

CHAMBER MATTERS.

Regular Meeting of the Board of Directors.

A Protest Against Sectional Advertisements.

Views of Los Angeles Scenery to be Obtained.

State Board of Trade Interests—Donations to Permanent Exhibit—Flowers from the Ladies.

The board of directors of the chamber of commerce met yesterday afternoon. Seven of the directors were present, General Forman in the chair.

Secretary Patton said that he was desirous of securing a number of photographic views of various localities in the county, public buildings, notable residences, etc., to be framed and hung in the room of the permanent exhibit.

The matter of the chamber participating in the Fourth of July procession with a float containing an exhibit of the products of the section was brought up. It was referred, after some discussion, to the house committee.

A communication from the state board of trade, with regard to a pamphlet on mining interests of California, was referred to the committee on mining.

It was announced that the state board of trade was about to change its quarters in San Francisco, and the secretary was instructed to confer with the board to ascertain whether more and better space could not be afforded the Los Angeles exhibit than it had at present.

Dr. Widney produced a map sent out by the state board of trade which was now being distributed through the east, which contained a quantity of reading matter devoted to the interest of the northern part of the state. The doctor read a number of selections in which Southern California was treated to very pronounced slurs.

The matter was referred to the president and secretary, with instructions to register a vigorous protest against such literature being sent out by the California on Wheels.

Mr. Book suggested that a map should be made and used for advertising purposes by the chamber which should show in various colors orange land, barley land, alfalfa, etc., and should contain a table showing how many acres in Southern California were under cultivation in various different products. The matter was referred to the committee on statistics.

Major Jones read a communication from the chamber of commerce of New York asking for action on the matter of national work on the levees of the Mississippi. He offered the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Resolved, That the board, in behalf of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, as it is duly authorized to do, heartily endorse the report and resolutions of the chamber of commerce of the state of New York of June 3, 1890, with regard to the appropriation of money by congress for the permanent protection of the country bordering on the Mississippi river from overflows.

That river is our country's greatest and most important natural channel of transportation and travel, and is worth preserving at the expense of many millions to the nation, while the fertile region inundated by its overflows deserves protection on account of the vast population it will sustain, and the rich addition to the productive wealth of the country, of which it is capable.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the chamber of commerce of the state of New York and to the representative in congress from this district, to the chambers of commerce of New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Vicksburg and Memphis.

The committee on commerce was instructed to draw up some resolutions for the improvement of San Pedro harbor and send them to the various boards of trade which were mentioned in the above resolutions.

The following donations were made to the permanent exhibit yesterday:

Mrs. H. Quackenbush, apples, peaches, pears and figs; Mrs. Page of Santa Monica, honey; Major Solton of Vernon, apples, peaches and apricots; Dr. J. and G. E. Needham of Glendora, apricots, peaches and cherry plums; Henry Englehart of Glendora, apricots; J. J. Scott of Verdugo, tomatoes; J. W. Price of Vernon, vegetables; Mrs. Boyce of Santa Monica, placed upon exhibit a fine assortment of potted plants, which make an attractive feature; J. W. Meyers, gooseberries; J. W. Cook of the San Rafael rancho, Minneapolis, Los Angeles county, seedless rose potatoes; Pridham Bros. paper box manufacturers, display of boxes.

THE PRIZE WINNERS.

The Return of the Successful Turners Celebrated.

The victorious athletes of the Turn Verein arrived in the city yesterday morning at half-past 8. They returned from San Francisco by steamer to San Pedro, and got off at the Commercial-street depot. Here they were met by a large number of members of the order, accompanied by ladies. A brass band was in attendance in honor of their arrival, and the ladies carried bouquets and wreaths of flowers, with which the victors were presented. There was much hand-shaking and congratulating while the band played and the forty muscular young men left the cars and took seats in the carriages which were provided.

Chief among the victors was Robert Krohn, who won the medal offered as first prize for finest individual work. The medals of gold, with a diamond set in the center. A laurel wreath surrounds it, and a bar above bearing the victor's name is attached by two silver torches. This was given to Mr. Krohn for winning 88 1/2 points out of a possible 100. He also made away with the following honors: Second prize for hop-skip-and-jump, 35 feet 10 inches; first prize for running high jump, 5 feet 5 inches; second prize for throwing 37 1/2 pound shot, 19 feet 6 inches; first prize for broad jump, 19 feet 3 inches; first prize for broad high jump, 10 feet 6

NEGLECTED HIS CHILDREN.

Philip Weinmann Found Guilty of the Charge.

Philip Weinmann, a bartender at the Arroyo Seco saloon, was yesterday convicted by Justice Savage, in the township court, on a charge of having omitted to provide for his children. Weinmann's wife died in August last, leaving two little girls, aged respectively 6 and 4 years, to the tender mercies of their father, who left them to take care of themselves. Their aunt, Mrs. Regelin, of East Los Angeles, on learning that their father had deserted them, took them to her own home. When appealed to by her to support his offspring, Weinmann refused to do so, saying that "they might go to the poor house, for all he cared."

