

AROUND THE CITY.

The Programme of Exercises Today.

The Parade Followed by Literary Exercises.

Charlie Ah Him Said to be Married to Two Women.

The Fruit Crop—Notes Picked Up on the Streets—Other Items of More Than Ordinary Interest.

Today will be a general holiday. All the banks and most of the business houses will be closed, and the government offices, both city and county, will not be open. The postoffice will be closed, but the carriers will make the morning deliveries. The public library reading-room will be open, but no books will be exchanged.

The morning will be devoted to the decoration of the graves in the various cemeteries. The Grand Army of the Republic posts will meet at 8 o'clock and proceed to the burying grounds shortly after.

Frank Bartlett post and Relief corps and Lyon camp will proceed to Evergreen cemetery; Gelich post and Relief corps to the east side cemetery; Stanton post and Relief corps to Rosecliff cemetery, and Logan post and Relief corps to the old City cemetery.

In the afternoon the procession will be formed at 1:30, on South Main street, right resting on First street. The assembly will be sounded at 1:45, and the advance at 1:50 p. m., when the line of march in a four-rank formation will be taken up over the following route:

Up east side of Main street, counter-marching at Pico house, inclining head of column to the left, down on west side of Main street to Spring, thence to Fifth, to the pavilion, where memorial exercises will be held, and the duties of the marshal and aids will cease, and the different organizations will be taken in charge by their proper officers.

The procession will march in the following order:

Platoon of police; Grand Marshal A. M. Thornton; aides, J. M. Frost, C. H. Haskins, F. W. Tyler, D. R. Rozell, J. W. Davis, C. W. McKelvey and F. Jordan; national guard; post and department commanders; Frank Bartlett post, Gelich post, John A. Logan post, Stanton post, visiting posts; carriages containing officers of the day and guests.

At the pavilion, at 2:30 o'clock, the following programme will be carried out:

Music, "Recollections of the War," City band; introduction of the president of the day, A. W. Patton; introductory remarks by the president of the day, J. A. Donnell; prayer by the chaplain of the day, Rev. Daniel Cobb; song, "Praise to the Soldier," male chorus; first tenors, F. B. Fanning, J. E. Sisson, J. A. Osgood; second tenors, G. E. Averill, James Booth; first bass, W. E. Dunn, F. J. Thomas; second bass, A. B. Whitney, F. W. Wallace, T. Weisendanger; recitation, "The Battle of Missionary Ridge," Miss Helen Mar Bennett; oration, Col. J. A. Zabriski, Tucson, A. T.; music, orchestra; solo, "The Star Spangled Banner," Mrs. W. E. Beeson; original poem, L. E. Mosher; "song, "We're Fighting Tonight on the Old Camp Ground," male chorus. The audience will retire to the music of "Home, Sweet Home," Meine Bros. band.

At the national soldiers' home the programme as given in the HERALD a day or two ago will be carried out.

At Pasadena an elaborate programme has been arranged, and in nearly all of the surrounding towns exercises will be held.

CHARLEY AH HIM.

He is Said to Have Been Married Twice.

A few days ago a young Chinese girl sought the protection of the police, claiming that her husband, Charley Ah Him, had ill-treated her. She was taken to the police station and taken care of, and soon after she had been locked up for safe-keeping her husband put in an appearance, and, producing a certificate of his marriage with the girl in San Francisco on March 10th last, demanded an interview with his wife. He was allowed to see her, but as she positively refused to return with him, in fact, having anything to do with him, his interview did not have a very satisfactory result. He went away apparently in great distress, and the matter was dropped for the time being, while preparations were being made for the consignment of the young Chinawoman to a place of safety. On Tuesday last, however, the affair assumed more serious proportions, for another Chinawoman appeared with her little child at the station and told a similar story, producing at the same time a marriage certificate, in Chinese characters, as a proof of her marriage to Charley Ah Him several years ago. She also was taken under the wing of the authorities, and as the proof of his infamy is almost complete, steps are being taken towards the prosecution of Charley Ah Him for bigamy. Should the case come to trial some sensational developments may be expected.

THE FRUIT CROP.

Probability That the Vine Disease Has Played Itself Out.

Colonel T. S. Hall, of La Canada, is in the city to participate in the Memorial day celebration. He says the fruit crops in his district are the finest he has ever seen. The prune trees are bending to the ground with their loads of fruit. It has been generally necessary to cut the ends of the branches off so as to prevent them from breaking all to pieces. The vines, too, are coming out perfectly in a fine vigorous growth, with a bright promise of a large crop. Mr. Hall says the HERALD is correct that the vine disease is at the end of its tether.

J. A. Gibson, of the Abstract Title Insurance Company, says the HERALD is right. Down in Vernon he and others have a piece of land which was formerly all in vineyard. Most of the vines they grubbed up last year, and were about to do the same with the rest of them, a patch of about thirteen acres, but after discussion, concluded to let them alone this year, and see how they would do. They cultivated the vines next year, and now they have the satisfaction of seeing a fine patch of vines as the section ever boasted of. They will have a good crop, and get a big price on them.

Mr. Gibson has been all about the country, and he reports that wherever he sees a patch of vines they are doing well. He thinks the disease has done its full worst.

COVINA NEWS.

Location, Resources and Prospects of This Fortunate Spot.

Where is Covina? Covina is twenty-two miles east of the city of Los Angeles, five and one-half miles south of the Santa Fe railroad at Azusa and seven miles from the Southern Pacific railroad at Puente. The climate of Covina is similar to all inland valleys of the southern part of the state—good enough for a white man to live in—with less strong winds in winter than most places similarly located. The soil is light, sandy loam, called by experts "chocolate marl," of a wonderful depth, probably 100 feet or more. There is no stratum of clay underneath the surface at a reasonable depth, consequently no surface water, thus making the admirable drainage indispensable to orange culture. The water supply is all that could be desired, being two-thirds of the flow of the San Gabriel (for the east side of the river), besides a flow of 100 inches or more from the tunnel cut by the A. W. D. and I. Company in the San Gabriel cañon. The water is brought to Covina in cement ditches for irrigating purposes. A large reservoir above the town supplies the water for domestic use through a system of iron pipes.

