Divers Explore the Draw-bridge Wreck.

No Additional Bodies of Victims Discovered.

The Ill-Fated Car Raised From the Estuary.

The Engineer and Fireman Make Themselves Scarce—The Coroner's Jury Impaneled.

Associated Press Dispatches.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—No additional bodies have been recovered from the Oakland estuary, where the narrow-gauge train was wrecked yesterday afternoon. This leaves the list of identified dead at thirteen, as heretofore telegraphed. Engineer Samuel Dunn is still missing, but is not thought to have been drowned, as the statement is made that he was positively identified by one of the Oakland railway officials a short time after the accident occurred.

A close watch was kept all night on the Oakland estuary, where the narrow-gauge was wrecked yesterday afternoon, and a number of boats were busily engaged in dragging for any bodies of dead passengers that might have escaped the searchers at first, but no more bodies were found, and it is now thought all have been recovered.

Early this morning people flocked to the scene of the wreck, among them being many who had friends visiting in San Francisco, Friday, and whom they feared might be on the passenger train. A force of workmen were engaged in raising the coach which fell into the creek. Efforts were made to get the car upon the beach, when search might be made under the seats for any bodies that might have been injured by the fall, and by the breaking of glass, have been ascertained, and among them are: J. A. Cavanaugh and son, Hobart; F. F. Findley and G. L. Cunningham, San Francisco; Councilman John Hackett, Oakland, and John L. Howard, manager of the Oregon Development Company.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the passenger coach was hauled out from the estuary upon the beach and thoroughly searched. No more bodies were found. The car was badly wrecked, all the windows were broken and many wrenched out of place, showing the effects of the struggle the passengers made for their lives. Many of the victims have been placed in coffins, and the bodies of E. R. Robinson and J. R. Irwin, the Oakland victims, will be buried tomorrow afternoon. The funerals will be largely attended.

Coroner Evers summoned a jury, composed of E. A. Heron, J. B. McChesney, G. S. Naismith, T. M. Robinson, David Rutherford, John Schumacher and J. L. Lyon, who viewed the remains, and as time was required for summoning witnesses, the jury were excused until 3 p. m. Monday, when the inquest will begin.

A. N. Towne, vice-president and general manager of the Southern Pacific, said today that he had met Engineer Dunn, Fireman O'Brien and the rest of the crew of the ill-fated train of Friday, and had made thorough inquiry into the circumstances of the accident as far as they knew them. He wished, however, to be excused from saying anything at all about the results of his inquiry before the coroner's jury should render its verdict, as he did not want to do anything to influence its action either way as far as either trainmen or company was concerned.

BROKEN BONES.

The Kaiser Hobbling About on Crutches.

He Keeps Actively at Work Just the Same.

He Assumes Personal Control of the African Negotiations.

The Basis of a Treaty With England About Agreed Upon—The Anti-Socialist Laws Expiring.

Associated Press Dispatches.

BERLIN, May 31.—[Copyrighted, 1890 by the New York Associated Press.] Emperor William was today able for the first time since last Sunday's accident to hobble about the room on a crutch. Several of the smaller bones of his ankle were broken, and his whole leg is contused. The doctors insist on his taking a longer rest. Throughout the week the emperor has kept his secretaries and ministers actively at work. He was displeased at the delays in the negotiations with England in regard to Africa, and took entire control of the matter. After several conferences with the British ambassador and the heads of the colonial department, proposals were fixed upon which, it is thought, will prove acceptable to Lord Salisbury. Briefly they are that the German sphere will extend to the limits of the Congo state from the northern extremity of Tanganyika to Albert Nyanza; that Unganda and British Uganda shall be neutral ground, and the navigation of the lakes shall be free. The British ambassador evidently thought these bases good enough to justify a resumption of the discussion, as he has recalled Lord Salisbury's envoy, and the matter will be reopened. A long struggle is expected over the matter.

Major Wissmann comes about June 23rd and Dr. Peters early in July, each loaded with facts and reasons in support of the German claims.

Proletarian Restrictions.

The minor state of siege ends in Leipzig on June 28th, and if the government does not renew it the fact will signalize the determination of the authorities to cease special socialist enactments throughout Germany. According to the socialist Volkstaat the Saxon government has asked the bundesrath to prolong the law. This demand has aroused the emperor, who desires to place before the bundesrath data in support of the non-renewal of the measure. The official tendency here is in accordance with the emperor's desire to give the socialists "freer breath." The bundesrath's assent to permit the socialist law to expire is doubtful.

Disastrous Wreck.

