

CHADWICK ON TRIAL.

THE PARTNER OF HON. "JIM" DAMRON IN COURT.

Mr. Wright Swears That His Name Was Forged to the Note—Who B. F. Getchell Was—Mr. Bosbyshell's Testimony.

J. S. Chadwick, charged with forging the names of W. C. Lockwood and E. T. Wright to a note, and with passing the same into the hands of an officer of the Southern California National bank, knowing it to be false and forged, was on trial yesterday before Judge Cheney.

The jury consisted of A. B. Clapp, Daniel Jones, J. M. Frew, Charles Wickman, P. Fitz-Williams, Nathan Dinsmore, F. L. Ries, G. A. March, A. F. Bland, J. A. Russ, B. F. Ritter and Abel Sutton.

E. T. Wright took the witness stand and on being shown the note stated that the signature thereon was not his and that he had never authorized any one to sign it for him.

He first saw the note the day after it was presented at the bank and the first notice he received of the existence of the note was from Mr. Bosbyshell.

Vice-President Bosbyshell, of the Southern California National bank, then testified as follows: "On the 13th of last July I received a telephone message in Chadwick's voice asking if I knew if Mr. E. T. Wright was good for a couple of hundred dollars and if he was a stockholder in the bank."

I replied that he was not a stockholder, but that I thought he was good for the amount. The next morning Chadwick brought me a note with the names of W. C. Lockwood and E. T. Wright as makers. I saw that the note was cut at the bottom and asked if there had not been another name on the note.

He said that there had, but he thought it was no good, so cut it off. He asked if he could get the money for the note, and I told him we couldn't accept a note like that, and he replied that we could make one out on our own form. I then filled out the note here produced and gave it to Mr. Chadwick at his request.

He said he would go and get it signed. He returned in about an hour or two. W. C. Lockwood and E. P. Wright were then on the note. Chadwick wanted to know if I would discount the note or take the other note as collateral security. I told him I would discount this note, which I did. We put our stamp on it, Mr. Chadwick signed the name of B. F. Getchell, and his name as attorney in fact. He then signed his own name and I entered $100, the amount of the note, to the credit of B. F. Getchell.

"I have seen this check for $75, signed by B. F. Getchell. The check was in Mr. Chadwick's handwriting, and was presented twice at the bank, but I couldn't say positively by whom or to whom it was presented. I didn't personally hand the money to whom it was presented. I do not know who first presented the check. The check was presented to Mr. Avery, one of the tellers, and by him shown to me. This check was drawn against the amount of the note deposited, Mr. Getchell having an insufficient amount in the bank at the time to pay it without drawing on this. Mr. Chadwick transacts all business at our bank under the name of B. F. Getchell."

Mr. Avery and other officers of the bank corroborated Mr. Bosbyshell's testimony. Major Bonebrake also testified regarding the matter. The case will be resumed this morning.

PUBLIC WORKS.

The Recommendations Adopted Yesterday by the Board.

At the regular meeting of the board of public works held yesterday morning, the following report was adopted for presentation to the council Monday next:

Recommend that the petition of Mr. Verch et al., asking that Flower street be ordered sidewalked between Seventh and Washington, be denied, as a large majority of the property owners are opposed to the improvement at this time.

In the matter of the grading of First street, between Broadway and Beaudry avenue, recommend:

First. To instruct the city attorney to dismiss the action now pending for the assessment of damages on the old grade.

Second. To repeal the ordinances fixing the assessment district for grading First street on the old grade.

Third. To pass ordinance of intention to grade First street in accordance with present grade and fix the district to pay the cost of same on both sides of First street from Beaudry avenue to Main street.

Recommend that the city clerk be instructed to notify the property owners along the line of the Arroyo de los Reyes, to pipe said arroyo across their respective properties where the same is not piped, and repair the present pipe where the same is broken, said pipe to be 30-inch diameter, laid under the direction of the street superintendent. The list of property owners to be furnished the clerk by the city engineer.

THE AZUSA VIGILANTES.

They Invoke the Aid of a Writ of Habeas Corpus.

The Azusa vigilantes do not enjoy feeling the hand of the law on their shoulders, and will try and squirm from its clutch this morning before Judge Shaw. The three men, Oliver P. Cummings, Harry Amon and Arthur Eckles, who were held to answer a charge of tar and feathering Editor Bentley of the Azusa News, yesterday secured a writ of habeas corpus, requiring the sheriff to bring them before Judge Shaw this morning at half past nine. In the application for the writ they claim to be in possession of evidence showing that they are not the guilty ones, and indicating those who did commit the crime.

