

THE CASTAC CASE.

Testimony as to the Character of Cook.

A Number of Witnesses State That it Was Bad.

Evidence for the Prosecution Flatly Contradicted.

Corroborative Testimony Being Filed Up by the Defense—Incidents in the Course of the Trial.

The trial of W. C. Chormicle and W. A. Gardener, who are charged with the murder of G. W. Walton and Dolores Cook, in the Castac cañon, on February 28th last, which has been pending before Judge Cheney and a jury in department I of the superior court since the 27th ult., is slowly drawing to a close, yesterday being almost entirely devoted to the taking of testimony relative to the reputation for peace and quiet borne by Cook during his lifetime.

The examination of the witness Thomas Marple, who was called to the stand just before court adjourned Tuesday afternoon, was resumed yesterday morning. He stated that W. W. Jenkins and Dolores Cook had, to his knowledge, been very intimate for five or six years past. On every occasion in which Jenkins had taken his disputes into the courts, Olme and Cook had appeared as his witnesses. Several times Jenkins, in his capacity as justice of the peace, had caused Chormicle and his wife to be arrested and taken before him. When they went upon the witness stand he attempted to bulldoze them by threatening to send them to jail for contempt of court, and he had done the same thing to the witness.

Upon cross-examination the witness stated that he had contributed $100 to defray expenses for the defense. That he had done so because he wanted to see justice done. Not only himself, but the balance of the settlers in that section had done the same thing.

Being recalled, the witness stated that in company with several other gentlemen he made a careful inspection from the point where Walton and Cook were shot and found that it would be an utter impossibility for a person to be seen inside of the house through the window, provided he stood back the distance that would be required by a person having a gun to his shoulder, the end of the barrel only protruding six inches from the window.

James B. Rhodes, a brother-in-law of Jenkins, who is employed on the Newhall ranch, knew Cook in his lifetime, and never saw him with a weapon of any kind. Shortly before the shooting he stated that he had a conversation with Jenkins, but the prosecution objected to the introduction of this testimony.

The defense stated that they desired to prove by the witness that Jenkins at that time made the remark that Cook was so under his control that he would run his neck into a halter if Jenkins so ordered, but the court sustained the objection, and the witness was excused. At this juncture the court adjourned for the noon recess.

At the afternoon session John Powell, of Newhall, stated that upon one occasion he had a conversation with Cook, and that he asked him why he did not leave the Chormicles and Jenkins to fight out their own land troubles. Cook replied: "I am a friend of Jenkins, and I am going to have that land if I have to kill the Chormicles and Gardeners to get it." Witness further said that Cook's reputation for peace and quiet was bad. George M. Gardener was called by the prosecution for the purpose of impeachment. He was asked if he did not tell some parties that he knew nothing of the shooting until he heard of it in Newhall some time after. He stated that he did deny seeing the shooting to certain persons, and his reason for so doing was that they belonged to the Jenkins gang and he did not care to tell them what he knew or what he had seen.

Michael A. Powell, of this city, but formerly a resident of the Castac for nine years, had known Cook for fifteen years; he generally carried a revolver; and his reputation for peace and quiet was decidedly bad.

Dorothea Lopez, who resides at Gorman's station, stated that he was at Miguel Duron's house, in Newhall, shortly before the shooting, when Cook called there, and talked to Duron on the back porch. The witness then corroborated the testimony of former witnesses as to the conversation that was held.

John T. Wilson, justice of the peace of San Fernando, and superintendent of the Porter Land and Water Company's ranch, testified that he knew Cook, and saw him at his own office shortly before the shooting. During the conversation between them, the witness remarked that he understood the land trouble was all settled, to which Cook replied: "I will fight as long as I live." Cook's reputation at San Fernando for peace and quiet was not good.

James H. Kearns, constable of Justice Wilson's court, knew Cook during his lifetime. His reputation for peace and quiet was bad.

On cross-examination Kearns stated that four or five days after the shooting he went to the scene of the tragedy, and met Sheriff Riley, of Ventura, there. He experimented with Riley, and when the sheriff stood at the place where Walton's body was found, he was unable to see him from the interior of the cabin, where he stood.

P. H. Gavan, of Newhall, stated that Cook's reputation for peace and quiet was very bad.

Jesus Tapia, who had lived within four miles of Cook for five and a half years past, made a similar statement, as did also his brother, Juan Tapia, who used to live there three years ago.

Coroner Meredith was then called, and testified to having held an inquest upon the bodies of Walton and Cook on March 1st last. He was then questioned as to Olme's testimony about the number of pistols picked up on the scene of the tragedy, but no foundation having been laid for the questions, the court sustained the objection of the prosecution and ruled it out.

