

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Gathered from All Quarters About Men Talked About in the Walks of Politics.

Men Who Are Candidates and Men Who Are Not and What People Say.

Herman Weber, for years the popular proprietor of the Union Hotel and restaurant, is working hard to advance the business of the Chicago Puncture-Proof Tire Company...

Judge Edward Osgood Brown should be returned to the bench at the first opportunity.

John C. Paul, the well-known manufacturer of Burnishine, the great metal polish, has made his wonderful product a household word.

Peter Schoenhofen Theurer, the popular president of the Peter Schoenhofen Brewing Company, is a progressive and public spirited leader in Chicago affairs.

Lewis D. Sitts is one of the best aldermen in the council.

Louis Jolissaint, of 1255 Wells street, has built up a great business with his Jersey Brand Cheese.

Patrick J. Lucey has made an excellent record as Attorney General.

Addison street, one of the widest and longest east and west streets on the north and west sides, should be made a boulevard.

John L. Forch, as a business man, a citizen and a leading Republican, has an upright record to be proud of.

P. J. Smidl, the popular and wide-awake manager of the Chicago Butchers Packing Company, is respected by the trade and customers alike for his fair dealing and genial manner of doing business.

Edward J. Birk, the well known brewer, makes friends everywhere he goes and would make a great race for public office if he would allow his name to be used.

William Fugh is one of the honored veterans of the U. S. postal service.

George E. Brennan, the popular political leader, never wants anything for himself. He is always helping his friends.

The Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company of 1470 Michigan avenue have the best motor truck made in the Little Giant.

General Maurice T. Moloney, of Ottawa, former attorney general, is one of the most popular Democrats in the state.

John T. Cunningham, well known ice cream manufacturer of 2235 West Van Buren street, has built up his immense business by putting the purest products into the manufacture of his goods.

Governor Dunne has made a splendid record as Chief Executive of Illinois and men of all parties agree that his popularity with the people is so great that he would be a formidable candidate against anyone who could be named.

A. T. Koehne of 1100 Webster avenue, is frequently mentioned for Alderman of the Twenty-fourth ward, although he is not looking for any office himself.

Grover E. Morris, the well-known roofer, would make a good city treasurer.

Charles H. Lamson of the R. F. Conway Co., is one of the best paving experts in the country.

James M. Dalley, the popular trustee of the Sanitary District of Chicago, is a man of great executive ability and force of character.

Charles McHugh, the genial proprietor of the Lexington Hotel, is doing good work in improving conditions in the First ward.

Patrick Nolan, the veteran engineer, rendered services to the public schools which will be long remembered.

Alderman Henry Utpatel is one of the ablest and most forceful men in the city council.

Joseph A. Swift is one of the most popular Democrats in the town of Lake.

Charles E. Doyle, the veteran letter carrier, is universally esteemed in public and private life.

Rivers McNeill, the popular and efficient Collector of Customs, reflects great credit on President Wilson's administration.

John F. Walter, manufacturer of the famous "Edelweiss" cigar, is doing a great holiday trade. His cigar is a general favorite.

WILLIAM J. SUTHERLAND. Popular Head of the Great Mooney & Boland Detective Agency.

Thomas M. Sullivan has made a grand record as Sanitary Trustee. M. A. O'Malley has the tact and good judgment that makes his advice valuable in labor matters.

Emil Banett of Webster avenue and Bissell street is one of the leading pigeon fanciers of the country. His place is a great resort for owners of homing pigeons.

S. P. Melander, the famous Chicago photographer, who is one of the pioneer photographers of Chicago, has been established in that business in this city for the past fifty-seven years.

John D. Gallivan, the veteran letter carrier, is one of the most popular men in the service of Uncle Sam. Frank H. Jones is not only a democrat of national reputation, but a financier who is respected by everybody.

Charles J. Zeller, district sales manager for the famous Philip Morris & Co. cigarette, is building up a fine Chicago business.

Simon O'Donnell is an honest, earnest and respected leader in the world of labor.

George W. Paulin, the well known furrier, has the finest holiday presents imaginable in his great stock of matchless furs.

Former Judge John E. Owens is strongly backed for one of the Democratic nominations for Judge of the Superior Court. John B. Knight of 72 West Washington street is one of the leaders in the real estate world.

Thomas Rich, department superintendent at branch 526 West Monroe street of the Illinois Free Employment office, unskilled labor section, is doing very creditable work. He is making many friends for Governor

Benjamin F. Richardson, the well known lawyer, has met with deserved success and has a host of friends.

