Established October 5, 1880.

By Henry F. Donovan.

The Chicago Eagle numbers among its subscribers the most influential, most prosperous and most respected men in Chicago.
It reaches nearly every man of standing in the community and all men who are molders of public opinion or directors of public affairs.
It is the guide, mentor and friend of every political leader of every shade of opinion.
It is read by Government, State, County and City Officials.
It is read by a big percentage of the legal fraternity, including bench and bar.
It is the favorite of Chicago's leading business men.
It reaches all classes in their homes.
It is read by the Fire Department.
It is read by the Police Department.
It is in every public office and every public library.
It is not controlled by any cheap, cheery or crooked advertising agency.
In the twenty-one years of its existence it has managed to build up a large circulation and great business without the aid of professional advertising sharks.
That is why it is so independent, so popular and so strong.
The Chicago Eagle is one paper that has never depended upon advertising agents for a circulation. It has one of its own.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The aldermanic campaign is on.
The number of has-beens coming to life is unusually large, although the mayoralty campaign is just beginning.
More than one retiring alderman is slated for the slide this spring.
Peter Bartzon started his administration as President of the County Board in the right way by investigating conditions at the county institutions. That's the kind of work the people like.
Carl E. Forsburg, of the firm of Forsburg & Borman, teaming and expressing, at 429 West Chicago avenue, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Alderman in the Twenty-second Ward, and is prepared to make a vigorous campaign. Mr. Forsburg was born in Chicago in 1879 and has been in the teaming and express business for the past seven years. He has been successful in business from the start. Mr. Forsburg is well known and well liked all over the Twenty-second Ward, and is qualified in every way for a seat in the City Council. He is a member of the regular ward organization and has always been an active worker for the success of the party at the polls. His nomination would prove a winning one.
Bartzon is on the right track.
Philip R. Brand, secretary and treasurer of the well-known Brand Brewing Company, holds the esteem of all good citizens for his clean and able record as a business man and a citizen.
President Peter Bartzon of the County Board was notified by the receiver for the Alling Company that a bill for "extras" required on the new infirmary at Oak Forest would be presented to the county, and that suit would follow unless the claim was not yet been fixed.
The construction company claims that in order to make the building fire-proof and otherwise meet the demands of the county it was compelled to use other materials and do more work than contemplated by the specifications prepared by the county architect under which they took the con-

No man on the bench in Cook County stands higher in the estimation of the people than Judge Edward Osgood Brown.

Charles F. Cooke has established one of the finest restaurants in Chicago at 9 La Salle street. It is called the Game Cock Inn and the table will rank with any in the country for fine cuisine and appointments. Probably no restaurant in Chicago has such a large assortment of fine game in season.

Adam Ortseloff, president of the McAvoy and Wacker & Birk Brewing Companies, is a man whose record as a public official, a business man and a citizen has won for him the confidence and respect of the entire public.

Martin J. Breen, president of the great firm of Breen & Kennedy, commands the respect of all who know him. Mr. Breen is of the type of citizens who have made Chicago great and prosperous.

The record made by William Legner, vice-president and manager of the West Side Brewing Company, and treasurer of the Conrad Seipp Brewing Company, both as a business man and as a public official, is without spot or blemish. Mr. Legner stands high in the estimation of all Chicagoans.

Ernst Tosetti, head of the great Ernst Tosetti Brewing Company, is a man who would do honor to any office within the gift of the people. Mr. Tosetti has always been prominent in movements for the welfare of Chicago and holds a big place in the esteem of the public as a business man and a citizen.

The beer brewed by the well-known Birk Bros. Brewery is second to none in the country. Their famous Superb is a favorite with everyone that knows and enjoys good beer. William A. Birk and Edward J. Birk, president and treasurer, respectively, of this successful brewery, stand high in the estimation of the people of Chicago, as able business men and progressive citizens.

Carl Trick, vice-president and manager of the Wacker & Birk Brewing Company, has made a splendid record of business for his great concern during the year now closing.

Ernst Hummel, president of the South Chicago Brewing Company, has made a splendid success by the exercise of honest, straightforward methods and fair dealing with his fellow men. This is the secret of his success.

The Atlas Brewing Company, under the able management of its president, Charles J. Vopicka, continues to enjoy an uninterrupted flow of business prosperity and enters upon a still higher tide of success with the coming year.

Edwin Bluthardt, the able young manager of the United States Brewing Company, makes friends and holds them with the same easy and genial faculty with which he handles so well the large and growing business of his great firm.

John J. Coburn, the popular and highly respected attorney, is in line for election to the Superior Court bench next year.

John P. McGorty is the choice of thousands of Democrats for the vacancy on the Circuit Court bench to succeed Judge Mack.

Meany; treasurer, William Mohnk; sergeant-at-arms, James Egan. More than a hundred members of the association attended.

The ticket scalping graft in Chicago should be squelched.

No political leader in the county enjoys a more deserved popularity than William H. Weber, the able secretary of the Republican County Central Committee.

The direct primary law now in force has taken every bit of power out of the hands of the people.

For diamonds, watches and jewelry of all kinds, suitable for Christmas presents, go to Tom N. Donnelly's, 118 Dearborn street. Whatever you get at Donnelly's you can depend upon is the best.

Col. James Hamilton Lewis can always feel certain that he has the loyal backing of every Chicago Democrat for any position he may aspire to.

