

WASHINGTON NEWS.

The Anti-Trust Bill Shelved for Twenty Days.

The Judiciary Committee to Pass Judgment Upon It.

Edmunds Makes a Savage Tirade Against the Labor Unions.

The Wyoming Admission Bill Passes the House on a Nearly Strict Party Vote.

Associated Press Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—In the Senate today the House bill amending the Census act to allow special agents $3 a day for subsistence when traveling, was passed.

A bill was passed authorizing the Secretary of War to purchase 2,500 tents to shelter people driven out by floods in the Mississippi valley.

Among the bills reported and placed on the calendar was the Senate bill to organize and establish the customs collection district of Puget Sound; the House bill for the retirement of John C. Fremont as Major-General.

The Senate bill appropriating $10,000 additional for a light ship for the mouth of the Columbia river was passed.

The Senate bill suspending for one year the statutes requiring steamers to be provided with certain life-saving appliances, a gun for throwing a line, etc., was passed.

The Anti-Trust Bill.

The Anti-Trust bill was then taken up. When the amendment excepting from the prohibitions of the law the combinations of workmen and farmers came up, Edmunds spoke at some length. He favored going as far as the Constitution permitted in suppressing and breaking up trusts and monopolies. The people could not shut their eyes to the fact that if capital had combined, if the great industrial establishments had combined to regulate wages the workmen had also combined to defend themselves, and so this country and other countries for the last forty years had been turned into great camps of opposition, where there ought to be only one camp of co-operative friends. Even in Washington, where Congress had exclusive jurisdiction, all the trades had combinations which were armed camps making aggressive warfare against the rest of mankind. Edmunds cited as an incident the case of a skilled printer who wanted employment in the Public Printing Office, but could not be hired. The man did not belong to a particular combination, and the Public Printer was threatened with a strike if the man was employed. If this sort of thing was not tyranny, Edmunds did not know what tyranny was.

Edmunds went on to argue that if labor combinations put up wages fifty per cent., the people who owned mines and furnaces, etc., had a right to combine to protect themselves so as to get such prices as would make up for the increased cost of production. He believed it better to reduce a partial evil of even grinding monopolies than to attempt to step over the clear boundary line established by the Constitution between Congress and the legislative powers of States.

Platt also attacked the bill. The motion by Walthall to refer the bill and amendments to the judiciary committee to report back in twenty days was then agreed to.

Pension Bill Taken Up.

The Senate bill granting pensions to ex-soldiers and sailors incapacitated for manual labor, and to dependent relatives of deceased soldiers and sailors, was taken up, and Plumb argued in support of his amendment made some time ago extending the provisions to all who served three months or more, etc.

Berry opposed the amendment as another form of the Service Pension bill. Davis of the committee on pensions also opposed it. He was not ready to go to the extent of pensioning everybody irrespective of dependency. The bill reported by the committee would make an appropriation of $36,000,000 necessary in addition to the $98,000,000 now needed. The Plumb amendment would add at least $18,000,000 more. Plumb's amendment was rejected and the bill went over.

The House bill on the admission of Wyoming was ordered printed.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

The Wyoming Bill Passed After a Lively Discussion.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The House met at 11 o'clock this morning in continuation of Wednesday's session. The Wyoming admission bill was again taken up.

Outwaite, of Ohio, opposed the bill upon the ground of insufficiency of population. Buckalew, of Pennsylvania, antagonized the measure, declaring there was a bribe held out to Congress by the local office-seeking element in the Territory.

McAdoo, of New Jersey, said the constitution of Wyoming, if not the worst ever adopted, was abreast of the worst.

Springer, of Illinois, said the Wyoming bill gave the Mormon the right of suffrage; the Idaho bill deprived the Mormons of the right to vote. The reason was, in Wyoming the Mormons voted the Republican ticket, while in Idaho it was suspected they voted the Democratic ticket. He believed if the Mormons of Utah would vote with the Republicans, the gentlemen on the other side would railroad a bill through the House for the admission of that Territory.

Springer said it was said by the majority, as an excuse for the small vote cast for the constitution, that a driving snow and tremendous gale on election day kept the people from the polls. He created much merriment on the Democratic side by quoting from the returns to show that the tremendous gale had been a gentle breeze of one mile an hour and the driving snowstorm dwindled down to a small flurry.

Grosvenor, of Ohio, said the Democratic party, since the fall of slavery and since it had ceased to admit States with hostility either open and declared, as now, or covert or insinuated as in the Fiftieth Congress. This had always been the policy of the Democratic party. On the question of woman suffrage, he called attention to the fact that there was nothing in the constitution which prevented any State from providing for such suffrage. A vote here in favor of the admission of Wyoming, by no means meant that the voter was an adherent of the doctrine of female suffrage, a doctrine which he was not much alarmed about.

At 1 o'clock the previous question was ordered. Springer, on behalf of the minority committee, offered an amendment providing that another convention be called under the authority of Congress. Lost; yeas, 128; nays, 138. Democrats of Minnesota, and Sherman, of New York, voted with the Democrats in the affirmative.