The Central Barber Shop, at the southwest corner of Clark and Madison streets, is one of the finest barber shops in the United States. The proprietors, John F. Gattie and James H. Pye, are doing a big business. The establishment boasts twelve chairs and the finest baths in Chicago.

"Melander the photographer" is a household word in Chicago. There is not an album in the city, probably, which does not contain a Melander photo. Established in 1869, Melander has always been noted for good work. S. P. Melander, the head of the studio at 67 West Ohio street, is popular with his customers and respected by his profession.

Louis Jolissaint of 1255 Wells street is the man to call up for fine table cheese for the holidays. His Jersey Brand is the best.

Wheeler's, at 135 South State street, are doing a great holiday clothing business.

Young criminals are now heroes. If you are held up by a young holdup man and all holdup men are young, be thankful. They are the wards of the reformers and the reformers have employed a Public Defender to defend them. Think of that.

Albert Zel, in addition to handling the finest olive oil in the world, from the province of Lucca, in Italy, also handles the finest wines from the Tuscan vineyards. The finest wines from Tuscany, Italy, are the Chianti wines, long famous for their good qualities. These, and in fact all of the oil and wines handled by Mr. Zel at 440 Orleans street, are worthy of all praise. His father, Giuseppe Zel, lives in Tuscany, Italy, and raises on his extensive property all of the oil and wine imported from there by Albert Zel.

John F. Cleary is a leader among the men in the electrical trades.

John L. Forch is talked of for City Treasurer.

TO EXCHANGE—A 320-acre Clark county, Wisconsin, farm, with good new buildings, 7 horses, 80 head of cattle and all implements and crop. Will take $3,000 in cash and $6,000 worth of Chicago property. Leave balance at 6 per cent to suit buyer. CHARLES SCHLOTE, 2007 Irving Park Blvd.

Dunne's administration by the thoughtful and considerate manner in which he handles applicants in his department.

Wilhelm Engel, the well known cigar manufacturer of 1936 Mohawk street offers a very superior cigar in both his "La Suabia" and "Rambus" brands. A box of either makes a fine holiday present.

The popular Pollock Brothers report a big holiday trade at the Stock Yards Packing Company's headquarters, 175 North Fifth avenue.

Joseph E. Bidwill, Jr., who made such a fine record as clerk of the Circuit Court, is being much talked of for the Republican nomination for that office next year. He certainly deserves it.

John F. Cleary is a leader among the men in the electrical trades.

John L. Forch is talked of for City Treasurer.

NEW YORK CLIPPER THE GREATEST THEATRICAL AND SHOW PAPER IN THE WORLD PUBLISHED WEEKLY, $4.00 PER YEAR. BEST NEWS AND BEST ARTICLES ON AVIATION BY WELL-KNOWN EXPERTS. SAMPLE COPY FREE. Address NEW YORK CLIPPER, New York, N. Y.

"Chew it after every meal"

Just put this simple procedure into practice for a few days—see how much better you will feel.

WRIGLEY'S is the Perfect Gum—delicious and full-flavored in its sealed package.

Beneficial, refreshing, small in cost. Two flavors. Premium Coupon with each package.

Advertisement for Wrigley's Doublemint gum featuring a cartoon character and various slogans like 'I OUGHTA RUN THAT BUNCH IN FOR SPEED!' and 'WHY? "I loath 'em! Don't ask me why I sent you back with your dreadful samples, darling! I just wanted the exquisite pleasure of ordering you around—because—' He paused to kiss her.'"

A GAME OF HEARTS

By CLARISSA MACKIE.

The Willow Plate Tea Room was a cozy little bungalow with gayly striped awnings and verandas set with many little tables, and a great room inside all done in blue and white, with a border of willow-pattern plates. The growing purr of a high-powered motor came through the open casement window. It slowed down and stopped at the gate of the Willow Plate Tea Room.

"Oh, bother!" pouted Elsie, as she went into the little kitchen and returned to the room to discover a solitary man seated at one of the white-enamelled tables. He was far from being an ill-looking specimen of masculinity, although his clean-cut features were sternly set. He did not glance up when Elsie placed a glass of water before him.

"You may bring me," he said deliberately, "a poached egg on toast," and, turning away his head, he looked out of the window.

Elsie hesitated and then marched stiffly off to the kitchen. Once there she shook her fist at the back of the offending stranger.

"Poached egg! And it's the one particular thing that I can't make!" she groaned.

Three trips she made into the tea room—once to set tempting pats of butter and the pot of tea before the patron, again to serve him with the burned bit of toast on which was sprawled the yellow, feathery-looking egg. The third trip was in answer to his summons.

