INTERESTING NEWS.

KING'S PALACE.

OUR ANNUAL SIFTING OF STOCK CONTINUES.

To make it more interesting we are now offering our entire stock of

FINE BEAVER HATS AT 75 CENTS.

Every Other Hat in the Store, Your Choice, at 50 Cents.

Some of them sold formerly for from $2 to $3. Our Pattern Hats, sold formerly for from $10 to $15, will now be sold for from $4 to $6.

Elegant Black Ties, Three in a Bunch, 35 Cents a Bunch.

Our RIBBON and PLUMES, as well as FLOWERS, you must come and ascertain prices for yourself and you are sure to buy. Our PLUSHES, VELVETS and SATINS, will be sold at the same low rates. In fact our entire stock of MILLINERY has got to go. This is not as much an object as to make room for our spring importations. For the same reason we intend to clear balance of LADIES', CHILDREN'S AND MISSES' COATS. If you are in need of a fashionable wrap don't miss your chance if you do not see money. We frankly state we don't mind the loss, therefore our GLOVES, HOSIERY, HATS AND SCARFS, as well as other articles in the Fancy and Millinery line will be offered accordingly.

Announcement Extraordinary!

CLINEDINST, The Celebrated Baltimore Photographer.

Having fully tested the merits of the latest Paris Instantaneous Process and finding it far exceeding in elegance of results any of the old methods of making sittings, has decided to make a specialty of this new and great improvement in photography.

Having a member of our establishment now in Paris, we can assure our patrons that we will be the first to give them all that is new and fashionable in our art.

Our productions for some time have been made by this New Paris Process, and has given such universal satisfaction that we have decided for the purpose of introducing it at once to furnish (for a limited time) our artistic and exquisitely finished.

CABINETS AT $3.00 PER DOZ. Although we furnish our fine Cabinets at such extremely LOW PRICES, we will devote the same careful attention as we have done before.

Our Studio is the most complete and extensive establishment in the city, with skilled operators and the best artistic talent employed in every department. The liberal patronage bestowed upon this house since our removal here affords us ample evidence and sufficient encouragement to still continue in our endeavors to merit the approval of an appreciative public.

CLINEDINST'S PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIO,
477 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C.

Among the advantages resulting to the public by our adopting the Paris Process are: That the sittings will be a pleasure instead of an ordeal; there will be no tedious waiting, no unpleasant odor from Ether, Collodion, or Chemicals; nervous people can sit without feeling annoyed; those who have weak eyes, light eyes or in any way different eyes to secure in a Photograph, are, with this process, assured of satisfactory results. The busy merchant and parties in office who cannot spare time, only early in the morning or late in the afternoon can now come and have sittings made at a time when it could not be secured by the old method. The lightning rapidity with which the exposures have to be made secures perfectly natural expressions. Babies can be brought to the Studio without any fear of a failure in getting perfect pictures. Cloudy weather as good as clear. Children's pictures are now secured with absolute certainty. Call and see the beautiful display of work.

Have You Seen Our $5 Overcoats? WORTH $8.00.

Owing to the change in a large firm we have secured EIGHT HUNDRED FUR BEAVER OVERCOATS which we are going to sell at $5. It is less than the cost of the goods, but they must be sold this month.

ONLY $5 FOR A GOOD WARM SERVICEABLE OVERCOAT, IN BLUE, BROWN AND BLACK.

Just think of it, only $5 for a good winter overcoat. We are ready in all our departments with a complete stock of you ever saw. The best in quality, finish and fit, and one price. Lower than you may find many houses for common goods. We have choice styles in Overcoats and Suits, many styles entirely new and not to be found elsewhere. They are equal to custom work at much less cost. We have them at $10, 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 25, 28, 32. The finest satin and silk lined overcoats you ever saw. Ready made suits $10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and $20. Men's Pants $1.25, 1.50, 2.00, 2.50, 3.00, 3.50, and up. We are selling genuine bargains, as we have an immense stock of goods that we are anxious for you to wear, as a trial of our goods will secure your custom. We do not forget the boys and children, and have an elegant stock of Suits and Overcoats especially for them from $2.50 up to the finest and nicest styles. But bear in mind our special bargain, THE $5.00 OVERCOAT, for general wear and hard service, for cold, for rain, for snow, for warmth, for wear. Beats all the overcoats ever offered for such a small sum.

