Yesterday's Proceedings in Congress.

The Montana Senatorial Contest Again.

Interesting Arguments Made By Vance and Spooner.

The Senate Service Pension Bill Fails of Passage in the House Under Suspension of the Rules.

Associated Press Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—In the Senate today Everts presented resolutions of the New York Chamber of Commerce, protesting against the pending bill for census enumeration of the Chinese, as absurd, barbarous, unchristian and cowardly, and a memorial on the same subject from the American Missionary Association was presented by Davis.

Platt presented a memorial for the admission of New Mexico, without committing himself to the views set forth in it.

Hear moved to proceed with the Montana contested election case.

Hale asked him to give preference to the Chinese Enumeration bill, which it was important to have disposed of as soon as possible.

Hear intimated that the Chinese Census bill could not be disposed of immediately as Everts desired to speak upon it.

Hale asked Everts whether he desired to debate it at length.

Everts said he did.

Hale then gave notice that he would move to take up the Chinese Enumeration bill as soon as the Montana election case was disposed of.

The Montana election case was then taken up, and Vance, member of the committee on privileges and elections, made argument in support of the minority report, declaring Clark and Maginnis (the Democratic claimants) entitled to the seats.

He (Vance) had never heard a title to a seat in the Senate based on such slender, technical, trifling grounds. He had never known the public will of a community thwarted and trampled under foot on such flimsy pretenses.

He knew that the flat had gone forth. He knew that the Republican claimants were to be seated. The Republican Senators would be sicker over the thing before they were done with it than he was.

He had heard of an old fellow who went out to Ohio to speculate in hogs. He bought a big drove and shipped them to New York. When he got to New York he found hogs cheaper there than in Ohio, so he shipped them back and sold them in Ohio. Some friend said to him, "Jim, you made a bad speculation."

"Yes," said he, "I lost a good deal of money, but I had the company of the hogs both ways." So he (Vance) thanked God that in all future denunciations of the South for the suppression of colored voters, the Southern Senators would have the company of the hogs. [Laughter.]

Spooer, also a member of the committee on privileges and elections, made argument in favor of the majority report that Saunders and Powers, the Republican claimants, are entitled upon the merits of the case to be seated.

He would pass, he said, from the jokes of the Senator from North Carolina (Vance), and advert to the very able and ingenious argument of the Senator from Delaware (Gray). All the Senators agreed that the question was one of high privilege, and of grave import and much delicacy. It affected not only the right of Montana to be represented in the Senate by the men of her choice, but it affected also the dignity and integrity of the Senate itself. It should, therefore, be considered with calm and deliberation, freed as much as might be from partisan bias and prejudice. He knew it was not necessary to assure the Senate that it had been in that spirit that the majority of the committee on privileges and elections commenced and continued the consideration of the case. A Senator could, of course, only be elected by a State Legislature, and in order to seat a man in the Senate, he must have been chosen by a Legislature organized within the meaning of the Constitution; but it was not necessary, in his opinion, to go beyond what might be called the prima facie evidence, and that prima facie evidence was found in this case in the certificate of the board of canvassers, consisting of the Chief Justice, Governor and Secretary of the Territory.

In the course of his speech Spooer alluded to the charge made by Gray against the President for undue haste in issuing the proclamation for the admission of Montana, and he defended the President's whole life, he said, was ample re-utation of any such intimation.

Spooer yielded for executive session, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

The Service Pension Bill Fails to Pass. The Vote in Detail.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—In the House today Morrill, of Kansas, moved to suspend the rules and pass (with the substitute) the Senate bill granting pensions to soldiers and sailors who are incapacitated from the performance of labor, and providing for pensions to their widows and minor children and dependent parents.

Springer demanded a second, and the motion was seconded, 128 to 57.

Morrill briefly stated that the substitute provided a service pension of $8 a month to soldiers who have reached the age of 62 years, or who are dependent. He thought the same principle which had been applied to the veterans of 1812 and the war with Mexico, should be applied to the veterans of the war of 1861.

In answer to a question, he stated that it was estimated that the Senate bill would require the annual expenditure of $36,000,000, and the House substitute $39,000,000.

After debate the House refused to suspend the rules and pass the Senate Pension bill with the House substitute; yeas 169, nays 87, not the necessary two-thirds vote in the affirmative.

Stamps are now in transit from the Deputy Collector to the Collector.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the Naval appropriations bill. Without action the committee rose and the House adjourned.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The International American conference delegates leave on their southern tour April 18, and will return to Washington May 11. The President has approved the act to provide for times and places to hold terms of the United States Court in the State of Washington, and the act to enable the Secretary of the Treasury to gather full and authorized information in regard to the Alaska seal fisheries.

The Secretary of the Treasury today appointed Henry W. Elliott special agent of the Treasury, with a compensation of ten dollars per diem, to obtain full and authentic information, regard-ing to the Alaska fishing interests, under the provisions of the special act of Congress approved April 5.

