

ROOT OR MCGINTY?

A Message From the Deep Blue Sea.

Is There a Man Lost on San Clemente,

Or is it a Ruthless Practical Joke?

Henry Root Lost in a Squall—Sends a Message Which Lands at Rattlesnake Island.

When a message placed in a bottle is found on a seabeach the first thought of the finder is that he has become the victim of a first class hoax, and that it will be impossible for him to punch the head of the fellow who has taken him in. True, the practical joker will not have the pleasure of seeing the rage of the man who uncorks the bottle and reads the heartrending message from the sea, and there is consolation in that point for the finder. But, on second thought, the discoverer of the bottled paper is very apt to believe that there may be truth in the matter, and then his sympathy is bound to be awakened for the miserable being or beings beyond relief, whose sufferings he can well imagine, and whose horrible death depicts itself vividly before his mental eyes.

Now, such a message from the waves was found yesterday on the beach of Rattlesnake island, near San Pedro, and if it is not a hoax the unfortunate fellow who wrote it is very apt to have suffered the fate of the poor old man whose dead body was discovered there about a month ago, and buried by a party of his friends.

Mrs. Sparr, a lady of this city, while walking on the beach of Rattlesnake island, saw a bottle bobbing in the waves near the shore, and, her curiosity being excited, she drew it out of the sand. It contained a sheet of paper. She conveyed the bottle to the office of Mr. Crane, agent of the Southern Pacific at San Pedro, who opened it.

The following message was withdrawn from the bottle and is now in the custody of the agent:

SAN CLEMENTE, June 29, 1890.

Am lost on the rocks off Clemente island in a squall; have small hope of getting off. The finder of this please send to Seymour Root, Cottage Grove, Minn.

The message in itself looks terribly earnest, and there is hardly anything in it to lead to the belief that some person with little wit but much bad taste has perpetrated an abominable joke for the purpose of causing a sensation.

There seems to be no knowledge that such a man as Henry Root had been staying at San Pedro, but that, of course, means nothing. He might nevertheless have been staying there, or he might have sailed from Oceanside or San Diego.

One point which will easily settle the matter with the sea-faring population of San Pedro is whether it was possible for a bottle thrown into the water at San Clemente to drift into the harbor near San Pedro in five days. The people down there are familiar with the currents on the coast, and if there is any likelihood of there being truth in the message taken from that bottle, a rescue party will be organized and a search made for Mr. Root, for he must be very wet.

A PIONEER GONE.

Death of an Old and Distinguished Resident.

Captain George J. Clarke, one of our oldest residents, passed away at 10 o'clock Saturday night. He had been in ill-health for some time, and towards the end his sight became poorer and poorer, until finally it left him altogether. Captain Clarke was born in Northwood, New Hampshire, in 1817, so that he was in his seventy-third year at the time of his death. In early life he engaged in mercantile business, and went to New South Wales. There he remained until he heard of the gold discoveries in California, when he sailed for San Francisco, arriving there in 1850.

After the usual experiences of pioneers he came to Los Angeles in 1861, and has lived here ever since. When he first came to Los Angeles he explored and opened up mining districts between this city and Lyo. He discovered Amargosa district and located a series of mines in that direction. He was at the head of the Yarbrough Company, which had an office in San Francisco. Mills were erected, and the prospects were very encouraging, when suddenly an Indian outbreak took place that extended clear into Nevada. The mills and houses were burned, and numbers of whites were ruthlessly slaughtered. This was the last great rearing of the aborigines on this coast.

From 1870 to 1873 he was postmaster of this city, and acquitted himself of his duties with credit to himself and to the satisfaction of the community. Subsequently he was appointed notary public, and for the last few years of his life his notarial duties absorbed his entire attention. Captain Clarke was a gentleman of the strictest integrity and the highest character. He was a man whose good influences were widely felt, and in his sphere and amongst his neighbors he was esteemed and respected for his many excellent and sterling qualities. He was a true friend, an exemplary citizen, a kind and devoted husband and one of those lives that make the world the better because they have been lived. He passes away regretted by all who knew him, and creating a void in the immediate circle in which he moved that cannot be filled. Our sympathies go out to his aged widow and family.

