

By Henry F. Donovan.

The Chicago Eagle numbers among its subscribers the most influential, most prosperous and most respected men in Chicago.

It reaches nearly every man of standing in the community and all men who are molders of public opinion or directors of public affairs.

It is the guide, mentor and friend of every political leader of every shade of opinion.

It is read by Government, State, County and City Officials.

It is read by a big percentage of the legal fraternity, including bench and bar.

It is the favorite of Chicago's leading business men.

It reaches all classes in their homes.

It is read by the Fire Department.

It is read by the Police Department.

It is in every public office and every public library.

It is a paper that is read by people of standing and influence.

Nominate Spencer Ward for Chief Justice of the Municipal Court.

All classes of Democrats are rallying to the candidacy of James M. Slattery for chief balliff of the Municipal Court. He will be nominated by a safe plurality.

Lewis Rinaker will be nominated for state's attorney by the Republican voters by a big plurality. The rank and file of the party are with him to a finish.

The Republican voters should renominate August W. Miller for county assessor. He has made a grand record and has at all times been a loyal party man.

Ambrose A. Worsley is a winner for Municipal Judge. His fine record as a lawyer and his loyalty at all times to the Democratic party are well known to the Democratic voters, and his vote on Primary day will be a big one. Vote for him.

William D. Munhall will be nominated by the Democrats for Municipal Judge by a big plurality. He is one of the best known lawyers in Chicago and enjoys a well-earned popularity throughout the city. Nominate him.

Alderman Charles Twigg will have an easier time running an election day than he had on primary day. The people of the Twenty-eighth Ward are proud of his good record in the Council.

Harry H. Lampert is making a winning campaign for alderman in the Twenty-third ward and everything points to a victory for him. All classes of voters are rallying to his support.

The renomination of County Assessor Walter E. Schmidt on primary day is predicted by both sides. He is deservedly popular with all factions in the party.

The candidacy of Joseph P. Conery for county recorder on the Democratic ticket should receive the support of all good Democrats. Mr. Conery is fitted in every way for the position and will make a strong candidate before the people.

One of the strongest and most popular candidates on the Democratic ticket for Municipal Judge is Timothy F. Mullen. His record as a lawyer is an able, clean and successful one. He has always been a loyal Democrat and he is entitled to the vote of every member of the party on Primary day.

Col. James Hamilton Lewis has the field to himself for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator. His election will place in Washington a representative of whom every Illinoisan will be justly proud of.

Morton T. Culver, the well-known and highly respected attorney, is, at the request of his big army of friends, a candidate for Republican nomination for County Commissioner in the county outside Chicago. Mr. Culver is the kind of a man needed on the county board and his nomination by the Republicans on primary day will be a worthy one.

Nominate Lewis Rinaker for state's attorney.

Adolph Bergman's splendid record as sanitary trustee has gained for him a widespread popularity and every indication points to his re-nomination on primary day by a big plurality.

John J. McLaughlin has a walk-over for renomination to the Legislature in the Nineteenth District. Mr. McLaughlin is one of the ablest representatives the people have down at Springfield and the voters of the Nineteenth District are with him all the time, notwithstanding the croaking of a few notoriety-seeking reform artists.

Spencer Ward should be nominated for chief justice of the Municipal Court by the Democrats. A better qualified man for the position could not be had than Mr. Ward. He is one of the ablest and most successful lawyers in Chicago, with a long and honorable record to his credit. The position of chief justice of the Municipal Court is one that needs a man of force and energy, a man big enough to cope with big affairs. Such a man is Spencer Ward. He has always taken an active interest in public affairs. As a Democrat he has always been loyal to his party and has been a tireless worker in behalf of its success. Mr. Ward is a member of the Chicago Association of Commerce and also of the Press Club. Mr. Ward was born February 21, 1861, in the District of Columbia. He attended public schools until the age of sixteen, and then took a business course at the Spencian Washington Business College, and graduated. He studied law at Georgetown University and Columbian University, Washington, from which latter institution he graduated in June, 1887. Mr. Ward came to Chicago in November, 1887, and has since lived and practiced law here. See that he gets your vote for Chief Justice of the Municipal Court.

