MAKES HANDY WRITING PAD

Useful Little Gift, Suitable for Man or Woman, Can Easily Be Made by Amateur.

Here is a handy suggestion for a birthday gift which should be highly appreciated...

First of all cut a 15-inch circle from stiff cardboard. Cut the circle in half, laying the halves about an inch apart...

HAVE YOUR SCISSORS HANDY

Good Sense in Providing a Case for Household Articles So Constantly in Demand.

It is often most annoying to have to hunt about for a pair of scissors, especially when time presses...

The case is easily made. A piece of thin cardboard will be needed for the back. Take the scissors that are to be in general use and lay them on the cardboard...

top, as shown; neatly buttonhole the edges. Sew the pocket to the back shape neatly; if liked, a thin cord the same shade as the silk can be put round.

On the pocket two or three little flowers can be embroidered or painted.

A bow of ribbon is put on the back so that the case will hang up. This case will prove most useful, for not only can the scissors always be found, but it protects the steel, which is so easily affected by any change in the atmosphere and often becomes rusty if left without cover.

Showerproof Sweaters.

Wool sweaters which have been put through the rainproof process are being offered for sports wear.

Splendid Reception Gown in White

From a western designer came this splendid reception gown and royal scarf, along with several others of equal rank in the realm of clothes.

This beautiful example of the costumer's art is made of white chiffon and white broad satin. Silver ribbon and beads lend the amount of gleam and shimmer that the hour requires, without going to any extreme.

The under-petticoat of white chiffon has a fringe of beads, and the hem is bordered with rows of narrow silver ribbon with picot edge.

The magnificent scarf of white panne velvet over a mantle of chiffon is trimmed with bands of pure ermine. There is a fringe of ermine tails across the back.

ende fall over it, finished at the bottom with a deep fringe.

The bodice is of chiffon and the V-neck is outlined at the back and front with festoons of the finest chiffon roses.

The slippers are of silver tissue worn with white silk stockings. In the hair a band of filigree leaves and small roses crown a lovely costume in the right way.

Something New in Bags

There is always something new to be found in bags. All one has to do to find a novelty is to look in the right quarter.

Some of these sets are rather simple affairs which will serve for very practical use, and some of them are of rich materials in fanciful design, evidently intended to embellish an afternoon or evening toilette.

Any milliner and almost any clever amateur will be able to make a set like this. The bag is a circular piece of material with three triangles of velvet set on it, and the flowers are outlined with little beads and filled in with embroidery silk.

"MIDNIGHT GOWN"

And now we have the "midnight gown." It is made of blue velvet embroidered in silver and trimmed with grey lapin fur.

FOR THE PRIZED LINGERIE

Many Pretty Ways of Keeping Dainty Garments That Are Being Saved for the Trousseau.

The girl who counts her nicest "undies" by the half dozen or more insists on keeping each variety of garments carefully separated in neat piles in her hope chest or bureau drawer.

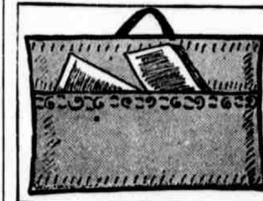

FOR USE WHEN TRAVELING

Cushion Frequently Makes All the Difference Between Real Comfort and Discomfort.

A cushion is always a most useful and acceptable article, both to make for oneself or to give to a friend; they are things one cannot have too many of.

One to take when traveling is indeed most useful, in fact they make all the difference in the world between comfort and discomfort.

First of all make a case to hold the stuffing for the cushion; this may be feathers or vegetable down, according to what is at hand. Soap the inside of the case well over; then fill and sew securely up.

Now make an outer case, which should be of brown or green holland, with a pocket on one side as shown in the sketch.

The pocket will be found most useful when traveling, for the papers, magazines, writing materials, etc., can all be put inside it, which is handy when one has to change trains, as often small things get left behind.

At the top edge of this pocket work a simple design in old gold wool or thread; this gives a delightful and good look to the cushion and is worked with crewel stitch.

Then make a handle of the material and sew on the pillow as in the sketch, and it can be carried about without the slightest trouble.

When the cushion is made as a gift for a friend, a monogram can be worked on the pocket; this should be done in solid satin stitch.

Dotted Ribbon.

Black and white ribbons in many varieties are used for hat bands. They are used in widths of an inch and a half or two inches, and are finished with a small, tailored bow on the left side.
