How the Fourth Was Spent at Long Beach.

Large Crowds Visit Santa Monica and Redondo.

Newspaper Items From Newark—The Crops Looking Well and the Fruit Trees Overladen.

Correspondence of the HERALD.

Our summer visitors are coming in daily by the hundreds, last Sunday's trains alone bringing in over 700 hundred people, the greater portion remaining here for the season.

A great crowd attended the open air concert at the pavilion, the music of the Los Angeles band proving more attractive than the church organs.

By far the largest number of people who ever gathered at Long Beach was here on the Fourth. From an estimate made by Governor Mintzer, and fortified by the judgment of several others, there was close on to 8,000 people here.

The hotels and restaurants were completely cleaned out of everything eatable, the pavilion, as a matter of course, doing by far the greater bulk of the business, they feeding something over 900 of our visitors.

The bath houses were taxed to their utmost, many intending bathers having to wait over an hour in order to get a room. For such a large crowd it was one of the best behaved ever seen.

No drunks, no disorderly conduct, a spirit of rest and enjoyment seemed to possess them, and they were all loud in their praise of the beautiful beach.

Shortly after 12 o'clock the yachts from San Pedro hove in view, and our visitors were treated to what to many of them was novel, a yacht race.

The pupils of the Long Beach public school inaugurated the Fourth by hoisting a handsome flag on their school house. The scholars were decked in their finest, and evinced much enthusiasm in their proceeding.

There was a brief resumé of the leading events of the century, most graphically presented by their principal, Prof. Trowbridge, and singing by the pupils of the "Star-Spangled Banner" and "Red, White and Blue."

As the first line of the "Star-Spangled Banner" was sung, Carrie Lockett, a little miss about 7 years of age, hoisted the flag. For intelligence and thorough understanding of the subjects taught, the pupils of the Long Beach public school are above the average of scholars of the same age and grade as themselves in the schools in other states.

There are several of the scholars for whom a bright future is predicted.

George W. Bond of Los Angeles, has just completed the handsome pagoda at the entrance to the city park. The pagoda will be a great boon to the traveling public. Our trustees can increase their popularity by having a hydrant supplied with drinking cups at the pagoda.

The city's flag staff was successfully put in place last Thursday by Mr. James G. Dunn and Charles Cookson.

The city was all decked out with flags and bunting for the Fourth.

Among some of our visitors on the Fourth were: I. W. Hellman, J. A. Fillmore, general superintendent of the S. P. R. R., Capt. Chas. T. Healey, W. C. Owen of the Nationalist, and Dr. Peckles.

There will be an open-air concert every Thursday, Saturday and Sunday at the pavilion by the Los Angeles City Band.

Redondo Beach. Correspondence of the HERALD. The little city by the sea was gaily filled with patriotism on the Fourth, from the smallest boy to the full-grown man. The topmast of every house was well decorated with red, white and blue.

Bob Davis had his ship on wheels. The different racing matches were all carried out with entire satisfaction, and without a jar.

The beach was crowded with people—the largest crowd that has ever assembled. The Santa Fe and Redondo Beach lines carried more people than at any other time since the roads have been in existence, which plainly shows that Redondo Beach is fast gaining ground as a seaside resort.

The number of parties who have engaged rooms at the Redondo hotel, for the summer, from San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles is nearly enough to fill the house. Among the recent arrivals at the Redondo hotel are Colonel H. Et. Robusal and wife, Riverside; Mrs. Sarah B. Cooper, Miss Hattie B. Cooper, San Francisco; William Stranton, Pasadena; S. N. Andrews, Pomona; H. F. Finney, Detroit, Mich.; S. Z. Gilbert and wife, Riverside; Mr. Lorrie Haight, Redlands; C. R. Backus, Walter James and wife, C. R. Smith, Charles Wilier, G. W. Frink, Albert De Stevens, wife and three children, Los Angeles; Miss Kate Stevens, San Gabriel; Miss Agnes Gray, Miss Annie Ward, San Gabriel; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Ward, Shirley C. Ward, E. G. Lunt, T. J. Hanman, R. E. Kier and wife, R. M. Widney, Helen Widney, Master Widney, R. J. Widney, Arthur Widney, Miss Cannon, Los Angeles. There are many others who have applied for rooms for Sunday.

Redondo, July 4th.

Santa Monica. Correspondence of the HERALD. Notwithstanding Santa Monica did not present any other attraction than the charms with which nature has endowed her, and though all the other resorts presented various and attractive special attractions, she had a fine attendance on the Fourth, and every train was crowded to its utmost capacity.

Numbers drove down, and after taking a dip in the briny, drove to the cañon and elsewhere. The basket picnicker was out in force. Fishing from the wharf was good, and the pier was lined all day by lovers of this kind of sport.

The beach was alive with bathers from early until late. The small boy and his firecrackers were everywhere, and amid the noise of the breakers could be heard the bang of the bomb. Quite a number of our visitors stayed down to avail themselves of the special rates, the return tickets being good until the 7th, and the beach was alive in the evening with those who had never witnessed before the play of moonlight on the waters.

Our fire ladders paraded all over town in their new uniforms, and received praise everywhere they went from our visitors. The citizens of the town ought to be proud of the boys, for they are a manly lot, and their foreman, G. B. Dexter, understands the management of a company. After parading while they had a photograph taken on the beach.

