

SANTA MONICANETTES.

Sea Side News Notes and Gossip. A High Tide.

Correspondence of the Herald. Meine Bros. band tomorrow will give one of their famous open-air concerts on the esplanade.

The polo club play on their grounds at half-past 2. The game will be well worth witnessing by any lover of outdoor sports.

Mrs. H. B. Watrous and family are occupying one of the new cottages built by Mr. L. Chase, of Pomona, and G. P. McLean with his family the other.

The weather is very bracing and the evenings particularly fine, the young people taking advantage of them to enjoy straw rides, and many parties may be seen any evening out for a frolic, generally winding up with a dance.

On Thursday evening the campers on the beach were wet down by an extraordinarily high tide. The water did not come high enough to do much other than damage the tents and bedding.

The beach is occupied from the ninety-nine steps to the old Bernard wharf, and daily campers are taking up locations at both the north and south points; it now looks as if by the 15th instant the sands from the old cañon to Ballona would be continuously dotted with tents and the summer dwellers here.

The bluff on the south side is equally full of cottages, and all the hotels and lodging-houses are occupied.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Wiswell and the Misses Alice and Helen Wiswell make this portion of the beach their home.

J. Roach, Fred Kempin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd, B. Tanta, Miss M. Slotterbeck, Mrs. H. M. Good and family, Miss Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Maloon, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Brandt, Mr. Lucbert, Mrs. Olive Richey, Miss Nellie Richey, Mrs. H. Sanborn and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Porter and family, Mr. J. F. Holbrook and family, Mrs. George Basserman, Miss Katie Basserman, Miss George Basserman, Mrs. Kate Appelhagen, Mrs. J. A. Rice and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. Slotterbeck Jr., Mrs. E. Smith and family, Mrs. H. J. Stevenson and family, S. S. Reeves and family, Mrs. M. C. Gower, Miss M. L. Gower, Miss H. E. Gower, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rogers, Miss Nellie Nichols, Miss Corine Nichols, Mrs. K. L. Downey, Misses Mattie and Carrie Adams, Mr. G. L. Proffitt and family, Mr. E. E. Amick and family, Miss S. F. Stevenson, Miss Rippl, and Miss Newhart enjoy life on north beach.

Among the late arrivals on south beach and bluff are: Mr. W. R. Light and charming daughter in Dr. Hastings' cottage, Mrs. P. M. Scott, Mrs. Will Wright, Miss Pearl Duke in Mrs. Dr. Owens' cottage, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horner, M. Lewis in tent near the wharf, F. J. Moll and family, E. H. Tunison and family on the beach, Mrs. H. W. Beecher in her cosy home near the plunge, J. A. Connors and family on the beach, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Reeves, W. O. Meriwether, Mrs. A. Rolfe and family are tenting near the old wharf, and about half way between the two wharves are a jolly group of Germans, consisting of Messrs. Yoth, Hanlon, Schubert, Merz, Schwarz, Dr. Glaser, Keeler and their families.

North beach is also full to overflowing, the following being the late arrivals: Mrs. John Meade and family, Miss Nellie Nash and Miss Fannie Popplewell, Miss A. Hester, Mr. and Mrs. Buhler, Mrs. Alvoid and granddaughter, Mrs. H. M. Arbuckle and daughter, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. John Spence, Monrovia; Miss M. James, Miss L. Keale, Alhambra; Mrs. M. E. Marshall and daughter, Rosedale; Mrs. Aikman and daughter, Azusa; Mr. H. Puck and family, Miss Holtenberg and Miss Johansen.

J. Haight and J. E. Dumphy are camped on this portion of the beach. Captain Whittley's yacht Kywe has been cruising around the bay for several days. J. C. H.

SAN GABRIEL VALLEY.

News Notes From San Gabriel, Savannah and Monte.

Correspondence of the Herald. Democrats of this precinct and every honest man with whom your correspondent has conversed about the matter, sympathize with the Herald in its efforts to sift the clean from the unclean, and glory in its spunk. Good company, good morals, honor is safe and our success almost assured.

The inhabitants hereabouts say Ed. Gibson has lived away from them so long he has almost lost the flavor of the true Montebite, but they want him for sheriff all the same.

A good Sunday school is organized at Savannah. It is well attended and profitably enjoyed. Mr. C. Steele is the superintendent.

The magnificent young orchards, both the citrus and the deciduous, on the San Bernardino road, on the ranch of L. J. Rose at Savannah, are thriving and growing like magic; poco tiempo a cannery.

Mr. Noble's two-story frame building on Mission and San Bernardino roads, at Savannah, modeled after the plan of one of his former houses in Boston, Mass., is furnished, and the family will move in it this week. The rooms are capacious, highly finished, and elegantly furnished. The grounds, which a short time since were barren, now blossom and bloom with citrus trees and floral life, interspersed with grassy walks and a long, thrifty-growing cypress hedge in front. The rear, some eighty acres, will be reserved for the present for pasture and the production of grain.

Mr. Johnson's charming place and grounds, lately improved, opposite Mr. Noble's, would compare favorably with any of Southern California's most beautiful places.

Mr. Fell is on the eve of disposing of a part of his fine ranch. The country of Savannah is indeed improving.

Col. E. Jones was chosen trustee at the last election at San Gabriel by the largest vote ever cast for any trustee in this district.

One of the most pleasant events of the season, as society notes would echo it, occurred last Saturday. It was the return of Father Joaquin to his old parish of San Gabriel. The bells of the old church pealed out delightful welcomes, and men, women and children vied with each other in doing honor to the return of their revered pastor. Father Joaquin had been on an extended European tour of some three years, taken on account of his health, and now returns physically greatly improved.

Miss Lulu Richards is spending her vacation with Mrs. Peter Richards, of San Gabriel.

All Democrats are glad to see the Hon. J. De Barth Shorb in politics again and back at his old post of chairman of the Democratic central committee.