FINEST AND NICEST CLOTHING FOR MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN

LADIES' DEPARTMENT.

Fashion Notes.

Cock's-feather fans painted by hand are novelties.

Camels' hair bonnets in braided bands are late Parisian novelties. Stylish costumes of cloth or velvet are trimmed with natural gray lynx.

Black velvet is a favorite walking suit of the dressy New York woman.

Walking suits of velveteen are rivaling plush costumes in popular favor.

It takes an artist to place a bird or bird's crest effectively on a lady's hat or bonnet.

Knots of ribbon of several shades are worn by some in place of flowers on the corsage.

The newest linen collars are standing clerical bands with a finely embroidered edge.

The fashion just now is an embroidery worked in gold threads on the insteps of fine stockings.

Skirts, when made of velvet or cloth, plush or velveteen, need not be trimmed at the bottom.

Cedar red is the new shade for kid gloves, and heavy lines of embroidery in black decorate the backs.

Young girls should avoid heavy velvets; simple muslins and soft, clinging materials are much more attractive.

Moyenage necklets of silver or enamelled gold are replacing the muslin cravats that have been so long worn.

Long "matinee" saques for mornings in the houses are made of plush, and worn over a blouse waist of satin surah.

Tulle and satin are favorite materials for ball dresses, as are satin and cashmere or nun's veiling in delicate evening shades.

Black dresses of fine camels' hair or shoddy cloth have a collar, cuffs, vest, and panels of black velvet, with a cord of gold on the edge.

Moonlight-blue satin with embroidery of silver threads and founces of white lace is one of the most elegant materials for reception dresses.

Russian sable trimmings are made of the tails of the animals, in perpendicular rows that form stripes of darker brown than that of the bodies.

A gentleman's cravat of terra-cotta satin, striped with gold, and a scarf-pin to complete it, is worn by ladies with double-breasted Prince Albert frock coats of olive green cloth or velvet.

The chasseur hat of green or brown felt, with a high, sloping crown and long cocks' plumes, is a favorite with blonde young ladies, who wear it pushed back from the brow, to show all the front hair.

Serpent green with golden tinges is one of the colors most fashionable for velvet or plush suits, and a slight glint of terra-cotta enhances its beauty. Black Spanish lace with thickly corded designs is the rich trimming, and with these two odd shades make unique coloring.

Mastic gray cloth paletots are fashionable for children. They are semi-fitting, and are long enough to cover the child's dress. They are braided in rings of large size, and have square pockets and a wide collar of brown plush. A mastic beaver hat of the great cart-wheel shape is worn with this cloak, trimmed with brown plush drapery.

The Utility of Neatness in Dress.

Neatness is, however, the great desideratum to economy in dress. If the toilet is carefully made, the dress tidy, well fitting and neatly put on, and the collar or frill spotless, the effect can scarcely fail to be attractive. To keep garments fresh and neat much pains is necessary. The dress must be brushed or at least shaken when taken off, and be carefully hung up, not tossed down on a chair or the bed in a crumpled heap. Gloves should be tenderly smoothed out, frills rolled up and straightened and ribbons smoothed over the fingers, tightly rolled up and pinned with a fine needle; a pin is apt to leave the mark behind it in unsightly holes.

A Charming Prevail.