Springer then offered an amendment providing for an election in Wyoming the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, next, for a representative in the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses, and State and judicial officers, the constitution to be voted upon, and if the vote was against female suffrage, that feature to be eliminated. Lost; yeas, 123; nays, 139. Dummell and Van Shaick, of Wisconsin, voting with the Democrats.

Brooks, of Kentucky, moved to re-commit the bill. Lost; yeas, 129; nays 144.

The bill was then passed; yeas 139, nays 127. This was a strict party vote, except that Dummell voted with the Democrats.

Baker, of New York, moved to reconsider, and then moved to lay that motion on the table. The motion to reconsider was tabled; yeas 132, nays 110, party vote.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the Army Appropriation bill. The bill was read, and without action the committee rose and the House adjourned.

WANT NO CERTIFICATES.

Chinese Merchants Send a Representative to Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Hon. J. W. Foster appeared before the Senate committee on immigration today, as the representative of Chinese merchants in the United States, in opposition to the bill which passed the House on the 17th inst., requiring the Superintendent of Census to give every Chinaman in the country a certificate, which shall be the sole evidence of his right to remain in the United States. Foster asserted that the passage of this bill would not be satisfactory to those interested in adverse Chinese legislation. He cited a recent action of the San Francisco Supervisors in setting apart a certain quarter of the city within which all Chinese must live and do business. He further read from a statement by counsel of the Supervisors, who drafted the ordinance, advising the carrying out of the provisions of the ordinance, regardless of any appeal by the Chinese to the Government.

Foster said the proper regulation and restriction of Chinese immigration could be secured by the rigid enforcement of the laws now on the statute books, without a further violation of the treaties with China and straining of the relations with her Government. The effect of the bill, if it became a law, would be to invite retaliation by China by shutting out of that empire American merchants and missionaries, and make complete non-intercourse commercially between the nations.

VALENTINE SCRIP.

A Decision in the Seattle Tide Lands Case.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—In the case of Frank Burns and others, who made application to locate Valentine scrip upon tide lands, near Seattle, Washington, the Secretary of the Interior has decided that such land is not within the intent of the act of Congress authorizing the issue of Valentine scrip on public lands of the United States. He holds further, that since their location upon unsurveyed lands, it was merely their preference right to perfect such location surveys against the claims of all others, except the United States; but that until such location is adjusted to the public surveys the United States has authority to dispose of the lands covered thereby. Such disposition, he holds, was made of the tract in controversy by the admission of Washington into the Union as a State. Hence, even were it to be conceded that the lands were, at the date of location, subject to the rights of the State superior to those of scrip applicants. It is stated that the lands in question are located on the water front of Seattle, which, together with the improvements, are valued at several million dollars.

The Fate of Three Brothers.

Henry disappeared some months ago; the other brothers threw up their jobs and went in search of him. They had just found him and were returning home when killed.

LUCKY CARTER.

The Janitor at the Nevada Block Wins Five Thousand Dollars.

The winner of the one-twentieth portion of ticket 44,138 in the last drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, amounting to $5,000, is a resident of this city. He is employed as a janitor in the Nevada block, is as pleasant a colored man as one could wish to meet and thoroughly deserves his luck.

When questioned by a reporter, George B. Carter, for that is his name, stated that he had been purchasing tickets in the Louisiana State Lottery for the past two and a half years, buying five coupons every month. He admitted that he had been a very lucky man, having won small prizes over and over again, and he felt sure that one day he would make just such a haul as he has made.

The money was paid to him very promptly through the Nevada Bank, and thus far remains intact. He still maintains his position as janitor and has no intention of giving it up. As soon as the weather clears up, he will invest his capital in real estate. He has a large family to support and the $5,000 could not have been better placed than in his hands.

The conversation was held with the winner of the prize as he was busily engaged cleaning out one of the many offices under his care. Success has not turned his head and all of his fellow-workers speak well of him as a hard-working, good-natured, honest and respectable man. (San Francisco (Cal.) Chronicle, March 5.)

Inherited Scrofula.

Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) cured my little boy of hereditary scrofula, which broke out all over his face. For a year he had suffered, and I had given up all hopes of his recovery, when at length I decided to use S. S. S. After using a few bottles he was entirely cured. Not a symptom now remains of the disease. This was three years ago.

MRS. T. L. MATHERS, Mather'sville, Miss.

In the early part of last year I had a violent attack of rheumatism, from which I was confined to my bed for over three months and at times was unable to turn myself in bed, or even raise the cover. A nurse had to be in constant attendance day and night. I was so feeble that what little nourishment I took had to be given me with a spoon. After calling in the best local physicians, and trying all other medicines without receiving any benefit, I was induced by friends to try Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). I discontinued all other medicines, and took a course of S. S. S. thirteen small bottles, which effected a complete and permanent cure.
