A Balloon Ascension at Santa Monica. Large Crowds at Redondo—A Big Fish Record.

Correspondence of the HERALD.—Twenty-five carloads of people came down yesterday over the Santa Fe route and as many were brought by the Redondo Beach railway as its trains could carry. Every yacht and sail boat was put to constant use.

Fishing poles were in great demand. A careful count showed that 150 fishers on the wharf caught 183 fish in five minutes by the watch.

At the Ladies' Aid Society's entertainment last evening there was a very large attendance. Besides the members there were twenty children of the kindergarten and forty outsiders. The programme was opened by singing several very pretty songs by the kindergarten girls; followed by a violin solo by Miss Cotton; recitation by Miss Clara Bingham; organ solo, Miss Stella Blanchard.

Some colored waiters came over from the Hotel Redondo and sang. The steam schooner South Coast, loaded with 125,000 feet of lumber, arrived this morning from Fort Barge. The steamer Bonita also landed at the wharf.

Victor Guio, Andy Furrey, Gus Armstrong, Los Angeles, and Harry Losher, from San Bernardino, were among those having a good time today in the water. Mr. Ground and family moved their tent today upon wheels, to another location nearer the beach.

The steamer Los Angeles touched here today, with freight and passengers from San Francisco.

The "Benito" sailed for San Diego, leaving about the same time that the Los Angeles arrived.

The guests at the Hotel Redondo were: Mrs. Perry Wildman, Miss Wildman, Arthur Baldwin, Oakland; J. D. Westervelt and wife, Los Angeles; Henry Sherer, Los Angeles; John O. Lowe, Pasadena; Walter Raymond, Raymond hotel; Ben C. Truman, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Hovey, Raymond hotel; H. Maynard and wife, Los Angeles; W. H. Esdor, Los Angeles; Wm. H. Hoeger, Los Angeles; J. E. S. Dunn, Los Angeles; Mrs. Riffle and boys, Kansas City; Wm. G. Kuntz, Jr., Los Angeles; Miss Laura Smith, Los Angeles; Willy Reissell, Los Angeles; Willy Anderson, Los Angeles; L. B. Lawson, Los Angeles; Charles H. Humphreys, Los Angeles; C. H. M. Kevelt, Santa Paula; Dr. L. W. Wells and wife, Los Angeles; H. G. Lesher and Mrs. J. W. Lesher, San Bernardino; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Doolittle, Riverside; A. R. Greening, Long Beach; Miss L. Kernaghan, Pasadena; A. B. Ashman, Los Angeles; Mrs. Hall and sister, Los Angeles; H. A. Barday and wife, Los Angeles; F. M. Burehling, Denver.

Among those at the Ocean View hotel were Mrs. J. F. Kramer and Mr. and Mrs. Wagner, of Orange county, and H. Kinch and wife, of San Bernardino. The Tam O'Shanter is overdue with lumber for the extension of the wharf, which is to be built out 160 feet for deep-sea vessel carriage.

Geo. W. Boyd, who has been more than three years with the Santa Fe, has joined the Redondo Railway Company. Tonight Mrs. Francis Edgerton, of San Francisco, Miss Florence Edgerton, and Morris Clarke, of Acton, gave an entertainment to the guests of Hotel Redondo, consisting of recitations and songs.

Santa Monica. Correspondence of the HERALD.—The announcement that "Prof." Baldwin would make a balloon ascension drew fully 6,000 people to this place today. He started his machine off on time and went up, hanging to a piece of webbing which was attached to the parachute. He climbed up this hand over hand until he reached the trapeze, when he went through a complicated gymnastic performance. He then pulled a cord to which was attached a knife, and away shot the balloon, the parachute dropping fully 200 feet before it opened. The descent from that on was graceful in the extreme. The "professor" landed on terra firma again, and the great ascension and jump was a thing of the past.

The wharf, notwithstanding the many attractions, was alive all day with anxious fishermen, who were amply rewarded by their good fortune.