WILL TRY AGAIN.

The Republicans Will Have Another Attempt at a Procession.

This evening the Republicans will try to hold a torchlight parade. L. E. Mosher will have charge of the column, which will move according to general orders at 7 o'clock this evening. The line of march will be on Main from Second street to the Plaza, countermarch to junction of Spring and Main, on Spring to Fifth, Fifth to Hazard's pavilion. The parade will be reviewed at the junction of Spring and Fifth street.

New Suits.

Among the documents filed with the county clerk yesterday were the following new complaints: L. B. De Camp vs. D. W. Field, administrator of J. C. Glass, deceased, and Dolly Glass; suit to obtain judgment for $1,000 alleged to be due on an agreement to purchase lot 5, block A, Atwood's subdivision of part of lot 5, block 73, H. S. made July 12th, 1889.

Caroline Mondon, executrix, vs. A. C. Shafer; suit to obtain judgment for $22,000 alleged to be due on a certain promissory note dated August 1st, 1888, payable in two years, and bearing interest at the rate of 10 per cent per annum, and to foreclose a mortgage on 11 blocks in the Menlo tract, of even date, given to secure payment of the same.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

What is Being Done to Boom the Whole Country.

There have recently been placed on exhibition in the chamber of commerce some pictures, giving every evidence of strong artistic feeling, fine conception and good execution. Probably the most striking is the handsome flower piece of the California white poppy, which in richness of tone, and coloring, is as fine a piece of flower painting as one rarely sees. The arrangement of the flowers, the foliage and the background shows rare good taste, and judgment, and reflects great credit upon the artist. Besides this there are several bits of flower and fruit painting, depicting the life the rich and luxurious appearance that is so strongly characteristic of fruit grown under a genial California sun. There are also portraits and landscapes splendidly finished, studies of the human face and human hand, all showing perfection of line, perspective and coloring, which are refreshing and pleasing to the eye, after being accustomed to seeing so much of the potboiler style of work in many of our art stores and studios. We understand that most of this work has been done by the students of Mrs. Garden-Macled during their vacation days, the school not opening until the first of October. The skill shown in these pictures gives ample evidence that a strong artistic atmosphere is being nurtured in Southern California.

It goes without saying that no section of the United States presents so many beautiful vistas of hill and dale, mountain over valley, coupled with the broad expanse of the ocean lapping its shores, as ours, and one which is bound to call forth the best artistic spirit of our people.

The returns being made by the farmers of their crops are of the most interesting character. E. P. Naylor, of Pomona, has raised 1000 bushels of prunes on fifteen acres which brought him a net profit of $8,923. The land was irrigated—one inch of water to every ten acres of land.

Ernest Dewey, of the same place, reports that from a ten acre orchard of peach trees of seven years' growth he reaped a golden harvest of $4,556.30 and used no irrigation. From six acres of prunes he cleared the snug sum of $2,734, irrigating one inch to ten acres. G. J. Ambrose, also of the Pomona foothills, cleared $3,700 from 12 acres of prunes, which produced 77 tons. From 3 acres of pears his net profit was $1,035.66.

A letter has been received by Secretary Hanchette from T. H. Goodman, requesting historical and present statistical information about Los Angeles, for use in an article to be prepared for Harper's Weekly by Clarence Dillen.

Cyrus Brown and Prof. Baker, of Downey, have sent in such a large exhibit of fruits that the Downey table has overflowed and a trellis above it is hung with clusters of grapes, pears, oranges and lemons with their leaves. The table immediately in front of the exhibit has also been appropriated to contain the products of this ambitious little colony. The chamber succeeded in getting thirteen packages off to California on Wheels yesterday containing:

Oranges from Henry Elms. Lemons from Dr. E. B. Briggs. Apples from W. H. Barker, Cyrus Brown and William Gamble. Pears and quinces, Mrs. William F. Grosser.

Pomegranates, Mrs. Skidmore. Crook-neck squash, C. E. Smith. 120 lb. squash, William Morrison. Pampas plumes, Mrs. C. E. Strong. Corn, A. F. Spencer.

Contributions to the exhibit were reported as follows:

Amos Wright, Cahuenga, apples. Downey made liberal donations from the following:

C. E. Smith, figs, lemons, and crook-neck squash weighing forty-two pounds each.

Rev. John Green, pears. Mrs. A. G. Skidmore, pomegranates. Cyrus Brown, six varieties of apples, grapes and quinces.

