

THE ANNUAL FETE.

Auspicious Opening of the Flower Festival.

The Pavilion Filled With an Admiring Crowd.

An Artistic Arrangement of Beautiful Floral Displays.

The Various Features Described—The Programme Last Evening—A Good Evening.

The sixth annual flower festival opened last evening at Hazard's pavilion. In spite of the fact that only a few hours before seeming chaos had prevailed throughout the building, when the appointed time came every exhibit was in place, the booths were all in perfect form, the flower designs were completed, and order reigned supreme.

Very soon after the doors were opened the clear space of the main floor and the galleries was filled with a brilliant crowd. It is estimated that from 3,000 to 4,000 people visited the festival in the course of the evening.

It is quite impossible for the visitor at the festival to see and appreciate all its beauties in one evening; much less is it possible to describe them in one article. One may wander about by the hour and study the scene from one point of view after another and always find a horde of new wonders to admire.

Flowers speak to us in a language not born of man, but all the grander because it is universal. It is known to all humanity. In the rugged mountain fastness, where are huge caverns, carved by the unseen forces of nature, wallled about by great rocks, visited only by the sun and rain, are planted the omnipresent flowers!

In the center of the main floor stands the Eiffel tower, a perfect model of the famous Parisian edifice. It is 52 feet, 6 inches in height, extending to the ceiling. The base is 22 feet wide. The platform, which is occupied by the band, is 14 1/2 feet above the floor and is 20 feet square.

At each side of the tower are huge fountains 14 feet in height, with basins 16 feet in diameter. These, together with the tower and many of the booths, were designed by C. H. Brown, the architect.

On the left-hand side is one of the prettiest booths in the festival—that of the wild flowers. It is covered to the top with long grasses and ferns, and within there is a fine collection of yucca blossoms, and of the natural field flowers of California.

In the corner under the gallery, to the right of the entrance, is the hat and coat stand, covered with palm leaves and plants. Next to it, on the right-hand side, comes the newspaper booth, the columns of which are festooned with brilliant clusters of geranium blossoms.

Next is the lemonade booth, built in the form of a large bird-cage, where a number of young ladies, dressed in yellow to represent canaries, serve the thirsty a cool drink.

Near the entrance to the left is the catalogue booth, roofed in with an umbrella-like covering of light hunting. The first booth on the left-hand side of the building, under the gallery, is the bottomiers stand, white and green and very artistically arranged.

fancy work is on exhibition. The large space in the center has been turned into a miniature art gallery, and a very interesting collection from all the local studios has been arranged in an admirable manner. Lack of space forbids a detailed description of the various exhibits at this time, but taken as a whole, it augurs well for the future of art in Southern California, and it will doubtless prove a surprise to many who are unaware of the great strides that have been taken of late years by local artists.

At the head of the stairway to the left gallery, is a pyramid of wild flowers in tiny pots, which consists of 225 varieties of local flora, gathered by two little boys from Pasadena. It attracts a good deal of attention.

Shortly before 8 o'clock last night the invited guests began to assemble upon the platform. These consisted of Judges of the Superior Courts, City Councilmen, Board of Education, clergymen, Brigadier-General B. H. Grierson and staff, Board of Trade officials and officers of the Chamber of Commerce. A few minutes after the appointed hour the gong rang and the exercises commenced with an eloquent invocation by Dr. J. Spencer Kennard.

There are flowers of beauty, of bosoms of snow, And mountains of flowers—and we love them so, And trinkets, and tresses of hair.

In the rugged mountain fastness, where are huge caverns, carved by the unseen forces of nature, wallled about by great rocks, visited only by the sun and rain, are planted the omnipresent flowers!

At each side of the tower are huge fountains 14 feet in height, with basins 16 feet in diameter. These, together with the tower and many of the booths, were designed by C. H. Brown, the architect. They are covered with lilies and ferns. On the opposite sides of the tower from the fountains are the pyramids of roses, solid banks of rich color, harmoniously arranged and relieved by bands of moss.

On the left-hand side is one of the prettiest booths in the festival—that of the wild flowers. It is covered to the top with long grasses and ferns, and within there is a fine collection of yucca blossoms, and of the natural field flowers of California.

In the corner under the gallery, to the right of the entrance, is the hat and coat stand, covered with palm leaves and plants. Next to it, on the right-hand side, comes the newspaper booth, the columns of which are festooned with brilliant clusters of geranium blossoms.

Next is the lemonade booth, built in the form of a large bird-cage, where a number of young ladies, dressed in yellow to represent canaries, serve the thirsty a cool drink. The last booth on this side is the "purple" booth, a triangular-shaped edifice, its columns hung with purple and white cloth and covered with delicately harmonized color effects in flowers.

