

STRANGED.

They yesterday—on meeting We passed a word or two, And parted in a moment With but a light adieu.

Why was it, going homeward, My heart beat to a tune We heard one note together Beneath the summer moon?

A rhyme it was of Goethe's, "With mellow music blend— 'Till me how love cometh?'"

And tell me how love goeth? Still, sometimes, unexpressed, My heart calls through the silence, When hours are loveliest.

Away the thought—whatever Has life's estranging meant. Too sadly I remember "It was not love that went."

—Mary Emy Thomson in New York Herald.

Superstitions Jews.

The most of the Jerusalem Jews are poor, and nine-tenths of them are surrounded by dirt and squalor.

Outside of each room was a little pen in which there was a rude stove for the burning of charcoal, and in these little box like pens, only large enough for a woman to turn around in, all the cooking of the family was done.

Trade Judgments of Literature. The truth is, our ideas of literature are steeped in the colors of our trades.

Fond of Pie and Milk. A medium sized, stout, dark complexioned man, neatly attired and evidently a foreigner, appears regularly every evening at an eating house at Washington.

Infant Foods. At a meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science Dr. Frederick Hoffman spoke about the food preparations now so largely used for infants and children as substitutes for mother's milk and other food.

The longest American railroad tunnel is the Hoosac tunnel on the Fitchburg railroad, four and three-quarter miles; the St. Gothard tunnel in Europe is nine miles long.

The Jews and Jerusalem. The Jews believe that Palestine will again come into their hands. They thus read the promises of the Bible, and there are thousands of these Jews of Jerusalem who have come here to wait the day when the Lord will descend to earth and take his chosen people out of the hands of the Turks and again build up their city. Upon the ruins of Solomon's temple now stands the great mosque of Omar, which is to the Mohammedans the holiest place outside of Mecca.

A great wall of stone surrounds this temple plateau, and this wall is believed by antiquarians to have been a part of the old temple wall.

It is the custom of the Jews, however, to go on certain days of every week to a place outside this wall, and there, leaning with their heads against the stone, they wait for the loss of Jerusalem, and pray for it to give back the land to his chosen people.

He could not speak English. Dr. Isidor Labatut, who died recently at New Orleans in the ninety-eighth year of his age, was in several ways a remarkable man.

Jewish Persecution in Russia. The Jewish Chronicle relates this incident of the persecution of Jews at Odessa: "A Mr. Axelrod, accompanied by his wife and baby in arms, intended to go by train to the Khadshibey Salt lakes, a distance of about eight miles.

Wild Animals in Texas. "Wolves, coyotes, cats and panthers," says The Brackett (Tex.) News, "are multiplying under the protection of the barbed wire fence and the apathy of the state legislators.

A Tobacco Hater. The late Hon. David Dudley of Presque Isle, was a great tobacco hater. He would not sell the weed in his store and would not allow any one to smoke on his premises.

A very practical suggestion has been made for reducing the cost of transportation on the Erie canal. The idea is to apply to the traction of the boats the overhead Trolley system now used for street railways, on the ground that there is no serious mechanical difficulty, and that an economy of at least 50 per cent. would be effected.

GORMANDIZING, or overeating, or the partaking of too rich and indigestible food, is a common cause of $500 OFFERED by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head.