It would be less difficult to mention those who were not here than those who were. Among the thousands on the beach were noticed Col. E. E. Hewitt, J. M. Crawley, Henry Steyer, Charles Brock, A. H. Denker and family, Miss Jennie Greenbaum, O. A. Campbell, Horace Bell, J. Lee Burton, Charles White, L. A. McConnell, J. McClure, W. R. Hunter, Theodore Summerland, Deputy Sheriff Wray and Brady, Chalk Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. E. McGregor, M. V. Biscalluz, R. B. Lovell, E. M. Hopp, B. F. Marsh, O. K. Cushing, R. J. Adcock, J. C. Murray, A. Stewart, W. J. White, H. Schmidt, S. Riehard, H. A. Powers, M. H. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fayman, J. Cohn, T. Hammel, I. J. and Jake Gotthelf, F. D. Reynolds, W. E. Bloss, Frank Beeman, W. H. Davenport, Judge Fitzgerald, J. F. Powers, J. Castera, R. H. Watson, W. H. Coulter, H. G. Clark, Jesse Hardesty, A. M. Ryan, Ed. Zobelein, A. N. Kelsey, H. P. Moore. Miss Jennie Bell spent the day here.

H. S. Scott, cashier of the Los Angeles Valley Bank, R. B. Harris, and F. G. Barnett, of Downey, enjoyed the day here.

Louis Roeder, Jack Johnson and M. F. Glosser formed a merry party of old timers who have done much towards the developing of Southern California. They spent the day here.

Long Beach. Correspondence of the HERALD.—The ball at the pavilion Saturday night was a very brilliant affair, a great many coming from Los Angeles and other places, the large special train from Los Angeles being crowded.

The pavilion was illuminated on the outside by Chinese lanterns being strung around the verandahs, and inside it was handsomely decorated with flowers, wreaths, flags and bunting. The following are only a few of the number present:

ent: Misses Unis Weston Blanchard, Sarah Elliot Blanchard, Nathan Weston Blanchard, Jr., Santa Paula; Miss Ennis, Misses Flora Rawson, Day Wakelee, Clara Newton, May Newton, Miss Forrester, Miss McCarty, Miss Boynton, Mrs. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Vignes, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Prussia, Mrs. Ennis, Mr. P. Farr, Mr. and Mrs. Hart, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Banning, Miss L. and D. Laubersheimer, Minnie Stout, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hays, Jake Wiley, F. C. Carey, Geo. Carey, Wm. Bryant, Wilmington; Mrs. Halstead, Captain Dornfield, Tom Polhamus, San Pedro; Harry Bixby, Fred Bixby, C. I. Goucher and wife, Mr. Wakelee, Mrs. Wakelee, Miss Louis Wakelee, Maud Wakeley, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Fife, Edwin Lockett, Lin Lovett, Mr. and Mrs. Hart, Judge C. S. Hussey, Mr. and Mrs. Captain Healey, Miss M. C. Kingsbury, Will Kingsbury, Mr. and Mrs. Will E. Sweeney, Miss Kernaghan, Mr. and Mrs. Stovell, Mr. G. D. Curtis, Hugh Findley, Long Beach; R. L. McKnight, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Goucher, J. O. Faulk, John Off, Los Angeles; J. F. Mullin, Pasadena; Geo. Vaughn and wife, Long Beach.

Captain C. F. Healey has been surveying for the new railroad all the week.

Pomona Items. Correspondence of the HERALD.—C. C. Mason is a candidate for re-election to the office of county assessor.

Captain J. A. Driffl of Company D, Ninth Regiment, Pomona, was up at Ventura recently giving the soldiers there a drill.

J. W. Francis is a candidate for re-election to the office of county recorder, and Con. Howe, president of the board of education, is a candidate for county auditor.

The first car-load of dried fruit, containing 125 tons, was shipped Wednesday from North Pomona over the Santa Fe, and from Packard's Evergreen ranch. Cook & Langley were the shippers.

The prices which agents for wholesale fruit firms in Pomona have offered for fruits range as follows: Dried apricots at 14 cents a pound; dried peaches at 17 cents; dried prunes at 8 1/2 cents, and green pears at 2 and 2 1/2 cents a pound.

It is estimated by G. C. Muir, who has contracted for 150 tons of green prunes this season, that the prune crop of Pomona valley amounts to over 450 tons. Forty dollars a ton is the selling price, which brings $18,000 more into the valley.

Here are some facts about the price received for apricots by the raisers in this valley: A. L. Taylor has 120 trees planted on one and a quarter acres in Southeast Pomona from which he realized $510 or $290 a ton. W. T. Johnson obtained from ten acres $1,945; Geo. Bender from three acres $827.