Near the entrance to the left is the catalogue booth, roofed in with an umbrella-like covering of light hunting. The first booth on the left-hand side of the building, under the gallery, is the bottomiers stand, white and green and very artistically arranged. It is of diamond shape, and hangs out delicate streamers of smilax. Next comes the candy booth, rich and warm in color, and striking in its effects on the eye.

THE IROQUOIS CLUB.

A Number of New Members Proposed and Elected. The Iroquois Club met last night. Chas. Gassen and C. H. Queen were elected members. Proposals for membership were received from C. L. Murphy, J. A. Drifill, Wm. Meade, Hugh J. Smith, Victor Ponet and J. S. Beach. The committee on installation at San Diego reported the following names of members to go there in an official capacity: H. J. A. Stubb, A. McNally, H. W. Patton, C. E. Redick, Col. J. J. Ayers, J. P. Moran, A. F. Mackey, R. E. McGregor, A. W. Barrett, D. A. Moriarty, J. H. Dockweiler. R. N. Garrett, Sylvester Grant, E. R. Threlkeld, Jas. Schreiber, Jr., W. J. A. Smith, and J. H. Simpson were initiated.

A communication was received from E. Germain, chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee, requesting the names of Democrats for inspectors, judges and clerks of election in certain precincts. Referred to the committee appointed for that purpose. A communication requesting the use of the rooms for the purpose of calling a meeting of the County Central Committee, was referred to the president and secretary, with power to act. Speeches were made by E. R. Threlkeld, W. J. A. Smith, Sylvester Grant, Jos. Schreiber, Jr., and R. N. Garrett. The secretary was instructed to notify all the members and nominations for officers for the ensuing year would be asked for at the next meeting.

THE CABLE ROADS.

Prospect of Reorganization and Possible Changes. It has been rumored for some time that changes were likely soon to come about in the management of the Los Angeles cable road. The return of J. F. Crank to the city, which took place a few days ago, was supposed to be preliminary to a general reorganization. A meeting of the board of directors will take place this morning. The old board, which represents the Los Angeles Cable Railway Company, will pass out of existence, to be replaced by the board which will represent the local management of the Pacific Railway Company. Of this J. F. Crank will be president. It cannot be stated what changes will be made in the general management, but the present employees have, most of them, been given to understand that they will continue in their places. Mr. Robinson was seen by a reporter of this paper last evening, but he declined to say anything about the matter.

Not a Mackay Enterprise.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—Certain rumors have recently been in circulation to the effect that a powerful syndicate is being formed to construct a competing transcontinental road to be operated in conjunction with one of the great Eastern railway systems. John W. Mackay, the millionaire, was mentioned as one of the leading spirits in the enterprise, but when interrogated he said: "While it may be true that a syndicate is being formed for the purpose stated, I assure you, positively, that I know absolutely nothing concerning the matter. I have all I can attend to with my mining, telegraph and other interests, and have no desire or intention to embark in new enterprises."

Another Big Railroad Strike.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The World says a strike of the employees of the New York Central and Hudson River railroad may be ordered in a few days, and if so, 22,000 men on the Hudson river division will quit work. The trouble is alleged by the men to be due to the fact that Voorhes, division superintendent, has reduced the force, so that the men who remain are overworked.

Fire in a Coal Mine.

Rock Spaulds, Wyo., April 22.—Fire has been all day in progress in No. 4 mine, owned by the Union Pacific. It is supposed to have been started by Chinamen while cooking their meals. One explosion has occurred, and several men have been badly burned. It is believed it will be necessary to flood the mine to extinguish the fire. The mine is valued at over a million dollars.

Pure Blood

Is absolutely necessary in order to have perfect health. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great blood purifier, quickly conquering scrofula, salt rheum, and all other insidious enemies which attack the blood and undermine the health. It also builds up the whole system, cures dyspepsia and sick headache, and overcomes that tired feeling.

Scrofula Sores. "My adopted boy, aged 14 years, suffered terribly from scrofula sores on his leg, which spread till they at one time formed one great sore from the calf of his leg up to his thigh, partially covered with scab, and discharging matter continually. The muscles became contracted so that his leg was drawn up and he could hardly walk. We tried everything we could hear of, without success, until we began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla. In just a month, after he had taken two-thirds of a bottle, the sores entirely healed, his leg is perfectly straight, and he Can Walk as Well as Ever.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever saw for scrofulous humor. It has done its work more than satisfactorily." WILLIAM SANDERS, Rockdale, Milan County, Texas.