The nomination of Albert H. Putney for Municipal Judge by the Democrats will strengthen the whole ticket. A better man could not be chosen for the bench. Nominate him.

Benjamin M. Mitchell will win with ease for renomination to the Legislature in the Twenty-first District. His record is clean and honorable and he is deservedly popular with all classes of voters.

One of the ablest, hardest working and most conscientious public officials in Illinois is County Judge John E. Owens.

Robert E. Wilson looks like an easy winner for renomination to the Legislature in the Sixth District. Mr. Wilson is a born campaigner and is deservedly popular with all classes throughout the District.

Edward Queeney is a popular candidate for Municipal Judge on the Democratic ticket, and all signs point to his nomination on Primary day, with votes to spare.

The Democrats will make no mistake in nominating Frank H. Novak for Municipal Judge. He is an able lawyer and will make a fine Judge.

Alderman James R. Buckley has filed his petition as an independent candidate for alderman in the Thirtieth Ward. He says he didn't get a square deal at the primaries and is going to run independent to vindicate his record in the Council.

James M. Slattery's candidacy for chief balliff of the Municipal Court is a winning one. All classes of Democrats are rallying to his support and his vote on primary day promises to be a record breaking one. The Democrats are fortunate in having a man of Slattery's ability and record in aspiring for nomination on their ticket. It is men, like him, that the people need in public office and every Democrat who believes in nominating honest and clean men for public positions should go to the polls on primary day and vote for him. His record is well known to the people and his nomination will add strength to the whole ticket. Mr. Slattery was born in Chicago on July 29, 1878, receiving his education in the common schools and graduating from St. Ignatius' College. He attended the Y. M. C. A. evening schools and received his law degree from the Illinois College of Law. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus and the Iroquois Club. He has always taken an active interest in public affairs. He is a member of the executive committee of the Rogers Park Improvement Association and is chairman of the committee on lights. His record as a public official has been without a blemish. He was chief clerk of the boiler inspection department and secretary of the Building Department of Chicago. It was in the latter position that under his suggestion the city abolished the old ladder fire escapes and substituted the present safe stairway system. He is at present superintendent of public service under President of the County Board Peter Bartzon and has without doubt made the best record ever made in that position. It was Mr. Slattery that raised funds to install the Tuberculosis Free Tent Colony at Oak Forest which was turned over to the county by President Bartzon, 4750 private subscriptions were received for this great work which provided for 80 tents installed for the treatment of tuberculosis open air treatment. This is the first charity of its kind in the United States. Under Mr. Bartzon Mr. Slattery had charge of providing free ice for the poor and free milk distributed free by the county to homes for small babies. Under him the county gave free outings in the county to the poor mothers, over 4,000 of whom were benefited by this worthy charity. The office of superintendent of public service is the most responsible position in the county. It is the distributing point for the taxpayers' moneys. Since Mr. Slattery has been in charge over $4,000,000 has passed through the office and not one finger can be pointed to any wrong act being committed there. Mr. Slattery is the kind of a man the people need in public office. Able, conscientious, honest and aggressive, he is at all times working for the people's best interests. He is the right man to nominate and elect Chief Balliff of the Municipal Court.

James S. Hopkins, the popular attorney and master in chancery, would make a splendid Judge.

In the financial and business world of Chicago no leader is more highly respected than Albert G. Wheeler.

Judge John R. Caverly daily continues to serve the people in an able, conscientious and fair-minded manner.

One of the ablest, hardest working and most popular members of the City Council is Alderman Irwin R. Hazen.

Albert J. Hopkins' long and honorable record as a public official and as a lawyer has earned for him the admiration and confidence of all Illinoisans.

Judge Edward Osgood Brown deserves the widespread popularity he enjoys throughout Chicago and Cook County.

Spencer Ward is a sure winner for Chief Justice of the Municipal Court.