It was argued for the defense that Weinmann was in such straitened circumstances that he was unable to maintain his children, but the prosecution showed that he had been at work as a shoemaker and laborer since his wife died, and made sufficient money to keep drunk most of his time, whereupon the court adjudged him guilty, and ordered him to appear for sentence this morning.

THE PHOTOGRAPHERS.

Failure of An Effort to Close on Sunday.

The photographers of the city have been making an effort to secure Sundays to themselves, for rest and recreation during the summer months. To this end they drew up a paper, which was signed by all but one of the photographers, wherein each man agreed to close his place on Sunday, if all the others would do the same. The refractory photographer argues that he lives in his gallery, that he don't care for a holiday, and he "don't care what the other fellows do anyway." Each photographer, therefore, will doubtless keep his gallery open and yawn through the Sabbath for fear of a possible customer spending his money in the gallery of the individual who don't want a holiday. A census of the photographers relative to last Sunday's business reveals the fact that seventeen photographers had to content themselves with thirteen customers for the day.

THE JACKSON CLUB.

The Largest Meeting Yet—Hon. S. M. White Endorsed.

The Jackson Democratic Club held its seventh meeting since its organization at Y. M. I. hall last night, with Joseph Mesmer in the chair and William L. Price secretary. The spacious hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, and great enthusiasm prevailed. Twenty-six applications for membership were voted upon favorably. Under the constitution and by-laws adopted at the previous meeting the chair appointed the following committees:

Finance—J. R. McManis, Frank Graham, A. Schwamm, J. F. Howard, W. H. Mitchell.

Membership—H. M. Mitchell, L. F. Fisher, L. Schmidt, Edgar Moore, George Puff.

Literary—E. H. Owen, M. F. Stiles, A. J. King, Moye E. Wicks, General J. L. O'Bryan.

The printing committee reported that it had decided to have 3,000 applications and 1,500 copies of the constitution and bylaws printed at once. The badge and uniform committee reported favorable work. The club will soon have the most central and commodious hall in the city. It will be appropriately furnished for the purpose. The club-roll now contains 389 members, and branch clubs will be established throughout the city. Calvin Edgerton introduced the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

Resolved, That the Jackson Democratic Club of the city of Los Angeles heartily approves of the election of United States senators by the people, and the change of organic law to that end.

WHEREAS, Hon. Stephen M. White has announced himself as a candidate for the position of United States senator of California upon that proposition, and has proclaimed his purpose to urge his candidacy therefor before the people on that issue, therefore,

Resolved, That the Jackson Democratic Club of Los Angeles approves his candidacy, and will use all honorable means to secure his success.

Remarks of a Democratic nature were made by several members, and the club adjourned to meet on Thursday evening, July 3d, at Y. M. I. hall. The meetings are so largely attended that it will be necessary to secure the new quarters at an early date, which are expected to be in readiness in about a month.

FLETCHER-RICHARDSON.

A Seduction Case Ended by a Marriage.

In Justice Austin's court yesterday morning William Frank Fletcher, who was brought down from his uncle's ranch at Clemente, San Joaquin county, appeared for arraignment upon the charge of having seduced Rose Richardson under promise of marriage on August 20, 1889. He was ordered to appear for examination at 3 o'clock p. m., bail being required meanwhile in the sum of $1,500. At 11 o'clock, however, the complainant, defendant and District Attorney Kelly returned into court and upon the production of a marriage license Justice Austin then and there married Fletcher and Rose Richardson, whereupon the case was dismissed and the defendant discharged.

The young girl met Fletcher in Boston and journeyed with him to the Pacific coast. On the train, it is stated, he made love to her, and on arrival here promised to marry her. It was then he, it is said, effected her ruin. He left her here and went to his uncle at Clemente, promising to return. But he did not come, and being without means the girl was obliged to go to the hospital, where she gave birth to a child a few weeks ago.

THIRTY YEARS' PRACTICE.

A Letter from an Eminent Physician.

MR. EDITOR: At the risk of incurring a proprietary preparation, I have a few words in favor of a new laxative principle. But first, how I came to discover it. A patient asked about taking Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. As sarsaparilla usually contain mercury or iodides I objected, and asked for the formula, which finding purely vegetable, and so mild as to be my mind almost inert, I consented. Imagine my astonishment when perfect laxative action was reported. It has two great points. First, being purely vegetable, it is (unlike mercury) not cumulative in the system, being easily carried off by the digestive processes; and second, it is effective with a less quantity of the cathartic principle than has hitherto been attainable. It is in this respect ranks as a discovery, and approaches the ideal, viz.: the least medicine consistent with the greatest good. As people take cathartics indiscriminately, it is important for them to know at least one that is safe for continuous use; hence this communication. The cathartic effects of this preparation may be for the reasons above, interest both the public and the profession.
