The kindergartens will open Oct. 13, which is one week later than the other schools. Children between five and six years of age will be registered on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 9th and 10th, by the principals of the buildings in which the kindergartens are to be located.

Kindergarten schools are to be located as follows: Hellman street, Castelar, Collado, Thirtieth, Ninth, Amelia and Railroad street schools and Boyle Heights.

This redistricting of the city will cause a great deal of work, and requires patience on the part of all concerned. Parents and pupils can do much to assist by observing the following suggestions:

Let all the pupils report promptly on the opening day of schools, in their own district. No permits will be granted to attend school outside of the pupil's own district during the first week.

Requests for such permits will be registered in the office of the superintendent of schools, and granted in the order of their application whenever there is room.

Unless children report in their own district and remain there during the first week, until the subject of transfers can be considered, they may lose a desk in both their own district, and in the one to which they wish to go.

These district lines are subject to change whenever the number of pupils will justify.

AN OLD TIMER. A Paper Dated Los Angeles, May 30, 1855, in Existence.

A HERALD reporter the other day met Col. R. S. Baker on the street with a paper in his hand. The Colonel has taken the HERALD for twenty years, but it was not that morning's issue he held in his hand. It was a copy of the Southern Californian, published at Los Angeles, and bearing the date of May 30, 1855. John O. Wheeler was editor, and he and Wm. Dutts were publishers.

In the advertising columns appeared O. W. Childs, dealer in groceries, liquors, and provisions. J. B. Winst on sold drugs, medicines, oils and paints. Alexander & Banning were doing business at San Pedro, and John Kays, father of J. C., was engaged at Santa Barbara. Fay & Brother were making saddles on Main street. Chas. Ducommun sold books, stationery and jewelry.

New goods are announced in many ads as direct from the Atlantic states in 112 days. Geo. Hanson was surveying. Matthew Keller was public administrator. Benj. Hayes was district judge, and John W. Shore was clerk. Five columns of San Francisco "ads" appear, showing how closely our interests were interwoven with those of the Bay city.

Those were stirring days. A lynching in this section today would call for about three columns of matter to the deed. A twenty-line item in this paper disposes of the lynching of three men, with aside glance at a previous neck-tie party thrown in.

The paper was well edited and presented a large amount of news. None of it came "by wire" however.

HAZARD TALKS.

He Wants the People's Opinion on the Carr Franchise.

To the Property Owners Along the Line of the B. O. Carr Electric Railway Franchise:

Being informed that many property owners along the route of what is known as the B. O. Carr Electric street car line are opposed to the granting of the franchise, and that the real sentiment of the people on the subject may be obtained, I would be pleased to receive from such only of the property owners as object thereto a written communication on the subject, not later than Wednesday morning next (October 8th). Petitions are not reliable, owing to the facility with which signatures are obtained thereon, but if the franchise is opposed, property owners should send a written communication directly to me. A failure to send such protests will be considered by me as a desire to have the road built, or as having no objection to the same. Therefore those favoring the road need not bother themselves about the matter, and those opposed to the road ought to take the trouble to let me know.

Personally, I am in favor of electric street car lines, and from the most reliable sources which I have so far heard from, they are popular. I believe the prejudice in regard thereto in this city grows out of the manner in which the electric road on Pico street was built and conducted, but I think the proper owners along the line should be consulted before the franchise is granted, and take this method of obtaining your opinion on the subject.

The franchise, if granted, in the street, is to be on the express stipulated only ornamental poles are to be used, and never placed in the street, nor shall there be any arms projecting therefrom.

That the property owners may know the route of the proposed line, I attach the same hereto.

The streets and portions of streets over which this right-of-way is granted are particularly described as follows, to-wit: Commencing at the intersection of Mission road (or street) and Hansen street; thence northerly on Hansen street to Hawkins street; thence westerly on Hawkins street to Daly street; thence northerly on Daly street to Downey avenue; thence westerly on Downey avenue over and along the tracks of the Pacific Railway company to Hayes street; thence northerly on Hayes street to Pasadena avenue; thence westerly on Pasadena avenue to Buena Vista street; thence southerly on Buena Vista street to Bellevue avenue; thence easterly on Bellevue avenue to New High street; thence southerly on New High street to Marchessault street; thence easterly on Marchessault street to Main street; thence southerly on Main street along and over the tracks of the Pacific Railway company to Spring street; thence southerly on Spring street along and over the tracks of the Pacific Railway company to Second street; thence easterly on Second street along and over the tracks of the Depot Railway company to Main street; thence southerly on Main street along and over the tracks operated by the Main Street and Agricultural Park Railroad company to Winston street; thence easterly on Winston street to San Pedro street; thence southerly on San Pedro street to Fifth street; thence easterly on Fifth street over and along the tracks operated by the Main Street and Agricultural Park railroad company to Wolfskill avenue; thence northerly on Wolfskill avenue over and along the tracks operated by the Depot railway company to Fourth street; thence easterly on Fourth street to Huber street; thence northerly on Huber street to Third street; thence easterly on Third street to Rio street; thence northerly on Rio street to Second street; thence easterly on Second street to Santa Fe avenue; thence northerly on Santa Fe avenue along and over the tracks operated by the Depot railway company to Davies street; thence westerly on Davies street along and over the track of the Depot railway company to Vignes street; thence northerly on Vignes street to Aliso street; thence easterly on Aliso street over and along the tracks of the Pacific railway company to Summit avenue; thence southerly on Summit avenue to Pleasant avenue; thence southerly on Pleasant avenue over and along the tracks of the Pacific railway company to Bailey street; thence northerly on Bailey street to Pennsylvania avenue; thence southerly on Pennsylvania avenue to St. Louis street; thence northerly on St. Louis street to Michigan avenue; thence easterly along Michigan avenue to Evergreen cemetery; also, commencing on the north side of Fifth street, at its intersection with Wolfskill and Ceres avenues; thence south on Ceres avenue to Sixth street; thence westerly on Sixth street and along over the tracks of the Pacific railway company from Hill street to the intersection of Sixth and Pearl streets; thence westerly along the proposed extension of Sixth street to Ward street; thence westerly along Ward street to the west city limits. Also, commencing at the intersection of Third and Main streets; thence westerly on Third street to Broadway; thence southerly on Broadway over and along the tracks of the Pacific Railway company to Tenth street; thence westerly on Tenth street to Flower street; thence southerly on Flower street to Washington street; thence westerly on Washington street over and along the tracks of the Main street and Agricultural Park Railroad company and the Pacific Railway company to Estrella avenue; thence southerly on Estrella avenue to Twenty-third street; thence westerly on Twenty-third street to Hayward street; thence southerly on Hayward street to Hoover street; thence southerly on Hoover street to Kingsley street to the city limits; also, commencing on the south side of Aliso street, at its intersection with Los Angeles street; thence southerly on Los Angeles street to the Plaza; thence along the south side of the Plaza to Main street; also, commencing at the intersection of Buena Vista street and Bellevue avenue to Philadelphia street; thence northerly on Philadelphia street to Alpine street; thence westerly on Alpine street to the intersection of Bellevue avenue; thence westerly on Bellevue avenue to the location of the Los Angeles & Pacific Railway depot."

Cancer of the Nose.

In 1885 a sore appeared on my nose, and grew rapidly. As my father had cancer, and my husband died of it, I became alarmed, and consulted my physician. His treatment did no good, and the sore grew larger and worse in every way, until I had concluded that I was to die from its effects. I was persuaded by S. S. Maben, a new bottle cured me. This was after all the doctors and other medicines had failed. I have had no return of the cancer.