Charles W. Vail will be renominated Clerk of the Superior Court by a handsome plurality. He has the Republican rank and file with him from the start.

Peter M. Hoffman has served the people well as Coroner and his renomination by the Republicans is a foregone conclusion.

Henry L. Shaver has made good during his first term in the Legislature from the Thirty-first District and he is deserving of a renomination by the Republican voters.

James J. Townsend has a walk-over for the Democratic nomination for State Central Committeeman in the Ninth District. Everybody is with him.

William F. Quinlan is making a fine campaign for State Central Committeeman in the Tenth District and leading Democrats predict his election by a safe plurality.

Alderman John Powers has thrown his hat in the ring in the Congressional fight in the Eighth District.

The candidacy of Frank H. Novak for municipal judge deserves the vote of every good Democrat on primary day. Mr. Novak is qualified in every way for a seat on the bench and his nomination will prove a winning one before the people. Mr. Novak was born in Johnson County, Iowa, November 26, 1863. He was raised on a farm and secured his early education in the country schools. He attended the Iowa City Academy and after graduating taught schools for two years. He took a law course in the Iowa State University, graduating in 1889 and has practiced law ever since. Mr. Novak came to Chicago in 1893, moving to 11852 Stewart avenue, where he has resided ever since. He has always been a loyal Democrat and has always taken an active part in politics. He was president of the Thirty-third, now the Ninth, Ward Club and has been a precinct captain ever since 1894. He never aspired for office before. He has always been a hard worker for the success of the party's nominees and has always been on the list of speakers during past campaigns and has never asked a cent for his work. He is a member of the Chicago Bar Association and also the Lawyers' Association. He is vice-president and director of the State Bank of West Pullman. His splendid record as a lawyer along with his lifelong loyalty to the Democratic party entitles him to the vote of every Democrat at the coming primaries.

Chicago taxpayers must pay nearly 15 per cent more taxes this year than last.

The taxes assessed this year, according to experts, show that they are advancing at six times the rate that property is. Real estate in Chicago, experts say, has advanced only 9 per cent in value during the last four years.

So high have the taxes become that hundreds of citizens have written to William L. O'Connell, county treasurer, and ex-officio county collector, asking for the reason. The protests received have been so strong that Mr.

O'Connell has issued a special letter to the public in which he explains that he can do nothing, as his only duty is to collect the taxes assessed by the board of assessors and approved by the board of review.

It is believed that at the coming election, when the voters are asked to approve a $9,000,000 bond issue, the high taxes will have some effect on the vote.

The increase in taxes this year will give the various governing bodies larger amounts of money than ever before by about $7,000,000. The city alone gets $2,000,000 more than last year.

Adolph Marks, whose petition for the Republican nomination for representative in congress from the first district was filed, denied that such action had been taken with his consent. "I am not a candidate and am heartily in favor of the renomination of Martin B. Madden," said Mr. Marks. "I wish it known that I am Representative Madden's friend and that I am with him in his fight instead of opposing him."

Dr. Bernard J. Cigrand of Logan Square has entered the race for the democratic nomination for congress in the 17th district. Dr. Cigrand served as director of the public library under Harrison, Dunne and Busse as mayors. He is a member of the faculty of the University of Illinois and national president of the American Flag Day Association. He has lived on the northwest side for twenty-five years and is a native of Wisconsin and a graduate of three universities. Dr. Cigrand makes the third candidate in the democratic race. Congressman Buchanan is seeking renomination and Daniel V. Harkin is an aspirant.

A joint committee representing the Judges of the Superior and Circuit Courts of Cook County addressed a communication to the county board, calling attention to the court rooms needed by the county courts. It advocated that, in the event the county has not the money with which to finish the ninth floor of the building, a bond issue be made for the work and the rooms rented to the Appellate Courts.

The committee making the suggestion is composed of Judges Theodore Brentano, Martin M. Griley and Clarence N. Goodwin of the Superior Court and Judges Charles M. Walker, Adeler J. Pettit and Kiekham Scaplan of the Circuit Court.

