A well dressed, intelligent looking, well behaved colored man entered the temporary structure in which Rev. Sam Jones was holding his services, last week. The crowd had not arrived. He sauntered along and took a seat where he could easily hear the services. He had not been in that position long before an usher came up to him and said, "The seats over yonder are for you. You will find colored people over there."

STAUNTON, Va., June 18, 1890. We attended the W. D. Sunday School Convention on last week which met at Morpath's Creek on June 12. We had a grand time and during the Sabbath we walked up to the line of the two counties, and there we found a very large spring with a bold stream of water, as clear as chrysal. There we cooled our thirst, standing, one foot in Augusta and the other in Rockbridge county. We are proud to say that the W. D. S. S. Convention is doing a grand work in this part of the State. We also state that we have been chosen as a delegate to meet the Va. Baptist Sunday School Convention, which meets in Lexington, Va. in August.

Church Hill Notes. Rev. J. H. Turner, B. D. of the graduating class of the Richmond Theological Seminary, spoke at the communion services of 4th Baptist church, last Sunday evening. He also assisted in the forenoon services and attended the Sunday School. Much of his time during this season will be devoted to "District Sunday School Mission Work."

FROM BOSTON. BOSTON, MASS. JUNE 18, 1890. The young people's musical club of the Twelfth Baptist Church gave their first concert on the 11th. The club is under the management of Miss R. M. Washington, and is composed of members of the Sunday School. They are required to study the rudiments of vocal music, and will assist in the musical service of the church and Sunday School. This concert was quite a success, and reflects credit on the management of Miss Washington.

FROM CHARLOTTESVILLE. CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., June 18, '90. Mr. Robert Kelsor, State Grand Lecturer of I. O. of G. S. and D. of S. returned from Danville last week, where he attended the meeting of the State Grand Lodge. HE KNOCKS OUT 12 MEN IN ONE ROUND. SAN FRANCISCO, June 17, [Special.]—A dozen Germans returning from a picnic had a row with Pete Jackson, the colored pugilist, last evening, and were knocked out in great style. The Germans entered a wayside house, which is Jackson's training quarters. They were talking about the weight of one big German, when Herman Helmhich, a rich brewer, Jackson chipped in with a guess. Herman Helmhich, a rich brewer, when Jackson offered to bet he was right. In his earnestness he placed his hand on Helmhich's arm, when the latter said in an insulting way: "Take your black paws off me. I don't want any spots left on me." Jackson was very angry but said he did not want a row.

LONGDALE LETTER. LONGDALE, Va., June 18, 1890. Mr. Editor, Dear Sir: Please allow me a space in your reliable columns to let your many readers know of us. Our little town is situated between the North and Mill Mountains, where the brooks and rivulets fill the valley with good, beautiful waters. The people are in a prosperous condition. Work is plentiful and wages tolerably good. On the tenth, the long talked about R. H. Waddy and Miss Mary D. Carter were married, reaching the climax at 8:30 p. m. The marriage took place at Mt. Calvary Baptist Church, in the presence of a crowded house. The bride presented a lovely appearance. Rev. W. B. Johnson officiated. After the marriage, the guest returned to V. A. Carter's the bride's father, where everything was pleasant for the occasion.
