

PHONOGRAPHS.

WHAT ONE OF THE MACHINES HAD TO SAY.

Its Advice in Relation to Several Business Matters—It Answers a Number of Important Questions.

The phonograph has struck the town. Yesterday one was on exhibition in a prominent place on Spring street.

It occurred to an emissary of this paper that it was just as well to have the phonograph talk good business sense as to have it waste its time in this riotous fashion.

The first man who took up the tube, said: "Where shall I get me a good cigar?"

"Right here!" piped up the phonograph. "Polaski is in the business just as much for your benefit as he is for his own."

"I've purchased a lot or two here recently," said a portly-looking gentleman to the phonograph.

The next corner was a boy. His mother stood near on the sidewalk, but when she heard the question which was put she hurriedly gasped one of the tubes to hear what answer was given.

"Ma is going to buy me a suit of clothes," said the boy, "where shall we go?"

"Of course you know where the Chicago Clothing Company's place is," said the phonograph briskly.

"I am a stranger in the city," said the next man, "and I have an idea that I will send a case of selected California wines back to my friends in the east."

"You are just the kind of a man I like to talk to," answered the phonograph.

"You are showing a good head in selecting a standard California industry to send back east, and one which will give pleasure wherever it goes—that is, it will if it is good wine."

"I am a stranger in the city," said the next man, "and I have an idea that I will send a case of selected California wines back to my friends in the east."

understand the business of posing so as to bring out the points of a face to perfection. You might have a crayon portrait made. They make a specialty of that."

The next corner was a prosperous-looking business man who had evidently been neglecting to buy himself a new suit of clothes for some time.

"Yes, I know all about you," said the phonograph. "You have been too busy to attend to your needs in the way of fresh clothing. Now I will tell you just the place for you to go."

Mullen, Blunt & Co., at the northwest corner of Spring and First streets have a splendid stock, one of the finest to be found anywhere in the state.

It is a thoroughly reliable concern patronized by the people who like to be sure of what they are getting.

By the way, if you have any boys, now is the time to buy them some clothes for them, for a special sale of children's clothing is going on.

As the next man came up and stooped down to reach for the tube his eye glasses fell off. He muttered a word or two to himself as he replaced them on his nose.

"The matter is they don't fit," said the phonograph, without waiting to be prompted.

"That is one reason why you do not see better. Your eyes peak out of the corner of the glasses instead of looking right through their center."

Now you go to the Pacific Optical Institute, at 18 South Spring street, just over the way. S. G. Marsbutz, the manager, is a scientific optician.

"Right, you are," answered the phone. "You don't want to put them on the market for sale, but you want to build nice, substantial structures that will keep full of tenants the year round."

Rev. J. O. Bergson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was suffering from Vitus Dancos in his worst form for about 14 years was treated by several physicians without effect.

José Adolfo Alari, of San Jose, 33, California, to Francisca Ballison, of San Jose, 18, California.

William Prince, of Pasadena, 20, Tennessee, also applied for a license to marry Miss Ruby Edmondson, but as that young lady was under age and the necessary consent of her parents had not been obtained, the wished-for document was refused.

A Noteworthy Exception. [From the Kimball S. Dak. Graphic.] While the columns of the Graphic are open to any and all unobjectionable advertisements, yet it is quite impossible for us to speak knowingly of the merits of the various articles of merchandise advertised. Particularly is this true of patent medicines. But there are exceptions occasionally and a noteworthy exception is the celebrated Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This now universally known medicine has been advertised in the Graphic for four or five years, but not until recently had we any personal knowledge of its wonderful efficacy, which has come about through the prevailing influenza and the stubborn cough that has so often attended it. In the writer's family this medicine has on several occasions this winter cured a cough that baffled any and all other remedies; and the number of families in Kimball and vicinity in which this remedy has been used with like effects attests to its value as a specific for coughs and colds of every nature. For sale by C. F. Heinzeman, 222 North Main street, and all leading druggists.

Supremely Delightful. To the emaciated and debilitated invalid is the best health-giving and strength-producing food that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. When this promoter of vigor is tested by persons in feeble health, its restorative and vitalizing potency soon evinces itself in improved appetite, digestion and nightly repose, the sole conditions under which strength and nerve quietude is vicariously to the human system. A gain in flesh, of course, ensues upon the restoration of digestion and assimilation. As surely as winter follows the fall of the leaf, does disease shadow the footsteps of declining strength, when the premature decadence of vitality is not arrested. Marasmus, consumption and other wasting maladies are prompt to fasten upon the emaciated. Avert disease, therefore, with this health-enabling tonic, which not only relieves falling strength, but mitigates and counteracts the infirmities of age and those of the gentler forms of rheumatism, malaria, liver and kidney troubles, of every kind.