Joaquin Martinez, a resident of the Castac, knew Cook in his lifetime, and saw him at the gate leading to section 23, with Olme and Jenkins, on the occasion when Juan Lieva had driven a bunch of Jenkins's cattle out. He then corroborated the testimony already given by other witnesses relative to the quarrel at the fence between the Chormicle and Jenkins parties, and at the close of his testimony court adjourned for the day.

THE FOURTH.

Arrangements in Progress for Its Celebration.

The executive committee of the Fourth of July celebration held a meeting in Mayor Hazard's office last evening. Mayor Hazard was elected permanent chairman and Frank Rader secretary. Frank Marsh and M. E. C. Munday were appointed to secure headquarters for the celebration. Captain Mackay offered the use of the Iroquois clubrooms on First street, which were accepted with thanks. It was voted that the finance committee consist of eighteen members. The other committees on the celebration will consist of three members each. The following committees were created, and the gentlemen to serve on them will be appointed by the mayor today: Music, decorations, printing, literary exercises, carriages, fireworks and vocal music. Colonel Palmer, Frank Marsh and M. E. C. Munday were appointed a committee on "invitations." It was decided to send special invitations to all tradesmen, requesting them to have displays in the procession. It was also decided to send invitations to all the interior towns, requesting them to participate in the coming celebration. Captain Barrett stated that the Southern Pacific railroad had agreed to sell return trip tickets at the usual price, extending from the 4th to the 7th of July. The location of the fireworks display was left to the executive committee.

THE EXPERIMENT STATION.

The Citrus Fair Committee Fails to Agree on the Matter.

The citrus fair committee met yesterday morning in the private office of the secretary of the chamber of commerce. There were present: C. M. Wells and Eugene Germain, of Los Angeles; F. Edward Gray, of Alhambra; J. E. McComas, of Pomona, and F. R. Miller, of Riverside. John Wasson, of Chino, representing Richard Gird, and Phil Stein, of Pomona, were also present.

The meeting was called for the purpose of taking action on the proposition to give the $2,000 surplus from the citrus fair for the establishment of an agricultural experiment station at Pomona. Most of the members of the committee had already signified their willingness to have that disposition made of the money. It presently came out, however, that the people of Riverside thought that the experiment station ought to go to their locality, and that they had sent a committee to see Prof. Hilgard at Berkeley and confer with him about the change of location. When the matter was ready to come to vote, McComas and Gray were in favor of giving the money for the station at Pomona, and Miller and Germain opposed such action. C. M. Wells proposed that the matter be allowed to go over for a time until the Riverside people should have presented their case to Prof. Hilgard. No action was taken, and the committee adjourned until next Saturday.

THE A. & P. ACCIDENT.

Full Particulars of the Death of Engineer Bowen.

Fuller particulars concerning the accident on the Atlantic and Pacific, in which Engineer Bowen was killed, were received in this city yesterday from private sources. A water train left Barstow Monday evening on its way to The Needles. It was running down grade at a rapid rate of speed, and five miles beyond Bagdad crashed through a burned bridge. Bagdad is seventy-eight miles east of Barstow. The bridge was over a small dry wash, and was thirty feet in length. It is supposed that a spark from a passing engine ignited the bridge, and it must have been burned only a short time before the water train struck it. The distance down was only three feet. The fireman managed to jump out on one side, but Bowen was caught between the tender and cab and crushed to an unrecognizable mass. The train was derailed and the cars piled on top of one another over the track. It took about fifteen hours to clear up the wreck, and as a result the overland passenger trains running east and west were delayed about that time. The overland due here at 3 o'clock Tuesday did not get in until yesterday morning at 6.

The body of the unfortunate engineer was brought to Colton, where his relatives reside. He will be buried today.

A G. A. R. AFFAIR.

The Dedication of the New Hall on Spring Street.

The dedication of the new G. A. R. hall, at No. 612 South Spring street, took place yesterday evening. This hall, which is located in the third story of the new building on the east side of Spring street between Sixth and Seventh streets, has been splendidly fitted up for the use of the G. A. R., and furnished in appropriate style.

The ceremonies last evening opened with remarks by Lee Burton, followed by N. Sherman and M. F. Tarble. Prof. Loeb executed a piano solo with his usual skill. A recitation was given by Freddy Reardon, followed by a zither solo by Mr. Lauterbach. Mrs. Hamer gave a recitation. Miss and Mrs. Ashbury rendered a banjo duet, and Mrs. Tarble sang a solo.

After singing by the audience and another piano solo by Prof. Loeb, there was an intermission of thirty minutes for refreshment and sociability. Ice cream and cake were served. The affair terminated in a hoop, and the floor was filled with dancers to a late hour.

The affair was given under the auspices of the Logan and Frank Bartlett posts.

NATURAL CAUSES.

They Occasion the Death of John McLaughlin.

