

PEOPLE AND EVENTS.

THE PAST WEEK'S CHRONICLE OF SOCIETY NEWS.

A Few Parties and Weddings—The Return of the World From Seaside and Mountain—News Notes.

Nearly everybody is back from mountain and sea shore, and the social events will soon begin to be announced in quick succession. The Catholic orphans' fair the last of the month will open the season, to be followed it is hoped by as gay a season as was ever enjoyed in the city.

Thursday's issue of the Santa Barbara Independent says:

"A notable wedding occurred in this city last evening, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Philip S. Thacher, pastor of Unity Chapel. The prominent parties were Hon. C. A. Storke and Miss Yda H. Addis.

"Mr. Storke is one of our best known and most respected citizens. He occupies a leading position at the bar and is a politician of great prominence. This gentleman is a ready, forcible speaker, and has served with marked ability in the state legislature.

"Miss Yda H. Addis is one of the literary celebrities of the coast. As the writer of short stories she stands preeminently the best in California. She is at present engaged in literary work of a special nature and is one of the most sought after and best paid writers we have.

"We are very glad to know that Mr. and Mrs. Storke will make our city their future home. We extend to them our heartiest good wishes and congratulations."

LOCKWOOD'S SHADOW.

HIS BOND IS DEFECTIVE AND MUST BE RENEWED.

Pending its Arrangement the Justice is Guarded By a Deputy Sheriff—The Judge Returns From San Francisco Only to Be Embarrassed.

Justice-of-the-Peace Lockwood returned yesterday after a season of relaxation in San Francisco. His high-strung nerves enjoyed the pungent Farraleno breezes in the golden city to his heart's content, and when he came back to testify in the Chadwick case he felt, to say the least, elated. Everything looked prosperous, even his squabble with Justice King, about a few paltry dollars which the Garvanza legal light was more than entitled to. Unfortunately, when the bondsmen of Justice Lockwood qualified for him, when he was held to answer, the formality of giving double the amount of bonds required by the court was overlooked, and Lockwood sailed away gaily, and devoid of anxious thoughts, to the north and visions of a charmer.

When he returned yesterday his dreams were rudely dispelled, and if he expects retribution, it must feel nearer to him than ever. Judge Cheney found that the eminent jurist of the police court had given an insufficient bond, and pending its perfection, ordered him in the custody of the sheriff. People wondered yesterday why the volatile and ingenious Lockwood was walking around with a shadow—a shadow from the sheriff's office. The answer is that Lockwood, the amiable, is held in the custody of Martin Aguirre until he can complete a small matter of $500 bail, when he will again tread the sweet air of liberty.

ROSH-HASHANA.

The Hebrew New Year's Celebration Today.

The Hebrew New Year 5651 began last evening at sundown, and is celebrated all over the world among the Israelites as one of their most solemn holidays. The services at the synagogue today will be conducted by Rev. Dr. A. Blum, who has written the following poem inspired by the occasion:

For the New Year of 5651. What is thy record, great and good, soul of the parting year? Is the morning dawn of the beautiful with the new year's graces near? Is the kinship of sympathy world-wide spread and vanquished ignoble fear? Dare we speak for the right, and live for the truth with a dauntless courage brave? Place our earth's heroes the doom of the light, and the glories-celestial crave? Are we free from the shackles that harrowing bind, nor in lawlessness truly a slave? Have we kept high enshrined in their holiness past, the gracious ideals of life? And held to the faith of the innermost soul, throughout the mutations of strife? Do the dream-visions beckon from rose-mathed-vine, with youth's gleamings of hopeful-ness rise?

Answer, whisperings soft and low As the year's departing glow, Shines of human joy and weal? Answer, world's advancement great,— At crowning freedom's opening gate! Signs and tokens manifold, Peeking from prophetic eyes behold! Earth shall win her age of gold! In fraternal love that shares, The long centuries answered prayers; In heaven's showered wealth of light, Victories of the truth and right. In accordant blessings blest, With God's rule, omnipotent; Never more the despot's heel, Trample on the common weal; Nor the bigot tyrant slay, With the scorn of yesterday, 'Neath the world's republic sway! Dreamst yet solemnly foretold By the prophet-seers of old; Never hope and trust in vain, Sought through paths of night and pain, Freedom's summer-glad domain, Here, found Israel's peace of rest.

Here, life's crownings true and blest At the century's high behest! Here, in prayerful kinship all, On our Heavenly Father call, Stars of heaven and stripes of morn That our country's flag adorn! O'er us wave this festive day In their victory's triple ray! Open the New Year's book, upon its spotless page Inscribe the purpose of today from heart of youth and age! For worldwide is the freedom song of Israel's heritage! In wisdom, not in worldliness, the child of God excels; For freedom in remotest land, ring out triumphant bells! With sweet compassion's tenderness the patriot bosom swells! Benighted Russia may not long the cruel scepter bear; Loud is the answer of the world to Israel's anguish prayer; No more shall bigoted religion's semblance wear! Best by thy record, great and good, soul of the coming year, With the awards of Justice all that Freedom's soul holds dear In plenitude was showered upon the nations far and near.

Sing the holy songs of gladness All the captive world's release, Israel's long enduring sadness, Hide the strife of ages cease! With "the righteousness of all nations," Lined in universal peace. Bless us with touch of healing hand, soul of the opening year, God's peaceful benediction rest upon our spirits here! Keep safe beneath God's sheltering love, all these our hearts hold dear.

