"SILK" O'LOUGHLIN DISCUSSES UMPIRES

Dean of American League Staff Talks of Baseball Arbitrator.

Man Must Be Honest and Have Courage of Convictions—Knowledge of Game is Essential for Indicator Holder.

"What's the recipe for successful umpiring?" is the quiz that was put to "Silk" O'Loughlin the other day. And the dean of American league arbitrators replied:

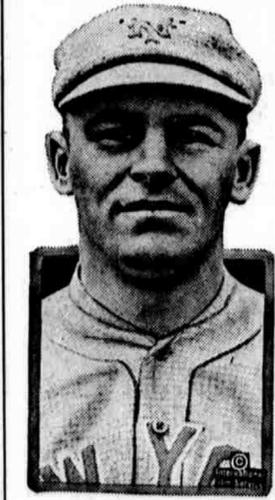

"Well, first of all, a fellow has to be honest; he has to have the courage of his convictions, then an intimate knowledge of the game—and a genuine love for it. He must have common sense in abundance. Last, but certainly not least, a man who aspires to make good handling the indicator must be a student of human nature and must be a believer in the theory, 'treat others as you would have them treat you.'"

"Most players," continued O'Loughlin, "are so temperamental as prima donnas. No two players are alike. Therefore, an umpire who wants to make good must learn the characteristics of each man and then handle him in the way that will eliminate as much friction as possible.

"The fans who sit in the grand stand have the opinion that the arbitrator is unjust toward some players and favors others. That is because they are not fully conversant with conditions. They have not made a study of all as intimately as an umpire. There are some players who attempt to alibi their own failure by ragging the umpire. There is another type which—odd though it may seem—bait umpires merely in the hope of getting publicity as peppy, aggressive players. Usually those fellows are given the 'gate' in a hurry when they start to howl, because it is obvious that their walls are not sincere—that they are attempting to pull some newspaper stuff for themselves.

"A star player is easiest to handle. Ty Cobb, fiery and aggressive though he is, has caused the umpires less trouble than almost any man that wears a big league uniform today. Few greater players have lived than Eddie Collins, yet he rarely figures in the role of complainant.

LOSS OF ROBERTSON NO CAUSE FOR WORRY

With so capable a player around as Ross Young, the Giants have not much cause to worry over the loss of Davey Robertson. If Young lands the right field position, it will be his first job in the major leagues. He made a wonderful record in the minors, leading the Western association in batting two years ago, and finishing second to Larry Lajoie last year in the International league, with the splendid average of .357. His fielding is said to be on a par with his stickwork. He covers a great deal of ground, and is an excellent judge of drives and fly balls.

Yes Might Be Answer.
 Has Chicago the two best catchers in baseball in Ray Schalk of the White Sox, and Bill Killefer of the Cubs?

BASEBALL MAGNATE NOW SERVING IN FRANCE WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES

This is the first photograph of Capt. T. L. Huston, part owner with Col. Jacob Ruppert, of the New York American league baseball club, who is serving as a captain of engineers with the American expeditionary forces in France. Some of the engineers are now reported fighting with the British against the German drive. Whether or not Captain Huston is with them is not known.

BEST BACKSTOP RECORDS

A catcher who works in at least 100 games each season is worth a liberal salary. Last year's major league records show that these men passed the century mark behind the bat: National league: Killefer and Wingo, each 120 games, and Barden, 100; American league: Schalk and Severus, each 130 games; O'Neill, 127, and Almsmith, 119.

PING BODIE TALKS LIKE PLAYER FULL OF PEPPER

"I am thirty years young and have about four or five years of major league baseball in me yet. If it hadn't been for a disagreement with Jimmy Callahan in 1914 I never would have been out of the big league. I weigh 15 pounds less today than when I reported to Connie Mack at Jacksonville last spring, and I know positively that I am in for a good season."

Ping Bodie was speaking. He had engaged in two strenuous work-outs at the Macon ball yard with all the enthusiasm of a schoolboy who has ambitions to make his school team, and Bodie did not hesitate to say that he was ready at that moment to play more baseball.

"I have always liked to play the game," continued Ping, "and for that reason I never has become difficult for me to give my best efforts all the time. Just look at last season. I came very close to getting in the 300 class, and I bet that I get there this year. I did my best last year, but somehow or other I imagine that I will get better breaks with a club that has a first-division stamp on it. If I miss that 300 class, it will not be through lack of effort."

Means the Same Thing.
 "What's become of the old-fashioned sporting editor who called a left-handed pitcher a southpaw?"
 "Oh, he's still up and about, but I notice that he has an assistant who calls a left-handed pitcher a portside hurler."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

STALLINGS IS "MIRACLE MAN"

Manager of Braves Christened as Such After Victory of 1914 for Championship.

George T. Stallings, manager of the Boston Nationals, was christened the miracle man of baseball after his world's championship victory of 1914, with the Boston Braves. Stallings is forty-nine years old. The miracle man won his first pennant with the Nashville club in 1895. The following season found him managing the Detroit Americans. He managed the Philadelphia Nationals in 1897-98; Detroit Americans in 1899, 1900, 1901; Buffalo 1902, 1903, 1904, 1905, 1906; out of baseball in 1907; Newark, 1908; New York Americans, 1909; Buffalo, 1910, 1911, 1912; Boston Nationals, 1913-1918. He ran fifth with the Braves in 1913, won the pennant and world's championship in 1914. Stallings' team ran second in 1915, third in 1916 and sixth in 1917.

DIAMOND NOTES

Baseball fans are showing great interest in the world's series on the western front.

The Kansas City club has turned infielder Joe Wagner over to the Louisville club.

Captain Huston thinks the magnates have failed to do their bit. Haven't they arranged to collect the war tax?

Connie Mack's refusal to pay Jake Munch the salary he demands may leave that young man to his coal business this season.

Bill Sherdel, the left-hander from whom the St. Louis Cardinals are expecting much, declares that Paddy Livingston made him a real pitcher.

Claire Goodwin and Jack Killip, former Coast league players, have joined the army medical service and are on duty at the Presidio, San Francisco.

Pitchers Milligan and Evans, who made the trip to the Pirates' training camp with the first squad, did not linger long, both being called to Uncle Sam's colors.

Manager Fielder Jones of the St. Louis Browns is crying for a left-handed pitcher, but where will he get one? There seems to be a sudden shortage of southpaws in both major leagues and particularly in the American.

Arthur Shafer, who used to play third base for the Giants, has again taken up the game. Shafer enlisted in the navy some time ago, and he is now captain of the baseball team at the naval training station at San Diego, Cal.

Mike Hogan is the name of a pitching recruit who is with the Giants. Manager McGraw thinks he has great possibilities.

Prof. Dwyer Makes You Physically Fit

Professor Dwyer put the fighting spirit in Theodore Roosevelt. He can do the same thing for you, for $5.00 a month. Don't pay $50.00 for 25 treatments when you can get 12 months' training for $50.00, and come as often as you like.

Professor Dwyer says: "I'll make your brain work faster and produce more than it ever did before. I'll make you feel physically fit. I'll create more energy, vitality and stamina in that body of yours than you ever dreamed of having, and all because I will keep your muscles, vital organs and blood in such wonderful order."

"All I ask of you is to investigate my training quarters before seeing any others. Come up and take a free trial treatment. You will immediately be convinced that I have the finest training quarters in the city. I give my personal attention to each one. All my work is individual. Three instructors on the floor at all times."