Coroner Meredith held an inquest yesterday upon the body of John McLaughlin, a young man apparently about 30 years of age, who died suddenly at his room at the Palm hotel, near the Arcade depot, on Monday night last, shortly after his arrival in the city from the east, while en route to Tacoma. A sensational rumor to the effect that McLaughlin had taken an overdose of morphine, was current on Tuesday, but upon investigation this was found to be incorrect, the unfortunate youth having been in the last stages of consumption. The jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes, in accordance with the facts adduced at the inquest.

TO KEEP THE PEACE.

The Story of J. H. Perkins's Domestic Relations.

J. H. Perkins, a stockman, was brought in from his ranch near Long Beach, yesterday, and locked up in the county jail in default of bonds in the sum of $500 to keep the peace for six months, on an order issued by Justice C. S. Hussey, of that place. Perkins, who is a hale old man, though 70 years of age, in an interview with a HERALD reporter yesterday, told the following interesting story: He said that fifteen years ago he had married a young girl, by whom he had eleven children, seven of whom are still living. Some time ago his nephew, Frank Perkins, a good-looking youth, went to work on the ranch, and things went on as usual for a while, when Perkins's niece informed him that "his wife was altogether too fond of Frank." This aroused the old man's suspicions, and after watching the pair closely for a few days he came to the conclusion that all was not as it should be, and finally Frank was sent away from the ranch. Perkins and his wife, who, after Frank left, became very affectionate, renewed their former happy relations, until a few weeks ago, Mrs. Perkins suggested that as her husband was 70 years of age and subject to heart disease, he ought to convey his property to her, in case of accident. They came to town, and Perkins deeded the ranch and all his property to her; but on their return to their home, Mrs. Perkins changed her mood and life became a burden to her husband. The insistence that Frank should come back to the ranch, and for the sake of harmony Perkins allowed him to do so. His wife's conduct with his nephew, however, again aroused his suspicions, and watching his opportunity, he surprised them in a compromising position, but said nothing at the time. Next morning, however, he informed Frank that as he was his brother's son he would not kill him, but would give him a chance to leave the place. Soon afterwards, however, he was arrested on complaint of his wife, with the above result.

"The Old Homestead."

Tonight the Old Homestead will open at the Grand opera house, and it is expected that there will be a large audience. It has drawn largely wherever it has been given, and is spoken of as the best piece of its kind now on the road. The company, which presents it is said to be very strong and has won praise on all sides.

Wilson Barrett.

Next week Wilson Barrett and company will occupy the Grand opera house. The repertoire for the week will be as follows: Monday and Tuesday, "Clodion; Wednesday, "Ben-Mo-Cher"; Thursday, Mr. Barrett's own arrangement of "Hamlet," Friday and Saturday, the original "Silver King; Saturday matinee, "The Lady of Lyons. All of these plays will be presented with the original scenery, costumes and mechanical effects from the Princess' theater, London.

Among the attractions at the regular weekly social in Illinois hall, Friday evening, will be brief "Walks and Talks with Dickens," by F. Gilbert Dexter, and music by Prof. Vogel's Zither and Mandolin Club.

SANTA MONICA.

Notes Gathered at the Seashore Yesterday.

Correspondence of the HERALD. C. T. Dandore, a wealthy property-owner of Findley, O., is visiting Santa Monica.

Miss Bertha Jackson spent yesterday with some of her many friends in Los Angeles.

The cañon season will be formally opened by a ball Saturday evening at George Griminger's pavilion.

The zoological gardens are at present particularly interesting, there being several ostrich chicks there only four days old.

W. C. Owens delivered an address last evening before an appreciative audience on "Nationalism" in Steere's opera house.

Meadames Slessinger, Gay and Bell, of Los Angeles, formed a party of six expert swimmers as we have ever seen; their perfect freedom in the water drew many admiring remarks.

Henry Matson, E. E. Smith and David Smith enjoy a canter around town and on the beach every afternoon, where their graceful riding and handsome horses are much admired.

J. A. Muir, assistant division superintendent of the Southern Pacific, brought down today a party consisting of his family and friends, engaging four of H. C. Beirli's rigs. After driving around town they went to Rustic cañon, where they had a basket picnic.

Juan Salyado is extremely happy these bright days, the cause being the arrival at his home of a beautiful little daughter. Both mother and child are doing well, and it would be hard to find on this mundane sphere a more contented and happy mortal than Juan.

THE HIBERNIANS.

A Banquet, With Pleasant Toasts and Eloquent Responses.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians was in session all day yesterday at Y. M. I. hall, and transacted considerable important business pertaining to their order. In the evening they assembled at Jerry Illich's, where they enjoyed a banquet at which all the delicacies of the season were served in the artistic style for which Jerry is noted. The toasts were many and varied, and the responses were all in a happy vein, which made the event one which will live long in the memory of those fortunate enough to be present. It was not until long after midnight that the banquet hall was deserted.
