CALLS BANK ROBBERY A FAKE.

Arrest of Benbow Cashier Followed by That of Alleged Bankers. Stephen L. Moore, who was cashier of the People's Bank of Benbow City, when it closed May 28, following his claim that he had been held up and robbed in the bank of $3,500, was arrested the other day. Assistant Circuit Attorney Roskopf and Detective McCarthy say that Moore confessed after his arrest that the bank was organized by John H. Guhman, a St. Louis real estate dealer, that certificates of deposit for which there were no deposits were issued at Guhman's suggestion, and that Guhman planned the fake robbery of the bank to furnish an explanation of the bank's inability to pay several notes which fell due at that time. Guhman and H. N. Barcker, another realty dealer, were arrested later. They declared Moore "crazy," denied planning the robbery and insisted the certificates of deposit were legitimate. Barcker says he deposited money in the bank at Guhman's suggestion and is innocent of any wrong. Moore said he was a farmer and carpenter and ignorant of banking when Guhman, whom he had known fourteen years, persuaded him about a year ago to open the bank.

SHORT STATE ITEMS.

Former Corporation Counsel John P. Mann, of Elgin, was killed in an accident at Milwaukee.

O. H. Wheat, one of the ablest photographers in the State and at one time head of the State association, died in Rockford.

The voters of Elgin at a special election authorized the issuance of $115,000 in bonds to complete the new $200,000 high school building.

Henry Smith, 49 years old, of Williamson County, is dead from blood poisoning caused by the bite of a possum he caught while hunting.

William Hill, a conductor on the Northwestern road who lives in Belvidere, stepped from his train in front of another train at Sterling, and was instantly killed.

Fire destroyed three stores and contents in Portland. The loss is close to $15,000. When chemicals and water supply were exhausted, beer was used to extinguish the flames.

Former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson, who has been a patient at the Presbyterian Hospital in Chicago, returned home to Bloomington, having almost completely recovered.

An eagle, infuriated over the death of its mate, attacked thirteen-year-old Joseph Dailey, of Upper Alton, and was battling with the boy when his father clubbed it with his shotgun.

The post office at Odell was robbed and the burglars escaped with $1,000 in stamps and $200 in cash, after blowing the safe with nitroglycerin. The building was damaged by the explosion.

One man dead and a score of persons injured are the results of a blunder in train orders which caused two night passenger trains on the Southern railroad to meet in head-on collision at Belmont.

Mrs. Henry Rose and her 8-year-old son, of Delwood, were injured badly in a runaway in Harrisburg. Mrs. Rose was thrown from the vehicle, and, becoming entangled in the lines, was dragged a distance.

Walter Harloff, aged 14 years, who was fishing in the lake at the foot of Hamilton street, in Evanston, attempted to recover his pole, which had dropped in the water, and he fell from the pier and was drowned.

FARMER ASKS AGENT'S ARREST.

Manteno Grain Man May Yet Face Prosecution for Deals. John McLaughlin, alleged defaulting agent of Bartlett, Patten & Co., of Manteno, may yet face a prosecution. John Lavole, a Manteno farmer, made formal complaint to State's Attorney J. Bert Miller regarding the alleged deals of McLaughlin. Lavole contends he is at least entitled to the money he says that he advanced McLaughlin on margins, while admitting speculative winnings have no legal standing. Lavole is the man who brought the trouble to a climax Saturday when he notified District Agent P. H. Eican of the grain company of McLaughlin's alleged refusal to meet the demands for winnings. The majority of the losing speculators now accept the situation philosophically, and plans for the settlement of legitimate claims are already under way.

GIRLS IN SUICIDE PACT.

Catherine Bender and Jessie Cole End Lives as Officers Approach. Catherine Bender and Jessie Cole, two girls, 18 years old, successfully carried out a most remarkable suicide pact in Springfield. Miss Bender was the daughter of a butcher, W. H. Bender, and Miss Cole a daughter of William Cole, a gardener. The two girls have been running together for some time. The officers had received complaint from the Cole girl's parents, who asked that she be brought home. The girls, expecting that officers might seek them, went to the home of Mrs. J. W. Bechtel, poured a quantity of carbolic acid into two wine glasses and awaited the arrival of the officers in the front yard. Seeing the officers coming, they ran in, swallowed the acid, rushed to the porch and there fell unconscious. They died in a few minutes.

ELECTION RIOT BRINGS DEATH.

Marshal Overpowered by Miners Shoots into Mob in Town. One man is dead and two others probably fatally wounded as the result of a riot in Cherry, a mining town on the St. Paul Railway. The trouble was the outcome of an election feud. The killing occurred when Steve Timko, the town marshal, was attacked while trying to quiet the disturbance. When thrown to the ground by five miners, Timko emptied his revolver among his assailants. John Gaspar was killed and Joe Zekura and Richard Velutini wounded. The election fight, which has occurred every year for some time, was between Slavs and Italians for control of offices. The coroner's jury exonerated Timko, the verdict stating that he shot in self-defense.

NEGRO FOILS MOB, BUT IS CAUGHT

Postmistress' Assailant Flings Train - Arrested in Carlinville. With escape cut off and surrounded in his hiding place beneath a railroad culvert by an armed mob of miners of Green Ridge, bent upon vengeance for an attack upon Miss Laura Yowell, the postmistress of the place, Ezekiah Marshall, a negro tramp, outwitted his pursuers by flagging a Chicago & Alton freight train with his red undershirt. Members of the mob telephoned to Carlinville, however, and Marshall was captured by deputy sheriffs without resistance. Late at night Marshall confessed at Carlinville that he had entered the Yowell home for the purpose of robbery. He admitted, the officers say, that he shot Miss Yowell.

Jail Contractor as Forger.

B. S. Smart, a prominent contractor of Harrisburg, was arrested charged with forging the names of W. H. McInerath, Attorney John Thompson and Circuit Judge A. W. Lewis to notes amounting to several hundred dollars.