The annual examination for internes in the county hospital has been set for March 27, 28 and 29. The names of the examiners will be kept secret.

Hans Luchow, the popular Chicago manager for August Luchow, stands foremost among Chicago's most successful business men.

Rinaker is a winner for state's attorney.

A better man could not be nominated for sanitary trustee by the Democrats than Charles A. Wightman. He will prove a winner.

J. C. Vaughan, Democrat, and James R. Mann, Republican, are unopposed for their party nominations for congress in the Second district. They had a close fight in 1910, when Vaughan cut down the Republican majority by several thousands.

William D. Munhall's candidacy for Municipal Judge is growing in strength every day. His long and honorable record is well known and the Democrats will name a winner when they nominate him.

The majority of the fellows who are running for sanitary trustee would sell the canal if it could be moved.

Alderman Jingle, otherwise Pringle, seems to be very much interested in the telephone question. Naturally, of course, the jingle of the Bell pleases him best.

The Republicans are going to nominate a strong man for state's attorney in Judge Lewis Rinaker.

To hear the jingle of Alderman Pringle one would think the phone trust was just the thing for the people.

The new primary law has produced a cheaper and a worse set of political aspirants, as a whole, than would ever have dared to present themselves to an old-time nominating convention.

Albert J. Hopkins, the popular former United States Senator, will take a foremost part in the big campaign this year.

No man on the Municipal Court bench has made a cleaner or abler record than Judge John R. Caverly.

Frederick W. Bloekl, Democratic candidate for board of review, resides on the West Side. He was born in Chicago, Nov. 2, 1868, educated in the public schools, and took a special course in engineering at Lewis Institute.

Married Louise, daughter of Louis Woltersdorf, one of the pioneer retail druggists of Chicago. They have two children, Frederick and Ruth.

He has been associated with his father under the firm name of John Bloekl and son, in the manufacture of perfumes for years. He was appointed superintendent of the map department, city of Chicago, by Mayor Carter H. Harrison in April, 1899, six months later promoted to deputy commissioner of public works, and eighteen months later again advanced to the position of commissioner of public works, and re-appointed in 1903. During his administration of this office he supervised some of Chicago's great public improvements, such as building some of the first bascule bridges, which did away with center piers, among them being the North Western avenue and Clybourn place bridges. These bridges were designed in the department of public works, thus saving the city the heavy royalty of about $20,000.00 usually paid for plans and supervision.

The great intercepting sewer along Lake Michigan from 39th street to 71st street was also built under his supervision, and was successfully completed. This was the first great improvement undertaken by the city by direct or day labor, and at its completion had not only saved the city thousands of dollars under the lowest bidder, but there were no law suits nor claims for extras.

Before completing his second term as commissioner of public works he was nominated for the position of city treasurer, and was elected to that office by a large majority at the same time Judge Dunne was elected mayor. When he became city treasurer, the city was receiving only 1 1/2 per cent interest, but before the expiration of his term he had advanced the rate to 3 per cent, which was a greater rate of interest than the city had ever received. During the period that he was city treasurer the police, fire and other departments were always paid promptly, and on one occasion it was necessary for him to personally borrow about $800,000.00 from the banks to pay the police and firemen before Christmas, as there was no money in the city treasury available for that purpose.

At the end of his term he turned over to the city of Chicago $234,110.39 net, an interest after all office expenses and his own compensation had been deducted, thus earning for the citizens of Chicago over $100,000.00 more than had ever been earned during the term of a former city treasurer. He is now actively engaged in the management of John Bloekl and son, manufacturers of perfumes, and the Brennan Construction company, general contractors.

He is a member of Cook County Democratic, Chicago Athletic club, Illinois Athletic club, Germania Maennerchor, Chicago Schuetzen Verein, Iroquois club, Rotary club, Illinois club, Automobile club, South Shore Country club, Glen Oak Country club, Builders' club and Chicago Association of Commerce. He is also an enthusiastic baseball fan, being treasurer of the Rogers Park Baseball and Amusement association, one of the principal semi-pro baseball parks in Chicago.

