harrison sent in to the Council on Monday night a list of encroachments on the building line in West Madison street near Halsted street, and asked that body to find out why they have been allowed. Why does he not send in a list of the encroachments on the sidewalks of State street and other downtown thoroughfares?

Postmaster Coyne is thoughtful for and careful of the interests of his subordinates. Through his efforts and recommendations, allowances have been made for increased salaries for 1,000 employees of the postoffice. Mr. Coyne says he is not yet satisfied. "There are many other deserving officials and clerks in this office," said the postmaster the other day, "who should be rewarded for faithful work, and for whom I feel certain the department will show its appreciation in a few weeks."

There is a great deal of truth in the stories now going the rounds about a revolt against Harrison in the Democratic County Central Committee. The fact that a number of those who saved the payroll brigade from impending defeat and disaster at a crucial period and made it possible for Harrison to be re-nominated were repaid by ingratitude and injury, has not tended to draw the ranks of the tax eaters more closely together.

Thomas Gahan will beat the little squirt Mayor out of his boots for the National Committeeship.

Hon. Richard Yates is a good enough governor for Illinois. From every point of view he is worthy of his name and of the great Prairie State. He is young, vigorous, and capable. There are no reactionary or fossilized notions about him. The Republican party has confidence in him; so have all the people. His renomination seems assured.

Justice Callahan of South Chicago has found a new way of punishing a vagrant. A bath every day for six weeks. The worthy magistrate will be a terror to hobos, if he keep up his gait.

City Comptroller McGinn is to discharge the duties usually performed by Harrison in addition to his own during the latter's absence. This will not be likely to burden the comptroller very much.

It is stated on good authority that Governor Yates will at once confirm the appointment of Theodore Mayer as justice of the peace.

Col. E. R. Bliss has been taking good care of the interests of the City Railway Company all through the dog days. The big corporation's legal affairs are certainly in good hands.

So there is no ice trust in this city after all. What was the Council Committee investigating anyway?

Judge Holdom is a great jurist and a thorough student of the law. The spirit and essence of his rulings in connection with the strike troubles have been invariably upheld.

The members of the Drainage Board are just now busily engaged in seeking a route for the proposed water way from the Calumet river to the drainage canal. Congressman Mahony will aid in the work of inducing congress to give part of the sum needed for the work.

Hon. John K. Prindiville is one of the most highly esteemed police magistrates in Chicago. His standing as a citizen and a lawyer is of the highest.

Hon. Fred H. Rowe is quietly preparing the lines on the Republican side for the big campaign of next year. Mr. Rowe is one of the ablest and most successful men who ever guided the Republican cause in this State.

Mrs. Sherman, one of the retiring members of the Board of Education, paid a graceful and deserved compliment to her successor, Mr. John C. Fetzer. Mr. Fetzer will undoubtedly prove one of the most valuable members of the School Board.

The banner barnacle of this or any other age is Peter Klobbassa.

The Eagle has received a communication asking "Who a fellow named Wiemers is master-in-chancery for?" We give it up. We never heard of him before.

Peter Klobbassa was appointed police patrolman in 1872; the next year he went to the Legislature; then he became a clerk in the Custom House—all this as a Republican; then he turned Democrat and next day was nominated for City Treasurer and elected. Then he became Alderman, then County Commissioner, then Building Commissioner and next member of the Board of Local Improvements.

It is announced authoritatively that Health Commissioner Reynolds will not be disturbed as a result of the attack on his department by the Civil Service Commission. Dr. Reynolds has made a good official and his retention in office will give public satisfaction.

That was a lively session over the election of a presiding officer for the Board of Education. Four ballots, resulting in a deadlock and adjournment, is an unusual record for this body.

One of the most useful measures passed by the City Council in a long time was the wide tire ordinance. There is no doubt that this measure will conduce greatly to the preservation of the pavements.

Installation of the proposed high-pressure water system has been decided by the City Council to a committee of seven aldermen and six other citizens. The public will watch carefully the progress of this work.

At the last Council meeting the Mayor completed the list of police magistrate appointments. Justices James C. Dooley and James M. Doyle were appointed to the Desplaines Street Court, Max Eberhardt to the Maxwell Street Court and Q. J. Chott to Warren Avenue.

With the dogdays the City Council has temporarily gone out of business.

MR. JOHN T. CONNERY,
One of the Most Popular Coal Men in the United States.

HARRISON THE BOOR.

The Only Public Official in the United States Who Ignored the Pope's Death.

A Fine Man, Truly, to Talk of for President of This Great Republic.

Striking Contrast Between Him and Roosevelt, Cleveland, Low and Other Great American Leaders.

While Statesmen of All Creeds Are Expressing Regret, the Only Word from Harrison

Is the Statement that He Is Busily Engaged in Writing a Political Platform.

The newspapers have been searched in vain for one word, coming from Mayor Harrison, of regret over Pope Leo's death. The City Hall flag was not half-masted, as was the City Hall flag in New York by order of Mayor Low, and the flag of the University of Chicago.