There is a custom prevailing among the inhabitants of the Sandeman Islands, which may throw a light upon the civilized use of wedding cake. When a native girl whose exceptional beauty has brought her many suitors is knocked down with a club and carried off by her accepted suitor, the wedded pair, within forty-eight hours of the wedding, send a cup of poison distilled from the hulahula tree to each and every one of the bride's former admirers. If any recipient feels that he cannot become reconciled to the marriage, he drinks the poison and dies; but if he decides that he will survive the loss of his intended wife, he throws away the poison, and feels bound in honor never to show the slightest sign of disappointment. By this admirable system the husband is spared the pangs of jealousy, and is able to live on friendly terms with the surviving admirers of his wife.

Woman in India.

A learned Hindoo lady, Pundita Romabai, who has devoted her life to the promotion of female education in India, recently aroused great interest by a course of lectures in Bombay. She is a widow and barely twenty-five years of age. Her lectures have drawn out large numbers of Hindoo and Parsee ladies, on whom she is already declared to have produced "something of an electric effect." She dwelt at great length in the lectures on the benefits arising from education and the importance to women of cultivating and embellishing their minds if they wished to advance with the progress of the times. After she had finished one of her lectures the ladies present were asked to express their thoughts on the subject. One of them, after a slight pause, gathered courage, stood up and spoke, and nearly half a dozen others followed, vying "eagerly with one another for the privilege of gracefully speaking to the audience in praise of their able and learned sister." Even the most hopeful of women's advocates, a native paper adds, were "hardly prepared for this singular but most delightful spectacle."

Skobelev.

Skobelev has been called the poet of war. Perhaps it would be more accurate to define him as the military Byron of Russia. A more daring, a more insubordinate, and a more original mind it has not been the fate of Europe to see for many a long day. If we want to find his equal it is almost necessary to go back to the times of Charles XII, for we shall not find him within the limits of our conventional nineteenth century. He delighted in battle, yet confessed frequently that it was not the bubble reputation, but a soldier's grave, which he sought at the cannon's mouth. He went forth to battle in his newest and brightest uniform, mounted on his famous white charger, and waving his white cap in the air. Skobelev was a wonderful military artist. He must have studied the soldier closely to have acquired so accurate a knowledge of his heart. On one occasion, at the third battle of Plevna, he met his troops flying panic-stricken back to the camp. On seeing him they drew up and saluted. "Ah, my fine fellows," he exclaimed, "you have fought like lions!" The troops recovered their self-respect. Seeing the effect his words had produced upon them, Skobelev pretended only to have discovered that they were without their muskets. "Where are your muskets?" he shouted. No one dared answer. "Towards! I do not want to command such dogs as you. Come, pick up your muskets and follow me at once!" and, proceeding in the direction where the Turkish fire was thickest, he put them through their facings as though they were raw recruits drilling in the quiet back yard of a provincial barrack. When they had gone through their evolutions he led them against the enemy, and not one of them thought of running away.—London Athenaeum.

Tangiers, North Africa.

It was market day, writes a correspondent, and we made our way with difficulty through the throng of women and slaves, Moors, negroes, Jews and Europeans—the motley crowd of various nationalities which makes up the population of Tangiers. The extraordinary variety of types and shades of complexion, even among the indigenous population, cannot fail to impress the traveler first setting foot in the place. He sees pure bred Moors with fine chiseled features and skins as white as his own; olive-complexioned Arabs; half castes of every shade; negroes from Timbuctoo and the Soudan; Rifians from their mountain fastnesses to the east of Tetuan, resembling North American Indians, with their shaven crowns and long scalp-locks, by which, it is said, Azrael, the angel of death, is to pull them up to heaven on the last day. These Rifians are a division of the old Berber race, the original inhabitants of Morocco, or who, at any rate, must be historically regarded as the aborigines of the country. They are a turbulent, warlike race, and have never been thoroughly subdued.

In Australia and New Zealand 4,000,000 people have already 90,000,000 sheep, and have an area sufficient for the easy pasture of 200,000,000 sheep at the least. With one-twelfth of our population, they have twice our aggregate stock of sheep.