The following estimates of what the deciduous fruit crop will bring to the orchardists this year is made by one of Pomona's fruit-growers and fruit-buyers, and one who has been in the business some years:

Table with 2 columns: Fruit type and Price per ton. Includes Apricots (1,600 tons at $34.00), Peaches (1,100 tons at 20.50), Pears (350 tons at 13.00), Strawberries (8,200 tons at 4.00), Plums (not known) at 4.00, Nectarines (80 tons at 2.40), Olives (not closely estimated) at 2.50, Raisin grapes (200 tons) at 20.00, and Wine grapes at 23.00.

Coronado. Correspondence of the HERALD.—Coronado evidently has become the rendezvous on this coast for pleasure-hunters as well as for those who desire rest from the cares of active business life. This Paradise of the Pacific each season increases in popularity, the grand hotel has prospered; its business is increased and its good name is becoming more wide-spread; season after season rolls past and finds a steady gain in the number of its guests. Now it is becoming as much of a summering place as heretofore it has been famous as a grand winter resort.

So far this season crowds have been coming and crowds have been staying here, and now everything has warmed into midsummer active throbbing life. The great verandahs and the beach have for a long time been quite gay during most of the day with bright-colored, strange-looking, showy garments, which seem to be quite the thing for seaside wear. All who conveniently can have left their homes in the city or in the interior and already have taken refuge in a mountain retreat or in some place near the ocean, where pale faces will soon be changed to a ruddier, deeper tint. Some even will permit their cheeks to be beautifully bronzed with a healthy hue of tan, in which there's more real beauty than in the rosy pink and white of an English girl's cheeks. Health and vigor soon follow a visit to Coronado, as here there are so many methods for physical culture and outdoor exercise got up for the benefit of visitors. At present there are visitors from nearly every county in California, and the indications already are that this fall and next winter will see an immense gathering of fashionable society leaders, millionaires and the regular tourists, all of whom must flee from the cold and unpleasantness of an eastern winter.

There are hops and musical parties every evening, besides the regular balls every week. Yachting is much indulged in, and at present yachting is securing more attention than it has ever done here before. The new iron pier is a most attractive fishing ground. Swimming is also a favorite pastime and many of the ladies are expert and graceful swimmers.

The other evening a very delightful pink dinner party was given by Miss Brown and Miss Barnes to their young friends. It was the event of the week. Covers were laid for twenty-two and the table was ornamented with three large flower pieces, chiefly pink roses, one in the center and the others near the ends. Along either side of these and extending nearly the entire length of the table were strands of smilax interspersed with pink roses and bordered with soft full folds of pink tulle.

Designating the place each was to occupy were hand-painted souvenirs of rose pink ribbon—the work of Miss Barbour—attached to a card bearing the name of the guest. The ladies were all handsomely attired, Miss Brown appearing in black tulle with lavender silk trimming, and Miss Barnes in white silk. The other ladies were:

Miss Siebin, who wore a gown of shrimp pink brocade silk, and Miss Bigley, black satin, with red silk bootee. Miss Butler, a beautiful pompadour costume of brocade and lace. Miss Barbour, pink net over silk of the same color. Miss Blakeney, pink, with white point d'esprit.

Miss Huntington, a gown of white mull, the perfect simplicity of which added a charm to the sweet, thoughtful face. Miss Jarecki, dotted lace over pale blue silk. Miss Cate, lemon silk, with lace, cut decollete. Miss Wade, blue crepe de chine. The gentlemen were Messrs. McKenzie, Bailey, Huntington, Austin, Morton, Trippet, Brown, Spencer, Livingston, and Lawrie and Moody.

After the dinner the party adjourned to the ball room, where a gay company was already collecting. Governor and Mrs. Waterman graced the assemblage with their presence, the governor appearing in the first lancers with Miss Mullen as his partner, a young lady in black, who looked like a Greek goddess.

There were many other elaborate costumes in addition to those already named, among the most notable being Mrs. J. D. Sprackels, who wore white surah with diamond ornaments; Mrs. Higgins, white China crepe trimmed with black ribbons; Miss Crowley, black lace over rich yellow satin, and Miss Cassie Foster, a dainty Japanese costume of white cashmere and pink silk, with flowing sleeves and exquisite sprays of wild rose painted on the front drapery.

It was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season. Rev. Alfred Kummer, an eminent divine of Portland, Oregon, is at the hotel. Frank N. Rusk, the Los Angeles insurance agent, is at the hotel.

