The Pension Bill Reported to the Senate.

Senator Everts Tackles the Silver Question.

He Says the Time is Ripe for Something to Be Done.

Are the Republicans Equal to the Occasion—Reagan and Stewart at Daggers Drawn.

Associated Press Dispatches 1

WASHINGTON, June 12.—In the senate today, Platt gave notice that immediately after the consideration of the silver bill he would ask the senate to consider the bill for the admission of Wyoming.

Among the bills reported from the committees and placed on the calendar were the two senate bills to amend the polygamy laws, and the house legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

Davis presented the conference report on the dependent pension bill, and proceeded to explain it.

As to the question of dependent parents, he said that all the change made by the bill from the existing law was that, whereas the existing law required the dependency to exist at the time of the soldier's death, the pending measure merely required dependency at the time of the application.

The pension of dependent parents was the same as under the existing law. He went on to say that the house substitute contained a provision for service pensions for the benefit of all who reached the age of sixty years; that had been the substantial point of difference between the conferees.

As the result of much discussion and considerable alteration, that feature had been eliminated and the conferees agreed to strike out the words: "And who are dependent on their daily labor or on contributions of others not legally bound to their support."

The senate bill had fixed the pension unqualifiedly at twelve dollars per month. The conferees had agreed to a pension not exceeding twelve, and not less than $6.

As to widows and minor children, the provisions of the senate bill had been substantially a pension to the widow of not less than $12 a month, irrespective of the cause of the soldier's death, whether attributable to service or not.

That provision had been the subject of considerable discussion in conference, and the result had been a combination of both the senate and house provisions.

The bill would add about $42,000,000 a year to the cost of pensions.

The report went over and was ordered printed.

The senate silver bill was then taken up and Everts addressed the senate. He characterized the act of 1873 as a "murderous thrust" at silver.

In a review of the international conferences on the question of silver—out of which nothing had come—he said, now for the first time in the progress of the matter of redress, the question confronted the Republican party, which had a majority in each house and control of the executive power.

It was for that party to determine that the interval of last year and delay should be no longer extended. The people of the United States, through their representatives in the two houses of congress, and in their election of an executive head, had in his opinion, determined that they would not allow disgrace and disorder to continue, either in regard to their domestic relations, or their money in relation to commerce.

Congress was now prepared for the adoption in one form or another of a measure which compared with anything that had been done in the interval between '73 and '90, was like the step of a giant as compared with that of a sick man.

Speaking of the proposed opening of the American mints to the silver of the world, Everts said, with the difference in ratios (15½ in Europe and 16 in this country) that measure would be utterly impracticable, especially if it was desired alone to cause the opening of the mints abroad to silver.

The proposition to receive silver bullion over the counter of the treasury, and pay for it in certificates, leaving the transaction at the will of the owner of the bullion, never approved itself to his judgment.

Money can never safely be treated as a commodity. It was not to be treated as anything but the force and propulsion of circulation.

Vance spoke in favor of the unlimited coinage of silver.

Morgan began a free coinage speech, but without concluding, yielded to a motion to adjourn.

the Chicago, Kansas and Nebraska Railroad Company, the power to convey to the Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company its rights, property and franchise in the territory of Oklahoma and Indian territory.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the agricultural appropriation bill. The committee soon rose and the bill was passed. The house then took a recess.

CAPITAL CULLINGS.

The U. S. S. Ranger Ordered to Samoa. Congressional Notes.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Orders have been issued for the United States ship Ranger, now at San Francisco, to proceed to Samoa and resume her service on the Pacific station.

Senator Allison today reported the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. The bill as it passed the house carried a total of $20,842,447. The senate committee added $313,470.

At this morning's session the Republican members of the senate finance committee finished preliminary consideration of the tariff bill. Now they will go back to the first of the bill and begin to settle the disputed sections heretofore passed over without action.

Senator Washburn has proposed an amendment to the tariff bill, (referred to the finance committee), providing for free importation until January 1, 1892, of all machinery imported for the purpose of manufacturing beet sugar, with a rebate of the duty paid on such machinery since January 1, 1890.

In the course of his remarks on the conference report on the urgent deficiency pension appropriation bill, Representative Henderson, of Iowa, in the house today made a statement showing that the appropriations made by the present house for the benefit of soldiers amount to $167,419,751.

This includes the deficiency of last year, aid for state homes, artificial limbs, etc.

The senate commerce committee practically completed the river and harbor bill this afternoon. All the money appropriated for the improvement of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers, respectively, is to be expended under the direction and in accordance with the plans adopted by the river commission.

