SPORT AND POLITICS

Notes About Men and Their Doings in the Two Great Fields of National Pastime.

Aldermen from West Side wards are, as a rule, honorable and upright men in private and public life. Through the operation of fate and chance, one fellow crawled into the City Council last spring from an old West Side ward who is an exception to this rule.

By shutting off gas at once from buildings on fire, the City Council has opened the way for great loss of life. The inmates of a building without light will stand an excellent chance of being burned to death, or smothered by smoke.

The Macaroni Club in the County Board is so cheap as to make the one described by Thackeray look as if it was composed of men instead of bugs.

Acting through the board of directors of the Republican County Central Committee, the Republican members of the City Council this morning will prepare a statement to the voters of the city, setting forth the issues involved in each of the subway propositions, which it is proposed to submit to a referendum vote in the April election.

At the same time the voters will be asked to sign referendum petitions for both the so-called comprehensive subway advocated by Mayor Harrison and the "little subway" suggested in the report of Blon J. Arnold and by the board of supervising engineers in a report to the local transportation committee of the City Council given out on October 29.

Roger C. Sullivan will have practically the solid backing of the Democracy of Illinois for United States Senator. This will nominate him and it will elect him. There is really

GOTCH DEFEATS MAUPAS AND TIN WHISTLE

Gotch Breaking Leg Holds of Joe Rogers.

IN THE season of 1905-6, Gotch won the championship in the great international tournament in Montreal, Quebec and Ottawa. More than fifty of the best wrestlers in the world competed. The American champion attacked these mountaineers of beef with a vengeance, but in flattening the big specimens on their backs had some of the most thrilling and yet humorous experiences of his mat career.

The Greco-Roman style of wrestling is preferred to the catch-as-catch-can in the Canadian cities. In the matches of this tournament the Canadians had a special code they called the French Greco-Roman rules. The strangle, hammerlock and all other holds below the waist were barred.

One peculiarity of this code was that a whistle was blown at various stages of a match to give the wrestlers intervals of rest. Gotch says he observed that when his French opponents were getting tired there was a blast from the tin horn.

The best of them was Emile Maupas. It was in Montreal on Dec. 27, 1905, that Gotch met and defeated Maupas after a sensational match lasting nearly an hour and a half. When time was called Gotch rushed Maupas to the edge of the mat and the Frenchman extricated himself with difficulty. Coming back to the center of the mat Gotch again rushed his bulky opponent and the Frenchman came near going off the stage into the crowd. Gotch caught him and pulled him back.

JESS WILLARD AFTER SMITH

Efforts Being Made to Arrange Match With Gunboat Fighter to Settle Heavyweight Title. It is a hard matter to dig up a white hope who is worth while. Jess Willard and Gunboat Smith are the two leading candidates for the championship in this class, but neither stands very high in the estimation of the fight fans.

Dartmouth and Bowdoin colleges boast ideal gymnasiums for the development of the students. Change the football rules. It is suggested. Better do it before the experts solve the present set.

Duke of Westminster's Olympic fund, being raised by subscription in England, has reached $53,320. The Athletics will meet the University of Pennsylvania nine next spring at Shibe park on March 30 and 31.

Roy K. Thomas resigned as coach of the Ohio Wesleyan rowing crew and will return to the University of Chicago. It has been announced that Notre Dame will play Yale next fall on Oct. 15. Dorais—Eichenlaub—Rockne—Smith—God help the Blue.

Williams has stuck persistently to its attitude. It has refused to meet Harvard in addition to Yale because the date supplied came too early in the season. Manager Jennings announces that his Tigers will start training at Guilford about February 5. Jim McGuire and Jimmy Burke will be in charge of the first squad.

A greater future for the harness turf is predicted by the members of the "harmony" congress if the uniform code of rules they adopted is ratified by the National and American Trotting associations. Philadelphia captured titles in baseball, fencing, racquets, swimming and billiards in the past year. The sleepy old city of the dead heard the last trump when Cornelius McGillicuddy opened his cornucopia of talent.

George Estabrook, owner of Colorado E., has determined to race the holder of the world's three-year-old trotting record over the Grand circuit next season. He had decided to sell the horse but his price was never met.

Smith will be pulled off, in all probability, before long and this may settle the question of supremacy. They met once before, but the battle was a very unsatisfactory one. Willard tapers up into the air for something like six feet and a half and size and strength count for anything should be able to take down the champion without any trouble.

Baseball Caused 15 Deaths. Fifteen deaths constituted the toll in baseball games during the 1913 season, according to figures compiled and published at Chicago. The report shows that the greatest death toll was in Chicago, where three persons were killed by pitched balls. Twelve of the victims were killed by being hit in the head by a ball direct from the hands of the pitcher, while four tips were responsible for the other three deaths. The report points out that all of the players killed were unskilled in the game and had none of the major league players received fatal injuries. A curious coincidence is that three of the fatalities occurred on the same day, June 2.

AMERICAN EXCELS IN SPORTS

Duke of Westminster. Wealthy Peer. Enumerates Games in Which Trophies Have Been Snatched.

When a king and a duke call attention to America's supremacy over England in the world of sports, ordinary mortals should give instant heed. "Wake up, England," the mandate of King George, thrilled the entire country, says the Philadelphia Enquirer. It also started the raising of $500,000 with which to train athletes who might win a prize or two from the sturdy Yankee contenders.

Now along comes the duke of Westminster, the richest peer of Great Britain, and owner of a big slice of London real estate, and he actually enumerates the various sports in which America has snatched the trophies from his own country.

Here is the duke's list: Polo, racquets, yachting, lawn tennis, indoor tennis, swimming, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard run, 120-yard hurdle, high jump, pole vault, putting the shot and throwing the hammer.

But the noble duke goes a bit further and includes the American trotting horse and the American running horse. Since making up that list and citing the king as being in favor of doing something to recover England's prestige in sports, the duke has had another added to his catalogue of American victories.

The meteoric Outmet, scarcely in long trousers, beat the redoubtable Vardon and Ray at golf. The only reason why America has not taken the billiard title from England is because Willie Hoppe has never engaged their stars in a match. Their best billiardist is inferior to several of our leading American cue artists.

CAMP HONORS WESTERN MEN

Dean of American Experts Selects but Few Players From West in Naming His Gridiron Heroes.

During the last quarter of a century that All-American football selections have been made by Walter Camp, the dean of American experts, 12 western gridiron heroes have had the honor of being named on the sage's eleven.

Prior to the announcement of the 1913 All-American eleven by the eastern expert only ten western athletes had shown enough ability to be placed on his all-star team. This season, however, two more middle west mole skin stars by their brilliant and consistent playing were placed in the ranks of western gridiron notables by being mentioned on Camp's All-American team, being the total number up to an even dozen. These men were Paul Des Jardien, University of Chicago, center, and Ralph Craig, the Michigan halfback.

Of all the western institutions the University of Michigan boasts of more All-American men than any other. President, Daniel J. McManis. Vice Presidents, Frank H. Novak, Edward H. Morgan, James R. Buckley. Treasurer, Dr. Ernest Jentsch. Recording Secretary, Robert E. Burke.