While President Roosevelt, Grover Cleveland, Mayor Low and other great Americans of all creeds were honoring the memory of the great departed, the cheap, boorish Mayor of Chicago was too busily engaged in "writing a platform for next year's campaign" to show a decent respect for the sorrow of his fellow citizens.

The following articles taken from the Chicago Tribune of Tuesday speak for themselves:

ROOSEVELT EXPRESSES REGRET
Oyster Bay, L. I., July 20.—President Roosevelt was deeply touched by the death of Pope Leo. At his home on Sagamore hill, on being informed of the demise of the venerable head of the Roman Catholic Church, he dictated the following:

"The President expressed his profound regret at the death of the venerable pontiff, whose long career no less than his exalted character has commanded the respect of all Christians."

"The President said that in uttering these sentiments he was giving expression to the feeling of all the people in the United States, wholly without regard to their religious faiths."

TRIBUTE BY GROVER CLEVELAND.
Buzzard's Bay, Mass., July 20.—(Special.)—When ex-President Cleveland was informed of the Pope's death this afternoon at Gray Gables, he said:

"Although, of course, not unexpected, the news of the death of this distinguished man cannot fail to awaken regret in the minds of all those who are sincerely solicitous for the betterment of humanity."

"I have regarded Pope Leo XIII. as a most important factor in the advance of civilization and man's improvement. Though at the head of a church to whose interests he was constantly devoted, he seemed never to forget that all mankind is akin when manhood's development and the promotion of universal brotherhood are in the balance. Not only his church but the cause of humanity has lost a strong advocate and a sincere friend."

MAYOR LOW ISSUES A LETTER.
New York, July 20.—Mayor Low today issued the following letter regarding the death of Pope Leo XIII.:

"The death of the Pope will bring sorrow to many hundred thousands of the citizens of New York, and those whom it does not directly affect will respond with fraternal sympathy for their fellow-citizens who feel his death as a personal loss. Every one must have been moved by his calm and brave bearing in the presence of approaching death."

"It is too early to attempt to consider Leo XIII.'s place in history, but one may safely say that he filled the great position with dignity and authority and as one who has understood thoroughly the movements of his time."

PRASE BY GOV. PENNYPACKER.
Harrisburg, Pa., July 20.—Upon being informed of the death of the Pope,

Gov. Pennypacker said: "It is not surprising to hear of Pope Leo's death. The wonder is that he lived as long as he did. It was a good old age. He had been a worthy and capable occupant of the chair. His work appears to have been done well and surely he has succeeded in winning the favorable opinion and esteem of people in America as well as elsewhere."

UNIVERSITY HONORS THE POPE.
When the news of the death of the Pope was received at the University of Chicago yesterday afternoon the flag which floats on the campus was placed at half mast by orders of Dean Harry Pratt Judson, acting president in the absence of Dr. Harper.

Prof. Judson, who is head of the department of political science, in speaking of the incident, said:

"The death of Pope Leo is a real loss to civilization. He was a man of an exceedingly high type of character. His influence throughout the world was ennobling, conservative, making for peace and order. His death is regretted deeply by Protestants as well as by Catholics."

COUNCIL HONORS HIS MEMORY.
The Chicago City Council by a rising vote Monday evening passed the following resolutions regarding the death of the Pope, introduced by Alderman Ailing:

"The City Council of the city of Chicago has learned with deep sorrow of the death of Pope Leo XIII., Pope of the Roman Catholic Church. We desire to express our respect for his great learning, high character, deep piety, and broad love for humanity. We rejoice that during his long and useful life his influence was exerted in behalf of the world's peace, the stability of society, and the welfare of the nations. We direct that a copy of the memorial be sent to the Catholic Archbishop of Chicago."

JUDGE BREWER EULOGIZES
LEO.
"Through the death of Leo XIII. the world has lost one of its great men," said Justice David J. Brewer of the United States Supreme Court. The Justice and Mrs. Brewer arrived here on their way West and stopped at the Annex.

"The heroic battle which the Pope fought against death," said the Justice, "and his final dissolution have to a great extent wiped out the sectarian differences among the Christian churches of the world and brought their members closer in mutual sympathy."

"When President McKinley declared war against Spain the invisible barrier which still existed between the North and South disappeared as by magic, and sectionalism became a dead issue. The long sickness and final death of Leo XIII. in a similar way caused Catholics and Protestants to forget their religious differences and together mourn the loss of a great man."

"No better man than Cardinal Gibbons could be selected the successor of Leo. Not only is he a fine character, irreproachable as a man and as a dignity of the church, but he is of a lovable disposition, learned, and free from prejudices and narrow intolerance. It is scarcely probable, however, that Cardinal Gibbons, being an American, will be the choice of the conclave."

PRASE BY NON-CATHOLICS.
Non-Catholics of Chicago expressed the highest regard for the life and
