WHAT HE IS DOING FOR US.

THAT WHICH MAKES HIM WEAK
MAKES US STRONG.

We have been informed that Martin, the Louisiana crank is making a bitter attack on us in his paper, and charges us with being allowed to control the Press convention that met at Atlantic City.
As we neither know Martin nor do we exchange with his paper, we are unable to tell what he has said.
But to show our readers what good he is doing, we have received with in the last five days upwards of 10 letters from that place asking for the Bee and Douglass' speeches.

For the benefit of our creole crank read extracts from letters:

Dykesville, La., Claiborne Parish.
Dear Mr. W. Calvin Chase: Please find enclosed 30 cents for Hon. Fred. Douglass' speeches.
We congratulate Mr. F. D. here and will be glad to receive his speeches. Please send me the Bee.
Respect., J. F. Kone.

Buckhorn, La., Aug. 8, '86.
Mr. W. Calvin Chase: find enclosed money for speeches by Fred.
Douglass.

Lewis Odorn
Buckhorn Webster Parish, La.

The above are but a few letters that we received since the attack of Martinet. We hope that he will continue as he advertises the Bee.
If Mr. Fortune had have been elected president of the convention he would have made a truthful report.

THE ORPHEUS MUSICAL AND SOCIAL'S EXCUR- SION.

Grand was the anticipation, grander was the realization of the sparkling excursion given by the Orpheus Musical and Social Club. Long before the hour of departure there gathered many anxious hearers awaiting their friends as car after car, and cab after cab swelled the number. The day had been one of intense heat and although the clouds veiled the sun one was keenly perceptible of the heated atmosphere.

The strains of Krause are always exhilarating and music is never so sweet as when the rippling water, the rushing of the winds are the accompaniment. So as the sultry day was slowly blending in to twilight, all were sailing down the river forgetful of the toils of the day, of the crowded city and thinking of the joys that lay before them.

A more splendid gathering has seldom been seen on any occasion however brilliant. The best and oldest families were represented.
There were the Bruce's the Douglass's, Over's, Wall's, Syphax's, Page's, Richardson's, Costin's, Turner's, Wayne's, Lewis's, Saunders', Taylor's, Johnson's,—and not half has been told. The ex-curtion was without doubt, in numbers, quality and character a grand "hit."

If the scribe may be permitted to criticize, the vocal music while interesting and comical lacked the wealth, richness, and melody that has once marked its success. This may be due partly to the selection and partly to the place of performance. It has been observed that so strong is the passion for dancing that however finished may be the rest of the program the audience is usually indifferent to it. Hence the musical part of the entertainment suffered much from the condition of affairs. However, Mr.
Goode's "Tir Willow" was masterly and self possessed. When the "Three little Maids" came forth from the seminary, there was heard a chorus of "chestnut" bells. At one time nothing else could be heard but a promiscuous ding ding on every part of the pavillion. There have been but three great nuisances in the past score of years, each of which ought to be consigned to an untimely grave. The first is "rough on rats" the second "anti curl" and the third the ubiquitous "chestnut bell." Nobody but a crank would buy one. However, the common verdict of those who went, and those who witnessed our going, was that it was the largest, grandest and the best excursion of the season.

LOUISE TO CLARA.

At Home Aug., 18th, '86.
Dear Clara:—Your very short but interesting letter was read in the Household last week. I regret that you could not attend the meeting of the Press Convention. You missed one of the grandest events in the history of colored editors.
I assure you that the editors who attended the convention were men of brain. I have often had a desire to meet Mr. Pelham, of the Detroit Plaindealer, of whom I have heard so much talk. He is a genius and a man of great solidity. In my note, I said the banquet was held at the Havalow House, which should have read Clinton Cottage, I remained in Philadelphia a few days and returned to the city last week, so that I would be in time for the Orpheus excursion, on which occasion I had the pleasure of meeting many of my friends. The Mikado excursion was a success in every particular as you so stated in your letter last week.

I hardly thought that your notice of such an event was complimentary enough. My dear friend the Major, who is successful in all he does deserved special mention, as well as Mr. Thompkins. This forces me to say, that it is evident, from the great number that went down on the Orpheus Musical and Social club, that it seems as if the people are with them, which one is right or wrong must be left for others to say, as both claim to be right. I am not desirous to side with either party, but I hope that neither will be displeased with what I may say.
Major Fleetwood is a sincere man, hence I don't believe that he would do anything injurious to the other side.

The book that was loaned to the Original Orpheus should have been returned as promised. This act on the part of the originals will no doubt effect the organization in this community. Gentlemen of honor will not do anything to their detriment. I must say that I believe that the originals have been a little too severe on the other club, which tended to injure their excusion last month.

It can be seen that the musical club has had two successful excusions and on both excursions the best element of the Household patronized them.

HARPER'S FERRY

is quite lively this season. Some of our best citizens are there. Mr. and Mrs. Bell are keeping up to their promises to make all present satisfied. The new

SCHOOL TRUSTEES

will be appointed next week. I am of the opinion that Prof. W. B.
Johnson, and Dr. Francis will be appointed. Rev. Walter Brooks is a good man and no doubt would make a good school officer. Commissioner Webb, I know will satisfy the people in these appointments, for that reason he is taking time to make proper selections.
The schools need not fear of being tyrannized in the future by unprin-ciple men. Prof. Gregory is a gentleman and a scholar and with other moral and educated men associated with him, our schools will prosper. We are satisfied with our supervising principals, they are men who are looking out for the interest of the schools. Prof. Cardozo in the High School needs help and to obtain it he must have support and the persons to give him that support are Prof. Johnson and Dr.

Francis. Both of these gentlemen are educators. The

SOCIAL SEASON

next winter will be lively. Recorder Matthews, who lives in grand style at Albany will bring his family to this city shortly.

The people will find him a gentleman of sound thoughts. There is no foolishness about him. We hope that the Household will immediately extend him the right hand of fellowship.

Yours lovingly,
LOUISE.