Prof. W. H. Baker, six varieties of apples, pears, peaches and plums. T. J. Kerns, pomegranates. E. T. Nolan, oranges representing two crops on same branch.

Mrs. R. B. Harris, tomatoes two pounds each. W. A. Templeton, Compton, rose of Peru grapes. H. Reynolds, flam tokay. Ludwick and Widner, apples. I. E. Parrish, San Fernando, Cal., sugar beets.

Henry Elms, Pasadena Highlands, box of oranges, first of the season. S. R. Thorpe, Los Angeles, sugar beets.

Mrs. C. E. Strong, Whittier, pampas plumes for Chicago exhibit. H. H. McCutchan, Los Angeles, blackberries.

Mrs. John Henrietta, flowers. A. H. Miller, lemon within a lemon. Mrs. Bluet, flowers. Miss Fargo and Mrs. Grebe, flowers. Joseph Kee, San Gabriel, one pound pippin apples.

Mrs. Annie Catching, city, oil painting, oranges. Wm. Gamble, Artesia, apples, quinces and pears. C. F. Haines, Whittier, pears. Wm. Morrison, 120 pound squash. Wm. C. Frye, Cahuenga, sugar beets. C. Fred Bean, Alhambra, pippin apples and fine specimen Flemish beauty pears.

The state department at Washington has sent to Secretary Hanchette for a list of the members of the chamber.

A BUSINESS COLLEGE ROW.

The Scholars Have an Opportunity for Practical Experience.

Yesterday afternoon Justice Austin's court room presented more the appearance of a school of stenography than a court of justice, the lobby being crowded with young ladies and youths, pencil and note book in hand, taking notes of the testimony in the trial of the civil suit entitled, W. J. Kennard, vs. I. N. Inskip. Both parties are professors at the Los Angeles business college, and the pretty and youthful stenographers were their pupils. The plaintiff claimed that the defendant was indebted to him in the sum of $105 on a promissory note, dated July 1st, 1890, the defendant on the other hand claiming that the plaintiff was indebted to him on an agreement. After hearing the testimony of a number of witnesses, the court continued the case for further hearing until today.

A GRAND FAKE.

REDONDO NOT SOLD TO THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

A Little Deal About a Little Depot Magnified Into a Mighty Transfer of Railroad Property.

Yesterday morning a daily paper appeared with a sensational story to the effect that the Redondo enterprises of the Messrs. Thompson and Ainsworth had been sold out, lock, stock and barrel, to the Southern Pacific company.

Naturally the public were much excited by the tale of woe. The Southern Pacific has some reputation as a very able-bodied gormandizer of enterprises that interfere with its own. In days of yore it bought up the line to Santa Monica, and proceeded to rip up the wharf so as to concentrate all the business of the section at San Pedro. The suspicion was natural that the same game was being played at Redondo.

This excitement did not generally extend to the newspaper fraternity, who knew that their contemporary had merely sprung upon the confiding public another first-class fake.

All that was necessary was to prove that a fake it was, and here is the proof, and all that there is in the story. When the Redondo railroad was first projected, and while it was being constructed, a good deal of negotiating went on with the purpose of having a Union depot beyond Jefferson street, where the two roads cross. The cable railroad was a party to this. Nothing was arranged and the matter was dropped, the Redondo road coming across the track of the Southern Pacific up to Jefferson street. Within a few days this project has been revived, and last Monday Col. E. H. Hewitt and Mr. Crowley of the Southern Pacific, and Mr. Crank of the cable road, went down to Redondo to confer with Captain Ainsworth about this little depot, the plan being to place it at the crossing of the two roads, pick up the Redondo depot and move it back to that point so that this road need not cross the Southern Pacific, and extend the cable across Jefferson street to the depot of the two railroad companies.

A conference was had, but no conclusion reached. There is the little mole hill out of which so large a mountain has been created by a brilliant imagination.

Knowing these facts, an interview was sought with Captain Ainsworth of the Redondo company, but Captain George J. Ainsworth was found to have gone to Portland, Oregon, on a little visit for rest and recreation. His father, Captain J. C. Ainsworth, is at Redondo in the absence of the son, but he could not be reached directly. The secretary of the company, S. P. Rees, was communicated with, and he at once stated that he knew the report to be absolutely false in every particular.