The townsite of Covina is situated about the center of the 2,000 acres of land known as the Phillips tract, subdivided and formerly owned by J. S. Phillips. The tract is now nearly all owned by actual settlers, and is nearly all under cultivation.

Covina has a handsome M. E. church and a school house that is elegantly situated; only one physician, and he complains more of hard times than anybody. A daily mail from Azusa supplies the inhabitants with reading matter, etc., and a conveyance carries passengers to and from.

The products of Covina are wonderful and varied. Most of the land, however, is set to oranges and lemons, nearly all of which have been planted within the last three years. With such a climate, such soil and water facilities, who can predict anything but a bright future for Covina and vicinity? SCRIBBLER.

Covina, May 28, 1890.

Capt. Knox's Condition.

Police Commissioner Knox's condition at a late hour last night was very critical. He was taken with a chill yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, and those in attendance thought he would not live many hours. At 11 o'clock last night he was very low, but those in attendance were not without hope that a change might set in for the better.

POPPE'S LUCK.

How the Family is Spending the Money So Easily Won.

Everybody has been anxious to see Charles Poppe, the Clements constable, who won the $15,000 in the last drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, but he has remained out in the country ever since he came in to send the ticket forward for collection. The money came forward promptly, and was duly paid over to Mrs. Fannie Poppe, whose receipt for the money the express company holds.

The Poppes like many others have bought tickets from time to time, and heretofore have not had any luck. They could hardly believe their eyes when they saw that one of their tickets bore the magic figure which entitles them to one-twentieth of the grand prize of $300,000. Mr. Poppe came into town at once and plans to take a trip up to the lottery office. He was considerably embarrassed financially, and several persons were laying their plans to take the money for the husband's debts. Mrs. Poppe, however, headed them off, and the transfer of the money to her was made through the San Francisco office of the express company.

Their good luck does not seem to have turned their heads, and Mrs. Poppe is putting it to good use. She has purchased a herd of 1,000 sheep for her son, and he and his father are herding them up in the foothills. Those who want to know how the money was handled should ask for the "California Brand" of condensed milk. Remember it is absolutely pure, and besides being a home product, it is the best.

BY TELEGRAPH.

CLEVELAND'S GUESTS.

President Harrison and Party Given a Royal Reception.

CLEVELAND, May 29.—President Harrison arrived this afternoon and received a salute of twenty-one guns. The city was handsomely decorated. Thousands of people were on the streets. The first city troop of horse escorted the president to the residence of Samuel P. Fells, the vice-president and cabinet going to other private houses.

An enormous crowd was at the depot and followed the party through the streets to their destination. Enthusiasm was intense, the shouting at some times even drowning out the noise of guns from the men-of-war firing a presidential salute. The first person to greet President Harrison at the depot was ex-President Hayes. After the president had stopped at Mr. Fells's house, the others of the party from Washington were escorted to the different residences at which they will stop. General Sherman arrived this afternoon and is the guest of his nephew, Henry Sherman.

Tonight the president was tendered a public reception at the Stillman house, at which there was an awful crush. The city is gaily decorated from one end to the other. The exercises at the Garfield memorial begin at 3 o'clock tomorrow.

FELONIOUS ASSAULT.

A Monterey Rape Fled Found Guilty at Salinas.

SALINAS, Cal., May 29.—The second trial of Marcos Cesana on the charge of feloniously assaulting fourteen-year-old Mary Diaz at Monterey on January 25th last, resulted in conviction this morning. It was charged that the defendant at midnight entered the residence of the prosecuting witness, and at the dagger's point compelled her and her younger sister to drink liquor containing a narcotic of some kind, and that he then attempted to outrage her. He was foiled in carrying out his purpose by some unknown happening, and she was found by her mother on her return home, in convulsions. The first trial resulted in a disagreement. Sentence will be pronounced next Monday.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 29.—The democratic convention today settled on organization which appears unfavorable to Kolb. Three ballots were taken for governor, and the convention adjourned until tomorrow.

Parnell's Approval.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 29.—President Fitzgerald, of the Irish National League, has received a cablegram from Parnell saying: "Your action in postponing the convention has my entire approval. Had a cablegram reached me in time I should have advised the recent meeting of the council." Fitzgerald hopes to be able at an early date to announce a definite time for the convention, and has strong hopes of securing the attendance of Dillon, Harrington and O'Brien.

Anxious for a Coast Line.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, May 29.—A meeting of prominent citizens was held here tonight to appoint delegates to a conference committee of counties to be held at San Jose, June 25th, to promote the completion of railroad communication between San Francisco and Los Angeles along the coast. Public feeling is greatly disturbed here over the indefinite postponement of construction by the Southern Pacific railway between Santa Margarita and Ellwood.

An Anarchist Suspect.

CHICAGO, May 29.—An anarchist named Kaiser has been arrested and charged with complicity in the Haymarket dynamite affair. It is alleged that he was intimate with Herr Most, and has been talking in a very revolutionary manner. Kaiser denies any connection with Herr Most, saying they have been enemies for years. He also denies any connection with the dynamite schemes.

The Christian Scientists.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The Christian Scientists adjourned sine die today, after the adoption of a resolution providing for the disorganization of the national association. This retains all the local bodies and chapters, and the real work will go on as usual. The time wasted in preparing for annual meetings will be better employed by the various societies.