His funeral will take place at 10 a. m. tomorrow, from his late residence, 2,118 South Main street.

HE CHEWED POISON OAK, And Now Swears He Will Have Revenge.

W. J. Timms, who lives on Pennsylvania avenue, Doyle Heights, recently acted on the medical principle of the hair of the dog being good for its bite. He was camping in the San Gabriel cañon, and was fearful of being affected by poison oak, to which he is susceptible. An experienced mountaineer, hearing him talk about the matter, told him to take some of the leaves of the plant and chew them, swallowing the saliva resulting. This would surely prevent him from being affected. Mr.

Timms, who is a non-suspecting man, followed the advice, and now is hunting for the man who gave it to him. He has been in bed for ten days, and for three days his doctor despaired of his recovery. Almost the entire interior of his body was poisoned. His throat, stomach and intestines were affected exactly as is the outside skin by the poison, and not only was this the case, but externally from crown to toe he was poisoned. He could not see, swallow or hear. The slight movement resulting from breathing produced the most exquisite agony. Anyone who has been slightly affected by the plant, can imagine what it would be to have the entire interior as well as exterior of one's person poisoned. Many times during his suffering Mr. Timms solemnly swore if he recovered, that he would kill the man who got him into the trouble, and it is said that he firmly intends to carry out his threat half way, if not entirely.

THE ENTRANCES AND EXITS Last Month Were Very Nearly Even.

The report of the health officer, Dr. Granville McGowan, for the month of July, was issued recently, and contains a number of valuable statistics. During the thirty-one days last past there were 58 deaths and 59 births within the corporate limits of the city. Of the former, 56 were whites and 2 colored; while of the latter all were whites. Thirty-four males and 24 females died, but 37 males and 22 females supplied their places in the community.

Of the 58 deaths 13 were from zymotic diseases, 18 from constitutional diseases, 19 from local diseases, 3 from developmental diseases and 4 from accident or violence. One death resulted from typhoidal fever, 2 from diphtheria, 1 from measles, 1 from croup, 1 from septicaemia, 7 from diarrheal diseases, 1 from cancer, 16 from phthisis pulmonalis, 1 from tubercular meningitis, 3 from meningitis, 1 from apoplexy, 2 from convulsions, 1 from disease of the nervous system, 5 from heart disease, 1 from bronchitis, 2 from pneumonia, 2 from peritonitis, 2 from diseases of the liver, 1 from disease of the urinary organs, 1 from congenital diseases, 2 from inanition and 4 from accident or violence.

Of the 59 who passed away, 9 were under 1 year of age, 6 were between 1 and 5 years of age, 5 were between 5 and 10 years of age, 4 were between 10 and 20 years of age, 16 were between 20 and 45, 10 were between 45 and 65, and 8 were over 65.

Fifteen were natives of Los Angeles, 3 of the Pacific coast, 18 of the Atlantic states and 25 were foreign born; 56 were Caucasians, 1 an African and 1 a Mongolian.

Divided among the several wards the deaths occurred as follows: In the first ward, 4; in the second ward, 17; in the third ward, 9; in the fourth ward, 2; in the fifth ward, 5; in the sixth ward, 4; in the seventh ward, 7; in the eighth ward, 7; in the ninth ward, 5.

Seven cases of contagious diseases were reported during the month, four of diphtheria and three of scarlet fever. There were two cases of diphtheria in both the first and second wards, two of scarlet fever in the first and one in the third.

GOOD GROUNDS For a Rise in Coffee Unless War is Settled.