Col. E. H. Hewitt was seen, and was just as emphatic that the story was as baseless a fabrication as ever was sprung upon a confiding public. He knows absolutely nothing of any intention of any purchase of the Redondo property. He is sure that there is not a word of truth in it. As to the connecting of the story with the Santa Monica wharf, Col. Hewitt knows nothing. Orders were sent here to begin work on the wharf. A large lot of heavy timber was got out at Truckee and shipped here for that enterprise. It arrived here, and the order to begin work on the wharf had been countermanded without explanation; this material was unloaded in the yard where it now is.

Later in the day S. P. Rees visited the Herald office at the request of Captain Ainsworth, that there was no basis whatever for the story to rest in; that it is false in every particular, in word and spirit. That ought to settle the matter for good and all.

It is difficult to see why the Southern Pacific should enter into any such deal. It would require a large outlay of money and would do no good so far as the diversity of business for San Pedro is concerned. There is too much to be gained. The business of this city is large, and there is room along the sea coast for five hundred wharves. If the Southern Pacific is going into the monopoly business it will have to buy about a wharf a month. The Santa Fé now is at Redondo, and would go right on with a wharf business on its own account. The same corporation is at Ballona, where a wharf is now being planned. Senator Jones and Colonel Baker might go into the business at Santa Monica again, and operate the Los Angeles and Pacific railroad to this city. Then there is the Terminal company about to put up a wharf on Rattlesnake Island. Verily, the Southern Pacific would be kept busy buying wharves for some time to come. Let us all go into the business of building them, with a view of selling out to this great gobbler of other people's enterprises.

TO HIS WIFE AND DAUGHTER

Henry Hammel Bequeaths All of His Estate.

The will of Henry Hammel has been filed with the county clerk. It is very brief, and contains the following condensed provisions: That the property of the deceased, valued at $400,000, has been acquired since marriage, and is therefore community property; that deceased has a wife and one daughter living; that his wife, Mary Hammel, shall be sole executrix, without bond, of the estate, and shall have power to sell and handle same without being compelled to apply to any court for permission. Mrs. Hammel is to receive one-half of the entire estate. The daughter, Matilda M. Hammel, receives the other half, when she arrives at the age of 20 years. In the meantime the mother holds the daughter's half in trust, and is authorized to receive all rents and interest on same, allowing the daughter, from the time she arrives at the age of 18 years, all necessary money for education, etc., which is to be paid out of the interest of the daughter's portion. With the above provisions, the property is willed to the widow and daughter absolutely unconditionally. The document is dated August 27.

HE MUST BECOME WORSE

Before Being Sent to an Insane Asylum.

Yesterday afternoon John Thomas, the man who on Friday last called upon Mr. Dan Freeman, at his office in the Burdick block, and announced his intention of assassinating that gentleman, was taken before Judge Van Dyke, in department four of the superior court, for examination by Lunacy Commissioners Wernick and Davidson. The physicians did not consider that the patient's mental condition was such as to necessitate his being sent to an asylum, whereupon Thomas was remanded to the county jail for a few days, to await a development or abatement of his malady.

A Suggestion.

There may be persons in this community who are at times troubled with colic, or subject to attacks of bowel complaint. If so, they should try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It will afford almost immediate relief, and when reduced with water is pleasant to take. If taken as soon as the first indication of the disease is felt it will ward off the attack. Many people use it in this way, and find that it never fails them. A 25 or 50 cent bottle may be obtained from C. F. Heinze, 222 N. Main street. John A. Off, cor. 4th and Spring streets, and all leading druggists.

Asphalt Paving.

Company of Los Angeles. CAPITAL, $50,000. L. BLANKENHORN, Pres. A. F. MACKEY, Vice-Pres. H. BROWN, Secy. S. HUTTON, Supt.

Contractors for Asphalt paving on streets, sidewalks, warehouse floors, cellars, wineries, etc. We use the same class of material and manner of laying as in universal use in the East, and the only ones permanently successful. Over 300 miles of this paving are now laid in the principal cities of the United States. It is supplanting stone, wood, and other pavements. Recommended by sanitary and civil engineers of cities, because:

1.—It is cheaper to maintain. 2.—It saves wear and tear of vehicles and lessens cost of drayage in increased loads hauled. 3.—It is clean, free from dust, mud and unhealthy accumulations common to every other pavement and dangerous to health. 4.—It is comparatively noiseless; in this respect a boon appreciated by business men, invalids, dwellers in hotels and homes.
