

THE HUNGRY GIRL,

Who Has Plenty of Room for Her Liver,

Mr. Ambrose Thinks Is the One to Love.

Yesterday's Chautauqua Sport and Lectures at Redondo.

The Winners of the Contests—Interesting Lectures—Notes and Gossip.

The first exercise on the Chautauqua programme of yesterday was the Bible readings, and it is to the credit of the conductors that these readings draw audiences remarkably large.

At 11 a. m. J. Clement Ambrose gave his third and last lecture, "The Sham Family." He prefaced his remarks by saying that his "family" was an exception, the world was not all bad. He only cared to step on the shams that hurt most.

"Fine dress is no sin. The silk worm and Alaska seal get nearest heaven when on your wife's back, and if you don't think so, you ought to. The only objection I have to broadcloth is the price, which keeps it off my back.

"Dress may or may not beautify. It depends. Who would paint a Madonna with a hold-back, or a Venus with a waist semi-bisected. Young man, love the hungry girl; she laughs more, has more room for her liver, and lets the spleen take a back seat. I once heard it said by an old man, 'There are no shams outside of society.' Will the oldest bachelor stand up? He's bashful. Did God make bachelors? Ask the girls of bachelor age. Is it in society where sorghum becomes Vermont maple or the yardstick walks on three short legs?"

"When congress sent a committee to mourn at the funeral of our murdered president, No. 2, as the train neared Cleveland a leader remarked: 'If we have tears to shed, let us prepare to shed them now.' The liquid flowed freely, and that dear congress water cost the country $1,000.

"I love the church well enough to pull weeds in her garden. Mr. Moody used to say that one of the first personages to creep into the new church was the devil. Possibly that is not so today, and I believe the crusts of the donation pie no longer hold close communion."

The speaker gave various accounts of humbugs in religion, but closed his paragraph with the remark: "Enemies of Christ see one sham pastor, and condemn his class; one hypocrite in his flock, and damn his religion."

He scored the sham doctor, butcher, journalist and merchant, and thus closed his remarks: "You see, friends, my family is very large, and leaving the rest I'll bid you good-bye," which he did amid the applause of his audience.

Yesterday was the first field day of the assembly. At 2 p. m. a large crowd greeted the opening on the grounds in front of the amphitheater. The track was a little soft, but otherwise the exercises were a success. The first event was a hundred yard dash, in which were entered Danie H. Burks, C. L. Logan, E. E. Washburn, W. C. Yates and P. J. Ward. On the first start Yates and Ward stepped over, and were set back one yard. Yates won; winning time, 10 4/5; P. J. Ward second.

One-fourth mile bicycle race—Entered: D. L. Burke, Wm. A. Tufts, W. J. Allen. Allen led for first three-fourths distance, and was passed by Burke, who won; time, 37 3/4; Allen second.

Standing broad jump—Contestants: H. Pitblado, W. L. Stewart, E. D. Chapman, E. E. Washburn. Won by Washburn; distance, 9.2 feet.

Bicycle race, one-half mile—Entries: D. L. Burke and W. J. Allen. Won by Burke; time, 1:43 1/5.

Running broad jump—Entries: H. Pitblado, W. L. Stewart, E. D. Chapman, E. E. Washburn. Won by Chapman; 16.8 feet.

180 yards dash—Entries: H. Pitblado, W. C. Yates, W. H. Syme, J. D. Burks. Won by Yates, 23 2/5 seconds; second, H. Pitblado.

Three-legged race, 100 yards—Pitblado and Stewart, and Washburn and Peterson. Won by Stewart and Pitblado; time, 13 1/2 seconds.

Half-mile foot race—Entries: W. H. Syme, W. E. Taylor, Sam. Peterson, James Ryan, J. D. Burks. Won by Burks; time, 2:18. This was one of the prettiest races of the day, and called forth warm applause from the spectators.