FARMERS IN UNION.

ASSOCIATING FOR THEIR MUTUAL PROTECTION AND AID.

A Big Meeting Held Yesterday in the Assembly Room of the Chamber of Commerce.

An adjourned meeting of a convention of the Los Angeles county producers' union, formed August 18th in Turnverein hall, was called yesterday at 10 o'clock, in the assembly room of the chamber of commerce. At the hour appointed quite a large number of farmers had gathered, who came in from the country roundabout to hear the proceedings of the convention. There was a good deal of delay in calling the meeting to order.

At 11:15 the chairman, T. P. Durly, rapped on the table, the hum of conversation ceased, and the convention had started. After the reading of the minutes by the secretary, T. J. Lucecock, of Clearwater, reports were called for from the committees appointed for the various townships at the previous meeting.

J. M. Miller, of Downey, reported that the people in that section of the country were strongly in favor of a local farmers' alliance, and such an organization had already been formed there, with forty members and more applicants.

Mr. Woods of Clearwater reported that on the day following the meeting at Turnverein hall, Mr. Atwater and himself had personally notified all the farmers in their vicinity to be present at a meeting in the schoolhouse the next evening. The house was crowded, and there was great enthusiasm and the farmers were all strongly in favor of forming an alliance whereby fair prices could be readily secured for their products. They ought to be able to get 200 members within a scope of five miles. Mr. Atwater also reported that the Clearwater farmers were strongly in favor of the movement. His idea was to keep forming sub-alliances till five were organized, when a county alliance could be formed, then a state alliance, and by and by a national alliance, from which the farmers would reap greater benefit than from any local organization.

L. A. Parker, of Eagle Rock, reported that the district was a small one, not over twenty families residing there, but thought they could secure the requisite eighteen members to form an alliance.

Mr. Hall, of Newhall, said that the farmers of that vicinity had already taken steps toward forming a farmers' protective association, but were not yet organized. They felt the necessity of a union of some sort, but wanted something practical, not all on paper and all in talk, but something to rely upon. He thought they would be ready to fall in line, but they wanted to look over the rules and regulations of the alliance first.

It was moved and carried that a committee of five be appointed to prepare an address to the producers of the county, to be issued through the press. The convention then adjourned till 1 o'clock, when it reconvened and an address was given by the county organizer, Mrs. Smith. A communication was read from the chamber of commerce, calling the attention of the farmers to the agricultural exhibit, which opens October 13, and urging them to send in exhibits for the same, also to identify themselves with the chamber of commerce and to prepare exhibits for the Chicago permanent exhibit.

DR. MAC GOWAN

Again Inspects the Citizens' Water Company's Ditch.

The following communication from Health Officer MacGowan was yesterday filed with the city clerk for presentation to the council on Monday next: The Honorable Council of the City of Los Angeles, GENTLEMEN: Since your last regular meeting I have been once more over the line of the water ditch from which the Citizens' Water company derives its supply of water. I was accompanied by Mr. Griffith J. Griffith, the owner of the Los Feliz ranch. I find that the cattle of Mr. Griffith have been removed from the corral near the town of Ivanhoe. As far as concerns the lower corral, after carefully walking over and examining the ground, I find that its contents could not under any circumstances contaminate the ditch. Mr. Griffith is now making efforts to sell the whole herd, and in other matters is disposed to act fairly and reasonably in the matter. He offers to allow me or any other properly authorized city official to change the right of way for the water ditch at the place where it passes the barn at his home ranch, so as to throw it entirely above the old corral which now lies above it and which forms a just cause for complaint. This corral I find, by the way, has been in existence since the early days of the ranch, and the cleaning of it would form one of the labors of Hercules. Mr. Griffith further offers to fence in the whole of the exposed portion of the ditch upon his ranch with barbed wire fence, at his own expense, asking only of the city that it will place along the ditch, as originally agreed upon, seven wooden crossings or bridges.

THIRTY YEARS' PRACTICE.

A Letter from an Eminent Physician.

MR. EDITOR: At the risk of incurring a proprietary preparation, I have a few words in favor of a new laxative principle. But first, how I came to discover it. A patient asked about taking Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. As sarsaparillas usually contain mercury or iodides I objected, and asked for the formula, which I found purely vegetable, and so mild as to be to my mind almost inert. I consented. Imagine my astonishment when perfect laxative action was reported. It has two great points. First, being purely vegetable, it is (unlike mercury) not cumulative in the system, being easily carried off by the digestive processes; and second, it is effective with a less quantity of the cathartic principle than has hitherto been attainable. It is in this respect ranks as a discovery, and approaches the ideal, viz: the least medicine consistent with the greatest good. As people take laxatives indiscriminately, it is important for them to know at least one that is safe for continuous use; hence this communication. The natural laxative effects of this preparation must, for the reasons above, interest both the public and the profession. A CITY PHYSICIAN OF THIRTY YEARS' PRACTICE. San Francisco Examiner, March 10, 1890.

A Suggestion.

There may be persons in this community who are at times troubled with colic, or subject to attacks of bowel complaint. If so, they should try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It will afford almost immediate relief, and when reduced with water is pleasant to take. If taken as soon as the first indication of the disease is felt it will ward off the attack. Many people use it in this way, and find that it never fails them. A 25 or 50 cent bottle may be obtained from C. F. Heinzeiman, 222 N. Main street. John A. Off, cor. 4th and Spring streets, and all leading druggists.
