Correspondence of the Herald.

The particulars of the death at sea of our former shoemaker, George Ripley, noticed in the HERALD columns a few weeks ago, have been received from the captain of the steamer Maine by his parents. It appears he slipped from the mast and fell to the deck, dying almost instantly. He was buried at sea. The parents of the deceased have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

Rev. W. F. Lloyd died Tuesday morning of asthma, at his residence on Athena street. He was a native of Massachusetts, and a minister in the Episcopal church.

Mr. Loel, who has been traveling in the northwest a great deal of late, returned to his home a few days ago. He expects to take up his residence in Oakland soon.

N. A. Covarrubias will attend the Democratic state convention as a delegate.

Master Jess Tucker spent last Sunday at Long Beach.

Mrs. J. R. Umsted and children have taken up their abode for the summer season at Santa Monica.

A. E. McConnell and family are domiciled in a tent at Long Beach.

Mrs. S. M. Cool arrived home from Long Beach Monday afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Watson, of Boyle Heights, occupied the M. E. church Sunday morning. The evening service was conducted by Rev. Geo. M. Smith.

Mrs. T. W. Tolchard and her two children are enjoying tent life at Long Beach.

Miss Helen Sinsabaugh visited Long Beach this week.

The weather was very warm today, Wednesday.

Masters Chas. Bell and Will McConnell visited Long Beach Sunday.

Correspondence of the Herald.

James P. Watrous, of Chicago, and family are spending a few weeks at this seaside.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Chambers, of Los Angeles, are enjoying the season in the city by the sea.

The Benedict brothers returned Tuesday from a hunting trip, bringing in a fine deer with them.

The thresher is busy on the Jones and Baker ranch, and over 30,000 sacks will be this year's harvest.

Mrs. C. A. Black and Miss Parks, of Bakersfield, are summering with Mrs. W. D. Fuller on north beach.

Walter Maxwell and family have taken up their quarters here, where they will remain for the summer months.

Prof. Dickinson's lecture last evening on the "Moon," at the opera house was listened to by a large and appreciative audience.

Miss Nellie Brady, of Florence, Arizona, is passing a week or two by the sea, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Carrillo, on Second street.

Fifth street, between Oregon and Nevada avenues, has been graded. The contractors are now grading, and next week the cement sidewalks will be laid.

Mrs. D. Cates presented her husband with a beautiful little daughter, weighing eight pounds, Wednesday morning, and the genial doctor is now the happiest man in town.

John Pennar, one of Pasadena's solid business men, accompanied by his charming bride, will pass their honeymoon in this delightful resort, and while here will occupy rooms in the Boehme block.

Henry J. Kramer, of Los Angeles, will form a class in dancing next Friday evening at the Arcadia hotel. Friday evenings are set for ladies and gentlemen, and for ladies, misses and masters Saturday afternoons during the season.

John Walbridge, Miss Daisy and Master Ben Walbridge left yesterday for Catalina, to spend a month, returning to pass September. Mr. Walbridge has passed three seasons here and made many friends who regret his departure.

The fishing is more than good, last night's catch being over a ton by the various crews. Captain Luce's crew gathered in 200 pounds of pompano and 200 more of surf, yellow fins and mackerel; Captain Stout's, 150 pounds of surf and 200 pounds of pompano; George Degenhardt's, over 400 pounds of croakers, albacore and surf. The amateur fishing on the wharf is also good.

The thermometer here was 74 degrees, with a delicious balmy breeze. All the hotels are full, the Jackson having every available cot pressed into service. North beach has over 700 guests tenting on her sands, and south beach 500 more.

The bathing is all that the most critical could desire, and the surf at north beach was fairly alive with bathers from sunrise to long past sunset. A number preferred to take a dip by the light of the moon. Speaking about north beach, your correspondent while strolling the beach met Judge Fitzgerald, M. R. Higgins, C. F. Webster and B. Chandler, four fine amateur swimmers, who stated that there was no place they had ever seen that compared with north beach.

The Arcadia hotel bathing place was gay with "revelers," for over twelve hundred came down. Many city men ran away for the day. In the evening there was some charming music in the Arcadia parlors, and some fine selections given by the guests of the house. Outside was heard the echo of music borne in on the breeze from cottage and tent—the guitar and banjo. Many small gatherings are held round about as the shadows drop down. There are some fine musicians and singers, the editors of a San Francisco magazine, two ex-senators, and one author that has a book of poems nearly ready for the press—all indwellers here at present.

The Arcadia guests registered are: B. F. Stein, Los Angeles; H. G. Wiltshire, Fullerton; D. R. Risley, Pasadena; F. A. Haberton, Alhambra; D. L. Grove, Los Angeles; C. W. Buck, Highlands, Ill.; J. W. Walker and son, G. G. Perry, Joliet, Ill.; R. F. Del Valle, M. E. Muney, Los Angeles; Ivy Baldwin, Quincy, Ill.; W. H. Henderson, W. H. Busch, Los Angeles; Jas. O. Mason, Santa Monica; Mrs. M. Woodworth, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Owens and children and three lady friends, Miss Owens, Fullerton; C. V. Scott, W. E. Dunn, Mrs. J. Carson, Jr., R. Walker, Frank Dyer, Los Angeles; J. B. Harrison, D. L. Vickery, C. F. Pierce, S. P. R. B.; C. F. Ainsworth, wife and child, Phoenix; Mrs. A. J. Bryant, Colton; Jno. Gale and wife, Cincinnati; G. Wallace, San Francisco; H. H. Weber, Los Angeles; Dr. J. F. Hatch, San Francisco; Geo. Kerckhoff and wife, Miss Kerckhoff, Los Angeles; Fred Drew, H. L. Drew and wife, San Bernardino.