Former United States Senator Albert J. Hopkins will be Illinois' favorite son for the Republican vice-presidential nomination in 1912.

Homer E. Tinsman, the well known attorney and former alderman, stands in the front ranks of Chicago's ablest lawyers and most highly esteemed citizens.

The judges of the Municipal Court are municipal officers and should be elected in the spring at municipal elections instead of in the fall at county elections. The county ticket in the fall is too big entirely and loading it down with the municipal judges is entirely unnecessary. The election of municipal judges in the spring would insure the selection of a better class of men than have been chosen for this office as a rule, because the ticket would be smaller and the voter would have a better chance to make an intelligent choice.

Albert G. Wheeler stands foremost among Chicago's leading business men and financiers.

Francis D. Connelly has made a splendid record as city clerk and his re-nomination by the Democrats is a foregone conclusion.

Girard A. Ellington, the popular attorney, is being talked of by many Democrats of the Thirty-fifth Ward for alderman.

This is a good time to be looking up the records of some of the boys who are holding jobs that expire two years hence.

Andrew J. Graham's candidacy for mayor is steadily growing.

Chicago has never had a better or more popular public official than City Treasurer Isaac N. Powell.

Albert J. Hopkins holds and will continue to do so the admiration and confidence of the Republican rank and file of Illinois.

Lengthen the loop platforms.

Aldermanic candidates are commencing to crop up in all the wards.

The drys are at it again.

George M. Weichelt, the able and well liked young lawyer, is one of the most active leaders in the Republican organization of Lake View.

John J. Bradley, the popular and well known real estate man and former Alderman, is talked of by many Democrats for City Treasurer, next spring.

Judge Edward O. Brown has won by his grand record as a judge and a lawyer the confidence and highest esteem of all Chicagoans.

John J. Bradley, the well known and highly respected real estate man and former Alderman, is looked upon by many as the right man for the Democrats to nominate for City Treasurer next spring.

An outer harbor sounds good to people who are tired of the bridge nuisance.

Clyde A. Morrison has made a splendid record as assistant city attorney and no official in the city or county enjoys a widespread popularity.

The local option fanatics are again abroad with their petitions.

Hurry up those subways.

Homer E. Tinsman, able and popular lawyer and former alderman, would make a splendid Superior Court judge.

James S. Hopkins stands foremost among Chicago's leading lawyers and citizens.

Albert G. Wheeler commands at all times the confidence and highest esteem of Chicago's leading financiers and business men.

President Thomas A. Smyth, of the Sanitary Board, is the right man in the right place.

Thomas W. Gilmore, the popular and well known coal merchant, is the strongest man the Republicans can name for alderman in the Twenty-fifth ward next spring.

John F. O'Malley, the popular North Side Democratic leader, enjoys at all times the confidence of the Democratic workers.

There is a general demand for the abolition of boulevards.

They are maintained exclusively for the rich at the expense of the poor. They are used exclusively by persons owning automobiles and are kept up by the taxes of people who do not live upon them.

When people of moderate means were enabled to own and enjoy the driving of horses, the boulevards were the delight of the common people. It is different now.

People who live upon streets that are not boulevards can only have them improved by putting their hands in their pockets and paying for the improvements themselves.

All property upon streets not boulevardized is subject to the levy of special assessments for the improvement and maintenance of such thoroughfares.

Property fronting on boulevards is not subject to special assessment.

The improvement of boulevards and the maintenance of these costly luxuries is paid for out of the park taxes levied upon the general tax payer, who reaps no benefit from his outlay. Trees upon boulevards are maintained out of the general park taxes, levied upon all taxpayers.

While the general taxpayer pays for the boulevard trees, he has also to pay for the trees in front of his own home and is then informed by the city council that he does not own them.

Special privileges to none, but equal rights for all is the slogan that is growing in volume.

The people cheerfully contribute to the maintenance of parks, but they are unwilling to be bled longer for boulevards.

The boulevard as a tax-eating load on the general public, must go.

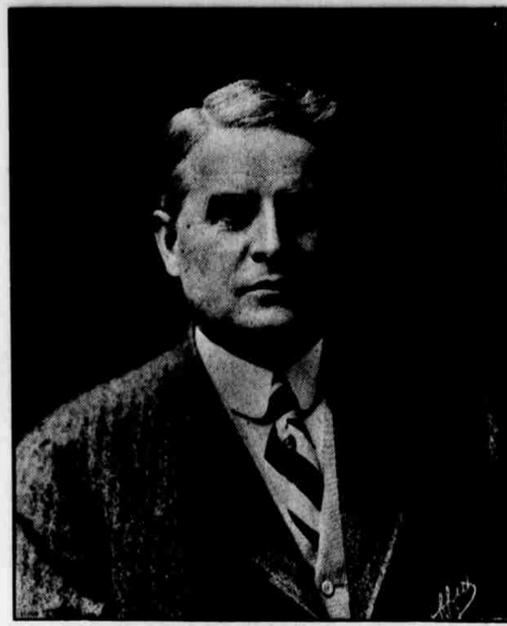

No lawyer in Cook County has a cleaner record to his credit than James S. Hopkins, the popular master in chancery.

Thomas W. Gilmore, the popular and well known coal merchant, would make a splendid alderman from the Twenty-fifth ward.

You have several months now to think over that Aldermanship.

Subway talk is on the grow.

Under the new primary law petitions of candidates for mayor and aldermen at next spring's election may be filed on Jan. 28 next and not later