Patrick, Pitblado, C. L. Logan and P. J. Ward. Won by Patrick, 305 feet. Owing to the lateness of the hour the other races advertised for yesterday will occur today at 2 p. m. Entries are open for Southern California. Participants must leave Los Angeles at 1:15 in order to be on time.

Today's athletic programme is as follows: 1. One mile foot race. 2. One-hundred-yard sack race. 3. Pole vault. 4. Bicycle race, one mile. 5. Potato race. 6. Throwing the hammer. 7. Bicycle race, three miles. 8. Hurdle race, 120 yards, 10 hurdles, 3 1/2 feet high.

The two last games of football will occur Monday and Tuesday next. Game will be called at 2 p. m. The tennis tournament will open Monday, August 4th. A detailed programme will be given tomorrow.

Athletes and lovers of sport are taking a lively interest in this new feature of the Chautauqua.

C. L. S. C. At 5 o'clock last evening Emily J. Raymond, of New York, addressed the Round Table. She spent the hour in an able plea for a more thorough study of history.

Today's programme is as follows: 8 a. m.—Classes in languages. 9 a. m.—Lecture: "Book of Hebrews," Dr. W. H. Pendleton; school of art. 10—School of oratory. 11—Lecture: "The Uses of Ugliness," John De Witt Miller. 2 p. m.—Field sports.

5—C. L. S. C. Round Table. Lecture, Emily J. Raymond. At 8 p. m., under the direction of Prof. Ludlam, will be presented "Ben Hur."

The tableaux and scenery for this evening's entertainment have been prepared at a cost of nearly $3,000. The programme is as follows: Orchestra; tableau, "The Wise Men in the Desert;" tableau, "Visions of the Shepherds;" tableau, "The Wise Men Before Herod;" tableau, "Home of the Hurs;" tableau, with song, song by Miss Fannie Kimball, as "Tirzah;" recitation, "The Fallen Tile," Miss Gertrude Foster; tableau, "Prisoners of Rome;" dialogue, Mr. Charles Vogelsang as "Arrins," Mr. Henry Ludlam as "Ben Hur;" orchestra; tableau, "Meeting of Ben Hur and Esther;" orchestra; tableau, "Statues and Characters from Daphne's Grove;" tableau, with song, "Iras and Ben Hur;" recitation, "The Chariot Race," Henry Ludlam; orchestra; tableau, "Crowning the Victor;" recitation, "Healing the Lepers," Miss Gertrude Finney; tableau, "The Happy Hearthstone."

Notes and Personal. Again last evening Prof. C. E. Bolton drew a large audience at his illustrated lecture, "Russia and the Romanoffs." Monday night he speaks on "Land of the Midnight Sun."

Effort has been made to secure some of the Redondo lecturers for Los Angeles, but this cannot be done, as all are under contract to lecture nowhere else on this coast.

John De Witt Miller is on the ground, and delivers his first lecture this morning. As a popular speaker he is said to equal Talmage.

A number of Los Angeles will be down to the hop at the Redondo hotel this evening. I. L. Spencer, secretary of the Chautauqua, has been called home to Ventura by the illness of his wife.

J. Clement Ambrose left for Chicago yesterday. Work on the pavilion is rapidly progressing. The upper deck of the building will be used as a public promenade, while the lower will contain a restaurant, with ample space left for shady seats, where spectators may watch the surf and the bathers.

The Eureka, north-bound, stopped at Redondo last night and took on a number of passengers and a miscellaneous cargo of about 200 tons. It consisted largely of barley, marble dust and starch, billed for San Francisco.

IN THE COURTS. Notes About General Legal Proceedings. On motion of the district attorney, Judge McKinley yesterday dismissed the proceedings against John Carriso, the evidence not warranting the filing of an information. Carriso was charged with having murderously assaulted Frank Silvas, on the 3d of June, at Wilmington.