H. Tuggey, a well-known and favorite commercial man from Rochester, registered at Hotel del Coronado yesterday. Frank Maeder and wife, agent for Nellie McHenry company, seemed much pleased with Coronado and the hotel.

W. D. English, of Oakland, president of the board of state harbor commissioners, is registered at Hotel del Coronado. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Heller, of San Francisco, now taking in the sights of Southern California, are registered at Hotel del Coronado.

F. A. Whitmore, assistant general freight agent of the Southern California railroad, is registered at Hotel del Coronado. Coronado, July 26, 1890.

IF NOT, WHY NOT? The Bar Association to Select Candidates for Justices.

The three Republican justices of the peace in this city are scarcely to be envied. One of them is charged with a serious crime; another, by reason of his modest ideas as to the amount of bail certain offenders should furnish, caused much recent gossip; another narrowly escaped serious complications by reason of his ignorance of the legal construction put on pawing another fellow's diamond ring. Mr. Bradner W. Lee, the well-known attorney, had all these incidents in mind yesterday when he remarked to a HERALD reporter that it was high time to reform the justices' courts. "I hope the Bar Association will take the matter up, and recommend candidates for these offices to the nominating conventions. It is a disgraceful state of things. It is an outrage on decent people to compel them to appear in these courts in any capacity—plaintiff, defendant, witness or juror. The wiles which are pulled there reach out to the influences of Alameda street and Chinatown. These recent scandals cap the climax. The Bar Association can judge better than a convention of the fitness of men for such places. Its recommendations for superior court candidates are usually respected. An effort will be made to have the association aid in the matter."

It is stated that a majority of the members of the association favor the plan.

HO FOR LOS ANGELES. The Cry of the Railroad Builder Now-a-Days.

This is the railroad theory, and it is a good one, which a veteran railroad man yesterday outlined to a HERALD reporter.

"I have a brother and two cousins interested in the Pacific Short Line, now being built from Sioux City to Ogden, which illustrates the modern tendency of railroad construction. When I first railroaded, early in the sixties, all the big lines ended at the Mississippi river; there were the Burlington, the Rock Island and the Northwestern, all at the river. They soon found that was too far east, and a grand scramble followed for the Missouri river. When they got there, they found themselves no better off than before, and they all started for Denver. When they got there, they still found that they could not get their share of Pacific coast business, and off they all shot for Ogden as the end of their rainbow, but the bag of gold was not found there. The old story repeated itself; their termini were still too far east. The result will be that inside of five years all these roads will build through to the Pacific, and every one of them will build to Los Angeles."

TWO MICHIGANDERS Who Know a Good Scheme When They See It. Deeds for 2,000 acres of timber land and an option on 20,000 acres more in the San Bernardino mountains, near Bear valley, were filed on Saturday in San Bernardino by C. D. and James F. Dansher, of Ludington, Mich. They intend to go extensively into the lumber business and to build a railroad from San Bernardino to Bear valley. This will serve a double purpose, for it will be used to transport the lumber and to make available the large ice crop which is now wasted each year. The road will also be able to do all the business for the mining district of Holcomb valley. Preliminary surveys show that the line can be readily constructed without any heavy grade. The enterprise is an important one, both in results, which will follow its execution and in the faith it shows eastern capitalists have in Southern California resources.

LUCKY MONROVIA. It Now Owns Its Source of Water Supply. It is a wise city that owns its own water system, and such is Monrovia. That place may not be having a boom just now, but it managed on Wednesday to scratch together $18,850, and handed it over to Mr. W. A. Field, who put it in his pocket and gave to the city in exchange a deed for 1,516 acres of land and water rights of the Deer Park Company's property in Saw Pit cañon. This sale makes Monrovia the owner of its source of water supply and distributing system.

LEVANTED TEELE

Is Seen Promenading in Union Square, New York.

"The world is small, very small when a man tries to hide in it" said a gentleman recently from New York, yesterday, to a HERALD man. "About ten days ago I was walking across Union Square, and met Si Goodfriend; you remember Goodfriend don't you, he used to be bookkeeper on the Times. But who do you suppose was with him? Why, Teele, A. L. Teele, the real estate agent who skipped out of here a year or so ago. He looked chipper and prosperous, those fellows always do you know." "Teele flew high here, he was a bird" said the reporter. "Yes, he was a bird, but he is a dead duck now as far as this city is concerned."