SUMMER SCHOOL PICNIC.

A Pleasant Day Spent in Santa Monica Canon.

No summer school in the United States can surpass in advantage of climate, pleasure attractions or excellence of instruction the one now in session under the management of Prof. E. P. Powell, of Santa Monica, and Prof. Plummer, of Rosedale. These gentlemen planned to have the teachers with their families and friends to take and spend an evening in Santa Monica canon.

Promptly at 4 o'clock Wednesday a merry party of ladies and gentlemen started from the school house and in a pleasant half-hour drive arrived at a beautiful spot in the canon, shaded by a huge sycamore and made cool and pleasant by the delightful sea breeze blowing.

As soon as everyone alighted Prof. Powell kindled a fire and the ladies began roasting corn and making coffee. Mrs. J. Powell Rice, of San Diego, and Miss Mary E. Foy, of Los Angeles, made the coffee, and such coffee! "Jimmie" Foshay, of Monrovia, was kept very busy carving watermelons, for which he seems to have developed considerable talent.

Superintendent Monroe, of Pasadena, and Prof. Dickinson, of the University, helped very much at the table. Finally, everything was completed, and one of the finest lunches of the season was served.

Only one thought seemed to possess each individual—if possible nothing must be left to carry home. After lunch the members of the party amused themselves by strolling under shades in the canon, by games interspersed with singing, etc. At 8 o'clock all started, and driving homeward by the coast road, enjoyed scenery the equal of which can not be found on the continent. Entering town party spirit ran high for a serene, and the man selected for punishment was Hon. Abbot Kinney, of Pasadena. "Home, Sweet Home" soon brought his stalwart form to the gate, but pity forbidding further cruelty, the party drove on and soon disbanded for the evening. The following ladies and gentlemen were participants in this most pleasant and enjoyable affair: Professor Lucky, principal of schools at Ontario; Mrs. Lucky, Ontario; Miss Bertha Lucky, Ontario; Miss Annie Bristley, Pomona; Miss Amelia Foshay, Riverside; Miss Mary E. Foy, Los Angeles; Miss Monica Chase, Alhambra; Miss Helen Mead, Cucamonga; Miss Elizabeth Featherston, Cucamonga; Miss Lida M. Henry, Riverside; Miss J. W. Aldrich, Riverside; Miss Hattie C. Stacy, Pasadena; Miss Ara Riggins, Pasadena; Miss Florence A. Darby, Downey; Miss Lizzie E. Webster, Redlands; Mrs. Belle Williams, Rialto; Miss H. M. Scott, Pasadena; Mr. Milburn L. Fish, Pueblo, Col.; Miss Emily Parke, Wilkesbarre, Penn.; Miss Nellie Parsons, Santa Monica; Miss Francis Fraser, Santa Monica; Mrs. A. E. Ashly, Miss S. J. Ingram, Colton; Mr. J. T. Van Wyck, Coleridge; Miss Carrie B. McCoy, Downey; Miss Emily Johnson, San Bernardino; Miss Mary H. Buckham, Miss Emily Buckham, Mission; Dr. Elmer Francis Platt, Santa Monica; Miss Clara Stoltenberg, Los Angeles; Miss Carrie Atkinson, Los Angeles; Miss Susie Wagle, Santa Monica; Miss Frances Harrow, Los Angeles; Miss Clara McMillen, Riverside; Mr. L. H. Evans, Pasadena; Mr. Edward Hutchinson, Los Angeles; Mr. J. D. Graham, Pasadena; Mrs. J. Powell Rice, San Diego; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Pemberton, West Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Foshay, Monrovia; Dr. and Mrs. Plummer, Rosedale; Miss A. J. Miller, Los Angeles; Miss Anna C. Pratt, Santa Monica; Prof. John Dickinson, University, Los Angeles; Prof. Will S. Monroe, Pasadena; Miss Kate Alexander, Pennsylvania; Mr. E. P. Rowell, Miss Emma Wagle, Santa Monica; Miss Kate Winslow, San Francisco.

LECTURES.

Among the prominent lectures to be delivered are the following:

"The Four Napoleons," illustrated by Mr. C. E. Bolton.

"The Sham Family," a novelty of wit and satire—fifty heads under one bonnet—that makes sport of sham in all the walks of life.

"Reunited Germany and Heroic Louise," by C. E. Bolton, a lecture of the highest order, and represented on large canvas, in illustrations.

Mr. Bolton will deliver other lectures upon "Russia and Romanoffs" and "Land of the Midnight Sun."

"The Blind Man Eloquent," or Dr. W. H. Milburn, the blind champion of the house of representatives, will deliver five of his world-famous lectures: "What a Blind Man Saw in England," "What a Blind Man Saw in Washington Forty Years Ago, and What He Sees There Now," "The Mouth of Gold," "What a Blind Man Saw in Paris," Mr. Milburn will also preach one or two sermons during the session of the assembly.

"Military Genius" is the title of a lecture by Gen. L. A. Sheldon, to be given August 12.

John De Witt Miller—the very name of this popular lecturer is enough to provoke a smile, as he stands side by side with the other De Witt (Talmage) in versatility, humor and pathos—he lectures on the "Uses of Ugliness," August 2; "Love, Courtship and Marriage," August 4; "The Stranger at Our Gates," August 5, and "Distinguished Men I Have Met," on August 6.

"The Life and Times of Thomas Jefferson," is the subject of an able lecture by Stephen Bowers, Ph. D.