"Please bring me another egg," he said in a tone of polite weariness. "This one seems—er—rather overdone."

Elsie carried out the unappetizing-looking mess and cried over it in the kitchen. Then she essayed another—and met failure, and still another—falling again. The kitchen table was a riot of broken eggshells and slices of toast of varying shades of complexion.

Elsie Wayne always remembered that August afternoon as a perfect nightmare of eggs that refused to be poached and of endless trips into the tea room to present her trophies to the grim-visaged young man at the table.

Invariably he waved her offerings away, always with that look of bored patience.

"Never mind," he said at last, and not unlikely, "Perhaps you have some cakes. What are those little pink frosted ones yonder?"

From a distant table Elsie brought the plate of pink-and-white heart-shaped cakes. These delectable morsels were favorites with Mrs. Burton's patrons.

"Those look very tempting," he said smoothly. "You did not make them."

"On the contrary, I did make them," she affirmed spiritedly.

"Indeed?" His tone was amused. He picked up the top cake and broke it in two.

"A broken heart," he said in a musing tone. "Easy to break, but impossible to mend."

"It is not worth mending—hearts are all alike," she said, and, gathering up her dishes, she disappeared kitchenward.

She cleared a place on the table, set the egg poacher in its receptacle of boiling water, broke an egg into it, closed the lid and carefully toasted a slice of bread.

She almost shrieked with joy when she laid the buttered toast on the little blue platter and slipped the pinky, white-filmed poached egg flecked with pepper onto the toast.

She had achieved a triumph. It was even more beautiful than anything Susanna had ever accomplished.

The kitchen door swung behind her little young form; in her outstretched hands she carried the silver tray and set before him the perfect poached egg.

"I think I've discovered the knack of doing it," she said. "That's good," he said. "Hadden't you better eat it while it's hot?" she suggested.

He proceeded to eat slowly, Elsie watching each morsel as it vanished between his well-cut lips.

"Is it good?" she would ask, and always he nodded. When the blue platter was cleared he looked up suddenly.

"Once upon a time I was engaged to marry a girl. She was studying domestic science, and I thought I knew something about cookery; I've camped a lot. She couldn't manage a poached egg, though. We quarreled."

"Ah!" cried Elsie, pulling the cake plate away from his restless fingers. "You have broken another heart!"

"Are hearts so precious?" he asked. A tear fell from her eyes and splashed on the cracked cake plate.

"Tears will mend a broken heart," he said, taking Elsie's hand and holding it closely.

"Oh—Dick!" she sobbed softly. "I'm sorry we quarreled," he whispered; "that's why I came. Mrs. Burton telephoned she was going away and you were to keep shop for her—and I couldn't stay away!"

"But the motor races—" "Pshaw!" Taking her other hand. "I believe I can make a perfect poached egg now, Dick," she smiled through her tears. "You shall have them every morning for breakfast."

"Heaven forbid!" he groaned tragically. "Why?"

"I loath 'em! Don't ask me why I sent you back with your dreadful samples, darling! I just wanted the exquisite pleasure of ordering you around—because—' He paused to kiss her.

"Why?" she asked again. "Oh, because I know I shall be your slave the rest of my life!" he asserted.

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

A Modern Mystery. Why do so many curiously assorted couples choose the inconvenient hour of 2 a. m. in which to have their automobiles wrecked?—Chicago News.

West Side Brewery Chicago USA advertisement featuring a logo with a star and a glass of beer.

Prima Tonic advertisement: BRING YOU HEALTH THE FOOD DRINK MAKES RICH BLOOD MADE OF HONEY, MALT, AND HOPE. Includes an illustration of a woman and a bottle.

Edelweiss Beer advertisement: PHONE CANAL 9—The "Edelweiss" Line FOR A CASE OF GOOD JUDGMENT. Includes an illustration of a beer box.

PRIDE of the BAR advertisement: The Easiest and Quickest Cleaning Preparation in the Market. FOR POLISHING COPPER, BRASS, ZINC, NICKEL, BAR FIXTURES and General Household Articles. Includes an illustration of a cleaning product box.

Old Steuben WHISKIES, RYE AND BOURBON Smoothest Made. Old Taylor Whiskey Bottled in Bond Kentucky Favorite. Steuben County Wine Co. 227-229 West Madison St. Phone Main 1352.

PALE PERFECTO BEER A Favorite With Everybody. Ask For It At Your Club, Cafe or Restaurant. WACKER & BIRK BREWING CO. Telephone Monroe 44, CHICAGO. ULMER MALT BEER is a Dark, Rich, Nutritious Brew.