The habeas corpus proceedings for the custody of a little Mexican girl named Seradio Cañedo were continued by Judge McKinley until August 8th, at 10 o'clock.

United States Commissioner Van Dyke, on motion of the defense, yesterday continued the examination of Pearl Hinton, for having mailed an obscene letter, until Tuesday next, at 2 p. m.

There will be a moonlight excursion, special train, to Redondo Beach, on the Southern California railway, this evening and Wednesday evening, August 6th. Tonight, "Ben Hur" tableaux, Wednesday evening, grand concert and chorus day evening, parties in East Los Angeles can take train at Downey-avenue depot at 6:20 p. m. Train leaves First-street depot at 6:45 p. m., returning will leave Redondo at 10:30 p. m.

AN OLD STORY RETOLD.

Another Example of Vagrant Powellson's Work.

Yesterday morning a young man, who introduced himself as Antonio Verdugo, called upon Chief of Police Glass and stated that he had just arrived from San Francisco in search of his wife, who had been abducted about three weeks ago and brought to this city. In support of his somewhat peculiar story he produced a letter from his wife, written from this city, in which she informed him that she had met a handsome young man in a restaurant in San Francisco, who had induced her to come to Los Angeles under false representations, and that on her arrival here the man had placed her in a house of ill fame, and not only took all her money but kept her under surveillance, in order to prevent her from escaping. Verdugo, who stated that he was employed at the Star Exchange, on Broadway and Pacific street, San Francisco, appeared to be in such distress about his wife that the chief detailed Detective Bowler to investigate the matter. That officer subsequently reported that the missing wife had arrived here about three weeks ago, accompanied by the notorious Jim Powellson, with whom she occupied room No. 25 in the Buena Vista hotel. She had, however, also occupied a place on New High street, belonging to Powellson. About two weeks ago, some question having arisen relative to Powellson's bonds in the vagrancy case pending against him, he left hurriedly for the north; and strange to say, was followed a few days ago by the man who alleged that she had been abducted by him. When this information was imparted to Verdugo he was completely unmanned, and as he left the station to make preparations for his return home, it was evident that he was almost distracted with grief. Judging from a recent photograph of Mrs. Verdugo, she felt remarkably pretty brunette, about 22 years of age.

CHICAGO CARPENTERS.

They Will Settle Their Grievances in Court. CHICAGO, August 1.—The lack of a general attempt by the New Boss Carpenters' Association to carry out today the policy embodied in the resolutions adopted last night was a surprise even to the journeymen carpenters' council. About 600 members of the Bosses' Association last night adopted a resolution censuring the previously agreed upon advance of 2 1/2 cents an hour. Of 8,000 journeymen dependent upon the new bosses, however, only about 400 quit work today. Whether or not a general strike will again be declared is a mooted question. It is asserted by some that the council instead of advising a strike, proposes to settle the matter in court, as the agreement for an advance rate after August 1st, was entered into with each employee individually.

A WORLD'S FAIR MEETING

To Be Held Today at the Chamber of Commerce.

Southern California in general and Los Angeles in particular should make a stir at the Chicago world's fair. To do that it is necessary to whoop things up, and to commence that labor a meeting of the chamber of commerce has been called for this afternoon at 1 o'clock. The importance of this meeting can hardly be overestimated.

The chamber shipped a consignment of goods to California on wheels yesterday.

The following additions to the exhibit were placed in position yesterday: E. Polkinhorn, Fruitland, watermelon, canteloupe; H. Reef Snyder, Fruitland, peaches, grapes, egg plant, watermelon; C. W. Shafer, Vernon, apples and peaches; James Wright, Los Angeles, dried fruit; J. S. Barton, Whittier, peaches; W. T. Strawbridge, blackberries and peaches; Theo. Pickens, La Canada, prunes, oranges and lemons; Boyle Heights nursery, E. M. Herbert, proprietor, trees; William Duce, Fruitland, pumpkin, corn, peaches, raised on J. E. Yoakum's place; J. L. Starr, Los Angeles, German millet, four feet high, planted in May; E. T. Byram, Glendale, apples; Law & Co., Erskine Creek, Kern county, 145th sample of antimony sulphide; W. V. Bliss, Duarte, beehive; Col. Banning, Wilmington, sunflowers; Mrs. Kingsling, Long Beach, flowers; Mrs. Waitt, Long Beach, flowers; D. W. C. Franklin, 253 Truman street, Los Angeles, sugar beets.

