HER HORSE FELL.

Reported Accident to Mrs. W. H. Snedaker.

It was reported late last night that Mrs. W. H. Snedaker, wife of W. H. Snedaker, passenger agent of the Rio Grande Western railroad, had been seriously injured. It was also stated that she was out riding on horseback with a party of friends in the southwestern part of the city near her residence when the horse fell, pinning her beneath and breaking both of her limbs. Mr. Snedaker was down town at the time, and a messenger was sent in search of him, summoning him home. It was reported at a late hour that Mrs. Snedaker was quite seriously injured on other portions of the body.

A BALLOT BOX.

An Interesting Election Case from Vineland.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, G. W. Sells appeared before Justice Austin for preliminary examination upon the charge of having, on April 2d last, at Vineland, carried away the ballot box for Precinct 3, of the Vineland Irrigation District during the election for an assessor, tax collector, treasurer and board of directors. The defendant demurred to the complaint on the ground that it did not allege any public offense, and also that the warrant of arrest did not designate any public offense, but the court overruled the demurrer and ordered the District Attorney to proceed with the case. I. N. Rhodes, W. Allen, W. J. Finley and J. H. Duncan were put on the stand, and testified in effect that after the election had been duly opened seven of the twelve votes in the precinct had been polled, Sells who was acting as inspector, wanted to close the polls and advertise for a new election, as he had just learned that it was illegal for him to act as inspector, as he had held a public office, and was in fact then a member of the Board of Directors of the district. Finally the complainant asked him to "step down and out," and a new inspector would be appointed, but Sells refused to do this, and offered to leave the matter for the District Attorney to decide upon. A copy of the civil code was obtained and the matter was looked up, but nothing was done, and when the polls closed Sells sealed up the ballot box and carried it off, keeping it for four days.

At 4:40 o'clock the defendant's counsel asked for an adjournment, as the witnesses wished to return to their homes on the 5 o'clock train, but the prosecution objected and Deputy District Attorney Phibbs informed the court that he proposed to show by his witnesses the result of this election, after the return of the ballot-box by Sells, who was elected by a vote of 7 to 5. He would show that those ballots had been tampered with after Sells got the box at home, because he had seven witnesses present who would swear positively that they voted for Finley and against Sells. Further than that he proposed to prove that the taking of the ballot-box away by Sells was merely a ruse to prevent the ballots being counted that night, and that he knew at the time, when he wanted the polls closed, how the election was going. The defendant's counsel claimed that all this would be immaterial, but the court held a different opinion, and declared a recess until 9:30 o'clock this morning.

THE DE TURK DIVORCE.

A Double-Barrel Family Quarrel in the Courts.

For years Mr. and Mrs. De Turk have not lived together. A divorce has been pending for months, which came on for trial yesterday before Judge McKinley. The matter was heard with closed doors for the reason that it will develop no end of very sensational testimony. The public was excluded on motion of Henry T. Gage, Esq., counsel for Mr. De Turk, seconded by Hon. S. M. White for Mrs. De Turk.

The parties were married in this city May 5, 1885, and the quarrel began in September, 1886, when Mrs. De Turk charged her husband with adultery alleged to have been committed with a Miss Reynolds. There were counter charges made by Mr. De Turk, and some of the details are understood to embrace visits to the Flag Cottage of unfragrant memory. The present action being now tried is one in which Mr. De Turk sues on the ground of desertion.

Undelivered Telegrams. The following telegrams remain un-called for at the Western Union telegraph office, corner Court and Main streets, April 22, 1890: Mrs. M. L. De Turk, S. H. B. Vandevort, Charles F. Manning, H. N. Rankin, George F. Shiels.

Mrs. C. D. Stuart. Mrs. C. D. Stuart, of 400 Hayes St., writes, "I have for years had spells of indigestion and dispepsia, and tried nearly everything. Finally I took a well known Sarsaparilla. It caused pimples to break out on my face without helping me. Hearing that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did not contain mineral, and might act differently, I sent for it. The pimples disappeared immediately, and I had no more returns of the old spells." Although the above was written a year ago, Mrs. Stuart now attests the permanency of its effects. Says she takes an occasional dose to suppress a symptom of return and that she has perfect command over her old trouble.

Now It Is "O. K." The "O. K." saloon on Main street, now being fully convalesced of the excellence of the Philadelphia beer of Los Angeles, has thrown the Anheuser-Busch beer overboard. The saloon now is worthy of its name and is "O. K."
