

DAINTY NEGLIGEE

Beautiful negligee, developed in pale pink crepe de chine and chiffon.

SATIN RIBBON FOR LINGERIE

Washable Variety Is Much Used on the Daintiest Underwear in Favor This Season.

Washable satin ribbon is now almost as much used for lingerie as is the conventional wash ribbon.

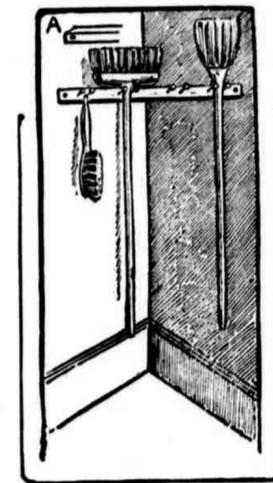

The nightgowns of the present time are so elaborate and so charmingly dainty that they must have a case for themselves.

FOR BROOMS AND BRUSHES

Simple Arrangement Which Keeps Them Out of the Way When Not Actually in Use.

It is difficult to find a satisfactory place for brooms and brushes when they are not in use, and if they are rested against the walls in the corner of the kitchen they always give an untidy appearance.

The holder illustrated can be constructed in a few moments. It merely consists of a bar of wood, securely nailed across a corner of the scullery. Into the front of this bar large brass-headed nails are driven at intervals about two inches apart.

The wood can be painted the same color as the wall, and suspended in this manner the brooms will last longer than they do if they are allowed to rest on their bristles when not in use.

Picture Sports Hats. Dutch windmills, trees, birds, landscapes and wreaths of French incised flowers are all being applied or embroidered around the crowns of sports hats of velvet and felt.

The One-Piece Gown for Afternoon

If you are looking about for a pretty model for an afternoon gown it almost goes without saying that you want a smart one-piece straight-hanging frock.

The one-piece dress offers the designer the best of opportunities for making effective combinations of materials.

A lovely combination of satin and chiffon velvet is shown in the picture. In this the chiffon velvet is cut in redingote style over satin that has the effect of an underdress.

A small plaited cape of velvet, finished with a narrow banding of fur, falls to the shoulders. This is a feature which marks this dress a design for the slender figure. The straight satin sleeves have deep cuffs of tucked chiffon, which come far down over the hands, and the high satin collar is edged with the same material.

Julia B. Bortoloni

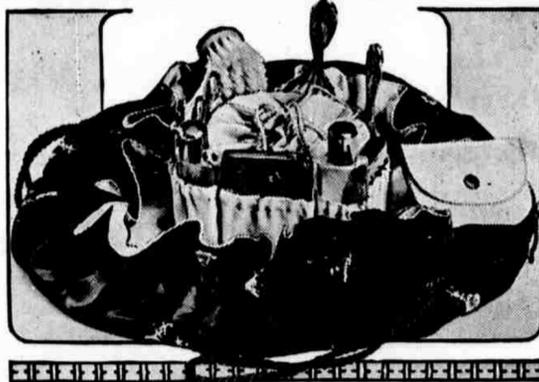

Cork Carpet for Nursery.

The ideal nursery floor is covered with cork carpet, and it is as well to lay this betimes, because at first it has rather an objectionable smell, which wears off after it has been in use.

Wonderful Hair Tonic.

Steep one ounce of tea in a cup of boiling water, then let it settle and strain; add borax, one dram; rose-water, two ounces; glycerin, one and one-half ounce; bay rum, one pint; cantharides, one-quarter ounce. Mix thoroughly in a large bottle and use daily.

Week-End Traveling Bag

A new bag for a lady's toilet articles, when she goes traveling, is very clever. It is a made-at-home affair of heavy silk, plain or figured, lined with silk or cloth in a contrasting color.

A round powder box, enclosed in a small bag, is attached to the center of the circular piece of silk. This small bag closes with a silk cord and provides support for several compartments that are ranged about it.

The arrangement is so complete and compact that there is still room for a soft nightdress of batiste or silk, extra handkerchiefs, etc. The smaller bags will not carry these, but are marvels in space arrangement.

other heavy printed cottons, lined with rubberized cloth, are just as good looking and altogether practical. It is merely more luxurious when made of silk, and therefore more feminine.

Julia B. Bortoloni

The Newest Hats.

The hats of the moment are dull. There is a "cloche" hat with a high crown, a Chinese hat with a wide, turned-up brim, and quantities of solemn toques. But any day may bring a quiet new shape which will abolish this dullness, and meanwhile the wiser women are keeping to the becoming three-cornered shapes worn with a well-put-on veil.

Millinery Note.

A note to be remembered by the home milliner is that should one decide to use wax flowers there should be a few of the silk postes mixed in with them. Otherwise the trimming would be too stiff.

A LITTLE BIT HUMOROUS

The Difficult Part. "This motion picture comedian has to work hard."

A Misguided Patriot. "There goes a stout party worker."

The Practical Side. "Ah!" exclaimed the poetical person.

At the Opera House. "In the last act the villain was shot and writhed on the floor for nearly five minutes."

THE IDEA!

Albert Zel, in addition to handling the finest olive oil in the world, from

Just So! When a young man proposes to a maiden, if she's game, and he has a lot of money, she will gladly change her name.

Trails Behind. "Is Doppel the head of a family?" "He has a wife and several children. If that is what you mean, and he heads the family procession when buying tickets to a motion picture show, but at all other times his place is in the rear."

Domestic Doings. Gyer—Mr. and Mrs. DeStyle would be only too glad to have a skeleton in their family closet.

Dividing Responsibility. "So you built a bungalow on your lot in the country?" "Not altogether."

Realistic Touch. "What's the dancer doing now?" "She's portraying the advance of autumn."

Sure. "Do you subscribe to the theory that love is a chemical reaction?" "No," replied the sincere young person.

Artless Art. "It strikes me," said the critic, "that you are inclined to discourage art."