"If these South American revolutionists keep on fighting much longer there will be a coffee famine on this coast," said a well-known grocer to a HERALD man yesterday. "The San Francisco papers have predicted that, and they are right. Very nearly all the coffee which we get here comes from Central America, and Guatemala and San Salvador furnish us about 100,000 sacks a year. The coffee planters must have labor to handle their crops, and it is likely that before long most of the able-bodied men will be shooting each other in the interests of some dictator or president."

"Then coffee would not be a bad speculation now?"

"Young man, you had better speculate in most anything than on the probable action of a South American republic. If the fighting continues coffee will go away up; if it stops, why, prices stay quiet."

SOME FIGURES About the Dried-Fruit Industry at Monrovia.

Very few people appreciate the extent of the dried-fruit boom now in Southern California. A few figures furnished by one firm in the business at Monrovia will illustrate it. In six weeks past this company has cut 500 tons of apricots and has shipped sixteen carloads of the dried fruit. It has purchased already 850 tons of peaches, which are now being dried, and the first carload of which will be sent east today. It has also purchased for the same purpose 600 tons of French prunes, and will dry about ten carloads of grapes. It employs 240 men, and takes care of forty tons of fruit each day. The managers state they have sold all the fruit that they can buy, and are ready to pay $1.40 a hundred pounds for all that can be delivered to them.

A SOUTHERN PACIFIC BRANCH Which a San Bernardino Man Thinks Will Be Built.

The latest story of railroad building was told to a HERALD reporter yesterday by a San Bernardino man. He said that the Southern Pacific Company has decided to construct a line beginning at Pomona and following the grade of the Chino and Elsinore road to Chino; then on to South Riverside, and to Riverside by way of the Valley and Arlington Heights. The predicted route from Riverside extends northward to the bluff, the Santa Ana river, and then northeasterly to the Southern Pacific main line again.

CATALINA CHAT.

What Is Going On at the Island.

The Crowd of Pleasure-Seekers Increasing.

Episodes of Camp and Hotel Life By the Ocean.

A Long List of Recent Arrivals—Excursions and Amusements—News Notes and Personals.

Correspondence of the HERALD. This place seems growing in popularity. Your correspondent was at Avalon last year, and was surprised upon his arrival last Friday to see the immensely increased number of camps and tents. The Hotel Metropole was nearly as full as it would hold.

A look at the register brought to light the names of numerous well-known parties of Los Angeles and elsewhere. Superintendent of the Southern Pacific J. A. Muir and wife were recent visitors, but Mr. Muir's leave of absence from business is generally a short one. Capt. Ainsworth found time to make a flying visit to Avalon last Wednesday and remained over night. Mr. Jungman, of the Santa Fe route, ran over on Friday and remained until this morning. A. H. Kuhns and Mrs. Ellen Kuhns, of Fresno, are located for a time at the Metropole. Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Reeves are among other recent arrivals. Mrs. William Lacey, E. J. Lacey and Miss Sophie Lacey, who have been here some time, returned to Los Angeles early last week, but only remained a couple of days, and are again quartered in the Metropole.

Among Friday's arrivals was Prof. A. H. Hutchinson, who is engaged in photographing some of the picturesque scenery of the island for exhibition in the east, among his other Southern California views, next winter.

Last Wednesday a party from Santa Monica, consisting of C. C. Wallace, J. W. Wallace, J. C. Wallace, Mattie Wallace, G. A. Wallace, E. J. Vawter, Jr., Mary Vawter and May Chapin, came over, remained until the following day and returned.

Other recent arrivals at the Metropole are F. Harriman; E. L. Goodwin, of the Evening Express; and Mrs. Goodwin; J. S. Keeler and Judge R. L. Ling and family, of Los Angeles; and J. R. Cutler and E. A. Law, of Riverside.

Frank Davies, son of J. M. Davies, of the west end, came down last night. There are numerous private camps all about the harbor. The Y. M. C. A. had twelve new arrivals there on Friday and several more yesterday.