A BAD ACCIDENT ON THE ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC ROAD.

A Stock Train Smashed Up and One Thousand Sheep Killed—Indians Supplied With Mutton for Months.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 31.—One of the most disastrous wrecks known on the Atlantic and Pacific, occurred on that road yesterday evening, two miles from its junction with the Santa Fe. A train of double-decked cars, loaded with some 5,000 fine Merino mutton sheep on the way from California to the Chicago market, was wrecked by the breaking of a truck. Every car but two was destroyed, and about 1,000 sheep killed outright. The Indians of the neighboring pueblo of Ileta worked all night skinning the carcasses, and they will have mutton for months to come. The wreck was cleared in time to let the passenger trains through on time today.

The Scotch-Irish.

Another Big Day at the Conference at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, May 31.—A very large number of persons attended the Scotch-Irish conference this morning. After President Harrison's reception, Governor Campbell, of Ohio, was introduced by President Bonner. He delivered an address upon the history of the Scotch-Irish in Ohio. He spoke of their industry and thrift, and mentioned numberless prominent politicians and other prominent figures who, during the past century, had been drawn from the race in that state. In religious, educational and newspaper circles many of the most famous men of the country came from the Scotch-Irish homes of the Buckeye state. The names of Horace Greeley, Whitelaw Reid, Col. Cockerill and a dozen or more others were given. Among the Scotch-Irish soldiers of Ohio birth were Grant, Sheridan, Custer, McComb and Rosecrans.

Dr. H. A. White, of Washington and Lee university, the great Scotch-Irish institution of Virginia, was the next speaker. He dwelt upon Scotch-Irish influence in the south.

The closing night of the Scotch-Irish convention was largely attended. Rev. Dr. John Hall, of New York, delivered a forcible and witty lecture on "Ulster as it is Today." Other speakers were heard, and the congress then closed with music and prayer, the date and place of next meeting being left to the committee.

The Johnston Horror.

The First Anniversary of the Awful Event Solemnly Celebrated.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., May 31.—The anniversary of the flood was observed today by a general draping of the business houses in black. The first twelve months after the disaster finds the city well-to-do in a business and manufacturing way. As regards general re-building, there is a woeful lack, and Johnston today is a rude and rough town as compared with the handsome city of a year ago. In all the churches and charitable institutions memorial services were held and an immense throng attended solemn services over the hundreds of unknown dead in Grand View cemetery. The startling feature of the day was the finding of two unknown bodies in an abandoned cellar, while the memorial parade was passing.

Italy's Foreign Relations.

ROME, May 31.—In the deputies today, Prime Minister Crispi closed the debate on the international policy of the government, against which the Radicals desired to pass a vote of censure. The situation of Italy abroad, he said, was never so good as now. A motion expressing confidence in the government carried, 329 to 61.

Killed by a Cave-In.

DENVER, May 31.—At Curry & O'Brien's rock quarry, yesterday afternoon, near Castle Rock, a cave-in crushed and caused the instant death of B. Quist, John Anderson and E. Lendenburg. Eight other laborers escaped miraculously.

Can Compel Vaccination.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—The supreme court commissioners filed an opinion today affirming the right of the state to compel the vaccination of children before admitting them to the public schools.

A PATHETIC CASE.

A Widow Commits Suicide Before Her Husband is Buried.

SACRAMENTO, May 31.—Mrs. W. E. Oughton, the widow of the foreman of the state printing office, who died yesterday, this afternoon attempted suicide with morphine. The doctors tried to relieve her, but it is feared she will die.

LATER.—Mrs. Oughton has since died from the effects of the poison and the funeral of the husband has been postponed. This was Oughton's third wife. His first wife committed suicide in San Francisco several years ago.

Remanded for Re-Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—A decision in the case of S. Mattingly against Philip A. Roach, administrator of the estate of Thomas H. Blythe, was handed down today by the supreme court. The action was brought in this county in August, 1887, to recover $125,000 for commissions on the sale of Blue Jacket mining stock. The jury returned a verdict for defendant, Judge Finn, in charging the jury, instructed it to find a verdict for the full amount of $125,000, or for nothing. The supreme court considers that these instructions were in error, and on these grounds the judgment of the lower court is reversed, and the cause remanded for a new trial.

Contraband Chinese.

SAN DIEGO, May 31.—Fifteen Chinamen who were caught crossing the boundary line near Tia Juana into the United States were brought before Commissioner Ward for trial this afternoon. They were sentenced to the county jail until such time as the government decides to send them back to China.