The amount appropriated for the Mississippi river is $5,000,000; for the Missouri river, from the mouth to Sioux City, $900,000; from Sioux City to Great Falls, $350,000. As reported by the committee, the bill is about $3,000,000 in excess of the house bill.

The Edmunds Utah Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Senator Edmunds, from the committee on judiciary, today reported back favorably, with amendments, the bill recently introduced by him, providing for the reorganization of the government of Utah.

By the terms of the bill the existing election districts and apportionments of representatives for members of the territorial legislature are abolished, and it is made the duty of the governor, territorial secretary and board of commissioners as soon as practicable after the result of the census is made known, to redistrict the territory and make a new apportionment for legislative purposes.

The bill also provides for the territorial auditor, treasurer, commissioners to locate university lands, probate judges, county clerks, selectmen, assessors, recorders and superintendents of district schools are vacated, and the appointment of all these officers vested in the governor, subject to the approval of the board of commissioners.

The board of commissioners is authorized and empowered in its discretion to cause a new registration of voters in Utah, and to make and enforce rules and regulations not inconsistent with the laws of the United States for the conduct of registration and United States elections in the territory.

National Election Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The house caucus committee charged with the preparation of a national election bill on the lines agreed upon by the last caucus, has been industriously perfecting the details of the measure, and has sent a rough draft to the printer.

When the proofs are returned the committee will continue its work. Some of the changes already made in the original Powell bill are: A provision that in cases of conflict between the returns sent in by state election officers, and by those of United States supervisors, the latter are to constitute prima facie evidence of the right of a member to his seat; and the provision that the United States court within the election district, shall appoint a board of three persons representing both political parties to canvass the returns of the supervisors.

Rival Cracker Trusts.

CHICAGO, June 12.—An evening paper says a rival of the great cracker trust, known as the New York Biscuit Company, has been formed in the east. The biscuit company having gobbled up most of the eastern houses, came here and bought up the Kennedy company, but failed in negotiations with another large concern, the Duke bakery.

The trust has declared war, and the Duke people have retaliated by organizing a combination among several large western manufacturers. A sharp fight is looked for.

Dairymen Indignant.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The stringent measures adopted by the secretary of agriculture to stamp out pleuro-pneumonia in cattle from the counties of Kings and Queens, has created tremendous excitement and aroused the dairymen into an attitude of armed rebellion.

It is understood that Secretary Rusk recently received a private intimation that unless this disease should be effectually extirpated, severe quarantine would be proclaimed by England against the exportation of American cattle.

Maligned the Kaiser.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Joseph Jonassen, arrested in Berlin charged with maligning Emperor William, is 27 years old; was born in San Francisco; is traveling in Europe with his brother Henry. He is first lieutenant in the twelfth regiment of the York National Guards. He has called his father in this city that his trouble does not amount to anything.

Archer's Defalcation.

BALTIMORE, June 12.—The legislative committee investigating State Treasurer Archer's affairs today completed the work. The total amount of his defalcation was $132,401. The committee says the funds were used by Archer to pay off personal indebtedness incurred as far back as the time he represented the second district in congress.

Furniture Manufacturers Resolve to Advance Prices—Wool-Growers' Resolutions.

Associated Press Dispatches.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, June 12.—The death of Thomas Sutton yesterday ends a case probably without a parallel. A year and a half ago the boy, then 14 years of age, fell from a butcher's wagon and hurt his spine.

About four months ago paralysis set in, his stomach became affected, and for ninety-six days, ending at the time of his death, not a morsel of food passed his lips.

For a while a glass of wine was given each twenty-four hours. His stomach soon refused even this nourishment. Then soda-water was substituted, and for the last thirty days only pure water was used to moisten his lips.

At the time of his death he weighed but a trifle over fifty pounds. His shrunken skin barely covered his bones, and he presented a terrible picture of emaciation.

Through all this time young Sutton retained his consciousness and recognized his friends and relatives.

SUNKEN TREASURE.

A Wrecking Company Searching for $10,000,000 of Spanish Gold.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The wrecking steamer Rescue, of the Merritt Wrecking Company, under command of Captain Demorest, has sailed for Cape Henlopen to begin operations for the recovery of the British sloop-of-war De Braak, which was capsized of the Delaware coast in 1798.

It is believed $10,000,000 in Spanish gold is in the hold of the vessel.

In 1880 a contract was made by the United States government with the International Submarine Company, of New Haven, Conn., giving them the exclusive right to search for the treasure.

Under this contract the Ocean Wrecking Company of Philadelphia, which has secured the services of the Merritt Wrecking Company, will carry on the work.

In a fortnight several other wrecking vessels will join the Rescue.

