What the People are Doing by the Sea.

The Berry Crop at Covina and What It Sold For.

Prices Paid for Fruits—Personals and Notes Gathered at Santa Monica and Elsewhere.

Correspondence of the HERALD.

The ocean view from Long Beach is magnificent, steamers and sailing ships coming and leaving San Pedro; fleets of fishing smacks darting here and there; Catalina island, in the mist and haze, taking on fantastic shapes; sea lions often coming in close to shore; bathers in variegated costumes sporting on the sands, making a kaleidoscopic view of such diversified beauty that to describe is simply impossible, and such as no other seaside resort on the Pacific (or Atlantic) can duplicate.

The hot weather of the past few days has in many instances proved extremely detrimental to the orange crop. Many trees have shed their fruit to an alarming extent. To some young trees this is not a real damage, as the trees were too full of fruit for the size of the tree, but many old orchards will have a short crop.

COVINA NEWS.

Interesting Items From That Thriving Town.

Correspondence of the HERALD. Ten thousand dollars' worth of strawberries were shipped from Azusa station this season up to the 1st of June, most of which came from Covina. The second crop of berries is now just coming in, and promises to be heavier than the first, but the price will be lower. However, a few growers have contracted the season's crop for 5 cents per pound. Nearly all the berries are of the variety known as Monarch of the West.

G. W. Taylor has built a dryer and cannery, and will handle a large part of the deciduous fruit for the coming season. THE RAILROADS.

Sheep Shipped East—Surveying in Antelope Valley.

The Santa Fe dispatched a special sheep train yesterday containing fifteen double-decked cars filled with Anaheim muttons. The train was billed for Kansas City. Over seventy cars have recently been sent out by the Santa Fe.

There has been a scarcity of mutton in the east in the Missouri and Mississippi valley, where the industry of sheep-raising has fallen off considerably of late.

The surveying party under the charge of Chief Rockwell that started from Mojave two weeks since are now camped at Castle lake, a distance of sixty miles by their churning from Mojave.

The distance from Castac to the Tejon on an air line is about seven miles.

At Castac they sent for more men and will organize another party. Comp Stuckey and Charley Pruitt left here yesterday to help make up the new gang.

The line they are running now is only an experimental survey, estimating the cuts, fills and bridges necessary.

The object appears to be to get a more direct line, saving every mile of distance possible and at the same time make a portion of the difference in altitude between Mojave and Tejon every revolution of the locomotive.

Should this route be adopted the climbing of the summit will be no more perceptible than the road from Santa Monica to Los Angeles.

The grade stakes will not be set until Wilbur returns from the east.

There is a great deal of interest manifested in this valley over the extension of the Santa Fe, as there is also on the other side of Tehachapi mountain about Bakerville. A great many resident and non-resident land-owners in the valley have visited their camps, but they get very little information.

The opinion of the knowing ones is that when Wilbur comes and goes over this route he will conclude to go back and start from Rodgers station, which is twenty miles southeast of Mojave, and then run a straight line to intersect this survey at or near sec. 30, T. 9 N. R. 15 W. S. B. M., and then follow Rockwell's line from there through the Liebre grant to the Castac, and thence to the Tejon, etc.

There is a large influx of campers here next week, ten families in one bunch alone, coming from Yreka.

A large party came down last Friday from Whittier to enjoy the surf.

HIS IDEA OF WOMEN.

What a Prominent English Author Thinks of American Ladies—A Comparison With European Girls.

A well-known English author, who was recently in the United States, was entertained by a gentleman and lady of wealth, residing on Fifth avenue, New York. In the course of the dinner the conversation turned upon American women, when the English gentleman said: "Nowhere in America do you find such complexions and nowhere such health as we see in the faces and forms of English girls. I have noticed this in every city that I have visited. American ladies look tired, weak, faded. They lack color and they lack life. Existence seems a burden to them, not a pleasure. You in America do not notice it because you are here, while I can see it very plainly."

We may say that this English author was prejudiced, was conceited, was bitter, but we cannot say that he was wrong. American ladies are not so strong, so healthy, so brilliant, as they should be. Their complexions are not so clear nor their eyes so bright as could be desired. Doubtless the climate has something to do with this, but it is unquestionably true that by proper care and a judicious use of the right means these things can be overcome. Any lady who feels tired, despondent or weak can readily overcome these troubles by a proper use of a little pure whisky taken in water. Bear in mind, however, that it should be the best whisky, as anything else is injurious, and also remember that the best physicians and chemists in America unhesitatingly declare that Duffy's Pure Malt has no equal. The effect of this whisky is to build up the system, to improve the complexion and to give brightness and vigor in the place of weakness and languor. It is being used by the leading ladies in the land, and its popularity proves its value.