During the four years he was commissioner of public works his duties compelled him to visit all parts of Chicago frequently, and he is as well acquainted with conditions as any man in the city.

Harry H. Lampert, Democratic candidate for alderman Twenty-third Ward, is of German parentage and was born in 1882 in Evanston, Ill. He was educated in the grammar and high schools from whence he went into the insurance business, where he has been ever since. He has been a success in business from the start and is today the senior partner of the firm of Lampert and Keller, who are the Chicago agents for the Buffalo German Insurance Company. Mr. Lampert is a brother of Nelson N. Lampert, vice president of the Fort Dearborn National Bank.

The Democratic prospects are very rosy in the new Twenty-third ward, and Mr. Lampert is the man on whom the democrats can feel certain will be elected. He is a clean cut, wide-awake man who will represent the ward in the city council in a way that will reflect credit upon himself and upon the people of the ward.

Albert H. Putney, Democratic candidate for nomination as municipal judge, was born in Massachusetts in 1879, and was educated in the schools of Boston and Newton, Mass., graduating from Yale College in 1898 with special honors in history, political economy and law. He graduated from the Boston University Law school and was admitted to the bar of Massachusetts in 1898; admitted to bar of Illinois in 1899 and has since practiced law in Chicago. He has been Professor of Constitutional Law since 1900 and Dean since 1904 of the Illinois College of Law. He is the author of over twenty volumes on various subjects in law, government and political economy, and is at present working in collaboration with Col. James Hamilton Lewis on a set of books on "Construction and Constitutionality of Statutes," which will be published this summer.

John J. Geraghty, the popular button and badge manufacturer, would make a splendid member of congress and his big army of friends are working to send him there in the Eighth district.

The phone company talks as if the city was its private property.

A. A. Worsley's candidacy for Municipal Judge on the Democratic ticket is gaining in strength every day. He enjoys a widespread popularity in Chicago.

Patrick J. Devlin of the Thirty-first ward has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the state board of equalization.

Rolla R. Longenecker, eldest son of Joel M. Longenecker, once state's attorney of Cook county, will seek the Republican nomination for that office.

E. H. Roche, who was city purchasing agent under Mayor Dunne's administration, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for member of the sanitary board.

James S. Hopkins has gained by his able and clean record the highest esteem of both bench and bar in Cook County.

Meetings in the interest of Miles J. Devine, Democratic candidate for State's Attorney, are to be held each Saturday afternoon during the primary campaign at the Randolph street headquarters of the County Democracy. Robert E. Burke, the popular Secretary of the organization, is working hard in behalf of Mr. Devine.

John W. Rainey, assistant to Probate Judge Cutting, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for clerk of the circuit court.

Joseph C. Blaha should have little trouble in being re-nominated for the Legislature in the Nineteenth District. A better official never served the people than the ones who deliver the votes, are with him from start to finish.

Harry L. Shaver has made a grand record during his first term in the legislature from the Thirty-first district and his re-nomination and re-election for a second term is certain.

The candidacy of W. D. Munhall for Municipal Judge on the Democratic ticket deserves the support of all good Democrats. He is one of the ablest ple down at Springfield than Mr. Blaha and a victory for him at the April primaries is desired by all who believe in seeing faithful public servants rewarded.

Judge John M. Owens is daily adding to his big army of friends by his fine record as county judge.

Benjamin M. Mitchell will have no trouble in being re-nominated and re-elected to the Legislature in the Twenty-first district. The people, and lawyers in Chicago, has always been a loyal Democrat and is qualified in every way for a seat on the bench.

August W. Miller has made a splendid record as county assessor and the Republican voters are going to renominate him by a big plurality on primary day.

No man in the financial and business world of Chicago stands higher in the estimation of the people than Albert G. Wheeler.

WILLIAM F. QUINLAN. Democratic Candidate for State Central Committee, Tenth District.