The names of some of the camps are rather amusing. "Bachelors' Hall" and "Orphan's Home" are two of the most prevalent. "Camp Idlewild" was formed only yesterday, and is composed of two tents and seven boys, as follows: A. W. P. Kinney, captain; Wm. P. Jeffries, R. G. Taylor; Leo Wells, cook; R. G. Taylor, Harry Smith, Wm. Booth and B. D. Frankfield. The boys have already been christened "White Caps" by the campers on account of the uniformity of their headgear.

Some of the prominent residents at Avalon held an indignation meeting to protest against the statement in the Pasadena Star and a Los Angeles paper, that Avalon is in a bad sanitary condition by reason of filth and bad drainage among the camps. The statement was declared utterly absurd and false, and a resolution was passed asking the Star to correct the statement. Among those noticed at the meeting, besides numerous Angelinos, were A. P. Johnson and Dr. E. H. Way, of Riverside, and Messrs Holland, Skillen, Dr. Davis and J. H. Wallbridge, of Pasadena. Mr. C. C. Case, who is justice of the peace here, is rather indignant about the statement, and says the only duty he has, is to look after infractions of sanitary regulations.

The little steamer Wanda carried a party of guests from the Metropole to the isthmus yesterday, consisting of Mr. C. H. Lowe, Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. Warner, Mrs. Jno. McFarland, Mr. P. Jungman, Prof. A. H. Hutchinson, J. F. Blake, Mr. Watson and C. McFarland. The trip occupied about nine hours, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Messrs. Wilson and McFarland were the successful fishermen of the party. Prof. Hutchinson photographed some of the scenery along the route and Mr. Blake and Captain Remington furnished amusement and information respectively.

Dr. F. G. Shoemaker is down spending Sunday with his family. His leave was among the Saturday night arrivals.

Dan McFarland and Major Bonsor, with a party, came over on the Aggie Saturday and returned today, the major returning on the Hermosa to "make sure of getting there," as he expressed it.

The Hattie and the Nellie both left Avalon today.

The Congregational church here was crowded this morning to hear a sermon by Rev. A. W. Rider of the Memorial Baptist church, Los Angeles. Mr. Rider remains here some time yet.

Mr. J. F. Blake organized a tin can orchestra, which meets the night boat occasionally. He is afraid to acknowledge the leadership, however, and puts the title of leader upon Will Veazy.

The old residents threatened to drop a man off the wharf for wearing a white shirt on Friday, but gave it up when the boat brought the first two blazer-wearers to town.

James H. Roe and family, of Riverside, came down on Friday to spend a month.

Among the last arrivals whose whereabouts at the present writing are unknown are Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Buchanan and Miss Hillings, of Pasadena; C. W. Morris, Mr. Delano, G. W. Robbins, George F. Kernahan, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Clark, Mrs. J. C. Dotter, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Barton, Louis Melzer and the Misses Melzer, Mrs. J. J. Woodworth, A. E. Elliott and Miss J. Frankfield. There is to be a social tomorrow (Monday) night at the Congregational church. Catalina, August 3d.

A HORSE WHO CAN TALK!

Everybody has heard of a "horse laugh," but who has ever seen an equine gifted with the power of speech? Such an animal would be pronounced a miracle; but so would the telegraph and the telephone a hundred years ago. Why, even very recently a cure for consumption, which is universally acknowledged to be a scourge affecting the lungs, would have been looked upon as miraculous, but now people are beginning to realize that the disease is not incurable. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure it, if taken in time. This well-known remedy will not make new lungs, but it will restore diseased ones to a healthy state when other means have failed. Thousands of men, fully testify to this. It is the most potent tonic, or strength restorer, alternative, or blood-purifier, and nutritive, for the weak, known to medical science. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh in the Head, and all Lining Coughs, it is an unequalled remedy. In derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels, as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, or Liver Complaint, Chronic Diarrhea, and kindred ailments, it is a sovereign remedy.

Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine of its class, sold by druggists, under a printed guarantee, from the manufacturer, that it will benefit or cure in every case of disease for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.