Secretary Proctor today sent to the Senate a letter calling the attention of that body to certain items in the bill making appropriations for fortifications, machinery, mortars and gun carriages, which, he says, cannot be procured probably within three years, the life time of current appropriations for any fiscal year, and consequently the contract would lapse by limitation before the completion and deliveries. He suggests that the bill be amended so as to correct this oversight, and further sug-gests that the Secretary of War be authorized to purchase abroad such parts of gun carriages as cannot be pro-duced in this country.

EGG ROLLING.

The Children's Annual Carnival in the White House Grounds.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The White House grounds were picturesque today with the annual gathering there of chil-dren for the purpose of "egg-rolling." The entire grounds back of the mansion were turned over to the children. Several thousand spent a portion of the day there. They were of all classes, from the colored pickanniny in rags to the "pampered child of luxury." The Pres-ident stopped occasionally in his work to look at them, and seemed to enjoy the sight. During the afternoon the Marine band was ordered out by the President for the special benefit of the children.

An Interview with Collis P. Huntington.

The Object of His Visit to the Pacific Coast.

He Does Not Believe Stanford Intends to Resign.

Plucky Jim Corbett Answers Sullivan's Sneers in a Manly Manner. Other Items.

Associated Press Dispatches.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Collis P. Huntington, who arrived in this city yesterday, in an interview said: "My visit to California is nothing unusual. I have large interests here, and it is only natural that I should come out to the Coast once in a while. We will have a meeting of the board of directors of the Southern Pacific company on Tues-day, in this city, and I shall be present at the meeting as a matter of course."

When asked about the report that Senator Stanford intended to resign from the Presidency of the Southern Pacific Company, Mr. Huntington said: "I know of no reason why Senator Stan-ford should resign. I first heard of this matter from the newspapers since my arrival here, and I do not be-lieve there is any truth whatever in the report."

Upon being questioned as to his Congo railroad and other African schemes, Mr. Huntington replied: "I have not inter-ested myself in the Congo scheme and have invested no money in the enter-prise, reports to the contrary with-stand."

"Are your Mexican investments satis-factory?" "Very. Mexico is destined to become a great country, and only needs develop-ment and American capital and energy."

Also the meeting of the railroad di-rectors on Tuesday, Mr. Huntington will inspect certain portions of the Southern Pacific roads, and will then visit Monterey and possibly San Diego.

STOCK EXCHANGE FAILURE.

George K. Sistrare & Sons of New York, Go to the Wall.

NEW YORK, April 7.—George K. Sistrare & Sons' failure is announced on the Stock Exchange. It is stated that there is a defalcation in the firm to the amount of $250,000.

The firm was one of the most promi-nent in the street. A member of the firm says the failure was caused by a heavy defalcation in the Philadelphia office.

The Post says the failure is not due to a special or immediate event, but was a case of "dry rot." The liabilities of the firm on the Stock Exchange are very small.

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—The only member of the firm of George Sistrare & Sons who resided in Philadelphia was Douglas Hilger, who died about a week ago. At the time of his death there was quiet talk on the street that Hilger's accounts were heavily overdrawn. At the office of the firm this afternoon, nothing could be learned regarding the matter.

The firm announces the following as the only statement they will make be-fore leaving Philadelphia: Hilger was manager of George K. Sistrare & Sons' Philadelphia office; that the office was found short $150,000. Hilger died Sat-urday. This and the Detroit defalcation of A. M. Stanton for $150,000 a few years ago, caused the suspension.

PLUCKY CORBETT.

He Sees Sullivan and Goes Him One Better.

NEW YORK, April 7.—In regard to a statement that Sullivan is said to have made, Corbett today said: "I want to say that I think it very unfair to speak so disparagingly of a man whom he has never met and whose ability he has no knowledge. If he did say he could stop me in four rounds, I will give him an opportunity to try it at my benefit, which takes place in the Fifth Avenue Casino, Brooklyn, under the auspices of the Seaside Athletic Club, on next Mon-day night, when I will spar Sullivan four rounds, and if I do not succeed in besting him he can have the entire gate receipts. I am also willing to wager from $5,000 upwards that he cannot put me to sleep in four rounds."

Del-mas purchased the claims in the last-named suit, and Cox claimed it was on his advice, and for his benefit, that the purchase was made.

One Boy Killed and Four Others Seriously Injured.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 7.—An explo-sion of powder occurred near this city last night, in which Richard Mills, a boy about 18 years of age, was killed and four others seriously injured. The boys went into a barn to spend the night, and Mills lighted a cigarette and threw the match in a can of powder, which exploded, tearing the roof off the barn and blowing Mills several feet into the air. The barn took fire and burned to the ground. Mills' body was taken out in a mangled condition, and con-veyed to the morgue. The other four boys, while being badly burned, are not considered to be in a dangerous condi-tion.