Among those seen on the sands were: S. C. Foy and family, who drove down; S. C. Reinhardt, R. Stewart, Mrs. Dugor, Miss Mattie Gordon and Mr. Parker, of East Los Angeles; Deputy Sheriff Wray, Constable Anderson and Chalk Roberts; George Elliot, E. E. Sorabjee, G. R. Lewis, Mrs. C. W. Stone, Mrs. L. E. Warren, Mrs. Minnie Fogg, Miss Letta Ross, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Fayman, C. H. Williams, San Francisco; Mrs. Judge Campbell. The following Pomona citizens were noticed: Prof. Little and wife; Dr. and Mrs. Little, J. H. Lee, of the Times-Courier; Mr. Baldwin, Mrs. Kirkland, W. Martin and family and Fred Smith.

Lon. Hill, of Los Angeles, spend the day here enjoying the surf.

North beach had a crowd of bathers all day long, who enjoyed the surf and hot baths.

Col. Swipes delivered a magnificent oration at Charlie Kimball's and finished with a masterly discourse on sea weed.

A merry party of our young men were ushering in the Fourth Thursday evening, when the ring they were using with the anvil broke and was driven into the leg of George Kennedy, making a very painful flesh wound. The accident turned the young fellows' fun into sorrow.

Quite a number of our citizens spent the evening in Los Angeles, witnessing the fireworks display, returning on the 11 p. m. special.

John Bassett has been promoted to train dispatcher here; that is, the company has placed a bell in the depot, which when John rings before the train starts, and then calls out all aboard and goes on his way rejoicing.

The late arrivals at the Lawrence house are: Mr. Thomas and son, Fresno; J. A. Booty, Dr. and Mrs. Tucker, Barton Darlington, A. Stewart, Mrs. Swanwick, Miss Mammie Swanwick, Los Angeles; Lillie Bosco, Buffalo; Miss Emma T. Moore, Chicago; Rev. George P. Kimball, J. W. Ross and wife, Pasadena; Mrs. O. P. Seaton and son, Miss Alice M. Davis, Mrs. J. P. Conners, Miss D. Kelly, El Paso, Tex.

At the Boehme block there were: Mrs. Andrew Mullen, Mrs. Edward Mullen, Mrs. Genevieve Mullen, Andrew J. Mullen, Jr., Miss Emma Fleishman, Mrs. O. Flinn, Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Fisher, Gus. R. Lene, Mrs. C. W. Stone, Mrs. L. E. Warren, Mrs. Minnie Fogg, Miss Y. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Heinsch, Mr. A. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Nary, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. W. Fayman, James B. Pyatt, Dr. and Mrs. Fullerton and child, Mrs. Judge Campbell and son, Los Angeles; R. W. Bailey, J. H. Walbridge, P. H. Michmer, C. L. Miller, T. A. Simpson, F. L. Ryder, H. G. Polly, Frank McGary, Miss Larken, Pasadena; C. L. Strange, Riverside; Mrs. C. H. Williams and son, San Francisco; Mrs. E. H. Siebold, Denver, N. M.; Miss Daisy Walbridge and Master Bennie Walbridge, New York; George A. Thain, Chicago. J. C. H.

Chicago, July 5th.

Norwalk Items. Correspondence of the HERALD. Norwalk's advance is steady and strong. Lands uncultivated heretofore are being made productive. The artesian belt is the place for the man of small means and the home-builders. Beautiful fields of grape and orchard are seen on all sides. Trees loaded with fruit to such an extent that their branches fall to support the weight and fall to the ground in many places, bear testimony to the fertility of the soil. Here the orange, grape, fig—in fact, any of the many favorite fruits bear well and are free from pests. Berries do especially well, yielding enormous crops and bringing good incomes to their owners.

Our little town is as yet hardly known outside of its immediate neighborhood. For the benefit of those who do not know we will say that Norwalk is on the Southern Pacific road, sixteen miles southeast of Los Angeles. It is a small town of some 300 population; has two large and well-stocked general merchandise stores, hotel, drug store, livery stable, lumber yard, wood and feed yard, two blacksmith and carriage shops, harness shop, three grocery stores and cheese factory, a fine school (just closed), two churches and one other to be built this fall, two city halls, a number of secret societies and newspapers. Its people are progressive and intelligent, its climate unexcelled, its soil deep and fertile, and never-failing streams of pure water within easy reach. Again we extend an invitation to visit us and see what we brag of. Our vineyards are in a healthy state, vigorous and heavily laden. Our orange trees are full of fruit and have never had scale of any kind.

According to custom long since established this place has united with its sister town of Downey, miles to her west, in celebrating the National birthday, and accordingly everybody went over on the Fourth to partake of Downey's hospitality. It was a day well spent and most thoroughly enjoyed.

J. S. Elliott, of the New River district, is back again from his Texas trip, and says this section is far ahead of anything he saw while there. He was in sight of a cyclone that destroyed considerable life and property, and thinks he prefers our little Fall freshets. A number of his friends back there will come this way this fall if they can unload their Texas property.

Pleasant Brown, well known in the city, is at Santa Paula with friends.

A. Sprout and wife was among the Long Beach visitors on the fourth.

A number of our citizens took Los Angeles in on the 4th.

One of our blacksmith firms, Sexton & Stark, are supposed to have skipped for pastures new, as an empty truck, alleged unpaid board, whiskey, and sundry other bills seem to suggest.

Our cheese factory is still forging ahead running out cheese a little slower than the demand warrants.

Happy merchants and smiling farmers suggest an era of prosperity and peace.

New houses, building, and new faces coming in are indications of healthy growth. Two new brick blocks are almost assured.

Edwin Caston, of ostrich farm fame, has just returned from a trip to San Francisco, where he went to deliver three birds to a Honolulu firm, and for which he received $1,000 cash.

Our alfalfa-fed horses are becoming known rapidly and well. Mr. A. Sprout sold a span to Mr. Wiley, of Riverside, last week.

All quiet along the San Gabriel, and happiness reigns supreme. A trip will convince the skeptic and satisfy the longings of the hunter after wealth and health.
