Roosevelt Given Great Welcome to Tennessee.

PRESIDENT UPHOLDS HIS POLICIES

Declares His Determination For Re-inauguration of His Term to Preserve in Fight Against Crookedness in High Places.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 23.—Never before was Nashville so elaborately decorated as it was to give welcome to President Roosevelt. Bunting, flags, banners and pictures of the president were on almost every house in the uptown section of the city, which was crowded with people from a radius of a hundred miles.

The procession was through streets lined with great and enthusiastic crowds. It was headed by the president's carriage, in which Governor Patterson and Samuel Douglass, president of the board of trade, also rode. Then followed a battalion of the state guard, a company of Confederate veterans in uniform and state and city officials. At one point the president was greeted by thousands of public school, university and college pupils, who sang patriotic songs as he passed.

Near the state capitol the parade was stopped to enable the president to view the tomb of President James K. Polk, after which the march to Ryman auditorium continued.

President Roosevelt in his speech at the auditorium said: "There has been trouble in the stock market, in the high financial world, during the past few months. The statement has frequently been made that the policies for which I stand, legislative and executive, are responsible for that trouble. Now, gentlemen, these policies of mine can be summed up in one brief sentence. They represent the effort to punish successful dishonesty. I doubt if these policies have had any material effect in bringing about the present trouble, but if they have it will not alter in the slightest degree my determination that for the remaining sixteen months of my term these policies shall be persevered in unwaveringly.

"If to arouse that type of civic manhood in our nation it were necessary to suffer any temporary commercial depression I should consider the cost but small. All we have done has been to unlearn the wrongdoing. It was not the fact that it was unlearned that did the damage. All I did was to turn on the light, but I am not responsible for what the light showed. It is impossible to cut out a cancer without making the patient feel for a few days rather sicker than he left before.

"I will permit neither the demagogue upon one side nor the reactionary on the other to drive me away from the course or policy which I regard most vital for the wellbeing of this nation."

At Roosevelt, La., formerly Stamboul, remained in honor of the president's visit, Mr. Roosevelt boarded the special which bore him to Delta and made adieu to the canebrakes.

The same train that carried the president away also conveyed the skin of the big bear slain by him last Thursday and the skins of the two smaller animals killed by other members of the party as well as the skin presented by the Osborne brothers.

"We got three bears, six deer, one wild turkey, twelve squirrels, one duck, one possum and one wildcat. We ate them all except the wildcat, and there were times when we almost felt as if we could eat it." This was Mr. Roosevelt's summary of the results of his hunt on Bayou Tensas and Bear lake.

AMERICANS SET FREE

Secretary Root's Message Has Quick Result.

RUSSIAN POLICE OVERZEALOUS.

William E. Walling, His Wife and Sister-in-law Were Put in St. Petersburg Prison Cell as Revolutionists.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—William English Walling, his wife and his sister-in-law, Miss Rose Strunsky, who were arrested here charged with aiding Finnish rebels in a plot against the czar, have been released.

The discharge of the prisoners followed the receipt of a dispatch from Secretary of State Root.

The secretary's message was a short statement of the appeal upon which the American embassy was expected to act for the relief of the persons arrested so far as seemed proper and was prompted by a telegram dated Indianapolis from William E. English, an uncle of Mr. Walling.

The police accuse Mr. Walling of furnishing financial aid to the revolutionary movement, but that is not the charge on which he and the other members of the party were arrested. The police found nothing among the papers of the trio to warrant detaining them. No conditions are attached to the release, but Mr. and Mrs. Walling and Miss Strunsky intend to leave St. Petersburg tomorrow. They say they have practically finished their work in Russia. All their papers and manuscripts have been restored to them.

The officials expressed deep regret at the arrest, which they say was ordered upon the report of an overzealous spy who had been shadowing the Finnish revolutionists with whom the Americans had been associated.

The two women prisoners were confined for the twenty-four hours in a prison overcrowded with young women revolutionists. They were conducted to a small cell 8 by 10 feet, but they said they had suffered no special discomfort during their arrest. They told amusing tales of the laxness of Russian prison discipline. As soon as it was rumored in the institution that two American women had been brought in they began to receive visits from the other prisoners.

Mr. Walling was assigned to a separate cell in the detention prison. Nominally he was not permitted to communicate with anybody, but he found no difficulty in getting a letter out to the American embassy, making use of the "underground" postal service maintained by the prisoners, who were aided in this practice by several subventive warders.

Tunnel Scared Emperor. ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—Considerable alarm was caused by the discovery of the tunnel near the Pavlovsk railroad on account of its nearness to the imperial residence at Tsarsko-Selo, but the investigation made shows that it was not connected with terrorist plans. The tunnel apparently was being constructed by a gang of train robbers, several of whom are operating in Russia. The line of railroad which it was proposed to undermine was not used by the imperial family.