A BIG, BIG DAM.

A Large Portion of the Desert to Be Reclaimed.

Up there in Antelope valley there are about 300,000 acres of land. Some of this is under cultivation, but a good portion extends into the Mojave desert and bears cacti and coyotes as its principal crops. Colonel W. C. Alberger is the man who negotiated the sale of the San Francisco and Oakland breweries to an English syndicate some time ago for six millions of dollars. The colonel therefore appreciates the value of thorough irrigation. He saw the valley and the contiguous so-called desert, and he hunted up a dam site, and now is hard at work with all the men he can get excavating in the cañon of the Big Rock creek, or as the more melodious Spanish name is El Rio de Llanos. He found there a site which will require a dam of 250 feet wide at the bottom, 600 feet at the top, and be 150 feet high, which will receive the water from a shed of 250 square miles. The site is only fifteen miles from Alpine. The importance of this work is immense to Los Angeles county. The cost of the dam will be about a million dollars, besides that of the construction of a large system of canals and conduits.

A TALENTED THIEF

Who Stole Wheat by the Wagon Load.

A pile of sacked wheat is a bulky thing for a thief to tuckle, but in default of diamonds, bullion or jewelry, an orange county expert has been stealing it by the wagon load. John Snow has a large pile of wheat on the San Joaquin ranch, which he is selling at Santa Ana. On Wednesday, after he had started off with a load, some neighbors noticed a man drive up to the pile and load up his wagon. He went to work in such a businesslike way that those who saw him supposed he had purchased what he was taking, until they spoke of the matter to Mr. Snow. Only a short time before he had discovered a shortage in a stack of sacked barley on his land, which he could not account for. That thief is wasting his talents. He could get away with anything. He should come to Los Angeles and look after a primary election.

IN THE VALLEY.

Glendale Road Surveyors Still Hard at Work.

"It looks very much to me," said Major Mitchell yesterday to a HERALD man, "as if this little Glendale road is liable to blossom out into a full-fledged railroad system. Several of my neighbors at Glendale have told me recently that they have seen several companies of the road's surveyors at work running lines up the San Fernando valley. The story is that the road will be built to Buena Vista. I don't know about that, but I think it will be constructed to some point on the west or north very soon."

A Partisan Measure.

WASHINGTON, August 1.—The house committee on postoffices and post roads has authorized Chairman Bingham to report, favorably, without amendment, the Frye postal subsidy bill. The vote on ordering the report was a party one.

Killed by the Express.

TORONTO, August 1.—The Canadian Pacific express this afternoon struck a wagon containing a man named Patrick Downey and two boys, Peter McLaughlin and Charles McNeil. All were instantly killed.

Buried in the Ruins.

GREENFIELD, Mass., August 1.—The newly built mill of a fibre company at Riverside, was wrecked by an explosion late tonight, and three men are supposed to be buried in the ruins.

Gold Bar Exports.

NEW YORK, August 1.—Arbuckle Brothers today ordered $500,000 gold bars for shipment to Europe. The total engaged by them this week is $675,000.

Inspector and Cash Missing.

MINNEAPOLIS, August 1.—City License Inspector Enoch Ray is alleged to be missing with $4,600 license money belonging to saloon-keepers in the city.

Under the Wheels.

STOCKTON, August 1.—A Portuguese laborer named Joe fell from a wagon today at Cometa and was crushed to death by the wheels.