On May 29, 1798 the Braak arrived at Cape Henlopen, in company with a captured Spanish vessel called The Snow, whose valuable treasures were secure in Captain Drew's cabin.

The object of the Braak's commander was to obtain water and provisions for his crew, who numbered 213. While casting anchor, about a mile from the lighthouse, a sudden squall came up and laid her on her beam-ends, when she immediately filled and went down with the captain and thirty-eight officers, seamen and marines.

The rest of the ship's company, including the boatswain, escaped.

TEXAS WOOL-GROWERS.

Resolutions Adopted Urging Changes in the McKinley Bill.

GALVESTON, Tex., June 12.—The national wool-growers' convention here adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That an amendment to the McKinley bill should be made by the senate, which shall provide substantially that all foreign wools having any cross or admixture of merino or English blood, shall be classified so as to pay the duties imposed upon class 1 or class 2 wools, according to the nature of the cross or admixture;

That the secretary of the treasury be required to remove all samples now in the custom houses of the United States for the purpose of classifying foreign wools for duty, substituting new samples in accordance with the principles above stated.

Resolved, That paragraph 283 in the McKinley bill be amended by striking out the proviso contained therein, and that paragraph 608 be changed by striking out the words "Russian camel;" that we earnestly recommend that any further changes that may be made in the McKinley bill shall be only such as will give the wool-growers of the United States protection on wool as grown by American flock-masters;

That we protest emphatically against any law that will in terms or by implication permit wool to be imported in any other than its natural condition as shorn from the sheep, except as washed or scoured in unbroken fleeces.

Another resolution was adopted deprecating the decimation of the ewe flocks west of the Mississippi by killing them for market instead of holding them for breeders.

GAS EXPLOSION.

A Peculiar Conflagration Raging on Broadway, New York.

NEW YORK, June 12.—An explosion of gas at the corner of Broadway and Fulton street, occurred this morning, where men were excavating for repairs. A number of men were badly scorched.

The gas continued to burn during the forenoon, obstructing travel in one of the busiest corners of the city.

At 4 o'clock the gas was still burning fiercely. A serious result is feared. Ropes have been stretched across Broadway and Fulton streets, and traffic is suspended.

Large gangs of men are tearing up the streets, endeavoring to reach the gas mains to shut off the supply. The gas is burning fiercely under the streets for hundreds of feet in every direction.

The mains are red hot to a much greater distance. The fire department has been hard at work for hours pumping water into the surrounding manholes in a vain effort to cool off the pipes. Just what may happen next no one seems to know. The damage is already estimated at over $50,000.

Furniture Goes Up.

CHICAGO, June 12.—At a meeting tonight of the National Furniture Manufacturers' Association it was decided to increase prices after the first of the month. The increase is, in the language of the resolution, to be "sufficient to cover the increased cost of materials, and to enable the manufacturers to make a living profit."

Northern Pacific in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 12.—It is stated that the Northern Pacific has purchased the Chicago and Calumet terminal railroad of this city. It will be consolidated with the Chicago and Great Western, the present terminal property of the Wisconsin Central. The whole is to be placed under the Wisconsin Central management.

Another Veto.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The president today returned to the house without approval the bill for the erection of a public building at Tuscaloosa, Alabama. The president in his message says: "In the present uncertain state of the public revenues and expenditures resulting from pending and probable legislation, there is to my mind an absolute necessity that the expenditures for public buildings should be limited to cases where the public needs are very evident and very imperative. It is clear that this is not such a case."

Census Troubles.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Porter, superintendent of census, is informed by the census supervisor of the fifth district of Pennsylvania, that the Hungarians, Poles and Italians of Lackawanna, Luzerne and Carbon counties refused to give any census information, even to interpreters. Many of these men are designated by numbers only. The supervisor suggests their census by numbers. Porter replied, refusing to adopt the suggestion, saying that the census office will not help to perpetuate such a brutish state of affairs.

Closing Exercises.

BALTIMORE, June 12.—The closing exercises of Johns Hopkins university were held this afternoon, and this evening the class of '90 had its reunion and banquet.

ANDOVER, Mass., June 12.—The final exercises in connection with the eightieth anniversary of Andover theological seminary took place today. The graduating class numbered twenty-six. The new system of elective studies goes into operation the coming year.

Cancer of the Nose.

In 1875 a sore appeared on my nose, and grew rapidly. As my father had cancer, and my husband died of it, I became alarmed, and consulted my physician. His treatment did no good, and the sore grew larger and worse in every way, until I had concluded that I was to die from its effects. I was persuaded to take S. S. S., and a few bottles cured me. This was after all the doctors and other medicines had failed. I have had no return of the cancer.
